"Now you're getting flippant; but, seriously, do you think there's any truth in what you say?"

"About the senseless luncheons women eat as compared to those of men?

SHE EATS EDUCATED FOOD.

Yes. Look at that healthy specimen of a man opposite your two friends of The Diameter. By the way, doesn't he work there?"

"Yes, he's a reporter, and—my goodness, look at what he has just finished—a piece of steak, potatoes, a dish of macaroni, rice pudding and a cup of tea!"

At that moment the man arose, and as he walked briskly away the two girl reporters laid their heads together.

"He earns $125 a week!" they exclaimed in awestruck tones.

The private secretary waited until they had left, then turning to the journalist with a dry smile, "How do you know that hasn't something to do with it?" she asked, pointing to the three empty plates.

MAUD ROBINSON.

Ermine Hat and Muff.

This winter there is a new departure in fur hats. Quite a few are made with wide brims. This style is particularly becoming to young girls who as a rule look too matronly in the turbans and small fur hats. The illustration shows one of the latest things in ermine. The hat is very simply trimmed with a standing bow of pale blue panne ribbon; it is tilted upward directly in front by a band and this is concealed by a puffed arrangement of the panne. All around the brim there is a narrow border of sable. Like many other creations of the season, the style of this does not depend upon elaborate trimmings, but upon the richness of the materials.

The muff is a model of good taste. It is soft and pouchy, as fashion dictates, and it is trimmed with two lapellike arrangements of sable. Deep falls of lace almost cover the openings for the hands. Of course the muff is lined with pale blue to match the hat.

Where Women Vote.

The four states in which women have full suffrage, voting for every officer from school director to president of the United States, are Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and Idaho. These states made a notable show at the recent suffrage bazaar in New York city.

GETS FAT OFFICE.

James S. Harlan, of Chicago, Appointed Attorney General of the Island of Porto Rico.

James S. Harlan, of Chicago, a son of Associate Justice Harlan, of the supreme court, and brother of John Maynard Harlan, of Chicago, has been nominated by the president as attorney general of Porto Rico, to succeed John H. Russell, resigned. Mr. Harlan was a candidate for a seat on the bench of the United States district court at Chicago when Christian C. Kohlsaat was appointed. At that time he received the indorsement of Senator Mason, and when the nomination was sent to the senate the other day it was asserted this was a proof of the reconciliation between Senator Mason and the president, although the former affected surprise when told of the nomination.

James S. Harlan was born in Evansville, Ind., on November 24, 1861. He received his early education from a private tutor and then entered the high school at Louisville, Ky. In 1878 he accompanied his family to Washington, where he entered the Emerson institute. In the following year he went to Princeton, where he was prominent as an athlete, playing on the college football eleven for three successive years. He was graduated from Princeton in 1883, returning to Washington and becoming a student at the law school of the Columbian university.

Mr. Harlan came to Chicago in the early part of 1885, entering the law office of Chief Justice Fuller. In the following year he was admitted to the bar, shortly afterwards forming a partnership with S. S. Gregory and William M. Booth, the present master in chancery. The firm of Gregory, Booth & Harlan was continued for several years, until Mr. Harlan began the practice of law on his own account.

Two years ago Mr. Harlan married Miss Maud Noble, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Belden Noble, of Washington.

THE HOLY BAMBINO.

Sacred Image at Rome, Said to Have Been Designed and Painted by St. Luke.

The resting place of the celebrated "Santissimo Bambino" is the Church of the Ava Coeli, in Rome. It is an image carved out of a tree from the

THE HOLY BAMBINO.
(Image Supposed to Have Been Designed by St. Luke.)

Mount of Olives, and said to have been painted by St. Luke. It is highly decorated with jewels, in fact, literally covered with precious stones. The Bambino formerly had a two-horse carriage at its disposal, with coachman and footman, in which it was driven about to visit the sick, but that custom no longer exists. Many Italians, however, still believe that it possesses miraculous power to heal diseases.

Swallows as Dispatch Carriers.

The question of employing swallows instead of pigeons to carry dispatches is being considered in France. The aptitude of the swallow for the work is by many held to be even greater than that of the pigeon. They fly to a greater height, and are therefore less exposed to being shot, and they travel faster, making good nearly 80 miles an hour, where a pigeon would only get over 50. It is also claimed that they are more faithful, intelligent, and have not, on long journeys, to stop to feed, as the pigeon has.

Needed Her Nine Lives.

At Sheboygan, Wis., the other day, a Maltese cat took a long ride inside the rim of a flywheel. The animal jumped into the wheel at the Plymouth Refrigerating company's plant, and remained there 2½ hours, relates the New York Tribune. As the wheel is about 38 feet in circumference, and makes 87 revolutions a minute, the cat traveled a distance of about 93 miles. When the engines were stopped pussy was alive and well, except for a little lameness.

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

is the only remedy absolutely and unconditionally guaranteed to cure every form of Kidney or Bladder complaints. Price 25 and 50 cents. Prepared only by

Charming Gowns That Are Seen in New York

The "Stay-at-Homes" Are Showing Some Wonderful Creations—Other Fashion Notes

Dainty Gowns a Feature of the New York Season

ST. AUGUSTINE and other southern resorts have claimed a large number of New York fashionables, and those who are left in town are rushing through the season at a rapid rate, with teas, receptions and theater parties for every day or evening.

Those who are in the city are displaying an unusual number of handsome gowns for the various occasions. The majority of the more elaborate gowns that are being worn are of crepe, silky clinging and lace encrusted, while some have spangles, satin trimmed and velvet applique with lace. In point of design it would seem that there is practically no limit. As one fashionable woman said to me the other day: "It is almost possible to select your ideas from any period," and you may choose between sleeves or no sleeves, pointed, round or off the shoulder decollete, whichever is most becoming to the individual.

One of the charming dinner gowns recently worn for the first time was of crepe in a delicate tone of gray. The skirt was a graceful affair, and hung in soft folds, with clusters of three tucks at the waist line, falling loosely at the knee, this giving great breadth. An applique of turquoise blue oriental satin and motifs of lace covered the entire gown, revealing an under petticoat of white silk. The bodice had a round decollete, with shirred vest of white chiffon, and the chiffon draped over the shoulder with finish of a rosette under pointed revers. Elbow sleeves, finished with full ruchings of chiffon.

A beautiful evening gown in the most popular prevailing style was worn at a theater party a few evenings ago. It was of black glace silk, veiled with very fine silk net all a glitter with moonlight sequins. At the foot the skirt was finished with foamy frill of black silk net. The frills were also on the low-cut bodice, extending over the arms and held over the shoulders by strips of passementerie. A crushed girdle of black velvet, without steel buckle to finish.

An afternoon reception gown that I saw before it had left the hands of the fashionable modiste, who designed it was of black sequin net, spangled with jet in a large design. This was over a soft green silk, and was made with a high neck and long sleeves. A stock collar, and girdle of light green panne, fastened with numerous gold buttons, set with gems.

The Russian Blouse Will be a Feature of the Spring

WHAT changes will the new century bring in the mode? The question has been asked by hundreds of women.

One thing that it promises to bring very early in its career is an improvement in tailor-made garments. The tailor-made garment that we have known in past years was admired for its utility more than for its beauty, now is proposed to combine both utility and beauty in the new gowns that are to come with the spring.

The new tailor-mades that are but just beginning to appear are built with the same care, and finished with the same finish, but the lines are softer, and they adapt themselves more easily to the feminine figure. The straight rigid lines of the old gown are giving place to pretty curves.

With this change has come the Russian blouse. Not exactly the blouse of which we have seen pictures in days past, but one in which there is no pouch at all—only a fullness. The ladies of Paris are wearing this garment, and it has been brought over here as an advance season's style. The skirt is plain and dark. Red is the color usually chosen, but you also see it in military green. The skirt is trimmed only with an elaborate stitching, which extends around the ripple which is a part of the skirt decoration. The ripple upon the new tailor-made gowns is very pronounced and looks almost like a ruffle. It is elaborately stitched and is fairly made stiff by the quantity and quality of the machine work upon it. It is attached to the skirt and forms the finish or lower part. The ripple, by the way, has quite taken the place of the fan, and even in this spring of very full skirts we shall see few fans.

Little Things of Fashion Seen in New York Stores

HOW many charming novelties there are in the shops these days. Really it takes quite as much to keep oneself well supplied with these little accessories that are considered so necessary as it does to buy the gown and coats with which they are worn. The trend of the times in women's wear seems to be to the elaborate and extravagant, and in no instance is this shown more fully than in the little things. But they are so dear, and add so much to the appearance of a smart gown that they are quite necessary, even though they are expensive.

Now there are the charming little lockets which every pretty girl wears suspended by a chain about her neck, and which every lover imagines contains his picture until he has had an opportunity to investigate. Then he is disappointed, for the locket contains nothing more than a small mirror, which portrays the vanity of woman, rather than her faithfulness. But they are so charming that they have gotten to the point where they are considered almost necessary.

What finishes a pretty evening gown so nicely as a pair of beautiful slippers? The latest ones are of satin, with hand-painted flowers upon the toes. Others have little seed-pearl butterfly bows, instead of the flowers.

The pretty coiffures are well set off by the great variety of shell combs, both large and small, that are offered. Just such combs as our great grandmothers wore nearly a century ago. They, too, are one of the necessary accessories.

SPORTING.

BASEBALL.

Cranford is one of the greatest baseball towns in the country. One enthusiastic resident has subscribed $250 toward running the team this year and another man will give $100. Albert Tusch will again manage Cranford this year.

The Arion baseball team is already making preparations for next season and have made arrangements for numerous small details in order to begin active work as soon as the weather permits. The management has secured last season's grounds, situated at Grant and Sherman avenues, for the coming summer.

The indications are that the proposed league between the Knickerbocker A. C., Marions of Perth Amboy, Cranfords, Carterets, Westfields and Elizabeth will not materialize. The K. A. C. will not go in because the club is already in one league; the Marions cannot enter because they play all games on home grounds, and the Cranfords will not go in because these two teams are unwilling. A meeting will be held in Elizabeth to talk the matter over.

Manager Brown, of the baseball team of Rutgers College, has announced the following schedule, which may be of interest to Plainfielders: March 23, Princeton at Princeton; March 30, Lehigh at South Bethlehem; April 3, Columbia at New York; April 13, N. Y. U. at New York; April 24, C. C. N. Y. at New Brunswick; April 26, Crescent A. C. at Bay Ridge; May 4, U. S. M. A. at West Point; May 18, Ursinus at Collegeville; May 22, N. Y. U. at New Brunswick; May 25, C. C. N. Y. at New York; May 30, St. Francis Xavier College at New Brunswick; June 1, Riverside M. A. at Poughkeepsie.

LAWN TENNIS.

At the twentieth annual meeting of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, next month, action will be taken on the question of two changes in the playing rules proposed by James Dwight, president, as follows:

1. The word "stand" in the first line of rule 6 be changed to "serve."

2. Rule 26 be changed so as to allow, in a match, a rest after the third set only.

Fell Under Wagon Wheels.

Clarence Roberts, eight years old, while attempting to catch a ride yesterday afternoon on Park avenue, fell beneath the wheels of a wagon and was quite seriously hurt. The little fellow was taken to the home of his parents in the Elkwood building, where he was attended by Dr. Browning, who found that the boy had sustained several cuts about the head and bruises on the body. His shoulder was dislocated.

MANY FAVOR A SPEEDWAY.

WILL BE OF NO EXPENSE TO CITY TO MAINTAIN.

Proposed to Keep It In Condition by Private Subscription—Many Interested in the Movement.

Perhaps it is not generally known, but it is nevertheless true, that there are many prominent citizens in Plainfield who are interested in the proposed speedway. While some of these men do not care to have their names made public, they as as much interested in the project as some of those who are pushing the enterprise. It is the general belief that a well conducted speedway would give Plainfield a prominence among lovers of good horses and that would result in inducing a desirable class of people to take up their residence in this city.

It must not be understood that the speedway is to be a trotting course in the sense of holding races in this city. Nothing of the kind is to be attempted. There will be no racing for money or prizes. The speedway is to be used exclusively for the purpose of exercising horses in a locality where it will be perfectly safe and proper to do so, without the liability of violating the law against fast driving in the public streets of the city. The cost of maintaining a speedway, it is claimed by those who have looked into the matter, will be very small. It will not come out of the pockets of the taxpayers. The expense is to be borne by private funds.

BOWLING ON PARK ALLEYS.

MIXED DOUBLES FURNISHED ENTERTAINMENT FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.

Miss Frances Phillips and P. C. Long Won First Prizes For the Best Net Scores.

There was a lively time at the Park Club alleys last evening when bowling for mixed doubles was the attraction. There was a large turnout of young people and it seemed like old times at the club. Thirteen couples entered the bowling tournament and excellent scores were the rule throughout the evening. Owing to the fact that there are only two alleys in use, it required some time to roll the games.

Miss Frances Philips and P. C Long won the prizes with a net score of 299. Their handicap was 35. They bowled a steady game throughout the contest and their opponents were never able to overcome their lead. After the games, refreshments were served and a social time followed. The event was so popular that another similar one will be held Wednesday evening, February 6 Allan B. Laing was in charge last evening and to his efforts is due much of the success attending the affair.

TELL OF SIEGE.

Dr. Martin Will Deliver Address at Seventh-Day Baptist Church Saturday.

The members of the congregation of the Seventh-Day Baptist church and such of their friends as care to attend the service in that church Saturday morning, will have the pleasure of listening to the story of the siege of the Legations at Pekin as told by one of the survivors of that thrilling experience.

Dr. W. A. P. Martin, L. L. D., recent president of the Imperial University at Pekin, China, will be present at the service and speak on the subject. Dr. Martin was formerly a missionary to China and is considered one of the best living authorities on Chinese affairs.

His address will be a particularly interesting one. All who are interested in the subject, whether members of that congregation or not, are invited to attend the service at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning. The service begins at 10:30 o'clock.

FOUR JOINED CHURCH.

Two Came by Letter and Other Two Will be Baptized at Service Sunday Morning.

The regular church meeting was held at the First Baptist church last evening, at which time four persons presented themselves for membership. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schultheiss, were admitted by letter from the First Church of Christ, while Miss Florence Perrine and Miss Lillian Titus, of the East Third Street chapel, were admitted on confession of faith. They will be baptized next Sunday morning.

Oliver B. Leonard, of Perth Amboy, attended the meeting and acted in his capacity as church clerk. At his suggestion it was decided that at the next church meeting to call the roll comprising the entire membership of the church, and each member is supposed to be present to answer to his or her name. This will be the first time in the history of the church that the roll has been called in this way.

A letter from Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, at Nassau, Bahama Islands, reports him and Mrs. Marsh in good health. Mr. Marsh says he is feeling particularly well, and expects to sail for New York, Saturday, Jan. 26.

THE EGYPTIAN MAZE.

Philadelphia Man Who Invented the Intricate Puzzle Was Driven to Death by It.

H. A. Mahood, of Philadelphia, the inventor of many puzzles, killed himself recently one week after he had worked two solutions to the "Egyptian maze," which experts declared was not capable of being worked out.

Mahood had invented the puzzle himself, then he solved it just as he has solved hundreds of other puzzles. There was only one puzzle which he seemed unable to solve, and that was the puzzle of life. He worked out solutions to "the fifteen" and the

THE EGYPTIAN MAZE.
(A Puzzle Which Drove Its Inventor to Death by Suicide.)

"Egyptian maze," but he could figure out no solution to the great puzzle of human existence. He tried to solve the mystery of death, but the nearest he could come to it was by dying, and whatever he has discovered is only what every one must discover for himself without any assistance from the dead.

Mahood's master passion in life was the making and solving of puzzles. He invented several that were successful, but he had no concern for them except as long as they baffled him. When he had solved them he threw them aside, and others reaped the money that might have come to him from his inventions.

The physicians who held an autopsy on the body say the man had the "puzzle brain." His brain was found to be unlike that of other men. It was twisted into more mazes than the Gordian knot, as if from puzzling over the weird windings of the Egyptian maze the folds of the brain itself had twisted and bent in and out after the fashion of the puzzle blocks. The other morning he left his home and walked down-town to a Philadelphia hotel. He went into the writing-room and twice he worked out solutions to the Egyptian maze, which he carefully noted down on paper that he placed in his pocket. Then he went outside the door, where he put a pistol to his head and sent a ball crashing into his skull. The puzzle solver had worked on the puzzle of life. And he had given it up.

THE SCHOONER POLLY.

The Oldest American Ship in Active Service and One Having a Wonderful History.

The recent storm on the Atlantic coast, in which so many stanch vessels were lost, calls attention to the famous old schooner Polly, which was one of the more fortunate of the coasting fleet. The Polly is older than most men, for it was built in Amesbury, Mass., in 1805. If the hull timbers of the sturdy little 65-ton ship could speak they might tell many an exciting story of adventures on the salt seas, for they have seen nearly a century of active service. When the Polly had been off the stocks but seven years the second war with Great Britain broke out. The boat was then owned and commanded by Capt. Jeduthan Upton, a patriot, who fitted his tiny vessel up with cannon, put on board an armed crew of 20 men and started out as a privateer to prey on British shipping. A few months after the Polly was captured by his British majesty's ship Phoebe, of 44 guns. The captain and his men were taken to England, where they were imprisoned for seven months. The prize crew placed on board the Polly, however, revolted and went over into the service of the United States.

At the present time the Polly is owned and commanded by Capt. McFarland, of Calais, Me. For 90 years it has been known as one of the fastest sailing vessels on the North coast, and it can still show a clean pair of heels to many of its more modern rivals. It has been a long time since the Polly made a regular ocean voyage. It is now employed in trading between ports on the Maine coast.

A Country of Colleges.

In 1800 there were not more than 30 colleges and other institutions of higher education in the United States. At the close of last year there were 480, with a total of 12,000 professors and teachers.

MARSHAL EMMONS MARRIED.

HIS BRIDE WAS MISS JUSTINA CLARK, OF SOMERSET STREET.

Kept Affair a Secret Until After It Took Place—Ceremony Performed Last Evening.

Fred J. Emmons, one of the marshals of the borough, and Miss Justina C. Clark were married last evening by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel. The ceremony was performed at Mr. McKelvey's home on Grandview avenue. Alfred Thorn and Miss Rachel Emmons, a sister of the groom, stood up with the couple. There were no other witnesses.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Emmons were driven to the North Avenue station where they took a train for New York intending to be absent a few days. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling dress of blue broadcloth, trimmed with grey silk.

The bride is the eldest daughter of F. W. Clark, of 336 Somerset street. For some months she has been employed as bookkeeper by C. Frank French, the well known wholesale produce dealer. She is an estimable young woman with many friends.

Upon their return from their wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Emmons will reside at at the home of the bride's father on Somerset street.

The wedding was a surprise to the many friends of the young couple. Efforts to keep the marriage a secret until it took place were quite successful.

It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

TWO SURPRISES.

Smith and Pope Were Defeated in Krewson's Pool Tournament Last Evening.

In two out of the three games played in Krewson's pool tourney last evening, the large number of spectators were surprised at the results. The first was that between Smith and Pope in which the latter defeated his opponent by a score of 45 to 54. Smith, who is a 75 class man, was confidently picked as the winner and his defeat was totally unexpected.

The other surprise was the excellent playing of Moore in his game with Pope. Moore secured the necessary 60 points while his opponent secured but 10.

In the remaining game Coombs won from Greader, 55 to 55, making the third defeat the latter has suffered since the tournament began.

Temperance Drama Tonight.

HELD UP AND ROBBED AT REVOLVER'S POINT

Ernest Clark Robbed of $13 by Four Masked Highwaymen at Scotch Plains.

HAPPENED LAST EVENING.

ATTACK WAS SO UNEXPECTED THERE WAS NO TIME TO ESCAPE.

Holdup Occurred in Dark Spot—Clark Could Not Identify the Highwaymen—Police Notified But No Clue to Men's Identity.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 25.—One of the most daring holdups through this section in years occurred last night shortly after 7 o'clock when four men held Ernest Clark up at the point of a revolver and robbed him of $13. The spot selected for the crime was an ideal one for highwaymen being a dark spot on Park avenue just over the bridge near Hollingsworth's mills.

Mr. Clark and family have been occupying the H. C. Meyer's property at the intersection of Johnston's Drive and Prospect avenue, during the past year. Last evening after returning from work he told his wife that he thought he would run down to the village and pay some bills. While dressing for the trip he thought he heard footsteps around the yard at the side of the house, but the noise was thought to be dogs and was for the time being forgotten. As soon as he was ready he asked his wife for the money, which was given him, and he started for the village with no thought of danger, for he had been traveling the road for years and had never encountered anyone but friends.

When just over the bridge at the mill he noticed several men apparently coming from the village. When face to face with them two grabbed and pinnioned his arms. Another went through his pockets while the fourth held a revolver in front of his face and told him he would blow his brains out at the first signs of resistance or cry for help. Mr. Clark was taken completely by surprise by the sudden and unexpected attack and at first struggled to free himself but the muzzle of the revolver put a little nearer his head made him conclude that resistance was not only dangerous but useless.

During the short time it took them to relieve him of his money he tried to identify the highwaymen, but could not, as one wore a regulation mask, while the other three had hidden their identity under improvised masks made by tying their handkerchiefs across their faces so that their features were completely hidden. One thing he could distinguish was a very strong smell of liquor, although they all appeared to be sober.

As soon as the job was completed they started upon a run towards Springfield. Clark, finding himself alone once more, started back towards his father's house, which was only a few hundred yards away, for a revolver. On the way he called for help His cries alarmed the neighborhood, but it was too late, as the men had by this time had a start of ten minutes and pursuit was useless. So it was decided to come on to the village and spread a general alarm, so that the trolley cars could be watched for strangers leaving town.

Shortly after his arrival in the village knots of the residents could be seen gathered together talking over the daring holdup at such an early hour in the evening, and it would have probably fared very badly for any strangers who appeared in town acting in any way suspicious. The streets leading to the trolley cars were watched and a general alarm sent to Plainfield and Westfield to look out for the men but as yet they have not been captured and probably never will as Mr. Clark says he is unable to give a description of them as it was so dark he was unable to even tell how they were dressed. The only clew was that they were four men about 5 feet, 6 inches, to 6 feet in height

After the excitement had abated somewhat Clark remembered the footsteps heard about his place only a short time before the robbery, and he thinks it is probable that the men were tramps prowling about, and that they overheard him and his wife talking about the money and paying the bill, and that they had gone on down the road until they found a favorable spot for their work and there laid in wait for their victim.

MANY PARTOOK OF SUPPER.

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR IN PARISH HOUSE OF HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

Turkey Supper Given Last Evening Under Auspices of Social and Sales Committee.

The turkey supper given last evening at the parish house of the Church of the Holy Cross, under the auspices of the social and sales committee, was the most successful affair held by this congregation in some years. This was the first attempt to do anything of this kind and they feel particularly gratified that it was the splendid success that it proved to be.

The cosy rooms of the parish house were crowded to their limits to accommodate all who availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy the festivities of the occasion. Rev. W. Montgomery Downing, rector of the parish, and Mrs. Downey were present to extend cordial greetings to patrons of the function as they entered the room.

Around the room individual tables were placed and about these the patrons of the supper were seated while partaking of the good things which the members of the social and sales committee had prepared in the way of turkey, and the fixin's, together with cake, ice cream and other edibles.

Mrs. Samuel Townsend was chairman of the committee. She was assisted by Mesdames Phillips, Murray, Brock, Barker and Pollard. The dining hall was under the supervision of Miss Ida Davis as chairman, assisted by a bevy of young women, prominent among whom were the Misses Moore, Hegeman, Burns, Phillips, Osgood and deMaziere. The cake table was looked after by Mrs. Isabelle deMaziere and Mrs. G. T. Rhoades.

The supper proved such a splendid success that the committee decided to repeat the experiment at some future date.

HOME FOR NEEDY FRIENDS.

MRS. JOHN DIETRICH LEAVES BULK OF PROPERTY FOR SUCH OBJECT.

Her Old Home will be Utilized For Such an Institution—Other Small Bequests.

After the funeral service of the late Mrs. John Dietrich, of Arlington avenue, were held Wednesday afternoon, her will was read. The will provides for the establishment of a home for needy members of the New York Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends. The value of the bequests are considered to be about $50,000, all of which, except the home, is in stocks, bonds and mortgages.

The will provides for twenty-four relatives. The Plainfield Society of Friends receives $500 to be invested for the benefit of the First day school and the remaining part of the residuary is to be used for the maintenance of the home for the needy Friends. The home formerly occupied by Mrs. Dietrich is to be used as the home for the Friends, and the inhabitants of that home are to be chosen by the trustees of the New York Society.

The will further provides that the securities bequeathed by the departed shall be re invested and the proceeds used for the Friends' Home. The will names Charles L Moffett, of West Front street, and E. K. Adams, of Cranford, as executors.

No Baggage Room at New Station.

The fact that work upon the new North Avenue railroad station is at a standstill, owing to delay in getting material, has led many people to ask whether there is to be a baggage room in the new station. There does not appear to be any room assigned for such purpose. It is the opinion that for the present at least the baggage room at the old station will be trucked from the south side to the north side and vice-versa. The new station will not be ready to use before the first of March.

To Entertain Atlantic City Tribe.

The entertainment committee from Miantonomo Tribe, I. O. R. M., has arranged for twenty-five rooms at the Hotel Imperial for the members of the Arasapha Tribe, I. O. R. M., who will come from Atlantic City today and be the guests of Miantonomo Tribe this evening. The visiting braves will remain over night. After the meeting of the tribe this evening a banquet will be served by the local tribe.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR MILITARY COMPANY.

Preliminary Meeting Held Last Night and Committee of Ten Appointed.

TO SECURE THE MEMBERS.

LIEUT. COL. COLLINS WAS PRESENT AND ADDRESSED MEETING.

City Judge Runyon Was Made Chairman of Committee—Another Meeting to be Held Soon to Formally Organize and Choose Officers.

Considering the enthusiasm shown at the meeting held last evening for the purpose of taking preliminary steps to form a military company in Plainfield, there is good reason to believe that such a company will be formed and that it will be a success. Lieut. Col. Daniel F. Collins, of the Second Regiment, was at the Hotel Kensington, and there in the parlors of the hotel he met twenty-five young men, most of whom desired to join the new company.

Col. Collins was much pleased with the showing, considering the limited time allowed for advertising the meeting. He called the meeting together and briefly outlined the prospectus for a company. He said it would require at least three officers and fifty enlisted men, and that all but officers would receive full equipment. Out of a fund in the State treasury assistance is given a company in the leasing of a place for drills and in other ways aid is given.

The Colonel explained that the new company was to be designated "K" and that it would belong to the Second Regiment. Drills have to be held once a week at least, and frequently there is an inspection. Once a year a field day is held when all the companies get together and have a drill. He further stated that military duty is not a hardship, but rigid rules are made and enforced by the military authorities. Reasonable excuses are accepted by the officers when a member of the company cannot give military service, but as a rule very little difficulty is experienced in this line for the fact that generally a member of the company is able to get the time off which is necessary without jeopardizing his interests.

After a brief informal discussion regarding certain points, those present selected John P. Mosher as chairman of the meeting, which was in accordance with a suggestion made by Col. Collins. Then a committee of ten was selected by the meeting. The committee is expected to do all in its power to get members for the company so that an organization may be perfected as soon as possible.

Dr. W. Kempton Browning was made secretary pro tem of the meeting and at his suggestion F. M. Letson was made permanent secretary. City Judge Wm. N. Runyon was made permanent chairman and the other members were selected as follows: John P. Mosher, Daniel J. Shea, Charles Peterson, Charles A. Flynn, F. M. Masker, Frank Gunning, Harry Kitchell, O. R. Pearson, Jr, John M. Lewis. It will be noticed that several members have heretofore been members of the military companies and no doubt their services will be of value in the new company.

After the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair, the committee of ten met to discuss methods for getting new members and to arrange for another time when Col. Collins can come to Plainfield and still further the interests of the new organization.

It was decided that City Judge Wm. N. Runyon, John P. Mosher and F. M. Letson should act as a committee to interview Mayor Jenkins and the Common Council regarding the formation of a company. The committee will also ask the Council to appoint a committee to act jointly and assist in organizing the company under proper control.

Elmer Cutting Sang Well.

Among the talent appearing at the Royal Arcanum anniversary in Elizabeth, last evening, was Elmer Cutting, of this city. He was the only amateur among those taking part, but his singing was one of the hits of the evening. He rendered several selections and was obliged to respond each time with an encore.

Mr. Shepard Won President.

At a recent meeting of the American Bank Note Company, A. D. Shepard, of "The Gables" was elected president. He was formerly vice president of the company.

ANOTHER RUMMAGE SALE.

WILL BE HELD IN THE SPRING BY THE RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

Planned to Hold It in Rooms of the Association on West Front Street.

Plainfield is to have another Rummage Sale. The success which met the first effort of that nature was so satisfactory that the officers of the Plainfield Relief Association announced this morning that a second sale would be held in the spring.

The first Rummage Sale was given under the joint auspices of the Plainfield Relief Association and the Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital. The proceeds which amounted to several thousand dollars were equally divided between those two worthy institutions. The coming sale will be conducted by the Relief Association alone.

It has been arranged to hold the sale in the rooms of the Relief Association, 514 West Front street, as the ample space in the new addition to the building give room to hold it there. It is hoped that housekeepers throughout the city will bear this in mind when clearing closets and attics and remember that any article of furniture, even if broken, or garment, worn or torn, if clean, will be received at the rooms at any time, or will be sent for by sending word to the rooms and stored until time of sale, if so designated.

TROUBLE OVER HOTEL BILL.

"LADDER OF LIFE" COMPANY NOW SUES HOTEL PAINFIELD.

Property of Company Was Attached After Note Given in Security of Payment of Bill.

"The Ladder of Life" company which appeared at Music Hall last evening, did not leave town last evening as scheduled, owing to a little trouble which the the management had with the proprietors of the Plainfield Hotel, where the company stopped. The patronage at the show was not large and the company had a little difficulty in meeting a bill at the hotel for $14. Manager John M Blanchard, of the company, sought his friend, Lawyer W. H. K Davey, of East Sixth street, and the latter gave his note as security for the payment of the bill at the hotel.

Afterward the proprietor of the hotel had Justice Mosher issue a writ of attachment against the property of the company, as well as the property of the actors and actresses, and Frank Vosseller served the attachments and levys were made on the property.

This action caused more trouble and compelled the company to remain in Plainfield over night. This morning Lawyer Davey was seen by Manager Blanchard of the company, and action in tort was immediately brought against James J. Walshe and Charles L Strong, proprietors of the Hotel Plainfield, for $200 damages. The papers are returnable Thursday, February 7, in Justice Nash's court. Other suits are likely to follow for the actors and actresses are likely to resent the action of the hotel authorities in attaching their personal property.

Adjourned for a Week.

The case of D. W. Littell against Thomas Martin, executor, which is a continuation of the case of Littell against Frank W. Vail, formerly of Oak Tree, was adjourned in Justice Nash's court yesterday for one week. An adjournment was not taken, however, until William Nash for the plaintiff, secured the consent of the defendant to a settlement on an equitable basis. The defendant was represented by Fred Hyer, of Rahway, and City Attorney Weigel, of New Brunswick.

Another Fraternal Organization.

It has been planned to organize a branch of the Knights of the Golden Eagle in this city Tuesday evening, January 29, when a preliminary meeting will be held in Odd Fellows Hall, Babcock building. Any white male person between the ages of 18 and 50 years can become a member of the order.

Place to Cane Chairs.

Percy Cannon, the blind boy, can now be found at Woodhull & Martin's corner store, where he will receive all chairs in need of caning and do the work in a satisfactory manner. Orders called for and delivered.

Shafting Broke.

A part of the main shafting at the Pond Tool Works broke Wednesday morning. All machine work was suspended for one hour while repairs were being made.

A TEMPERANCE DRAMA ACTED BY AMATEURS

Novel Way of Demonstrating Evils of Intemperance by Members of Reform Club.

PLAY WAS WELL ACTED.

"WINE AT THE MARRIAGE FEAST" WAS TITLE OF THE DRAMA.

Large Audience Was Greatly Pleased—Another Entertainment of the Same Nature Will be Given in the Near Future—The Cast.

Wishing to exploit the evils of intemperance in a more forcible manner, the members of the Reform Club departed from the usual custom last evening and gave an interesting temperance drama before a large audience. The cast was composed entirely of amateurs but the work of some of them would be creditable to many so called professionals.

The title of the drama was "Wine at the Marriage Feast." It told the story of two young men, John Otis and Charles Wood, who went west and engaged in mining. Both became drunkards and Otis died from the effects of a debauch. Wood afterward returned and became engaged to Otis' sister, Marion. The wedding took place and the bride's health was about to be drunk with wine when she remembered it was liquor which killed her brother. The groom also became filled with remorse and both refused to drink. Their action was followed by the guests.

The drama ended in a tableau in which the "Angel of Temperance" was shown spreading her wings over all the earth, while the players remained in a group singing, "Save the Boy." The effect of the scene was greatly heightened by calcium lights operated by John Schorb.

Those comprising the cast were: "Charles Wood," Charles Rice; "Marion Otis," Miss Sadie Smith; "Judge Otis," John H. Sayers; clergyman, Henry Hammill; bridemaids, Miss Jennie Smith and Miss Freda Saunders; best man, John Manley; guests, Eugene Wood, Miss Philpitt and Mrs. Manley.

At the conclusion of the drama addresses were made by President Armstrong, John Sayers and John Manley.

As last evening's drama proved such a success, another one entitled "The Moderate Drinker," will be given by nearly the same cast Thursday night, February 7.

PREPARING FOR FAIR.

Several Important Donations Given for Borough Firemen's Fair.

The fair, which the borough firemen are to hold next month at Saenger bund Hall, promises to be the best one the local firemen have held in some years. The various committees are working industriously to have the function all that is anticipated. Among the donations is a rubber-tired road wagon and a heavily embroidered silk flag, 6x6½ feet. The latter prize is to be given the most popular organization in the city. The prizes are to placed on exhibition in one of the show windows at Crosby & Hill's big store.

Ash Carters in Court.

Spencer Conway and Thomas Scott were before City Judge Runyon this morning to explain why they did not conform to the requirements of the city ordinance in regard to having their wagons, in which they cart ashes, properly covered. Both men promised to remedy the existing evil and sentence was suspended.

New Assistant in Express Office.

Frank R. Mills, of Long Island City, has accepted a position in the local office of the United States Express Company. Mr. Mills is familiar with the express business, having been in the chief auditor's office at Philadelphia for some time. Mr. Mills is not related to E. W. Mills, the local manager.

Will Reform.

Thomas Caufield, a ten-year old boy, was before City Judge Runyon this morning, charged with being unruly. Thomas persists in running away from school and is a bad boy. He promised the magistrate that he would do better in the future and sentence was suspended.

Drunk on the Street.

Nathaniel Wilson was arrested last night by Patrolman Lunger who found him on Park avenue in an intoxicated condition. A fine of $3 was imposed or ten days in the county jail.

ANOTHER WHIST TROPHY.

PARK CLUB FOUR WILL COMPETE FOR METROPOLITAN TROPHY.

Although Offered By State Association, is Open to All Clubs Within a Hundred Miles of New York.

The New Jersey Whist Association has just inaugurated a challenge trophy tournament for all regularly organized male whist clubs, members of the State association or of the American Whist League, within a radius of one hundred miles of New York city. The play will be for a trophy, a silver loving cup costing $150, which is offered by the New Jersey Whist Association for challenge play. It will be known as the "Metropolitan trophy."

The Park Club "four" will enter this tournament and this will bring interest to this city in the play. All games are to be held at the home of the holder of the trophy, and the first owner of the trophy will be determined Saturday evening, February 8, when the first club drawn will be called upon to defend the trophy. All games thereafter will be played on Saturday evening, except where by mutual agreement another evening is chosen. The holder of the trophy shall defend the same once a week.

Fifteen wins shall give permanent possession of the trophy, but a default by challenger shall cause a forfeit of his right of precedence. The trophy passes to the challenger on default by the holder. All challenges shall be sent to the president of the New Jersey Whist Association, T. E. Otis, 10 Wall street, New York, and shall take precedence in the order received after January 26. Prior to this date precedence shall be given by lot to all challenges received.

The trophy committee consists of Arthur F. Freeman, W. J. R. Hegeman, Jr., and H A. Baxter.

BIG WATER SUPPLY COMPANY

WANTS TO PROVIDE SOMERVILLE AND OTHER TOWNS WITH WATER.

Big Syndicate Gets Control of Flour Mills and Water Rights at Pottersville.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 25—There has been considerable mystery and curiosity manifested for some time over the actions of a syndicate in purchasing the flour mills and water power rights at Pottersville, where are located Black River Falls, along the Rockaway Valley Railroad. Curiosity has risen to a high pitch lately by the installation of a lot of new machinery, which the natives knew was not used in making flour. It has now developed that the mills are to be used in making blankets and cheap woolen goods, and the residents now have rosy dreams of wealth and of making money by selling their farms for town lots, as they anticipate a great building boom by reason of the factories.

It has also developed that the syndicate plans to supply water to the towns within a radius of twenty-five miles, which includes Raritan, Somerville, Bound Brook, Plainfield, White House, New Germantown, Pluckamin, Bedminster, Gladstone and Peapack.

An effort is now being made to secure a franchise to lay pipes in Somerville, and the new syndicate has offered to furnish the town with water free for the fire hydrants, and to give a reduction to private consumers of 30 per cent. over the present rates. There is a string to the latter proposition, as they propose to put meters in, which, it is said, would run the cost to consumers above the present rates.

The water at Black River Falls is fine and wholesome, but it is doubtful if the supply is sufficient to meet the needs of Somerville and Raritan, let alone the other places mentioned.

This subject will be fully discussed around the stove of the village store at Pottersville every night the balance of the winter.

Studying Venezuelan Architecture.

Evarts Tracy, the well-known architect, of Prospect avenue, who went to South America several weeks ago, is understood to be in that country for the purpose of perfecting himself in that line of work. Mr. Tracy will have charge of the building to be erected at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo for the Venezuelan government.

Stop!

VanEmburgh's going out of business, everything is selling cheap. All goods must be sold. For instance—men's fleeced-lined shirts and drawers, 29 cents a garment; ladies' fleeced-lined vests and pants, 19 cents a garment. All other goods will be slaughtered in a like manner. ## THAT FESTIVE TURKEY REIGNED ALL SUPREME

Annual Turkey Supper of Ladies' Christian Work Society Was Auspiciously Opened.

HELD AT TRINITY CHURCH.

MANY PARTOOK OF THE EXCELLENT REPAST PREPARED.

Host of Workers Were Ably Generaled and the First Night of the Supper Proved a Great Success—Fine Decorations.

That festive American bird—the turkey—was in all his glory last evening, when the Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed church, served him to a great host of his admirers. Once more the turkey proved to be a great attraction, and once more the members of the society demonstrated their ability as good providers. The society is one of the greatest working forces in the church, and when the energetic members undertake to do anything there are always assurances of success from the start. There was no exception to this rule as shown last evening, when the lecture room of the church was filled with members and friends of the church, all eager to assist so worthy a society.

The lecture room and the adjoining class rooms were arranged in the most inviting style. About large tables, prettily decorated with china and dainty silverware, with choice decorations of cut flowers and smilax, were stationed attentive young women, who attended to every wish. In addition to the many incandescent lights that illuminated the room, several of the supper tables held a pretty banquet lamp.

About the sides of the room there were other tables, just as prettily arranged, where cakes, candy, aprons and pop-corn was offered for sale. There was no lack of patronage at these tables.

Of course, the turkey supper was the attraction, and around this all other things centred. The menu was a select one and everything served was appetizing and thoroughly enjoyed by all who partook of it. The turkey was accompanied with the customary side dishes, while in addition, ice cream and cake were served There was nothing lacking in the meal and service to make it all that it should be and it was indeed gratifying and encouraging to the ladies that their efforts were appreciated so much.

To everyone of the women credit is due for earnest work, but to Mrs. H. W. Marshall and Mrs. Edward T. VanWinkle, special credit is due for their management of the affair. The whole affair was planned perfectly. In addition to the names of those taking part in the affair, should be mentioned the name of John H. Tier, Sr. He offered his services for the kitchen, and the very satisfactory way in which the sixteen turkeys were carved was due to his efforts.

A decided feature of the affair last evening was the fine musical programme rendered by the Dunellen Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club throughout the evening. The club under the direction of W. C. Townsend, as director, played well and their work was highly complimented. The members of the club are: Mandolins, Miss Wilgus, Mr. Fesmier, Charles A. Coriell, Jr.; guitar, Miss Weatherwax; banjos, Miss Boice, Miss Fulper, G. Herlich, A. S. Coriell; cello, Miss Dunham; flute, Ernest Wilcox; piano, Miss Dealaman. The supper will be continued this evening and a new programme of music will be given by the club.

Those in charge of the various tables and their assistants were as follows:

Mrs. J. M. Tier—Miss Emma Line, Miss Gertrude Tier; Mrs. Horace J. Martin—Miss Bessie Martin, Miss Grace Rowland; Mrs. A. L. Force—Miss M. VanFleet, Miss Sadie Holmes; Mrs. George L. VanEmburgh—Miss Jennie Thorn, Miss Minnie Wyman; Mrs. Henry B. Paul—Miss Jessie Littell, Miss Grace Emmons; Mrs. Salmon C. Baker—Miss Lizzie Smalley and Miss Lizzie Bogert.

The following were serving at the various tables: Candy—Mrs. E. H. Bird, Mrs. Anna E. Leggett, Mrs. Peter Stuart; apron—Mrs. B. Frank Coriell, Mrs. Abram Van Cleef, Mrs. L. C. Sheppard; cake—Mrs. T. R. VanZandt, Mrs. Peter A. Emmons, Mrs. B. D. Newell, Mrs. R. B. Rogers, Mrs. O. W. Dunham; pop corn—Mrs. Julius Williams, Mrs. Emily Templin.

—Quality and not quantity makes DeWitt's Little Early Risers such valuable little ver pills. L. W. Randolph.

—The work of repairs to the Washington avenue bridge are underway under the direction of Freeholder Andrew Lutkins, of the borough.

—Such little pills as DeWitt's Little Early Risers are very easily taken, and they are wonderfully effective in cleansing the liver and bowels. L. W. Randolph.

—Flynn Brothers, 222 West Front street, have a veluable stock embracing everything under the general head of boots, shoes, rubbers and slippers. Prices are governed by moderation.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

—Fred Endrees, the popular butcher, claims to be at the head of the meat business in Plainfield, and the beef, veal, mutton, lamb and pork sold by him he claims is from prime stock which is only found in young animals. Tough meat he never sells.

Thousands Sent Into Exile.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. Don't be an exile when Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption will cure you at home. It's the most infallible medicine for Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung diseases on earth. The first dose brings relief. Astounding cures result from persistent use. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

—Freeholder Mobus, of Watchung, is sporting a fine roadster, and he claims it is the speediest four footer in Somerset county.

—When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. L. W. Randolph.

LITERARY.

Theodosia Burr's remarkable life story is capitally told by an admiring writer in the February Ladies' Home Journal. Such extremes of joy and sorrow as were the lot of "The Beautiful Daughter of Aaron Burr" come to few women. Lovers of "Cranford"—and they are legion—will be delighted with the dramatic version in the February Journal. Through Edward Bok representative men and women journalists emphatically settle the oft-disputed question, "Is the Newspaper Office the Place for Girl?" There seems to be but one opinion among those who should know most on the subject. "The Problem of the Boy." "Why One Man Succeeds and His Brother Fails," and "The Trying Time Between Mother and Daughter" are all thoughtful articles. Architecture, the fashions, culinary matters, and all themes interesting women are amply treated. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy. c

PERSONAL.

Lawyer Francis J. Blatz, of Somerset street, has recovered from the grip.

G. H Underhill, of Fairview Farm, near Watchung, has gone to Buffalo on business.

Mrs. Charles A. Reed, of Myrtle avenue, has recovered from a severe attack of the grip.

Paul Beardsley, formerly of Millstone, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Geo. White, of Washington Park.

Alvin S. Brown and wife, of Holden, Ill., are in charge of Frank C. Hopkins' place at Watchung for the winter.

Miss Manning and Miss Cassie Dunham, of Lamington, have been spending a few days with Plainfield friends.

Miss Susie Woodland, of Craig place, who has been ill for the past week with a severe attack of the grip, is somewhat improved.

Harry and Rufus Finch, of Park avenue, who are sojourning at Atlantic City for their health, are very much better. They will probably return home next week.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Speaking of the Charles Leyburne Big Bon Ton Stock Company which opens for a week at Music Hall Monday night next, presenting as the opening attraction, "The Princess of Patches," a Pittston, Pa., says: "The good impression left with Pittston theatre goers by the Bon Ton Stock Company was evidenced in the crowded which greeted the opening production of their week's engagement at Music Hall. For the first time this season the 'Standing Room Only' sign was up, and hundreds were turned away. 'The Princess of Patches,' an interesting southern drama, with plenty of vim and fascinating plot, was the bill which gave unbounded satisfaction. The company is headed by Charles Leyburne and Miss Emma Bunting. The former was seen to good advantage in the role of 'Waggles,' the tramp, while Miss Bunting made a decided hit as the 'Princess.' The supporting company is good" Unrivalled specialties and new scenery are the features of every performance of this company. The sale of reserved seats is now on at the box office. "Ladies' Tickets" for Monday must be presented before 6 p. m. that day.

The theatregoing public will be much interested to know that Wm. A. Brady's production of "The Sorrows of Satan" is booked at Music Hall for Monday, February 4, and no doubt a large audience will attend this superb dramatic version of Marie Corelli's popular book. No expense has been spared to make the play worthy of the book, and Miss Corelli's admirers in this city are insured a treat. The scenery and costumes are of the most expensive and elaborate character, and the cast includes well-known actors and actresses of New York reputation.

* * * * *

Another typical programme of Broadway vaudeville has been arranged for Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre for next week, beginning Monday, January 28. Jean Marcel's living statuary and bas reliefs are still the sensation of patrons to this favorite playhouse and will doubtless enjoy a record breaking engagement. Mlle. Delbosq, the latest Parisian success, will introduce her novel and picturesque wire balancing feats and her marvelously beautiful Arabian thoroughbred horses. Al Leech and he three Rosebuds have a unique act in Jos. Hart's latest musical farce and Ralph Johnstone, the dashing stair climbing cyclist, will be retained a second week. Max Waldron, the famous European female impersonator, makes her debut here, and Cenaro and Bailey will prove they are the premier cakewalkers. Others are: Spenser Kelley, baritone; Frank Cushman, minstrel; Maddox and Wayno, comedy acrobats, etc.

—Pepsin preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief for it digests what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Compton, of Rockview Terrace, will leave in a few days for Southern California, where she will remain until spring.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. G. H. Underhill, of Watchung, is detained at home by illness.

A young son is the cause for much rejoicing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Home, of Hillside avenue.

—This season there is a large death rate among children from croup and lung troubles. Prompt action will save the little ones from these terrible diseases. We know of nothing so certain to give instant relief as One Minute Cough Cure. It can also be relied upon in grippe and all throat and lung troubles of adults. Pleasant to take. L. W. Randolph.

William Waters, of East Third street, has been detained at his home by illness.

Miss Estella Hoffman, of Whitehouse, has returned after a visit with Plainfield friends.

Miss Mabel DuBois, of Park avenue, has been visiting Miss Bertha Swackhamer, of Whitehouse.

Miss Hattie Miller, of Whitehouse, has taken up her residence with her grandmother, Mrs. H. LaTourette, of the borough.

MRS. NATION ATTACKED.

A Street Fight by Enterprise (Kan.) Women.

ENTERPRISE, Kan., Jan. 25.—A street fight occurred here yesterday between women led on one side by Mrs. Carrie Nation, the saloon wrecker, and on the other by Mrs. John Schilling, wife of the manager of the saloon wrecked Wednesday. Mrs. Schilling was backed by a dozen female friends.

As a result of the fight Mrs. Nation swore out warrants against Mrs. Schilling and her husband and Mrs. William Bittner, charging them with assault, and Mrs. Schilling swore out a warrant against Mrs. Nation, charging her with disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Nation, in company with Mrs. Hoffman and other members of the W. C. T. U., entered a store near William Shook's saloon. Mrs. Nation, apparently to give him warning that she would attack his place, sent for Shook.

He replied to the summons in person, and while talking to Mrs. Nation she was assaulted by a crowd of women organized since Wednesday night's raid and who had been awaiting the threatened destruction of saloon property.

A general fight between the women ensued, during which a woman heavily veiled lashed Mrs. Nation with a horse whip. Quiet was restored only when the police interfered. Mrs. Nation was badly bruised.

Judge Holt bound all concerned except Mrs. Nation over for trial today. Mrs. Nation returned to the home of Mr. Hoffman to doctor her wounds and, as she declared, "prepare for tomorrow." Much excitement prevailed over the affair, and business practically was suspended.

Saloon Keepers Prepare For Assault.

TOPEKA, Jan. 25.—The saloon keepers of Topeka are much worried over the possibility of Mrs. Nation coming here. There have been several reports that she would be here soon. The owners of the saloons have prepared elaborate barricades for their doors and have engaged the services of watchmen, so that it will be a difficult matter for Mrs. Nation to gain entrance.

VENEZUELAN SITUATION.

The Mutiny of Native Troops—Asphalt Case More Serious.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Jan. 25.—Advices which have been received here regarding the mutiny of Venezuelan troops in the Hoyo barracks at Caracas say that the mutineers numbered 600. The outbreak took place at 8 o'clock in the evening of Jan. 14, and the colonel, two officers and four men were killed. The mutineers escaped without arms by different roads and got outside the capital. Half of them were subsequently arrested near Caracas, and the others surrendered the next day.

"Apparently there was no political cause for the outbreak." Inquiry showed that the men had been badly fed and were being exploited by the chiefs. The authorities of the capital seem to have been unaware of the incident.

The situation so far as it affects the Bermudez Asphalt company grows critical every hour. All the negroes and other laborers are menaced and impressed by the local authorities or they desert, thus leaving the plant at the asphalt lake without assistance.

The American colony in Venezuela continues to protest against the indifference with which American lives and interests are regarded.

Tammany's Assessment Scheme.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—About 30,000 men woke up in poor, overburdened Brooklyn yesterday morning and discovered that they were wealthy in name if not in fact. They found letters from the tax department notifying them that their personal property had been assessed at from $1,000 to $50,000. In two hours the tax department was a sight to behold. There was an army of angry citizens demanding why they had been served with such notices. Some of the men who had been assessed for thousands were actually in rags. One man named A. Jahn had received two notices, one of which informed him that he had been assessed $5,000, while the other charged him with owning $25,000 worth of personal property. The same scheme was worked in Manhattan to make a lower tax rate.

Iron and Steel Production.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—The bulletin of the American Iron and Steel association says: "The total production of pig iron in 1900 was 13,789,242 gross tons, against 13,620,703 tons in 1899, 11,773,934 tons in 1898 and 9,652,680 tons in 1897. The production in the second half of 1899 and the first half of 1900 aggregated 14,974,105 tons, or almost 15,000,000 tons. There was a decline in production in the second half of 1900 as compared with the first half of 1,495,863 tons. The production of bessemer pig iron in 1900 was 7,943,452 tons, against 8,202,778 tons in 1899.

Pedestal to Longfellow Statue.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Representative McCleary of Minnesota, from the committee on library, reported favorably to the house the bill to appropriate $4,000 for a pedestal for a statue to the poet, Henry W. Longfellow, which is to be erected in this city by the Longfellow Memorial association. The bill also carries provision for the donation of a site upon one of the government reservations.

A BANK TAX SCHEME

Bill Before New York Legislature Imposes 1 Per Cent.

ON STOCK, SURPLUS AND PROFITS.

Proposed Law Would Reach All Banking Institutions and Trust Companies and Would Yield Three or Four Millions.

ALBANY, Jan. 25.—Two bills imposing a tax of 1 per cent upon the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of national, state and private banks of this state were introduced yesterday by Assemblyman Merton E. Lewis of Monroe. They are in line with the recommendations made by Governor Odell in his first annual message to the legislature.

It has been computed by experts on taxation that an exaction of this kind upon the capital of banks and trust companies will bring into the state treasury between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. The total amount of the capitalization, undivided profits and surplus of banks is $385,133,329, of which about $55,000,000 is in real estate, leaving about $330,000,000 in personal property in such capital and surplus.

The tax is to be imposed on the individual shares of capital stock. The value of each share is to be ascertained by adding together the capital stock of the corporation, the surplus and undivided profits and dividing the total sum by the number of shares. This is done for the purpose of enabling the state comptroller to determine the actual value of the shares.

The banks and trust companies are required to report annually to the comptroller on or before July 20 the amount of their capital stock, the amount of surplus and the amount of the undivided profits as of July 1. The comptroller is also required to give a hearing to those persons who may file objections to his estimates. On or before Aug. 15 in each year the comptroller shall finally fix and determine the gross amount of tax due from the owners of the shares of stock in such banking and trust corporations.

Major Smith's Motion Denied.

ALBANY, Jan. 25.—The appellate division, third department, has denied a motion of Major Clinton H. Smith, late of the Seventy-first regiment of New York city, that he be permitted to take certain questions before the court of appeals in connection with his removal from majorship in that regiment. His conduct as an officer of the regiment at the battle Santiago de Cuba was investigated by a board of inquiry appointed by Governor Roosevelt. Major Smith sought to prevent that board investigating the matter, as he was an officer in the United States army, when the battle took place. The court decided that they had no jurisdiction over the acts of the governor in the matter. Major Smith was removed by the governor, and he made an application to the courts for a writ of certiorari for a review by the courts of the action of the board of inquiry, alleging that it had admitted testimony which it should not have taken. Again the courts decided that they had no jurisdiction, and the appellate division yesterday denied Major Smith the right to submit the question of jurisdiction to the court of appeals.

Another Georgia Boy Missing.

ATLANTA, Jan. 25.—J. L. Patterson has asked the police to find his son, Alonzo Patterson, a 13-year-old boy, who disappeared from his home in this city last Thursday. Mr. Patterson believes his boy has been kidnaped. The family of Bass Fraser, who is believed to have been kidnaped two weeks ago from the Georgia Technological school, has given up hope of ever seeing him again. Fraser's brother, who left for his home in Alabama yesterday, has no idea that the $500 in gold which he paid a negro who promised to restore the student to his family ever will be recovered. The police are at work on both cases.

A Great Poultry Show.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Increased crowds marked the second day of the poultry show in Madison Square Garden, and the exhibition was greatly enlivened by a large number of sales. From an early hour the crowds thronged the coop lined aisles and listened to a motley chorus of crows, quacks, hisses and peeps. The twelfth annual exhibition of the New York Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock association is the largest that has been held in the history of the organization, and the interest is correspondingly heightened.

Discovered Gold, but Has None.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Tottering with age and almost blind, thinly clad, James Leonard, 73 years old, one of the discoverers of gold in California in 1849 and formerly one of the wealthiest men in that state, staggered into the Evanston police station and asked for a crust of bread and a place to spend the night. For the last ten years Leonard has spent the winter in Evanston, where he is well known, migrating to Minnesota when the weather became warm. He was born in Ireland in 1827.

Millionaire's Son In Prison.

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Arthur Oakes, who claims to be a son of Peter Oakes, a millionaire candy maker of St. Louis, was sentenced to serve six months' imprisonment at Deer island on a charge of assaulting his wife with a razor. It is alleged that Oakes attacked his wife after locking her in a room and forcing her to sign a confession of having been unfaithful to him.

A Fight With Robbers.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—Count von Waldersee in a dispatch to the war office from Peking says: "There are many bands of robbers in the province of Chi-li. The British lost two men while engaging the robbers near Shan-hai-kwan." He alludes to three German columns moving through the province.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Connecticut—East Hartland, F. J. Tillapaugh. Pennsylvania—Kresgeville, M. M. Beers; Port Griffith, Bridget Kilgallen; Simpson, W. S. Bonham; Whitesburg, J. A. Blaney, Jr.

Died From Snowball Blow.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Leo Conkling, 12 years old, a son of David L. Conkling of this city, is dead as the result of being struck in the back of the head by a snowball at school. For several days he lay in an unconscious state.

REVENUE REDUCTION

Substitute For the House Bill Before Senate.

PROPOSED REDUCTION REDUCED.

Naval Appropriation Bill Completed by the House—Cost of the New Navy Will Reach $320,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Senator Aldrich, chairman of the senate committee on finance, yesterday reported the war revenue reduction bill back to the senate The committee reports a complete substitute for the bill as it passed the house Senator Aldrich made a statement explaining the changes, which are as follows:

"Stamp Taxes Repealed—Promissory notes, mortgages, bills of lading for export, powers of attorney, protest, charter party, certificates of all kinds, leases, warehouse receipts, telegraphic dispatches, telephone messages, passage tickets costing less than $30, express receipts, freight receipts, bonds, except bonds of indemnity; legacies to religious, charitable, literary or educational institutions. Special Taxes Repealed — Commercial brokers. Taxes Reduced—Conveyances, insurance, bankers' capital, proprietary medicines, cigars, tobacco and beer."

The statement says: "Having always in view the revenue requirements of the government, the purpose of the committee has been to repeal such of the taxes imposed by the war revenue act of 1898 as are most annoying and burdensome to taxpayers, to retain such as should be kept as a permanent part of our revenue system or at least retained until all war taxes can be repealed, and to reduce all others as fairly and equitably as possible by some general plan of reduction. Pursuing this general plan it has been possible to reduce the taxes affected approximately one-half.

"Taking the estimates of the treasury department as a basis, the reduction of revenue effected by the bill will be nearly $40,000,000, a reduction somewhat less than was produced by the bill as it passed the house of representatives."

The house continued consideration of the naval appropriation bill and practically completed it before adjournment. One small matter went over. The debate upon the present naval bill has lacked the interesting and sensational features of recent years. The fight which the appropriation committee waged against hydrographic surveys under the auspices of the navy was abandoned this year by the committee, and several other questions, including armor plate, which usually entail much discussion, occasioned no comment whatever. The provision for the increase of the navy was made the occasion of an interesting debate upon the length to which the building up of the navy was to go and drew from Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee, a notable statement to the effect that when ships now authorized and to be authorized had been completed $320,000,000 would have been spent upon the new navy and that in his opinion the time to stop will then have arrived. An amendment offered by Mr. Rixey of Virginia, a Democratic member of the naval committee, to strike out the provision in the bill for two battleships and two cruisers was defeated, 46 to 90.

Vanderbilt Baby Christened.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Vanderbilt heiress, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., born Nov. 23, was christened Murial Vanderbilt yesterday afternoon in the private chapel of Archbishop Corrigan's residence. Mrs. Vanderbilt, with the baby and nurse, drove from their Fifth avenue home to the archbishop's residence. There they were met by William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Clarence Mackey and Miss Isabel Kemp. The latter two had been asked to act as godfather and godmother to the child. Rev. Father Thomas Murphy officiated.

To Investigate Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Representative Sherman of New York has introduced a resolution, which was referred to the naval committee, providing for the appointment of a select committee of five members of the house to investigate hazing at the Naval academy at Annapolis. The resolution sets forth that the published accounts of the investigation of hazing at West Point have aroused universal indignation at the widespread prevalence of hazing and that it is believed similar practices are in vogue at Annapolis.

Supposed Dead Man Alive.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—Albert C. Johnson, who was supposed to be dead in a lonely Brazilian grave, remote from civilization, is a very sturdy conductor on a St. Louis "owl" car. After a long search Johnson has located his wife at Belding, Mich., and last night the long distance telephone convinced her that he was still alive despite the fact that she has collected $7,000 life insurance money. Johnson was married to Jennie J. Lounsburg in Batavia, N. Y., in 1896.

Tien-tsin For a Military Base.

TIEN-TSIN, Jan. 25.—Preparations are being made in Tien-tsin to make it the military base for the coming spring and summer, when, it is believed, a majority of the troops in Peking will encamp in this neighborhood preparatory to gradual debarkation. Great quantities of ice are being stored, and options are being obtained upon a majority of the large buildings in the foreign concessions.

A Town In Danger.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 25.—The town of Parsons, near here, is in danger of suffering severe damage as well as having its chief industry destroyed. It has been discovered that the Laurel Run mine, over the workings of which is the business part of the town, is going to cave in soon, and there is apparently no way of preventing it.

Governor Odell's Dinner.

ALBANY, Jan. 25.—A dinner was given last night at the executive mansion by Governor Odell to the judges of the court of appeals and several personal friends and their wives. The function was one of a series of such dinners which the governor intends giving.

Boiler Makers Strike Again.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Jan. 25.—For the second time during the present month the 125 boiler makers employed in the locomotive shops of the Erie Railroad company here are on strike.

EDITOR TO BE DEPORTED.

Guilty of Offensive Journalism In Manila and Not Wanted.

MANILA, Jan. 25.—General MacArthur has ordered the deportation to the United States of George T. Rice, editor of The Daily Bulletin, a marine journal. Rice will sail on the Pennsylvania next Monday. The order characterizes him as a "dangerous incendiary and a menace to the military situation."

Rice's offense was the publication of allegations that Lieutenant Commander William Braunhersreuther, captain of the port, had charged excessive pilotage and moorage fees, a percentage of which he had kept for himself.

The report of Major Mills, inspector general, who investigated the allegations, completely exonerated the captain of the port and indicted the editor and the merchants who had given him information and who had been misled by figuring the rates upon the net instead of the gross tonnage, the latter being specified under the Spanish law.

Rice was summoned to the office of the governor general's military secretary and was called upon to promise that he would publish no more such articles. He declined to give such a pledge, but insisted that the article was truthful and took up a defiant attitude when threatened with deportation.

The deportation order was then issued, and Rice is now awaiting the departure of the Pennsylvania. When seen in jail, he reiterated his statement that the charges were true and declared that in any event the severity of the sentence was unmerited.

Rice came originally from Red Wing, Minn., and was formerly a member of the Minnesota volunteers.

Lieutenant Steele, with ten men of the Forty-third regiment and seven native soldiers, fought a fierce half hour's engagement with a large force of Filipinos at Tonaguna, island of Leyte, Jan. 9, which resulted in the killing of more than 100 insurgents.

Private Edward McGugie of Company M was killed.

A COSTLY REVENGE.

Fifteen Hundred Acres of Sugar Cane Burned In Cuba.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Jan. 25.—Fifteen hundred acres of sugar cane were burned on Wednesday, as the result of political friction, on Mr. Joseph Rigney's plantation, Ceibahueca, near Manzanillo, the richest plantation in this province. During the war against Spain Mr. Rigney refused to pay tribute to the Cubans. For two years he supported a Spanish garrison, but ultimately the Cubans destroyed the property with the exception of the mill, valued at $1,000,000. This year the plantation was fully equipped to produce sugar to the full capacity of the mill.

Mr. Rigney's loss is about $100,000, but it will not seriously cripple the business. A considerable quantity of cane from the burned fields is still valuable and can be utilized unless rain falls within a few days.

Mr. Rigney's only daughter, Lillian, was recently married to Lieutenant Whitside, son of General Whitside.

Two plantations at Guantanamo have lost heavily during the week from similar fires. Burning cane is a popular method of getting revenge among the Cubans.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

A successful operation was performed on Mr. Kruger's eyes.

British steamer Starcross went ashore on the Maryland coast.

Thermometer at Forty Mile, Alaska, registered 78 degrees below zero.

Benjamin F. Silliman, 95 years of age, the oldest member of the New York bar, died in Brooklyn.

A new White Star line ship is to be built. It will be 8,000 tons bigger than the Oceanic, but not as fast.

Montreal Fire Losses.

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—The latest estimates place the total loss of yesterday's great fire at $2,750,000. The following is a revised list of the heaviest individual losses: Board of Trade building, $400,000, fully insured; Silverman, Boulter & Co., wholesale furriers, $125,000; Beardmore & Co., tanners, $80,000, insured for $48,000; H. A. Nelson & Sons, fancy goods, $150,000; James Coristine & Co., furs, $450,000, fully insured; Gilmour Bros. & Co., commission agents, $50,000, covered by insurance; C. A. Choilleau & Co., commission merchants, $25,000; J. Cohen & Co., wholesale clothiers, $40,000; B. L. Levin & Co., wholesale furs, $100,000; H. W. Decourtenay & Co., iron and steel, $25,000; Seybold, Son & Co., $100,000, fully insured; Cortely Silk company, $60,000; M. Saxe & Co., wholesale clothiers, $100,000, insurance $60,000.

New Postoffice For New York.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Senator Fairbanks has reported from the committee on public buildings and grounds a bill for the erection of a new postoffice building for New York city at a cost of $2,500,000. The report says that $46,350 is now being expended annually for rents in New York, which would be a saving of nearly 2 per cent per annum on the cost of the new building. The committee is of the opinion that the necessity for additional room is very urgent in order to avoid serious embarrassment to the service and recommends that the bill be passed.

Future of Armour Institute.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Armour Institute of Technology is to be the nucleus of a great technical school and will be affiliated with either the University of Chicago or Northwestern university. Philip D. Armour before his death arranged for the future of the institution, and his will provides an endowment of $1,000,000. This information is said to come from a close personal friend of the Armour family.

A Monument at Andersonville.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—The state senate passed a bill to commemorate the heroism, sacrifices and patriotism of the Pennsylvania troops in the civil war who died in Andersonville prison and making an appropriation and creating a commission for the purpose of erecting a monument to their memory in the National cemetery at Andersonville, Ga.

Pedestrian In Middletown.

CONSTITUTION DISCUSSED.

Delegates Accept the Draft as a Whole and Begin Work.

HAVANA, Jan. 25.—The Cuban constitutional convention yesterday began the discussion of the draft constitution recently submitted by the central committee. It was decided to accept the draft as a whole and then to discuss it article by article.

Senor Cisneros moved to strike out a clause in the preamble invoking the favor of God. He said that he had no religion himself and took no exception to the religious beliefs of others, but that the constitution recognized no religion and that in his opinion there was no reason for invoking deity.

Senor Marua supported Senor Cisneros.

General Sanguily said: "If we do not invoke God, whom can we invoke? An invocation of some kind is customary."

Senor Llorente strenuously opposed the motion of Senor Cisneros, declaring that all constitutions contained such a clause.

The convention rejected the proposal of Senor Cisneros.

The first two articles, constituting the republic and describing the territory of Cuba, were adopted without discussion.

Senor de Castro moved to amend the article calling for the division of Cuban territory into provinces in such a way that there would be seven provinces instead of six, his suggestion being that Santiago should be divided into two.

The motion to amend was defeated, and then the entire article was rejected, but the adherents of the provincial form of government claimed that the latter vote was based upon a misunderstanding of the question before the house, and a motion to reconsider was passed just before adjournment. A large majority of the delegates favor the provincial form, and this will undoubtedly be approved today.

Interest is keen in pushing the constitution to a completion before the adjournment of the United States congress, and it is probable that night sessions will be held next week.

THE INDIAN UPRISING.

Choctaws, Snakes and Creeks Organizing and Arming.

SOUTH M'ALESTER, I. T., Jan. 25.—Reports of a Choctaw uprising are fully confirmed. Scouts sent out from this city report the disaffected Choctaws have a number of Creek Snakes among them, and they have been quietly organizing and arming for some time. They call themselves the Choctaw Snakes. They include all those Indians who are opposed to allotment, and the conflict is between them and the treaty Indians. While noncitizens are not in danger, it is stated that the Snakes have planned to destroy all the railroads in their nation by burning bridges and section houses on a preconcerted night. They have deposed Governor Luke and have issued an order to all citizens to cease leasing or renting to whites. The first offense they will punish with 50 lashes, they say; ears will be cut off for the second and death for the third. They have organized and have leaders in every Choctaw county and claim a membership of 2,600.

United States Marshal Grady has sent the leaders word that arrests will follow the first violation of the law, no matter what may be the result. He has wired the department for permission to swear in special deputies, and if this shall be granted he says he will be able to handle them and will not ask for troops.

There will be a meeting of the full bloods Saturday, and the marshal says he will attend it and give the Indians a talk. The Indians are riding over the country in bands of five or six, serving their notices. General Superintendent Harris of the Choctaw railway, who was here on Wednesday night from Little Rock, has enjoined especial watchfulness upon all employees of the line in the Indian Territory.

Ottendorfer's Will.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—In the will of the late Oswald Ottendorfer many public charities are remembered with large bequests. Among the many bequests are $20,000 to the New York Free Circulating library, $10,000 to the United Relief Works of the Society For Ethical Culture, $20,000 to the Charity Organization Society of the City of New York, $20,000 to the Cooper Union for the Advancement of Science and Art, $20,000 to the German hospital and dispensary, $100,000 "to the Isabella Heimath, founded by my late wife," and $10,000 to the German Ladies' Society For the Relief of Destitute Widows and Orphans and Sick Persons. The sum of $50,000 is left to be divided among the employees of The Staats Zeitung in "proportion to the aggregate salaries or wages received by them respectively during the year next preceding my death." To the American Museum of Natural History is left $25,000.

Exhibits For Philadelphia Museum.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—The first installment of exhibits secured by the Philadelphia Commercial museum from the Paris exposition has arrived here on the British steamer Minnesota from London. There are 445 large cases, and over 200 more cases are to be brought here later. The exhibits were presented to the Commercial museum at the close of the Paris exposition, and they represent the raw products of Russia, Peru, Ecuador, Argentina, United States of Colombia and South and Central America generally. There are also a vast number of articles showing the resources of the French colonies.

Sad Fate of Wedding Guests.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 25.—Two sisters, a brother and a niece of Miss Margaret Lyons were being driven to church yesterday to attend her wedding when the breaking of a whiffletree belt in the hack started a runaway, and the vehicle was demolished by striking a post at the side of the street. The occupants were picked up unconscious. Both the sisters were so severely injured that it is feared they will die. The brother suffered a fracture of the arm and was cut about the head. The niece was less seriously hurt.

Engineer Injured In a Wreck.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 25.—The Cleveland and Pittsburg flier, which left this city at 6 o'clock last night for Cleveland, jumped the track at Glenfield, 12 miles below here, the wreckage blockading all four of the Fort Wayne tracks. Engineer Holland was probably fatally hurt, but the railroad officials say all passengers escaped injury.

To Study the Plague.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—The University of Munich has sent Dr. Martin Hahn and Dr. Duerck to Egypt and India to study the bubonic plague.

SALISBURY REMAINS.

Rumored Change of Premier Officially Denied.

EDWARD VII PROCLAIMED KING.

British Court Ordered Into Mourning For a Year In Memory of the Dead Queen—The Heir Apparent's Title.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—"There is no truth in the rumor that a change in the premiership is contemplated," says The Daily Mail. "Mr. Balfour's presence at Osborne House is due to the king's kindly desire to spare Lord Salisbury fatigue and trouble."

King Edward VII has been proclaimed in many cities and towns of the United Kingdom, the usual procedure being that the mayor, attended by the other members of the corporation, has read the proclamation in the town hall or market place.

In Dublin uniformed heralds proclaimed Edward VII at one of the castle gates in the presence of the lord lieutenant, Earl Cadogan, and the Irish privy council. An immense assemblage attended the proclamation.

An extraordinary Gazette publishes an order in council:

"That it is expected that all persons upon the present occasion, the death of her late majesty of blessed and glorious memory, will put themselves into deepest mourning."

Another order in council substitutes "king" for "queen" and "Edward" for "Victoria." It also inserts "our gracious Queen Alexandra, George, Duke of Cornwall and York, and the Duchess of Cornwall and York."

The fact that the court goes into mourning for a year and the further fact that the public is enjoined to go into the

DUKE OF CORNWALL.
[The new heir apparent.]

"deepest" mourning lead to the supposition that the coronation will not occur until 1902.

The instruction that the Duke of York is to be named in the prayer book "Duke of Cornwall" seems to throw light upon the much debated question of the heir apparent's title. It was supposed that the title "Prince of Wales," which belongs only to a son born of the king, would be conferred upon the Duke of York by royal patent, but The Gazette announcement seems to indicate that this will not be done and that the Duke of York will henceforth be known as the Duke of Cornwall.

The colonial office announces that an immense number of telegrams of condolence has been received from colonial governors and public bodies in the colonies. There is a continual stream of condolence messages from other quarters. Cardinal Vaughan sends word that he will bring from Rome a special message from the pope to the new king.

It is understood that the body of Queen Victoria will arrive in London on the morning of Feb. 2 and be taken across the metropolis to Paddington. Troops will line the streets. The coffin will be placed on a gun carriage and draped with flags. On arriving at Paddington station it will be transferred to a train for Windsor, finally reaching St. George's chapel about noon, where a magnificent funeral service will take place.

FUNERAL PLANS.

Elaborate Decorations For Osborne House—Removal of Body Feb. 1.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 25.—So hampered have been the arrangements at Osborne that the body of Queen Victoria still lies in the bedroom where she died. The elaborate decorations necessary in turning the dining room in Osborne House into a chapelle ardente occupied so much time that, although the royal household waited hour after hour for the first private service, it was found impossible to hold this yesterday.

All being well, however, the solemn function will be performed this morning by the bishop of Winchester in the presence of King Edward, Emperor William and almost every other member of the royal family.

The coffin was brought to Osborne last evening and was taken through the queen's private gate, which had not been previously used since her death. Emperor William was the first person to see it. The coffined body will be transferred this morning to the dining room, now hung with deep red and purple. The dais is wreathed with the royal standard, and on each side are great candles. Madonnas by famous painters hang from the draped walls. In one corner magnificent wreaths from all parts of the world crush their blossoms one against the other. Among these the most beautiful are from Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria. Around the coffin chairs are arranged for the royal mourners.

Yesterday King Edward replied to thousands of messages he has received. To those from rulers and great personages he replied in person. To those from minor dignitaries he commanded his equerry to return thanks. A particularly grateful message went to President McKinley.

Christian Science Didn't Save Him.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 25.—After investigating the death of Stephen Post, who had been under the care of Christian Scientists, Coroner Smith said the man had died of pneumonia and had been neglected. He will bring the matter to the attention of the district attorney. Post died Wednesday. A physician was called at the last moment, but the man had passed away before he arrived. The affair is causing a sensation here, as the Christian Scientists implicated are prominent persons.

The New Company.

The first step toward forming a militia company in Plainfield was taken last evening, and there is every prospect that it will prove a success. Much interest was manifested and there should be no difficulty in filling the quota with the proper young men of the city.

The future success of the military organization will largely depend on the officers who are put in command. It is a particularly important matter and should be given careful consideration. There are several well known citizens, who, if they have sufficient time to devote to the office, would fill the position of captain with credit. It is quite requisite that the captain should possess a high standing in the community beside some military training.

Equal care should be shown in the selection of the other officer and the company will be sure of a bright future. The young men, who have thus far taken an interest in the company, are of a desirable class for such an organization, and if they succeed in filling the company with other young men of their stamp, the company will undoubtedly be one of the best in the State.

With a good man as captain of Company K, Second Regiment, the Plainfield company should come to the front rapidly and ultimately win the reputation of the best drilled company in the State. The material at hand is good and all is needed is the proper leader.

Scholastic sport flourishes in Plainfield. Last spring saw three school baseball teams from Plainfield active on the diamond. In the football season last fall, three schools were represented. Now that the season for hockey is here and there is occasional good skating, two school teams ready for that sport. Scholastic sport, properly developed and regulated, is an excellent thing, and Plainfield is fortunate in having the good natured rivalry in contests of that nature which now exists among the local schools.

A Chicago merchant of experience, says the Philadelphia Record, places more stress on the constancy of the advertiser than on the striking character of the advertisement. He declares that "the 'ad' that is always on the firing line, through thick and thin, in season and out of season, is the 'ad' that will win its share in the division of trade. The 'ad' that is run at intervals must enter the lists each time as a new competitor."

It is hard on the honest milk dealers when some of their competitors feel called upon to use methods which strict honesty to their customers should not permit. The efforts of the Borough Board of Health have revealed the fact that everything is not entirely satisfactory with all the dealers who supply the borough. These abuses will have to be remedied and at once or else there is likely to be trouble.

The sudden disappearance of State Organizer Davis, of the University Association, won for him some unpleasant notoriety which is particularly unfortunate if he is as he says entirely innocent of any wrong doing.

The appointment of Former Mayor John C. Rankin, of Elizabeth, to a place on the State Board of Assessors, is looked upon throughout the State as a direct slap at U. S Senator Kean.

There is pressing need of proper street signs for Plainfield, and it is the duty of the Councilmen to see that provision is made for them at the first opportunity.

The borough schools are crowded already but there will be even more children desirous of entering when the new Manual Training School is started.

Senator Charles A. Reed, as leader of the Upper House of the State Legislature, is a very prominent figure at Trenton this winter.

It will not be long before Plainfield will want an armory in which to put its new militia company.

The New Jersey Legislature has gone out of business until next week.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

When the State Home for Epileptics was created it was thought that all patients suffering from this disease could be removed from the asylums and other institutions to the new home, but it was found that persons committed to an asylum could not be removed at pleasure, and if they were removed there was no means of paying for their care and maintenance. Yesterday Senator Reed introduced a bill to revise the law relating to epileptics. It authorizes their transfer from asylums and provides for their maintenance.—Jersey City Journal.

There is general and deep curiosity throughout the State to learn for whom Boss Davis undertook to preempt the Senatorial hole by sticking in it that wooden plug, Clark. Of course, the politicians say the long-headed boss had some ulterior purpose in view in insisting upon Clark's nomination. Nobody dreams, for a moment, that he was actuated by admiration for the Somerset troglodyte. That supposition would make his persistence rediculous. There is something behind it, and the general opinion is that the explanation long ago made in the Herald that the man behind the Boss, and using him to manipulate the Somerset puppet, is Edward C. Young.—New York Herald.

The attempt by Congressman Fowler, of Elizabeth, to secure an appropriation of $696,000 for the improvement of the Arthur Kills may look like a pretty large demand, but, as he points out, the tonnage transported over this waterway, separating New Jersey and Staten Island, is about equal to all the foreign commerce of Liverpool; about three-fourths that of London; three-fourths that of New York; three times that of Boston; four times that of Puget sound; four times that of Philadelphia; four-fifths that of Hudson river; nearly thrice that of the Monongahela river; nearly equal to that of the Ohio river; nearly one-half that of St. Mary's river; more than one-fourth that of the Detroit river, and two million tons more than that passing through the Suez Canal.—Paterson Press.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

When Dr. Henry VanDyke, of Princeton University, lectured recently in Plainfield, he incidentally referred to "The Sweet Singer of Michigan." An intelligent smile of appreciation flitted over a few faces in the audience. More looked puzzled. Afterward some suggested James Whitcomb Riley or Eugene Field as the "Sweet Singer," both of them being western poets. "The Sweet Singer of Michigan" is Mrs. Julia A. Moore whose first volume of poems, "The Sentimental Song Book," was published at Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1876. Words fail to describe these poems. They must be read to be appreciated. Here is a specimen of the fun in store for the careful reader:

And now kind friends, what I have wrote,
I hope you will look o'er,
And not criticise as some have done
Hitherto, heretofore.

Of her first efforts she writes thus delightfully:

My first attempt at literature
Is the "Sweet Singer" by name.
I wrote that book without a thought
Of the future, or of fame.

Her sketch of Lords Byron's life begins:

Lord Byron was an Englishman,
A poet I believe.
His first works in old England
Were poorly received.

Her closing lines on "The Great Chicago Fire" are optimistic, as a poet's thought should be:

Now the City of Chicago
Is built up anew once more,
And may it never be visited
With such a great fire no more.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs.—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, Jan. 25—While skating on the ice at New Market yesterday, Roy Clawson, of this place, had occasion to rescue from the water, a companion, who had broken through the ice. Clawson, being heavily built, broke the ice at the edge of the hole where William Morris had gone through. At last both got hold of some ice that bore them up and reached shore almost exhausted and completely drenched. The water where the boys went in was quite deep as neither one of them touched bottom.

The usual number of casualities attendent upon the ice harvesting, are present this year. Bert Randolph and William Richards both got cold water baths during the day. One of the horses, employed upon the ice, was also precipitated into the water and only rescued with great difficulty.

Ralph Eckart has a bad attack of the grip. George Arrowsmith will deliver the papers over Ralph's route until he is better.

Wm. Faulks, who has the grip, complicated with a severe cold and a serious deafness, shows but little improvement.

The regular Lehigh Valley stage is laid up for repairs. Patrons are accommodated by the use of a carriage.

Mr. Payne has been sick with the grip for a week.

William Hogan is another of the grip victims.

THAT FESTIVE TURKEY REIGNED ALL SUPREME.

Those in the kitchen were Mrs. H. P. Pugh, Mrs. William A. Woodruff, Mrs. Seaman Williams, Mrs. Caspar Bolsterli, Mrs Emma VanDoren, Mrs Anna E Gillem. The reception committee was composed of Mrs. Isabella Drain, Mrs. Lizzie Kershaw, Mrs Sarah Maeder, Mrs. Henry VanName, Mrs. Curtis M Thorpe. G. L. VanEmburgh and H. J. Martin. William C Startup was the efficient cashier at the door.

The attendance was the largest in the history of the society, 301 suppers being served. Sixteen turkeys were required to serve those present, as was also two bushels of potatoes. Six gallons of clam chowder was provided, but long before closing the chowder was exhausted and many were thus disappointed.

BALTUSROL CLUB POPULAR.

MANY GOLFERS STILL GATHER AT THE CLUB COURSE THIS WINTER.

Repairs Being Made to Links and Improvements at the Club House Will Soon Be Started.

The popularity of the Baltusrol Golf Club as an organization for winter golf is well attested these days, when a visit to the links at most any time will find more or less of the faithful followers of the game enjoying the sport. There are a number of Plainfielders who are members of the club and who frequently visit the course now that the local courses are closed.

While the time of the week has something to do with the attendance, the greater part of the players coming Saturdays and Sundays, still the course hardly passes a day without its being traversed by some one following the gutta percha sphere. Even during the three or four days of real winter weather, sufficiently severe to try the most devoted enthusiast, witnessed almost the usual quota of players.

As a rule the players who now frequent the club come in parties and can be seen playing together, even if the number is odd. Should a party consist of three a threesome will be played and their individual work pursued just as zealously and with as keen enjoyment, as there is a desire not to be the high figure man. When four are playing the custom is to divide into pairs in best ball match. Should some members of these little coteries arrive at the club ahead of their friends, the invariable rule is to await the arrival of the absent ones. As the members are mostly business men, the parties are made up of those who come in contact with each other other in their daily work, and this is the manner in which they take their exercise. There are quite a number of women who keep the game up during the cold weather, and as Baltusrol is always a favorite course of the feminine devotees, they can be seen among the number.

Work on the improvements to the links s progressing and considerable headway has been gained. The enlargement of the number three and seventeen greens of the regular course has been completed and Greenkeeper James Downing is at work on the eighth and ninth.

Clubhouse improvements have not as yet been started, as the exact plan has not as yet been determined. In a general way, however, it has been decided that the extension shall go on the rear. Then the kitchen, bar and office will be removed further back. The cafe will be extended back where the old kitchen is, doubling its size. The partition between the main dining room and office will be removed, and the former enlarged to over double its present capacity. It is expected that a decision will be arrived at within another week.

Merchandizing Again
Inventory is over—finished last night. It has been a big job for our store staff, and we are mighty glad it is completed. Now, after a week of stock-taking, we're ready for aggressive merchandizing again. Before inventory we furnished you many bargains because we wanted to reduce our stock as much as possible so as to diminish the stock-taking job. Now we have more attractions, because in going through our stock we've found many little odds and ends that it is advantageous for us to clear our shelves and counters of.
LOW PRICES PREVAIL
On all such articles. They are not the riff-raff of our big stock, but things of merit and worth. Probably in the list of many such articles you'll find just what you want, but couldn't afford to buy heretofore. We've marked the prices to the lowest possible figure and it will be to the saving of your pocketbook to take advantage of these offers.
THE BARGAINS THAT WE OFFER NOW.
AT FIFTY CENTS.
Fancy silks—a small lot, but well assorted as to colors—hemstitched, plain and corded effects. Sold heretofore for $1.
AT FIFTY CENTS.
Our entire stock of French flannels will be sold at that price. Formerly sold for 69 cents.
AT TEN CENTS.
A small lot of extra large sized cotton towls. Sold formerly for 15c.
AT TEN CENTS.
Heavy Domet flannels. Easily worth 15 cents a yard.
AT THREE AND A HALF CENTS.
Outing flannels that have always sold heretofore for 6 cts a yard.
AT FIVE CENTS.
Machine made torchon laces. Sold heretofore for 10 and 15c a yard.
AT SIXTY-NINE CENTS.
A big lot of women's real kid gloves, all sizes and colors. These gloves have never been sold heretofore for less than $1 a pair, but we are arranging to change the make that we handle and we must dispose of the present stock as quickly as possible.
AT ONE DOLLAR.
Real Mocha gloves, two clasp. Always sold for $1.19.
AT THIRTY-NINE CENTS.
Children's sleeping gowns and night drawers, made of good quality outing flannel. Sold heretofore for 50 cents a garment.

Oldenburg.

Oldenburg. Von Oldenburgischen Orten hat laut den Ergebnissen der jüngsten Volkszählung die Residenzstadt Oldenburg 26,635 Einwohner; Hammelwarden 2608; Elsfleth 2036; Großenmeer 1052; Atens 3216; Eckwarden 770; Varel 5153; Delmenhorst 16,569; Zwischenahn 938 und Eutin 5319 Einwohner.

Mecklenburg.

Rostock. Die hiesige Straßenbahngesellschaft hat die Umwandlung der Pferdebahn in eine elektrische Bahn beschlossen. Die Kosten der Umwandlung sind auf 600,000 bis 700,000 Mark veranschlagt.

Braunschweig. Anhalt. Lippe.

Wolfenbüttel. Der Tischler Winkler in Geitelde lebte seit langer Zeit in Unfrieden mit seiner Frau; als dann im Juli v. J. ein kleines Mädchen geboren wurde und der Unmensch 3 Tage nach der Entbindung die Frau mißhandelte, machte sie ihrem Leben durch Erhängen ein Ende. Winkler hatte wegen jener Rohheit eine Gefängnißstrafe zu verbüßen und beging letzthin, von Gewissensbissen gepeinigt, Selbstmord, indem er sich von einem Eisenbahnzuge überfahren ließ.

Dessau. Geheimer Medizinalrath und Regierungsrath Dr. Merun ist im 72. Lebensjahre gestorben.

Lemgo. Dieser Tage wurde hier ein neues Hospital eröffnet, das von dem in Frankfurt wohnenden früheren amerikanischen Konsul August Louis Wolff, einem geborenen Lemgoer, gestiftet worden ist. Das Hospital ist mit allen neuzeitigen Einrichtungen versehen. Es enthält 62 Zimmer mit etwa 100 Betten.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Laut den Ergebnissen der jüngsten Volkszählung verzeichnet unter den Orten des Großherzogthums Hessen Arheiligen 4438 Einwohner; Babenhausen 2260; Biebesheim 2039; Bingen 9658; Bretzenheim 3798; Eppertshausen 1419; Fürfeld 1198; Gau-Algesheim 2606; Griesheim 5500; Heppenheim 1328; Kastel 8102; Lorsch 4056; Mainz 84,335 (einschließlich 7704 Militärpersonen); Nierstein 4129; Rüsselsheim 3961; Seligenstadt 4115; Worms 34,747 Einwohner.—Die ein Bankgeschäft in Darmstadt betreibenden Gebrüder Mark wurden wegen Unterschlagung in Untersuchungshaft genommen.

Erbach. Der 25jährige Maurer Georg Köhler von Rimhorn stürzte aus beträchtlicher Höhe von einem Neubau herunter, was seinen sofortigen Tod zur Folge hatte.

Gießen. Für das heurige Wintersemester der hiesigen Universität sind 847 Studenten immatrikulirt, darunter zwei Damen als aufgenommene Hospitantinnen; dazu kommen noch 69 Hörer und Hörerinnen.

Mainz. Im Jahre 1881 desertirte hier der Musketier Keller vom 117. Infanterie-Regimente. Erst letzthin wurde der Flüchtling von einem Gendarmen in Maifirch im Elsaß ermittelt und festgenommen.

Bayern.

München. Bayerns Einwohnerzahl beträgt nach der letzten Volkszählung 6,150,500, oder 331,000 mehr als im Jahre 1895. Auf München entfallen 498,503 Einwohner oder rund 93,000 mehr als in 1895.—Der bekannte Münchener Pianofabrikant Franz Kaim, der Begründer des nach ihm benannten Konzertsaales, ist gestorben.

Aibling. Die elektrische Bahn Aibling-Feilenbach wird bis zum Torfwerke Feilenbach ausgedehnt. Die Verlängerung beträgt 3 1-2 Kilometer.

Augsburg. Der nach Ermordung seines Vaters, des Schmiedmeisters Bauer in Münchsmünster nach Amerika entflohene Johann Bauer, der auf Requisition der bayerischen Gerichte in New York verhaftet und ausgeliefert wurde, traf unlängst in Begleitung zweier Schutzleute von Bremen aus hier ein und wurde in das Untersuchungsgefängniß transportirt.

Hof. Die städtischen Kollegien haben bestimmt, daß die Volksschullehrer der Stadt nach zwei Jahren ihre sämmtlichen Nebenbeschäftigungen niederzulegen haben.

Marktbreit. In das Untersuchungsgefängniß wurde der Rechtsanwalt Schott eingeliefert, der nach mehrfachen Unterschlagungen die Flucht ergriffen hatte und steckbrieflich verfolgt worden war.

Nürnberg. Die Stadtgemeinde errichtet eine Versorgungskasse für die nichtpensionsberechtigten städtischen Bediensteten. Es ist bereits im Etat für das Jahr 1901 ein Betrag von 10,000 Mark als erster Zuschuß zu dem Stammvermögen dieser Kasse vorgesehen.

Passau. Während anderwärts geklagt wird, daß die Leihhäuser überfüllt sind, ist hier das Gegentheil zu konstatiren. Bei der Berathung des Leihhausetats äußerte Bürgermeister Muggenthaler, daß heuer das Leihhaus einen Betriebszuschuß benöthige, während man sonst Ueberschuß hatte. Der Grund hierfür dürfte in der gegenwärtig günstigen Arbeitsgelegenheit in unserer Stadt zu suchen sein.

THE NEW WOMAN

BY ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER

We have started the new century safely on its career. It could not have been started without us. I have watched the returns from all directions to note the bloviations over what the nineteenth century did for people, particularly women people. For these, so far as I have read, it is all bloviation. Not one writer has taken the trouble to mention or see even that there are chains in which woman is bound tighter than she was a century ago—chains social and domestic. Here is a sample of what I mean: The window opposite me has four different kinds of curtains and shades to drape it, besides the outside shutters. The dining table in the room where this assortment of curtains is is furnished with quite three times as much ware as tables had a century ago—a dozen kinds of knives and forks and spoons, with linen serviettes, doilies, centerpieces and side patches to match. Our house furnishments are so overdone that it is a weariness to live among them. Little girls must have four times as many different kinds of costly clothes as girls had a century ago or be jeered by their cruel heathen playmates, for nobody is so merciless to others as a little girl. If a mother, to save a girl child's eyes and tender nervous system, cuts her hair short and lets her run in comfort, boys and girls shout "Tomboy" at her. A woman must likewise have four times as much clothing for herself as women got along with quite comfortably a century ago. If she has not, she is made painfully aware of it. She does not rebel. Our whole system of society and housekeeping is barbarously clumsy and heavy. It will fall to pieces by its own weight one of these days. Then maybe we can return to simpler, healthier, more refined ways of living.

Women now have limited suffrage in 20 states, full suffrage in 4 states.

An Indiana woman past 60 years old whose education had been neglected started in with the primary children in a public school. She did not know the alphabet when she began, but in a year's time she has been promoted to the Third Reader grade. This proves that a woman of any age can learn anything she wants to if she sets her head to it. There is the right sort of pluck and spirit for you.

At first thought it does not seem possible that a Frenchwoman could play with any sort of success the great character of Hamlet. Yet this Sarah Bernhardt has done to the wonder and satisfaction of all who heard her—that, too, in a French version of the Shakespeare drama, in which it necessarily loses much. A New York critic of Mme. Bernhardt's performance says she has the finest brain of any woman in France or on the stage, and he adds, "In the player scene Mme. Sarah electrified the spectators by a stroke of consummate art that surpassed the achievement of Booth, Irving and Sothern in that episode." Such a tribute to the genius of a woman has seldom been paid.

Some young men and women of Columbia college, New York, have formed a social progress club. Its object is to study social reforms. Good for these enthusiastic young students. It is the college educated and the refined and comfortable everywhere that ought to take hold of social reforms. When young men and women together bring their undimmed enthusiasm, their unworn, unweary souls to reform work, progress will be made. Meantime the club has looked after its own progress by appointing young women on its board of officers.

I see Mrs. Ballington Booth has gone into the cat business, breeding and selling Angoras in aid of her discharged convicts' home. Other women might do the same for their own benefit.

It is certain that more than a good living can be made by many women from the raising of small fruits and vegetables. Given a little patch of good ground near a favorable market, and brains will do the rest. It is well to select some specialty and devote oneself mostly to that. I have heard lately of a lady who has made a specialty of raising cucumbers under glass for the winter market, for we in cities may now enjoy cucumber nightmares the year round if we like. Mrs. Augusta Bosworth furnishes these to Boston. As a music teacher in New York she lost her health, and no wonder, so she migrated to the country and began to raise cucumbers to cool and soothe the seething intellects of New England. From one greenhouse 150 feet long the lady gathers from November till January 200 bushels of cucumbers, selling at from 25 to 50 cents apiece, says the newspaper report.

Did you take note of that wonderful swim of 14-year-old Priscilla Higgins across New York bay? She made the distance of eight miles from Fort Hamilton to Staten Island in two hours and 5 minutes and was not much fatigued at the end. If there is a boy of 14 in this United States who can beat her record, I should like to hear of him.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 27—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Missions, Resolutions.—Rom. i, 14-16.

Paul was the greatest missionary of the apostolic church. In resolution as well as in action he ever stands as the ideal missionary. His attitude toward the unsaved, his readiness to preach the gospel to them and his reasons for being so anxious to do so are clearly set forth in his splendid words to the Romans: "I am a debtor both to the Greeks and to the barbarians; both to the wise and unwise. So as much as in me is I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also, for I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God to every one who believeth, to the Jew first and also to the Greek."

1. Paul's indebtedness to the unsaved. "I am a debtor to the Greeks and to the barbarians; both to the wise and unwise." Why was Paul indebted to all classes? It was not because of anything they had done for him. The Greeks had done nothing to put him under obligation to them. No more had the barbarians, the wise or the unwise. Paul's debt has been well called the "debt of strength." They needed the gospel. He had the gospel and the opportunity and ability to give it to them. Therefore he was under obligation to do so—the obligation of strength. Strength is always under obligation to weakness. The physically strong owe a debt to the physically weak. The financially strong owe a debt to the financially weak. Much more does spiritual strength owe a debt to spiritual weakness. Weakness always appeals to strength. Those that have are morally indebted to those who have not. We have the gospel today. The world needs it. To the extent of our ability to supply this need to the world we are under obligation to do so.

2. Paul's readiness to preach the gospel to the unsaved. "So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also." Paul not only recognized his indebtedness to the Romans, but he was ready to pay it. "I am ready." Readiness was a characteristic of the great apostle's life. He was ready to go to Rome to preach the gospel, ready to go to Jerusalem to face persecution, danger and death, and when martyrdom loomed up before him he was "ready to be offered up." We owe the same debt to heathendom that Paul owed. Are we ready to pay it? Are we ready to deny ourselves, to sacrifice ourselves if need be, that the heathen may be saved? We should be. At the call of God we should be ready to give time, money, prayer or self for the Christianization of the world. God calls. What is your answer? May it always be, "I am ready," "Here am I, send me."

3. Paul's reason for readiness. He was ready to preach the gospel at Rome because he was not ashamed of the gospel, and he was not ashamed of the gospel because it was the power of God unto salvation to every one who believed. The gospel is still the power of God unto salvation. Therefore it actually saves men. Therefore it is able to save all men who will believe in it, and for these reasons we should be ready and should resolve to do all in our power to send the gospel to all men—"Greeks and barbarians, wise and unwise."

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a "Bible reading" upon the subject of foreign missions.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. vi, 1-8; lii, 7; Jonah iii, 1-10; Nah. i, 15; Math. xxviii, 19, 20; Acts i, 1-8; xiii, 1-3; Rom. x, 14, 15; I Cor. ix, 16.

Thorough Consideration of the Character of Our Prayers.

If you had a friend to whom you never went but to ask for something and if your visits to your friend were made not once, but twice, or even oftener, every day, what do you suppose your friend would think of you? What, indeed, in such a case, ought you to think of yourself? Nothing, surely, that would be very flattering to your self respect. And yet there are multitudes who never go to God except for favors, who never approach Him but as beggars and suppliants. Their prayers are better than no prayers, for the infinite mercy is unwearied by our sordidness and weakness. But how incalculably much is lost by failure to recognize prayer as the opportunity for communion, as of sons with the loving Father, for absorption, during however brief a space, into the divine nature, whence to emerge with spirits chastened, purified, unburdened! Joy in the mere prayer of mendicancy we shall not know, but there is joy unspeakable in the prayer of fellowship.—Examiner.

Bibles For the Heathen.

Over 5,000,000 copies of the Bible were sold by the British and Foreign Bible society last year. This is an increase of 1,000,000 over the sales of the year before, says a London newspaper. Sixty thousand "parts" of the Testament were printed and bound for the use of the troops in South Africa. But for this number the sale of Bibles in England has remained for two years at 2,000,000 copies. The missionaries are responsible for the additional million in the output. The heathen has more Bibles than ever before. Most of the books were printed in China and in Chinese characters. Many were printed in Hindoostanee. If the present rate of increase is kept up and each Bible represents a converted heathen, the world may be all Christian about two centuries hence.

One Leader.

The way of life is narrow, because there is only one leader, Christ. But though few walk the way of life they can never be alone in it.—Ram's Horn.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 27, "Our League Mottoes"—Texts, Ps. v, 3; Neh. iv, 19-21.

"So built we the wall, for the people had a mind to work."

The League purpose is to lift up ourselves and our fellows in all Christian attainments. Improvement of mind, deepening of spirituality, culture of social qualities and strengthening of church life are all included. The method used is increasing trust in God, consecration to service and elevation of ideals—looking up. All this is shown in the first text.

An excellent example of this motto put in practical operation is furnished by Joshua i, 3-6. The messenger who meets Joshua charges him to "be strong and of good courage." The work of conquering Canaan required hopeful determination. A vacillating purpose and lack of confidence would have wrecked all the prospects of Israel and the future of the church of God. High purposes and firm faith in God are needed at every stage in human advancement.

The times of Nehemiah were critical for the remnant of returning exiles and for all who in future ages should be seekers of truth and holiness.

Specially to be noted are the facts given in the text:

First.—The work is great and large.

Second.—We are separated upon the wall, one far from another.

Third.—In what place ye hear the sound of the trumpet resort ye thither unto us.

Fourth.—Our God shall fight for us.

The application of the principles working in that case can be made to our own times and needs. Our work is constructive. There is much of ruin and rubbish of all kinds which hinders our effort. Opposers swarm and are ingenious in devices to obstruct our labors. Weakness of heart and poverty of resources make friends apathetic or discouraged. The needs are many and varied; the space to be inclosed is large. We are scattered in presence and confused in plans; hence the need of giving heed to the leaders' trumpet call of danger and duty. Where you hear the bugle blast, there is the spot you are needed to repel the enemy. Get there quickly. Your brethren are there hard beset. To lose that place loses all Zion and our hope. We can hold it because "our God shall fight for us."

Conversion of the unsaved is the pressing need of the church and world. Salvation is the paramount issue. Rally for revival! Look up! Lift up!

A Representative Methodist.

Rev. Thomas Allen, who was elected president of the Wesleyan Methodist conference at Bursiam, England, July 24, 1900, was fraternal delegate to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago, May, 1900. He is one of the best known of Methodist preachers and by character and attainments in scholarship deserving all the honors conferred upon him. He is a native of Cheshire, England. His education was obtained at Didsbury hall, Manchester. He entered conference in 1861. Most of his ministerial life has been spent in London, Leeds, Sheffield and Manchester. For three years he has been governor of Handsworth college, where he lectures on pastoral theology and church organization. His college is in the same parish where Bishop Asbury was born.

His first visit to America was ten years ago, since when he attended the ecumenical conference in Washington. The impression made on all who met him during his last visit, a year ago, will long remain a pleasant memory. The broad scope of his fraternal address, simplicity and transparency in preaching and pleasing personality won him high regard.

San Francisco 1901.

Great preparations are in progress for the next international Epworth League convention, to be held in July, 1901, in San Francisco. Fares will probably be $50 for the excursion from Chicago and $75 from New York. Indications point to a large gathering for this opening session of the new century. The whole Pacific slope is awake and alert. Lectures with stereopticon illustrations are in the east enlightening the people on the attractions of the sunset land and rousing interest and enthusiasm for the trip.

"Forward!" Be Our Watchword.

Forward, flock of Jesus,
Salt of all the earth,
Till each yearning purpose
Spring to glorious birth.
Sick, they ask for healing;
Blind, they grope for day;
Pour upon the nations
Wisdom's loving ray.

SOMETHING TO CUT UP for sandwiches, or to serve cold, can be found here as well as

STEAKS, CHOPS AND ROASTS.

Try one of our fine Hams or Bacon; they have a delicious, nutty flavor, and are good col or hot. A nice Roast of Beef or a Leg of lamb, or a nice plump chicken would a so prove highly satisfactory; tender, toothsome and nourishing.

HARRY B. SMITH and His POPULAR STAGE SONGS

"Comic opera would be all right if it were not for the music." That is the verdict of Mr. W. S. Gilbert, and it is probably this that Mr. Harry B. Smith had in mind when he arranged for publication the collection of "old favorite" stage songs that has but recently been put out by the publishing house of Robert H. Russell in New York under the title of "Stage Lyrics."

FRANCIS WILSON, "The Little Corporal."

How often is it that an otherwise good likht opera is spoiled for an audience because of the execrable enunciation of the performers in this class of entertainment. Stage songs may not be poetry in any sense, but they help to tell the story of a play, and the audience is frequently at sea regarding an opera's plot because of the incoherence of the singers. This is perhaps what spoiled comic opera for Mr. Gilbert and caused him to utter the remarks at the beginning of this article.

Of this subject Mr. Gilbert should know whereof he speaks, for he is a matchless song writer for comic opera, and in trick rhyming and delicate conceits he has but few if any equals. But we are not going to attempt a comparison between the work of Mr. Smith and Mr. Gilbert. To do so would to a certain extent be unfair to both of them. The English librettest and his American confere work upon somewhat different lines, and for different audiences. Mr. Smith's work has been done for audiences in this country, and his humor is broad and typically American, and these old favorites in book form, where poor enunciation cannot spoil their charm, will recall many a pleasant evening in years gone by.

The popularity of Harry B. Smith as a writer of operas and musical comedies dates back for ten years or more. In fact, Mr. Smith achieved almost immediate popularity when he began the work twelve years ago, and to-day he enjoys the distinction of having acquired a comfortable fortune by the writing of verse, an achievement which impresses upon one the change in literary taste since the days when Milton received five pounds for the manuscript of "Paradise Lost."

EUGENE COWLES, in "Robin Hood."

Mr. Smith's first literary labor was as a dramatic critic. While engaged in this he learned what the public best appreciated, and later he quit for a time his literary work to go upon the stage in light opera, and there he learned much that has been of value to him in his later career. It is said that he can do almost anything connected with the production of a musical piece, from playing the accompaniments to lending a hand at the scene-shifting. In the twelve years that he has been a play-carpenter, Mr. Smith has written nearly 40 librettos. Without taking up space with a list of them, it may be said that he has written nearly all the American pieces of this kind that have been produced in the last decade.

With the exception of the farce writer, Charles Hoyt, it is probable that Mr. Smith has furnished more entertainment to American theater-goers than any other writer in this country, and many of his songs are popular with all classes. Bits of verse that captivated fashionable audiences ten or twelve years ago may be heard to-day on the vaudeville stage, and, though they may be old, yet they arouse quite as much enthusiasm as the newer and more timely ones.

One of Mr. Smith's earliest productions that attained immense popularity was "Robin Hood." That gallant outlaw was a general favorite for years, and the songs of this opera are still being sung in one theater or another every night.

ALICE NIELSEN, In "The Serenade."

The first presentation of "Robin Hood" in Chicago was a dismal failure as a result of lack of rehearsal. The composer was thoroughly disgusted before the opera was half over and left the theater and went home to begin work on another opera so as to forget "Robin Hood."

It was the popularity of the songs in "Robin Hood" that are responsible for the compilation of the book. Will Scarlet's sing, "The Armorer," has attained unusual popularity, and there has been a constant demand for the words of this. The first verse has been quite generally known, but the second, which follows, is not so well known:

Let others of glory sing, sing, sing,
As they struggle in glory's quest.
Let them wield their brands in their mailed hands,
While the sword smites shield and crest.
The soldier's a lad who is stanch and leal,
And his calling is most glorious;
But who is it gives him the trusty steel
That can render him victorious?
Huzzah for the wight who can fashion a blade
That can make a traitor fly;
Huzzah for the lad who this broadsword made,
For the armorer—that is I.

CHORUS.

Clang, clang, clang!
Let carking care go hang.
Let the trusty sledge
On the anvil's edge
By a lusty arm be whirled.
Cling, cling, cling!
Let the armorer blithely sing;
For it's here is made
The hero's blade
That may conquer all the world.

It would be hard to select the opera or musical comedy written by Mr. Smith that has achieved the greatest success. It may have been "Robin Hood," but if so, others follow that closely, notably the two that were written for Francis Wilson, "The Little Corporal," and "Half a King." It is said of the first of these that it was written for Mr. Wilson because he is a Napoleon faddist, and looked something like Bonaparte before he became fat and an emperor.

FRANK DANIELS, In "The Idol's Eye."

Another of the favorites was "The Idol's Eye," which inimitable Frank Daniels made famous as a fun producer. The following song, "The Tattooed Man," from this opera, will live as long as Daniels treads the American boards:

An actress of emotional roles,
Devoted to her art,
Once went to a musee of "freaks,"
And there she lost her heart.
For long she had sought a kindred soul,
Affinity and mate.
But when she saw the tattooed man,
She knew she'd met her fate.

CHORUS.

He was a human picture gallery,
Such a spectacular gent.
He won her heart and drew her salary,
Never gave her a cent;
Till one fine day with her season's pay
And the fat lady off he ran.
Oh! it's perfectly true you can beat a tattoo,
But you can't beat a tattooed man.

The other three verses in much the same strain depict the joys and sorrows of the bride. "The Idol's Eye" was made for Frank Daniels, and competent critics have said that he never had an opera so well suited to his fun-making talents.

To go over these old songs is to live over again many pleasant evenings. Who has not enjoyed Ella Snyder, in the "Casino Girl," when she sang "The Naughty Little Clock?" Who has not listened with pleasure to "Prince Rupert's Cavaliers," in "Rob Roy?" Who does not remember the catchy songs in that quaint and funny Chinese opera, "The Mandarin?" We might go on in this same way for almost an indefinite time.

ANNA HELD, In "Papa's Wife."

W. H. MacDonald, Eugene Cowles, H. C. Barnabee, Dan Daly, Hilda Clark, Marcia Van Dresser, Helen Redmund, Alice Nielsen, Fay Templeton, Lillian Russell, Thomas Q. Seabrooke, Jerome Sykes, Madge Lessing, Marie Tempest, Virginia Earl, Jessie Bartlett Davis, Anna Held, DeWolf Hopper, and many others have sung Mr. Smith's songs and helped to make them popular.

To enumerate still a few more of the operas we will mention among the more popular ones "The Fencing Master," "The Serenade," "The Highwayman," "The Wizard of the Nile," "The Fortune Teller," "The Singing Girl," etc. Songs from all of these and many others, with character portraits of the people who sang them, Mr. Smith has put into his charming little book.

Much of Mr. Smith's work has been done in collaboration with Mr. De Koven, but not all of it, as he has also been assisted by both Victor Herbert and Ludwig Englander, and in practically all cases the verdict has been one of approval.

The Girl and Her Mother.

If your dear mother could count on your steady, sensible, helpful, practical interest in the homemaking and the management of the house, she would be the happiest mother in the world. She would be glad to give over a little, or a great deal, of her authority to an earnest and systematic little daughter. She has had the care of her home on her mind now for nearly 25 years—morning, afternoon and evening, meals, house furnishing, house cleaning, sewing, guests, everything. Think of it! Do you wonder that her first fine enthusiasm is a little dulled, and that it doesn't seem so tremendous a matter to her if her sofa cushions are old-fashioned, or her window curtains are looped primly back as they were 20 years ago, or her waitress doesn't wear the very newest kind of aprons? —Helen Watterson Moody, in Ladies' Home Journal.

About the Size of It.

Mr. Callipers—Praise of other people, my son.—Puck.

MRS. BUSHNELL'S TEA.

Gave Second of Series of Receptions at Her Home Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. John Bushnell gave the second of her afternoon teas yesterday afternoon at her handsome home, 831 Central avenue. The house decorations were of red roses and as artistically arranged as on a former occasion. Mrs. William Innerarity, of New York, and Mrs. Daniel Ginna, of this city, were in charge of the table, and the Misses Florence Waring, Etna Strong, Charlotte Lowe and Louise Holly, assisted in the dining room. The affair was one of the pleasant social functions of the winter season.

Pool Tourney Continues.

Owing to the illness of one man in the third team, but two games were played in Krewson's pool tourney last night. In the first game Matthews proved an easy mark for Melvin who secured 60 points to his opponent's 19. The second game proved a walkover for Ammons who won from Sutterlein 55 to 33. The latter is a 75 class man, but as may be seen by the score, he played far below his average.

Surprised Mr. and Mrs. Mobus.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Mobus, of Regent street, gathered at their home last evening and tendered a surprise to them. The evening was pleasantly passed with games, music and refreshments. There were about twenty-five couples present and all enjoyed themselves in genuine old time fashion.

Blown to Atoms

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Hogland's New Office.

The small building on Park avenue between the Central Railroad and the building occupied by Voorhees & Van-Zandt, the feed merchants, is being fitted up and put in repair for Alvin E. Hoagland, who will establish his express office there. Mr. Hoagland's present place on North avenue has been leased by another party.

Installation in Mizpah Lodge.

The installation of officers of Mizpah Lodge, No. 1, U. O. of I. O. L., will take place Monday night. The installing officer will be Right Worthy Lady Governess Mrs. Atkins and staff, of Boston.

Work Resumed on New Station.

Work upon the new North Avenue railroad station, which has been suspended for some time, was resumed yesterday. There is still some delay in receiving certain fixtures and lumber.

Story of the Siege.

Dr. W. A. P. Martin, L. L. D., recent president of the Imperial University at Pekin, China, will tell the story of the "Siege of Pekin," at the Seventh-Day Baptist church tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. All are invited.

Going to Scotland.

Miss Ellen Cowley, of Manson place, will sail next Tuesday on the "Oceanic" for Scotland where she will remain for the next two years with friends. Several other Plainfielders will probably accompany her on the voyage.

Funeral of Mrs. W. L. Brower.

Mrs. William L. Brower, of New York, died at her home Wednesday. Mrs. Brower's husband, who was a son of the late W. H. Brower, of Watchung avenue, is a well known New York florist. The remains were brought to this city yesterday and taken to the residence of her brother-in-law, John I. Brower, of East Fifth street, where funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be made in Hillside cemetery.

Dress Goods, Not Suitings.

The improvements which Woodhull & Martin have been making at their store are for the purpose of increasing the facilities for the dress goods department and not for suitings, as stated yesterday. They will close out their suiting department and greatly enlarge that devoted to dress goods, for which there is such a demand.

Funeral of Mrs. Wyckoff.

The funeral services of Mrs. William Wyckoff were held from Mount Olive Baptist church yesterday afternoon and were largely attended by friends and relatives. Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of the church, was the officiating clergyman. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery.

To Return Soon.

What a Patent Costs.

In the course of its progress through the office up to the issue and mailing of a patent an application passes through the hands of 52 persons. An applicant pays $15 to have his claim examined, and in case he is granted a patent an additional fee of $20 is required. Attorneys charge from $25 up, according to the work demanded by the cases, and as the applications number about 40,000 yearly it will be seen that there is a good deal of money to be divided among the patent lawyers whose signs cover the faces of the buildings in the vicinity of the patent office. An inventor is not required to employ an attorney, but probably ninety-nine out of a hundred do. In simple cases, where there is no interference with prior claims, an inventor can almost as well deal direct with the government, but in most cases the knowledge of the lawyer is valuable. He can study other inventions in the same line, and knows how to make the claim of his client broad enough to cover all that is new and valuable and not so broad as to be rejected.—E. V. Smalley, in Century.

Eggs in New York.

New York city consumes 2,283 eggs every minute of the day, which means 100,000,000 dozen a year. The city may feel independent of the hen so far as the hatching process is concerned, but is entirely dependent for its supply of eggs on the moody creature who regulates her output according as the weather happens to suit her whims. These hens get food and lodging for their part of the work, and their owners receive $20,000,000 a year for the 342 eggs that they supply annually to each inhabitant of the city. This is a great and growing industry, that has brought into existence many chicken ranches—and some of the largest in the world—within easy reach of the metropolis. At Manasquan, N. J., 350 acres of land have been prepared for a giant hen industry, to be conducted on scientific methods, and which will support a laying "herd" of 200,000 chickens, with an estimated output of 30,000,000 eggs for the first year. This plant is extraordinarily large, but there are scores of lesser ones, and many more yet smaller about the New York suburbs.—N. Y. Herald.

New Chemical Products.

Messrs. Moissan and Stooks, the original discoverers of carborundum, a mineral hard enough to cut diamonds, have recently announced two new chemical products which may also be of use in the arts. They are compounds of boron, which is best known in the salt which is called borax, and silicon, which in combination with oxygen forms quartz, the scientific name of which is silicic acid. Both boron and silicon are nonmetallic chemical elements. The two compounds just discovered are in the form of crystals, having an adamantine luster, and are so hard that they scratch the hardest ruby with ease.—Scientific American.

CHIEF JUSTICE DEPUE TENDERS RESIGNATION

Will Retire From Supreme Court Bench Next November After Thirty-five Years Service.

IT MEANS ANOTHER JUDGE.

RUMOR SAYS SENATOR PITNEY WILL GET COVETED BERTH.

Easy Way of Withdrawing From Gubernatorial Race—Senator Reed Mentioned For Appointment—Resignation No Surprise.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, January 26—Chief Justice David A. Depue filed his resignation with Gov. Voorhees yesterday, to take effect Nov. 16, 1901, at which time he will have served thirty-five years on the bench.

The only reason given by the Chief Justice for resigning is that he has been on the bench long enough.

When the nomination of the chief justice to succeed himself was being considered in the executive session of the Senate, last Tuesday, Senator McCarter, who hails from Essex county, the home of Chief Justice Depue, made the announcement that the venerable jurist would shortly hand in his resignation to take effect in November next. The announcement, Senator McCarter said, was made at the request of the chief justice.

The resignation of the chief justice, the party managers agree, clears the matter up and leaves the naming of a justice, as well as the advancement of a member of the bench to the chief justiceship, to Governor Voorhees.

Concerning the probable appointment of another member of the New Jersey Supreme Court, as will have to be made when Justice Depue retires, a writer in The Trenton True American has to say:

"It is pretty well understood that Senator Mahlon Pitney of Morris county will be named as the associate justice. Senator Pitney has long been ambitious for a place on the bench. Since it has come to be recognized that he cannot possibly hope to defeat Franklin Murphy for the gubernatorial nomination this year, Pitney has been more eager than ever for a place in the Supreme Court.

"Despite the fact that Pitney has never been anything but an obstructionist to Governor Voorhees, the latter is known to have a very kindly feeling for the Morris county man. Pitney's friends would be glad to have him appointed to the bench, as it would give him such an easy method of gracefully bowing himself out of the gubernatorial contest.

"Besides Pitney, however, the Governor will have Senator Charles A. Reed to reckon with. Reed is affected most seriously with a judicial bee, and has been bending his every energy since he came to the Legislature with the bench as his sole objective point. He is not much of a politician and but for the aid that his Democratic father-in-law, Alvah A. Clark, rendered him in his battles in Somerset, he would yet be a country lawyer. But his father-in-law's wealth pulled him through and he has been hopefully eyeing the Supreme Court bench for some years. Senator Joseph Cross, of Union, is also tainted with the judicial fever and is known to have a warm place in the heart of the Governor. This, too, despite the fact that Cross abandoned the Voorhees camp in the recent trial of strength with the Kean forces in Union county."

Settled Before Trial.

The mechanics' lien case of Thomas Bodine against David Hand, which was to have been tried in the Circuit Court at Elizabeth yesterday, was settled by the defendant before the trial. Bruce & Runyon represented the plaintiff.

Installed Officers of Workmen.

Edward Mosher and L. J. Spicer, of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., paid a visit to Bergen Lodge, of Fairview, Bergen county, last evening, and installed the officers. They also assisted in initiating several candidates.

Rev. Mr. Appleton's Last Service.

Rev. Floyd Appleton, curate of Grace P. E. church, will enter upon his new duties in Brooklyn the first of next month. He will officiate for the last time at Grace church tomorrow evening.

Annual Banquet.

The annual banquet given by the Prudential Insurance Company to the agents in this district will be held this evening at the Hotel Kensington at 8 o'clock.

TURKEY WAS STILL POPULAR

SECOND NIGHT OF TRINITY SUPPER WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Many Were Present and Everything Except a Few Cakes Was Disposed of.

There was much demand for the turkey and all the accompanying good things in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church last evening. It was the second and concluding night of the annual turkey supper, given by the Ladies' Christian Work Society of the church. Although the number of suppers served did not reach the high figure of the night before, the attendance was large and everything passed off very enjoyably

Last night, there were 153 suppers served, making a total of 454 suppers served during the two nights. Everything was disposed of except a few cakes which were sold today at the store of J. A. Smith & Brother.

An enjoyable programme was rendered during the evening by the Dunellen Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club, under the direction of W. C. Townsend. Those in charge of the tables were, with few exceptions, the same as those who officiated the night before. The net receipts will probably be in the neghborhood of $150.

BLAZE IN THE COURT-HOUSE.

MUCH EXCITEMENT IN COUNTY BUILDING AT ELIZABETH YESTERDAY.

Flames Appeared in Corridor—Firemen Summoned But Court Was Not Interrupted.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 26—The discovery of fire in the Court-house about 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning caused considerable excitement among the occupants of the county buildings. There was a struck jury in deliberation in one of the rooms over the Sheriff's office, when the rooms began to fill with smoke.

An investigation was made and the fire was located on the floor below, in the corner of the corridor at the entrance to the Sheriff's office and courtroom.

The fire was beneath the floor behind the steam radiator pipes in the corner near the door of the Sheriff's office. Flames burst through the floor, and promptly word was sent to Protection Engine Co. No. 1 house on South Broad street, to which there was an immediate response by several of the firemen, who brought hand extinguishers and axes.

The floor was cut through with some difficulty, and in a short time all traces of fire were extinguished. It was a long time, however, before the building could be freed of smoke, and the jurors, referred to, were driven out of their room for a time.

The circuit court was in session when the fire was discovered, but the trial was proceeded with. The commotion caused some interruption and there was apparent anxiety on part of witnesses and others engaged.

The origin of the fire is not known. It is believed that some one threw a lighted cigar stump back of the pipes, and it fell through a crack in the floor, igniting some papers among the beams. The damage was very slight, but if the fire had started in the night the probabilities are there would have been great damage caused.

JENSEN MUST PAY.

Verdict Against Him in Hearing of Appeal at Somerville Court Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 26.—The case of Russell V. Bishop against Charles Jensen, of North Plainfield, was tried yesterday afternoon before Judge Schenck. W. S. Angleman was Bishop's counsel, and Francis J. Blatz appeared for Jensen. Only one witness on each side was examined, Jensen and Agent Marion.

The suit was brought to recover on four notes given by Jensen for four barrels of whiskey. Jensen had purchased five barrels of the whiskey which were in bond and given his notes for them. He received one barrel and paid one of the notes. Not liking the whiskey, which he said did not suit his customers, he returned the certificate and demanded his notes.

Bishop refused to return the notes and brought suit to recover on them. In the previous trial the jury disagreed, standing six to six. After hearing the evidence today Judge Schenck rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff. for the full amount.

Musical Exhibition.

Tonight there will be a musical exhibition at Salvation Army Hall by Prof. G. Loch. Do not fail to hear him play on the converted whiskey bottles.

MADE RED MEN WITH ELABORATE CEREMONIES.

Crack Team From Arasapha Tribe, of Atlantic City, Visited Local Tribe.

WERE WELL ENTERTAINED.

BIG TIME IN MIANTONOMO HALL LAST EVENING.

Great Sachem W. Newcorn Presided—Adoption Ceremonies Were Very Elaborate—Guests First Entertained at Hotel Imperial.

One of the most important events to the Red Men of this vicinity was that of last evening, when Miantonomo Tribe, I. O. R. M., entertained the team from Arasapha Tribe, No. 106, of Atlantic City. The team was comprised of twenty seven members and they were met yesterday afternoon by Great Sachem Newcorn and a committee from the entertaining tribe, and escorted to the Hotel Imperial, where a banquet was served, after which the visiting braves were taken about the city to fire headquarters, and police headquarters.

In the evening the visitors adjourned to Miantonomo Tribe reservation, where three hundred braves were assembled from the local tribes, as well as Perth Amboy, South Plainfield, Bound Brook, Elizabeth and elsewhere. Sachem Frank Van Pelt opened the meeting, after which he called upon Great Sachem Newcorn to preside.

The adoption ceremony was then performed on two pale faces by the visiting team which is reputed to be the most accomplished and best in the State. Under the laws of the order it would be impossible in public print to divulge the manner in which it was performed, but it is said that no finer costumes have ever been used in any portion af the United States than those worn by the visiting tribe. The picture presented by the team was the most natural of any that the members of the local tribe and the visiting brothers had ever seen, and if the candidates did not think that they were being adopted by the most ferocious band of Indians from the wild west, it was not the fault of Arasapha Tribe.

After the adoption and business of the evening there were short addresses by chiefs and braves. This was followed with a literary and musical programme, after which refreshments were served by the committee from Miantonomo Tribe. The affair broke up about 2 o'clock this morning, when Dr. Dundon, of Wetumpka Tribe, took two flash-light pictures of the crowd.

The visiting braves from Atlantic City remained at the Hotel Imperial over night and this morning went to New York to see the sights.

SLEPT IN HALL.

Patrolman McCarthy Found Bound Brook Man There and Locked Him Up—Fined This Morning.

Charles R. Brokaw, of Bound Brook, was arrested last night by Patrolman McCarthy, who found him asleep in the hallway of the boarding house kept by George S. Dufford, at 203 West Second street. In police court this morning Brokaw claimed that Mr. Dufford had given him permission to sleep in the hallway. Mr. Dufford denied that he had given such permission

Chief Kiely said that Brokaw had been about town in a half intoxicated condition for some weeks. City Judge Runyon imposed a fine of $5 or twenty days in the county jail.

MANY ENCOUNTERS WITH 'PLAINS' HIGHWAYMEN

Robbed Lone Italian in Washington Valley and Shot at Him as He Fled.

JESSE RYNO'S MEETING.

TRIED TO SELL HIM A KNIFE AS HE DROVE BY.

Ryno Refused and Tramps Were Indignant—Ryno Escaped While Men Conferred—Were Seen at Fanwood Station.

(Special to The Daily Press.

Scotch Plains, Jan. 26—The daring hold up of Ernest Clark Thursday evening by four masked men was the chief subject of conversation in town yesterday. During the day a number of important clews were learned, which if known Thursday night, would have aided materially in capturing the highwaymen.

The most plausable tale seems to be that they were hoboes of the toughest kind; that they reached Fanwood on a coal train about 5:30 in the evening. They were first noticed about the Fanwood station when their appearance caused those who were about the station to feel suspicious of them. They left shortly in the direction of the village.

Jesse Ryno happened to be passing the park near the station about 5:45 with his team. His attention was attracted to them by their suspicious movements. They started toward town and kept apace with his team until Kyte's hill was reached. Suddenly one of the four, after a whispered consultation with his companions, ran out into the road and jumped upon the wagon. He wanted to sell Ryno a knife for ten cents.

The man's appearance was so tough that Mr. Ryno was alarmed and put the man off with the excuse that he did not have any money with him. This did not satisfy the stranger, and he insisted upon selling the knife, telling Ryno that he and his companions were hungry, and that they were tramping it to Summit in search of work. But Ryno refused to buy and the fellow finally jumped from the wagon muttering to himself. After rejoining his companions another consultation was held. Ryno did not wait for any further interviews, but hurried on and left them.

From Fanwood they must have come through town and kept right on over the mountains until near the Carter place in Washington Valley, which is occupied by Mr. Fullerton and family from New York. There they encountered a poor lone Italian and he was held up at the point of a revolver. The net result of the encounter only gave the thieves 5 cents. This seemed to anger them, and after letting the badly frightened man go they made a target of him as he ran for his life down the road towards Mr. Fullerton's. The man told his story here of the encounter with the highwaymen, but on account of his excited condition and his being unable to speak but little English, little could be learned.

This encounter and the excitement attending it no doubt led the men to retrace their steps towards the village. While passing Mr. Clark's home it is thought that they concluded to stop and ask for food or to look around and see what they could steal. While doing this they have probably heard Mr. and Mrs. Clark discussing money matters and knew that he would soon leave for town with a sum of money to pay their bills. They must have laid in wait for him and, when he appeared, followed him until they came to a lonely and dark spot and then held him up.

After this there are several stories about them. One report says four men held up a woman about 12 o'clock that night near Summit. Another is that an effort was made to hold up one of the trolley cars about 8 o'clock between the village and Westfield. The first rumor is not generally credited, and the attempted hold-up of the car was denied by an employe of the company.

Mr. Ryno seems to be the only one who was able to get a good look at the men and he says he would be able to identify them should they be captured. But it is not thought by anyone that they will be taken, as they have had too much of a start.

Music Hall Box Office.

For the accommodation of purchasers of reserved seats for the Leyburne Bon Ton Stock Company's opening performance Monday, the box office of Music Hall will remain open until 9 o'clock tonight.

WEEK OF NEW PLAYS AT POPULAR PRICES.

Bon Ton Stock Company Will Be Attraction at Music Hall During the Coming Week.

OTHER GOOD PLAYS BOOKED

VARIOUS ATTRACTIONS WHICH WILL SOON APPEAR IN LOCAL THEATRE.

Leybourne Has an Excellent Company and Introduces Many Pleasing Specialties—"Sorrows of Satan" Will Appear Feb. 4.

"The Ladder of Life" Thursday night was the only performance of the past week at Music Hall and attracted a highly pleased audience. It was well rendered in every respect, the acting of all, and the scenic embellishments were exceedingly commendable. Manager Maze Edwards had expected to have an attraction for tonight, but could not secure any thing desirable or in keeping with his ideas of suitable entertainment. Several offers were made from burlesque and questionable variety shows, but such offers were respectfully declined.

Amusement seekers will, however, be pleased Monday night, when Charles Leybourne's Bon Ton Stock Company begins a week's engagement in a repertoire of new plays and novelties. It is a thoroughly good organization and equal to the best ever seen here.

The company has been playing to large houses all the season showing that it has succeeded in entertaining the large crowds that have patronized the entertainments. The company will open in "The Princess of Patches," from the pen of that admirable playwright, Mark E. Swan. Mr. Leybourne will be seen in his famous character, "Waggles," the philosopher, and will be ably supported by that most charming and petite little soubrette, Miss Emma Bunting. This little actress has charmed her hearers where ever she has been seen this season.

Mr. Leybourne carries a very good assortment of specialty artists who will entertain between the acts—Lester and O'Shunnessy, the champion buck and wing dancers, with others, and Prof. Saunders will show his admirable assortment of moving pictures. There will be matinees daily, starting Tuesday. Ladies' tickets and fifteen cents will secure the best seat in the house Monday.

The attraction Monday night, February 4, will be the presentation of Wm. A. Brady's notable production of Marie Corelli's famous "Sorrows of Satan," as given originally with pronounced success at the Shaftsbury Theatre, London. Mr. Brady's invariable generosity in the costly character of the environment he gives his productions, and the judgment he exercises in the selection of artists for his casts, are again evident in "The Sorrows of Satan," and the thousands of admirers of Miss Corelli's remarkably weird and absorbing novel are assured that the company will prove of a high grade seldom attained by those appearing at this theatre.

Con T. Murphy's latest success, "The Game Keeper," will be presented Thursday, February 7. Rowland & Clifford, proprietors of this attraction, are featuring Smith O'Brien, a very clever singing and dancing comedian, who will be remembered as the star of "The Ivy Leaf" and "The Fairies' Well." "The Game Keeper" abounds with pathos and possesses a vein of comedy furnishing ample opportunity and scope for Mr. O Brien to introduce his original songs that he is so famous for. The play will have a most competent cast with a scenic dressing superior to any Irish comedy drama that has been produced in years.

Denman Thompson, in "The Old Homestead," will appear Saturday, February 9, and the following week there will be Carl Haswin in his play, "A Lion's Heart," Lincoln J. Carter's latest sensational play, "The Eleventh Hour," and "The Private Secretary."

Piece of Steel in the Hand.

NEW QUARTERS ARE SECURED.

F. L. C. MARTIN CYCLE COMPANY WILL LOCATE ON PARK AVENUE.

Lease Signed Today For Store Formerly Occupied by Thorpe Mantel Company.

One of the most important changes in local business circles to take place this winter will be the removal of the store of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company from its present quarters on East Fourth street, near Park avenue, to the store, 310 312 Park avenue, formerly occupied by the Thorpe Mantel Company, and owned by the Runyon estate, of which H. O. Newman is executor.

A lease for a period of several years was signed this morning and the F. L. C Martin Company will take possession of the new quarters at once. The store is well fitted for the excellent display of bicycles and sporting goods and, with the new railroad station in use, the location is a particularly desirable one. It will be very convenient for commuters who store their wheels there.

Motorcycles and automobiles will be included in the stock of the Martin company this year. The new store will be fitted out at once and will probably be ready for visitors in a few weeks.

SOLD CAKE AND CANDY.

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR GIVEN BY DAUGHTERS OF THE CROSS.

Held at Home of President, Mrs. S. St. J. McCutchen, of Myrtle Avenue, Yesterday Afternoon.

A delightful reception and cake and candy sale was held yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen, on Myrtle avenue, under the auspices of the Daughters of the Cross, for the purpose of raising money to assist in the support of the work carried on by the King's Daughters' city nurse. The attendance was very large and it is believed that the sum of $75 will be realized as profit from the affair.

The house throughout was beautifully decorated with potted plants and a profusion of roses. In the parlor and dining room especially were the decorations attractive.

Mrs. McCutchen, who was president of the Daughters of the Cross, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. F. H. Ball, vice president; Mrs. George T. Rogers, treasurer, and Mrs. William L. Saunders, Mrs. W. W. Howland, Mrs. Milne and Mrs. E. Clark, Jr. In the dining room Mrs. Andrew Selter and Mrs. Frank Curtis poured tea and chocolate, and Miss Florence Marsh presided. Those who assisted were Miss Kays, of Elizabeth, and the Misses Milne, Brokaw, Arnold, Ball and Phillips, of the borough.

Those who were in charge of the cake table included Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Edward Goodwin, Mrs. Adam Brown, Mrs. DeWitt C Brokaw and Mrs. John Valiant. Those at the candy table were Mrs. James Northrop, Mrs. George D Hallock, Mrs. Reuben Knox, Mrs. Charles Lyman, Mrs. William Barlow and Mrs. Stephen B. Joseph.

There was not the slightest difficulty in disposing of the cake and candy. The affair was very successful from a social and financial view and the members of the society are gratified with the result.

TOLD OF HOLY LAND.

Lecture By Mrs. Laiallah at First Baptist Church Was Greatly Enjoyed.

A good-sized audience gathered at the First Baptist church last evening to enjoy an illustrated lecture given by Mrs. Laiallah, a native of Assyria. She had numerous fine views depicting life in Palestine and her explanatory talk concerning the natives, their habits and customs, was greatly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Kaiallah is thoroughly acquainted with every detail concerning life in her native country, and she told many things heretofore unknown about that country and the people. She is a delightful speaker and was not the least bit tiresome, in fact, those present could have remained a longer time to hear about that country and people. After the lecture many remained to meet Mrs. Kaiallah and have an informal talk with her.

Seventeen Witnesses to Go.

The case of the daughter of the late Stephen Pangborn, who is endeavoring to prove that Winfield Scott Allen, of Williamsport, Pa., was her father, will be continued at Williamsport March 5. Bruce & Runyon represent the daughter, and they will take seventeen witnesses with them to Williamsport to assist in proving the case for the plaintiff.

SAYS CITY MUST PAY IF SYSTEM IS USED.

President McClintock, of American Sewage Disposal Co., Writes Regarding Claims.

HIS SIDE OF CONTROVERSY.

DECLARES THAT PLAINFIELD CANNOT ESCAPE PAYING ROYALTY.

Advises a Settlement Without Going to Expense of a Trial—Copy of Letters From Former Mayor Rockfellow—Says It is No Bluff.

Much interest has been shown in the claims of the American Sewage Disposal Company, of Boston, concerning the proposed plans for alterations at the city's sewage disposal plant. J. O. Osgood, the expert, who is now in the employ of the city, has characterized the Boston company's claims as merely "bluff." A communication has been received from John C. McClintock, president and general manager of that company, in which he states at length the side of the American Sewage Disposal Company.

On May 19, 1900, Mr. McClintock visited this city and accompanied Geo. W. Rockfellow, then mayor of the city, to the sewage disposal beds. On their return to this city, Mr. McClintock says that Former Mayor Rockfellow gave him the following letter:

John N. McClintock,
Boston, Mass.

I wish you would make an estimate and plan for the disposal of the sewage at the sewage farm, without cost to the city, and submit same as soon as possible. Respectfully,

Geo. W. Rockfellow.

Subsequently, he says, he received another letter dated May 31, from the city's Chief Executive, which was as follows:

Dear Sir—Please accept thanks for your favor of the 24th inst., giving recommendations and estimates for improvements of our sewage disposal plant.

It seems to be a well considered plan, and agrees in general with the suggestions made to me by James Owen, C. E., who read a paper last December at the annual meeting of the Sanitary Society of New Jersey, on his experience with the septic tank near Montclair.

We think, however, that you have not sufficiently considered the fineness of the sand on our beds, and we believe it will be impossible to filter so much material through them as you propose.

Mr. Hazen estimated that they could not take more than 40,000 gallons per acre per day, and even this seems considerably beyond their capacity.

We have not considered the matter of claims for patents, as this could be referred to our Corporation Counsel in case your plan should be favorably considered by the Common Council.

Yours very truly,
Geo. W. Rockfellow.

Concerning the demands of his company for a royalty should the plans be adopted. Mr. McClintock says:

"It is immaterial to our company whether the city adopts the system recommended by us, or our system recommended by Joseph O. Osgood, consulting engineer, for our royalty will come to us in any case. As a matter of course, we want the works built anyway, and the royalty we demand is so trivial, in proportion to the value the city receives in adopting the system, that it would not be felt by the most penurious taxpayer. In the case of Plainfield, our demand is for 10 per cent. of the total cost of disposal works, if paid without a contest.

"The directors and stockholders of the American Sewage Disposal Company of Boston own the patents which cover the process of sewage purification by septic action and filtration and have employed some of the most eminent counsel in the United States to enforce their rights before the United States Courts. They are not 'bluffing.'

"Our claim would hold good against Plainfield, in any case, for professional services, for they have adopted the system which we recommended.

"We shall welcome the Corporation Counsel of Plainfield to our offices, where he may have the privilege of examining the very voluminous testimony and evidence which we have gathered together to substantiate our claims, so that he may advise the city to settle with us, rather than to pay for the printing of this mass of testimony at the expense of the city, and having to pay our royalty besides."

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Prices of Staples Unchanged—Iron and Steel Advance.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Rarely has there been more business in staples and in manufactured goods at practically unchanged prices than during the period since Nov. 1. This week seems to have marked the climax of enormous dealings at figures which have become familiar. The heavy trade in pig iron at better prices, the larger distribution of dry goods at a firmer range of quotations and the rush to secure prompt delivery of boots and shoes all indicate that business may have escaped one of those weary readjustments of prices which have often proved so trying in recent years. Jobbing trade in the interior is good, and collections continue excellent.

After a week of quiet conditions, partly due to uncertainty regarding competition among leading interests, the iron and steel industry has taken another long stride forward. The feature was enormous buying of pig iron at an advance to $13.25 at Pittsburg.

Further improvement is seen in footwear, and manufacturers are receiving ample orders. Some shops have contracts that insure active operations until May, and nearly all have orders ahead for more than a month. Prices are unchanged, except that in the exceptional cases where small advances were reported last week there has been a return to old figures.

It is difficult to find encouraging features in the wool situation. Sales for the week at the three chief eastern cities were 1,000,000 pounds smaller than in the preceding week, and in four weeks the aggregate is only 13,275,700 pounds against 21,504,700 last year.

Staple products have moved within narrow limits, little attention being given to widely varying estimates from Argentina or reports of damage in the northwest through insufficient snow. Despite the advance in prices over those prevailing a year ago exports of wheat, including flour, from Atlantic ports for the week were 2,568,818 bushels against 1,644,149 last year and of corn 3,472,614 bushels against 3,097,607 in 1900. Western receipts of corn were heavy, amounting to 4,315,450 bushels against 2,911,035 last year, but there is complaint of poor quality.

January was less satisfactory. Exports for the last two weeks were heavy, but compared with a liberal movement last year, and for the month the loss is $3,015,755. On the other hand imports show an increase of $3,254,832.

Failures for the week were 306 in the United States against 234 last year, and 46 in Canada against 38 last year.

A TWENTIETH CENTURY LIGHT.

Resembles Sunshine, Purifies Air and Kills Disease Germs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Nikola Tesla yesterday made an authorized statement in reference to his new light, described the lamp which diffuses the light and then, darkening the windows of his laboratory in East Houston street, turned on an electric current, and in a moment the rooms were flooded with what Tesla calls "artificial sunshine." The light was diffused through a spiral of glass about eight inches high and six inches wide. The spiral is of glass tubing about one-quarter of an inch in diameter, the ends being blown to about double the size of the tube and closely resembling wax candles. The general effect of the lamp is that of a small box made of glass tubing with two candles lying on their sides along the top. The ends of the spirals, which resemble candles, are covered with a thin coating of metal and painted white. The lamp illuminates whether it is connected by wires with an electric current or not. Mr. Tesla operates it with and without wires. The wonderful thing about the wireless lamp is that it may be carried about from one part of a room to another, picked up and set down at will, just as one would carry a kerosene lamp around, and all the time there is not so much as a flicker of the light.

But more than all this, Mr. Tesla asserts that in discovering this process of illumination he has discovered a light which will be of incalculable value in the sickroom and in the hospital ward. The tube if the lamp before being closed at one end is partly filled with certain gases, the properties of which Mr. Tesla is not ready to disclose, but which, he says, will purify the air of a sickroom when it might endanger the life of the patient to have the windows opened, so that the room's atmosphere will be as pure as if the room had been flooded with outer air. The inventor asserts that so perfect is his invention that the "ozonizing" of a room, as he calls it, may be continued as long as desired and stopped at will. Tesla says that his artificial sunshine, or his "sanitary light," is intended to be his first gift to the new century, the practical result of years of experiment in the old.

Want Vinegar Law Amended.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 26.—The farmers of Sullivan county, through their members in the assembly, are arranging for the introduction of an amendment to the vinegar law. They claim that the present law, passed several years ago, favors the manufacturers to the detriment of the farmers in Sullivan and other apple growing counties in the state. The farmers also claim that their pure cider vinegar will not stand the present test unless doctored, as it is claimed the manufacturers do.

A TALE OF DISASTER

Immense Devastation by Hurricane In Australasia.

ISLAND OF NEW BRITAIN RAVAGED.

Lives Lost, Shipping Damaged and Wharfs Destroyed by the Furious Storm—Heavy Loss by Fire In Australia.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 26.—The steamer Aorangi, from Sydney, brings the story of the most disastrous hurricane known in the history of New Britain since the appearance there of white settlers a quarter of a century ago.

The storm began Dec. 7 and extended over a period of three days, causing distressing scenes of devastation, injury and death.

After a more than usually trying season of drought, rains and squalls spread over New Britain early in December. The gales increased in force daily until the afternoon of Dec. 7, when the wind became a hurricane, with a tremendous sea running.

The seas carried everything before them, and at the white settlement of Herbertshohe the beach was in a few hours strewn with the wrecks of ships, boats and lighters. The steam yacht Antoninus, belonging to the Sacred Heart missionaries, just arrived from Sydney, broke from her moorings, and within an hour she was pounded to pieces. The government wharf was washed away and thrown high up on the beach. The Maori, a 26 ton cutter, was lifted on shore by the fury of the wind and water and broken up like kindling wood. The storm continued to increase in severity, and on the following day Forsythe's wharf was demolished, several laden lighters being driven ashore and broken up.

The stone breakwater surrounding the wharfs of the New Guinea company was totally destroyed, and the boats inside were dashed to pieces.

On shore the ravages of the storm were marked by hundreds of fallen trees, many being blown up by the roots. The banana plantations were devastated, and those on the north coast were completely destroyed.

In consequence of the disaster the natives will suffer great privations. Two natives were drowned, two others were thrown down with such fury by the gale that their legs were broken and dozens were bruised and otherwise injured. The damage done to shipping alone will exceed $200,000.

A calamity of a different sort is reported from Australia. From the Albury district come accounts of serious bush fires, which have destroyed all vegetation within an area extending from Wallandool to Culcairn. The wheat crop had promised better than during any season for 20 years, but 40,000 acres of ripening grain were burned, and many farmers were utterly ruined, and not a few were rendered homeless.

Baron Rothschild Dead.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 26.—Baron Wilhelm von Rothschild, who died at noon yesterday, was the grandson of Maier Anslem Rothschild, who founded the great Rothschild banking house. He was born in Naples May 16, 1828. His father, Karl, was one of the five sons of the founder and established a branch in Naples. He was the oldest son and was taken into the business by his uncle, Anslem, who had no son. For the same reason all of the sons of Karl were taken into the Frankfort business. It is intimated that the whole Rothschild banking system represents something approaching a billion dollars. The Paris branch has a nominal capitalization of $10,000,000, but its resources can be surmised when it is said that in 1841 it lost $60,000,000, but not for a moment was the house checked in its business. The 20 Rothschild families in Europe in spite of their numerous charities cannot spend half their income.

Electric Companies Consolidate.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 26.—A deal affecting the electric railway and lighting interests of Lancaster city and county and which practically means the consolidation of the Conestoga Traction company, the Lancaster Railway company, the Lancaster Gaslight and Fuel company and the Edison Electric Light company, all to be operated by a single corporation, has been practically consummated. It represents an aggregate of about $50,550,000 capital and is the greatest business enterprise ever undertaken in this city. It is proposed to incorporate a new company to be called the Lancaster County Light and Power company. This new corporation is to take and operate all lines of the two railway companies and the plants of the two lighting companies.

Mrs. Thomas C. Platt Very Ill.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Thomas C. Platt is very ill at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Her ailment is similar to that of a year ago and which was considered dangerous at that time. Senator Platt, who hurried over from Washington because of his wife's illness, said last night that he believed that with good care and careful nursing Mrs. Platt would recover.

Rockefeller Will Aid Oberlin.

OBERLIN, O., Jan. 26.—It was announced in chapel yesterday afternoon that John D. Rockefeller had signified through J. W. Cowles of Cleveland, a trustee of Oberlin college, his willingness to give $200,000 toward an endowment fund of $500,000 now being raised for the college, provided the entire amount shall be raised by the first of next year.

The Poet's Sister Dead.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 26.—Anne Longfellow Pierce, sister of the poet Longfellow and wife of the late George W. Pierce, is dead here, aged 80 years 10 months. She lived in the old Longfellow house on Congress street all her life. The house now goes to the Maine Historical society.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: New York—New Baltimore Station, Valno Titus. Pennsylvania—Aberdeen, J. A. Yeager; Center Mills, S. R. Gettig; Cove, W. H. Wilson, Jr.; Craig, H. S. Stevens; Rhone, C. L. Kingsley.

Library For Lewiston, Me.

LEWISTON, Me., Jan. 26.—It is announced here that Senator Frye has received a $30,000 gift for a public library building in Lewiston from a philanthropist whose name is not yet announced.

A LAST LOOK TAKEN.

Queen Victoria's Coffin Finally Closed.

BRIEF FUNERAL SERVICE AT OSBORNE

A Martial Air Pervades All the Proceedings—Naval and Military Display to Be the Greatest Spectacle Ever Seen.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 26.—With a pathos and solemnity such as seldom mark the passing from daylight into the darkness of the coffin the royal family yesterday took their last loving look at the features of the dead queen. About 10 o'clock in the morning the shell was brought into the bedroom, where were waiting King Edward, Emperor William, the Duke of Connaught, Sir James Reid and the royal ladies. The latter having retired, Sir James Reid, with reverent hands, assisted by three trusted household servants and in the presence of the king, the emperor and the duke, removed the body from the bed to the coffin.

In death it was lovelier than in the closing days of life. Not a trace of the ravages of disease was visible. The servants having retired, Queen Alexandra, the princesses and the children were called, and with lingering steps and stifled sobs they passed slowly before this white robed and peaceful figure. At the foot, never moving, stood the king, and when the mourning crowd had passed there remained only the son and grandson of the dead. Emperor William wept even more bitterly than the royal ladies. Finally he also retired, and the king was left alone. Sir James Reid, beckoning to the servants with the coffin lid, asked the king's instructions.

For a few seconds the king stood speechless, stricken with emotion at the last farewell. Then he said quickly: "Close it finally. It must not be opened again."

Thus the remains of England's greatest ruler were forever closed from human view. Reverently the coffin was borne into the dining room. Officers and men from the royal yachts took their stand around the coffin, over which the king, queen and kaiser gently laid the robes of a Knight of the Garter, placing at the head a diamond crown. Beneath lay the royal ensign, while hanging above was the union jack.

At the altar was the rector of Whippingham, who read a portion of the funeral service in the presence of the royal family. Emperor William covered his face with his hands, and the grief of Princess Beatrice was pitiful. After the benediction each placed a wreath upon the coffin, and then all retired.

The queen's will has not been opened. According to present arrangements it will not be opened until after the funeral, the details being unknown to the royal family. There is no truth in the statement that King Edward and Emperor William knelt by the bedside of the queen and swore to preserve peace.

According to a rumor circulating at Osborne King Edward desires himself to be styled his imperial majesty in order to emphasize the fact that he is emperor as well as king.

Today the local volunteers and the forces in the vicinity will pass through the chapelle ardente. After these will pass the correspondents of the leading papers of the world.

A very remarkable feature of all the proceedings is the intense martial air which pervades them. The naval parade off Spithead is to be the greatest if possible the world ever saw, and the military arrangements at Windsor will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted.

Grenadiers are mounting their silent guard over the coffin with guns reversed, arms crossed and heads bent. The silence is unbroken save by an occasional shuffle from the soldiers in changing their uneasy position.

A Begging Jailbird.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 26.—Chief of Police Kline yesterday received a letter from the Duchess of Arcos, wife of the Spanish minister at Washington, making inquiry about a prisoner in the county jail named James A. Snyder. The latter wrote a touching letter to the duchess in which he claimed he was a Spaniard and had been convicted of a crime of which he was innocent. He said he had about finished his sentence and would be compelled to go out into a cold, cruel world without money or suitable clothing. If the duchess would only aid him, he would ever pray for her, etc. The chief in his reply to the letter stated that Snyder was an impostor. He was convicted in the county court some time ago of horse stealing and has made it a practice to write to nearly all the prominent people in the country, including the Goulds and Vanderbilts, asking them for assistance. The man is well educated and said to be a graduate of Yale college.

Spain Will Retain Dock.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The naval board, headed by Judge Advocate General Lemley, appointed to decide upon the desirability of purchasing the large floating steel drydock in Havana harbor from the government of Spain, reports that to place the dock in thorough repair and to prepare it for a voyage would involve an expenditure of over $500,000 and that a dock could be built new at a figure not greater. Admiral Endicott, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, has recommended that as there is no present necessity for the acquisition by this government of such a dock the tender of the Spanish government for its sale to the United States shall not be accepted. Secretary Long has approved this recommendation.

Exposition Building Reopened.

PARIS, Jan. 26.—The Grand palace, one of the few permanent buildings of the exposition and the structure in which the art exhibits, including the United States section, were located, was reopened yesterday with an automobile and cycle show. The vast glass roofed edifice lends itself admirably to the purposes of an exhibition hall, to which it is now devoted. A large and fashionable assembly attended the opening. Several American firms are represented among the exhibitors.

Endowment Association In Trouble.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 26.—Judge John D. Shaffer of the county court has appointed George C. Johnstone receiver for the Odd Fellows' Endowment association of Pennsylvania. The liabilities of the association are $70,000 and the assets $30,000. The association has about 2,000 members.

DEPEW FAVORS SUBSIDY.

Eloquent Plea For Shipping Bill. House Passes Naval Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Senator Depew of New York yesterday delivered in the senate a characteristically forceful and eloquent address in support of the shipping bill. The address, which occupied just an hour, was in the nature of an appeal for the upbuilding of the American merchant marine by the granting of subsidies as provided for in the pending measure. His discussion of the problems of transportation which now confront American manufacturers and American farmers was notably interesting and effective. The peroration in which he urged that the American flag be restored to the mastheads of the freight carrying ships of the United States was a brilliant piece of oratory and elicited cordial applause from senators on the floor and the crowds in the galleries. Little progress was made with the Indian appropriation bill. The last hour of the senate day was consumed in the passage of private pension bills.

The house adopted the conference report on the army reorganization bill. The contest over it was brief, Mr. Hull, chairman of the military affairs committee, preventing prolonged debate. The debate was chiefly notable for a sharp exchange between Mr. Richardson, the minority leader, and Mr. Hay (Dem.) of Virginia, a member of the conference committee, who reproached the Democratic leader for not making a fight for a temporary army when the bill was originally before the house. The naval appropriation bill was finally passed and also 77 private pension bills. Mr. Talbert (Dem.) of South Carolina, who has distinguished himself in the past as an objector to special pension bills, but who has not been much in evidence this session, announced during the day that the time had come to stop the passage of promiscuous bills for the removal of charges of desertion and that hereafter he did not propose to allow such bills to pass if he could prevent it.

BRUSHES WITH BOERS.

Kitchener Says Invaders Have Done Little Damage.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—A dispatch received at the war office from General Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Jan. 24, mentions unimportant contacts with Delarey's and Haasbroek's commands. A score of Boers have been captured, and General Methuen has cleared Griqualand and Kuruman.

The invaders have done little harm in Cape Colony. They have not been joined by the inhabitants, with whom they are daily becoming more unpopular.

Wednesday's train, with Lord Kitchener and a body of troops, proceeded toward Middleburg, an armored pilot engine preceding. It was derailed by dynamite near Balmoral. The Boers, who were in force, opened fire, and the British replied heavily. Ultimately the Boers were driven off. The British sustained no casualties.

The Constitution Builders.

HAVANA, Jan. 26.—The Cuban constitutional convention has decided to leave the question of dividing and naming the provinces to the provincial governments themselves, subject to approval by the state. The second section of the draft constitution was accepted after a few minor changes. An article was added directing that citizens who remained out of the country for five years should lose their citizenship provided they were not in the employ of the government.

Further Relief Needed In India.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The secretary of state for India has received the following dispatch from the viceroy, Baron Curzon of Kedleston: "A grave condition of affairs exists in Guzorat, the Deccan and the Carnatie districts of Bombay owing to the early cessation of the monsoon in September and the absence of rain. Heavy relief expenditure is entailed for the coming financial year. The affected area also includes Baroda and a part of Hyderabad."

A NOTED EXPLORER.

Sir Martin Conway Tells of South American Travels.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Sir Martin Conway, a distinguished explorer, who has contributed much to what is known of the mountain regions of the world, is at the Fifth Avenue hotel, having recently returned from his third trip of exploration to South America.

Sir Martin, whose explorations have extended over a period of ten years and who has devoted nearly 30 years to scientific research, said that his work in South America would mark the close of his career as an explorer. He said that he still would maintain his interest in scientific discovery, but that in the future he would organize and send out exploring expeditions instead of going himself.

As evidence that his decision will not mean a direct loss to the scientific world Sir Martin said that he is about to organize an expedition to go to Peru next spring to further explore the eastern slope of the Andes. He will sail for England on Wednesday next and will organize this expedition soon after he arrives in his native country.

"The eastern slope of the Andes," Sir Martin said, "affords a field for scientific research which has immense possibilities. Practically nothing is known about the botany and nothing about the mineral resources of the vast region lying to the east of the Andes. It is known, of course, that this vast region has resources of great interest to science and of great value in a commercial sense, but it has been so little explored as to leave the world almost in the dark regarding its possibilities. Much is known about Venezuela and Colombia, but as yet little has been learned about the interior of Brazil, Bolivia, Ecuador, Peru and Argentina."

Sir Martin Conway, in his explorations in various parts of the globe, made a record as a mountain climber. While exploring with a party in the Hindoo Koosh in 1892 he climbed a peak 23,000 feet high, attaining an elevation 1,000 feet higher than any mountain record then known.

Sir Martin's explorations in South America have been made since 1898.

THE INDIAN TROUBLES.

Reports Greatly Exaggerated — No Violence Anticipated.

OMAHA, Jan. 26.—General Lee last night received a telegraphic report from Lieutenant Dixon, commanding the troop of cavalry sent to the scene of the Creek Indian troubles. He states that he has not yet made a full investigation, but has learned enough to warrant his saying that the reports of an uprising have been greatly exaggerated. Thus far he has encountered no Indians, and from civilians he learns there has been no violence on the part of the Indians, and he anticipates none. The report from Lieutenant Dixon comes from Henrietta, which place he reached during the forenoon.

General Lee stated that no orders had been issued for the movement of any other troops, and none would be unless it should later become apparent that they were needed. He said that six troops of cavalry and several companies of infanry were available for this service should the demand for them arise.

VERDI DEAD.

Great Composer Passes Away In Milan of Brain Trouble.

MILAN, Jan. 26.—Giuseppe Verdi is dead. The great composer had been rapidly sinking for several hours, and at a late hour last night the end came.

Verdi was born in the duchy of Parma in 1814. He studied under La Scala in this city and in 1842 brought out his first opera, which was very successful. It was followed by others, which have since become famous. Among those best known are "Giovanna d'Arco," "Macbeth," "Rigoletto," "Il Trovatore" and "La Traviata."

He was created an Italian senator in 1874 and in 1875 made a commander of the Legion of Honor. The cause of his death was congestion of the brain.

Statues Shipped to Buffalo.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Carl Bitter, the sculptor, has shipped from Hoboken, N. J., two carloads of statuary for the Pan-American exposition grounds at Buffalo. Among the statues shipped was "The Age of Enlightenment," designed by Herbert Adams, consisting of six figures, which had to be taken apart on account of the size of the group. "Mineral Wealth," a group of seven figures, designed by Charles Neihaus, was also sent to Buffalo. More will follow.

Greek Letter Society Dines.

ALBANY, Jan. 26.—The Chi Psi Alumni association held a largely attended banquet last night at the Hotel Ten Eyck. Colonel William F. Fox, the president of the association, acted as toastmaster. Speeches were made by ex-Mayor Van Alstyne of Albany, William J. Youngs of Oyster Bay, Hon. Philip Keck of Johnstown, Assemblyman Burnett of Canandaigua and other prominent alumni from various parts of the state.

Alger Gets Heavy Judgment.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 26.—A decree has been entered in the United States circuit court in the case of General Russell A. Alger versus T. R. Anderson and others upon a mandate from the United States court of appeals for the Sixth district, whereby General Alger is given a personal judgment for $281,014.97. The litigation grew out of the purchase of several tracts of coal and mineral lands in Franklin county, Tenn.

Emperor William's Estates.

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—From the Prussian diet budget it appears that Emperor William now owns 83 estates in Prussia, aggregating 98,740 hectares and yielding 651,631 marks net. Next in order in Prussia is the Prince of Pless, with 51,112 hectares. The king of Saxony has 31,000 hectares, the Duke of Ratibor, 33,096 hectares and the Duke of Ujest 39,742 hectares.

Strikers Paid and Discharged.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Jan. 26.—The boiler makers employed in the locomotive shops of the Erie Railroad company in this place, who have been on a strike, were yesterday paid in full and discharged from the service of the company. As yet there has been no attempt on the part of the company to bring workmen here from other points. There is no disorder.

Prominent Merchant Missing.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Harry Brakman, a prominent merchant of Unionville, has been missing from his home since Jan. 7, on which date he started for New York on business. Foul play is suspected.

PHILIPPINE REPORT.

Secretary Root Reports Facts to Congress.

COMMISSION'S VIEW OF AFFAIRS.

Majority of People Long For Peace, but Are Terrorized by Insurgents. Conditions Rapidly Improving. Thousands Taking the Oath.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The president has sent to congress a special message transmitting a report of Secretary Root on conditions in the Philippines. The secretary read the report at the meeting of the cabinet yesterday and referred at some length to a large mass of correspondence on the subject recently received from the Philippine commission.

This correspondence covers the situation in the islands very fully up to Nov. 30 last, the matter having been sent by mail. Supplementary to this are several cable messages from the commission bringing the matter up to date.

The report itself is a very voluminous production, divided into many heads exhibiting the progress made by the commission in carrying out its plans for the Americanization of the islands. A particularly interesting section of the report, introducing the whole subject of Philippine relations, deals with military and political conditions, the effect of the American elections and legislative procedure and acts. The commission says that examinations of many witnesses as to the form of government best adapted to these islands and satisfactory to the people show that the masses of the people are ignorant, credulous and childlike and that under any government the electoral franchise must be much limited, because the large majority will not for a long time be capable of intelligently exercising it.

The commission says that conditions in Ilocos, supposed to be free from insurgents, became unsettled between August and November last owing to the activity of Tinio, the missionary work of certain Tagalogs and the impetus furnished by the reports of the American electoral campaign. The unfortunate reverses of the United States troops at Sinoloan and Marinduque served to render the insurgent leaders more defiant and boastful, and, says the commission, "possibly to postpone the collapse of the insurrection predicted in our dispatch as likely to occur within 60 days after the election for a somewhat longer period."

"From all the information we can get it seems clear that a great majority of the people long for peace and are entirely willing to accept the establishment of a government under the supremacy of the United States. They are, however, restrained by fear from taking any action to assist the suppression of the insurrection. Any one suspected of giving information to the Americans concerning the insurgents is immediately marked for assassination. The ramifications of the conspiracy are so wide that it has effected the terrorism of an entire people. It is a Mafia on a very large scale."

One of the longest chapters in the report and one of the most absorbing interest concerns the friars in the Philippines. The commission handles this subject in the greatest detail and with the utmost freedom.

A dispatch from Judge Taft, dated Jan. 6, 1901, says:

"Conditions rapidly improving. Rifles, officers and privates are being captured or surrendered daily in considerable numbers in north and south Luzon. Same conditions in Panay, where more than 35,000 have taken oath of allegiance. Insurgent forces completely scattered and Leader Delgado negotiating for surrender. Work in Samar slower because of insurgent band long uncontested occupation of interior and swollen streams early in campaign. Campaign in Samar has driven bands into Leyte, producing disturbance, but information is that conditions there are favorable. Favorable party for peace; direct result of election. Well organized and rapidly increasing in Manila; preparing to extend organization to many provinces on pressing and numerous invitations from leading citizens."

The report shows that the islands are estimated to contain about 73,000,000 acres of land, of which less than 5,000,000 are held in private ownership. More permanent laws than the military government can supply are needed.

The section of the report on the liquor traffic in Manila indicates that the powers of the commission are ample to deal with that subject and that the success which they have attained will compare favorably with the results in this country. Many false and misleading statements have been made regarding the use of intoxicating liquors in Manila. The fact is that this traffic is more rigidly and effectively regulated and kept within bounds in the city of Manila than in any city of similar or greater size in the United States.

Babies to Give Away.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—There are just now about 200 babies under 2 years old in the Foundling asylum on Randall's island. The superintendent of outdoor poor thinks that there are many persons in and near the city who would gladly adopt one of these little ones and provide a good home for it. He invites applicants to apply at his office at the foot of East Twenty-sixth street.

Italian Cardinal Dead.

ROME, Jan. 26.—Cardinal Sebastiano Galeati, archbishop of Ravenna, is dead. He was born in 1822 and was raised to the cardinalate in 1890.

Division of the State.

This question of the proper division of the State into ten Congressional districts has been troubling the Republican leaders in the State ever since the passage of the Burleigh bill by Congress gave New Jersey two additional Congressmen. According to the reports which are now eminating from Trenton, however, the problem is in a fair way to be solved.

According to the reports, Franklin Murphy, chairman of the Republican State committee, has prepared for the redistricting of the State on lines which are generally satisfactory to the leading Republicans of the State. These plans, however, provide for a general upheaval of the present division lines and form entirely new combinations.

Mr. Murphy has, it is said, turned over his suggestions to Senator Mc Carter who has laid the plans before his fellow members in the Upper House of the Legislature. If the reports of the various Trenton correspondents are true, the plan for redistricting thus suggested, is likely to be adopted.

Union county will, according to this division, have some new neighbors which are likely to make things lively at the first few Congressional district conventions until they become better acquainted.

The complete list of the probable new districts is as follows:

First District — Camden, 107,643; Gloucester, 31,905, and Salem, 25,530, a total population of 165 078. This district gave a Republican majority of 4,808 in 1898 and 9 510 last fall.

Second District—Cumberland, 57,103; Cape May, 13 201; Atlantic, 46 402, and Burlington, 58,241, a total of 168,947. This district gave a Republican majority of 4,293 in 1898 and 9,643 in 1900.

Third District—Ocean, 19,747; Monmouth, 82 057; Middlesex, 79,762, a total of 181,566. This district gave a Republican majority of 1,940 in 1898 and 6 006 in 1900.

Fourth District — Mercer, 95 365; Somerset, 32 948; Hunterdon, 34 507; Warren, 37,781, a total of 200 601. This district gave a Democratic majority of 90 in 1898 and a Republican majority of 4,438 in 1900.

Fifth district—Union, 99,353; Morris, 65,156; Sussex, 24,134, and the townships of Pompton Lake Borough, Hawthorne, Tetonia, West Milford, Pompton and Wane, in Passaic county, 10,400, a total of 199 043. This district gave a Republican majority of 2,479 in 1893 and 6,265 in 1900.

Sixth district—Passaic, except the townships in the Fifth district, 144,802; Bergen, 78,441, a total of 223,243 This district gave a Republican majority of 2,025 in 1898 and 4,037 in 1900

Seventh district—The Second, Third, Fifth, Ninth, Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth wards of Newark, South Orange, West Orange, Livingston, Millburn, Vailsburgh, Montclair, Verona and Caldwell, all of Essex county, with a total population of 180,686. This district gave a Republican majority of 2 154 in 1898 and 7,740 in 1900.

Eighth district—The First, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards of Newark, and Orange, East Orange, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Franklin, Belleville, all of Essex county, with a total population of 171,768. This district gave a Republican majority of 2 156 in 1898 and of 10,240 in 1900.

Ninth and Tenth districts — The county of Hudson to be divided into two districts, with an average population of 193 024 each.

The recent holdup in Scotch Plains shows how easy it is for such happenings to occur. It also demonstrates the need of dealing squarely and firmly with the tramp question which has long bothered the municipalities. As long as the hoboes are given board and lodging at the county's expense at Somerville, they will haunt this part of the State. When firm measures are taken and life becomes a burden for the tramp caught in this vicinity, then will the likelihood of just such experiences greatly decrease.

When the Rummage Sale was first suggested last year, it was a question in the minds of many whether such an affair conducted in Plainfield would find much patronage. An experience showed that there were many who were glad to take advantage of the sale to obtain articles at very low prices. So the Relief Association is going to try it again.

When proper street signs are provided in Plainfield, it will be time to advertise the advantages of this city, but there is no use inviting people here when they cannot find their way about the city owing to the entire lack of such signs.

If Senator Mahlon Pitney should receive the appointment as one of the associate justices on the Supreme Court bench, it would practically leave Franklin Murphy alone in the running in the gubernatorial race.

Mayor N. B. Smalley, of the borough, is receiving no end of notoriety over his fight against the law providing for the exemption from taxation of notes in banks.

If the committee of ten can only secure the proper people for Plainfield's new militia company, there can can be no doubt as to the success of that organization.

Senator Charles A. Reed would make an excellent judge for he possesses an extensive knowledge of the law and seems particularly fitted for a judicial position.

It is years since there has been such a remarkable absence of snow as has been noticed this winter.

It will be about time for the State Legislature to settle down to work Monday evening.

The wise advertiser is the one who always keeps before the public view.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The Governor's appointment of former Mayor Rankin, of Elizabeth, to the important and desirable position of membership in the State Board of Assessors is recognized as a pretty hard "counter" on Senator Kean's solar plexus, as Rankin is the active head of the anti Kean faction among the Union county Republicans. This factional fight in Union now involves every prominent leader in the county, and is very likely to make itself felt in this year's election.—New York Herald.

* * * * *

If Middlesex gets combined in a new lot of counties to make up a Congressional district there may be some interesting contests in the political conventions to choose the next candidates for the office of Congressman, and squabbles between counties with favorite sons are likely to be in order. Middlesex, Monmouth and Somerset had just begun to work together smoothly and it is a pity that this harmony must be disturbed.—New Brunswick Home News.

* * * * *

There is another new development in the Union county feud between the Governor Voorhees and Senator John Kean factions. The Governor nominated, for member of the State Board of Assessors, his staunch supporter, John C. Rankin, than whom John Kean has no more bitter or unrelenting enemy. A membership in the State Board of Assessors possesses possibilities which can be made of great advantage in a political fight such as is now being waged in Union county, and the admirers of the Governor look upon this movement as a black eye for Mr. Kean. They think that it will enable Mr. Rankin to render more effective service to the cause which he represents than he could if the original programme to send him to the Senate as Judge Cross' successor could have been carried out.

Probably they are right. Let us hope so. It is a very pretty quarrel as it stands, and the more ginger the opposing parties put into it more the State will enjoy it.—Jersey City News.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 26—After an illness of but one week, Ernest Marienschenck passed away yesterday afternoon. Death was due to brain fever caused by a severe bump on the head received while attempting to pass through a fence in too great a hurry. His illness was at first thought to be grip, but soon after being taken ill he rapidly grew worse and despite the best of medical aid, death ensued. The young man was but twelve years old and was the son of Mrs. Mary Marienschenck. He was the youngest of six children, the others being two brothers, Frank and Antone and four sisters, Mrs. Augustus Hill, Mrs. Arthur B. Carpenter, Mrs. Charles Peterson and Miss Margaret Marienschenck.—As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral services but they will probably be held Monday morning from St. John's church. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery, Plainfield.

The initial meeting of the Crokinole Club was held last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bogardus. After spending some time in a social manner, the affair terminated with the serving of refreshments. Other meetings of the club will soon be arranged for.

William Gulick, who has been confined to his home for several weeks with rheumatism, was reported yesterday as being somewhat improved.

Miss Lillie Warden, who sailed yesterday for Georgia, was accompanied to New York by several friends who wished to see her safely off.

Mrs. Fred Wilcox has improved greatly from her illness and it is thought she will be able to be about the house in a few days.

Miss Annie Sirisky has returned to her home in Raritan after a brief visit with borough relatives.

G. Q. Dolliver, of Somerville, was the guest of friends in the borough yesterday.

Miss Ethel Jamison, of Raritan, has been visiting friends in the borough.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 26—The work of harvesting ice has been stopped for the present owing to the poor quality of the crop. Mr Wilson declares that forty-eight hours of cold weather will make the ice thick and solid enough for any purpose.

John Paterson, who formerly resided on the Maxson Dunham place, has moved to the W. B. Hayes property on Center street, which he has leased for five years.

It is said the railroad officials intend having four tracks running through New Market by next spring. If so, the old freight house will have to be moved else where.

The Squire farm has been purchased by a Brooklyn party who expects to take possession in the spring.

Stanley Day, Sr., is still confined to his home with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. L. Danz is slowly recovering from her recent illness.

Charles Brycoff is a victim of the grip.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 26—Rev. Mr. Amery, a returned missionary from Singapore, but now a student at Drew Seminary, Madison, gave an interesting talk to a small audience in the Methodist church, last evening, upon the dress, customs and religion of the natives of that part of China. Mr. Amery proved to be an entertaining talker and it is regretted that he was not greeted by a larger audience, but those who missed his address will have a chance to hear him tomorrow when he will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church at both services.

SEVERAL NEW HOUSES STARTED

BUILDING CONTINUES DESPITE FACT WINTER IS HERE.

Summary of Work Done During the Month of January—Five New Dwellings Are Begun.

Although the building boom, which has been experienced in Plainfield for some months, is partially at a standstill, the mild weather has admitted of something being done in this line the past month. A number of building permits have been issued during January by Building Inspector Doane.

The handsome two story frame residence which Charles A. Leland is having erected on West Fifth street, near Prescott place, is one of the substantial dwellings that will grace that section of the city. The house will cost about $2,500. It will have a steel roof and be supplied with all modern conveniences such as hot air heat, gas and electric light, etc. William Brokaw is the architect and carpenter and William H. Brokaw will do the mason work.

Perhaps the most costly residence for which plans and specifications have been filed is that to be erected by A. E. Park, on East Front street, near Netherwood avenue. This house is to cost $5,500. It will be up to date in every particular and be one of the best in that section of the city. The dwelling will be two stories in height and of handsome architecture. This is the third dwelling of the kind that Mr. Park has built in that section of the city, and all of them are very handsome. The architect of these houses is Oakley & Son, of Elizabeth. Seaman Williams will have charge of the masonery work and Manning & Son will look after the carpenter work.

Philip Cottrell is the owner and builder of a frame dwelling which he is erecting on East Third street, near Berckman street. The structure is to cost $1,800. It will be a fine addition of that portion of Third street.

Mrs. Hester W. Fisher has filed plans for a new dwelling on Manson place which is to cost $1,200. It will be a frame cottage for the family's use. George H. Fisher, Jr., is the architect. Townley Brothers will do the mason work and George H. Fisher the carpenter work.

A frame dwelling is being erected on Sixth street, near Monroe avenue, by Wm. H. Abbott, that will be a splendid addition to the other cosy homes in that street. Wm. H. Clum is the architect. The carpenter work will be done by Titus & Pope.

Other building permits include an extension to a frame dwelling of A. D. Phillips at 508 Central avenue.

Wm. D. Johnston is building an extension to the frame dwelling of Frederick W. Happel, corner of Second street and Prescott place.

A frame addition is being built to the brick building of John Bushnell, corner of Central avenue and Ninth street. Charles H Smith is the architect, Titus Laury the mason, and Wyman & Haberle the carpenters.

Rushton & Hanson are having a frame addition built to their paint shop, 408 Sycamore street. The work is being done by Bateman Thatcher.

A small brick barn is being constructed by John Johnston on South avenue, opposite Woodland avenue. W. D. Johnston is the builder.

It Girdles the Globe.

The fame of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, as the best in the world, extends round the earth. It's the one perfect healer of Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Sores, Scalds, Boils, Ulcers, Felons, Aches, Pains and all Skin Eruptions. Only infallible Pile cure. 25c a box at L. W. Randolph's.

MINOR TOWN HAPPENINGS.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST TO EVERY DAILY PRESS READER.

Some Of the Doings In City and Borough Told In Concise and Pertinent Paragraphs.

—Rev. W. L. Jones will lead the meeting at the East Third Street chapel tomorrow evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

—Members of Wetumpkah Tribe, No. 229, I. O. R. M., expect to receive their paraphernalia in time to use at the meeting next week.

—Mrs. L. J. Denton, the West Front street florist, is making a specialty of medium priced carnations. A complete line of cut flowers and palms always on hand.

—Harry G. Adams, insurance agent, of 222 East Front street, who has been confined to the house the past two weeks by a severe attack of the grip, is improving nicely and will soon be able to attend to business.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The amusements of the youth of each generation appear to be about the same the country over. Sliding down the cellar door has been a favorite pastime for boys from time immemorial. It is still observed by boys, whether living on the farm or in the city. It is as natural for a boy to slide down a cellar door or other incline as for a duck to take to water. Since the new sidewalk was constructed from Park avenue leading up to the new North Avenue station the boys have used the smooth surface of the sides of the approach to the steps at that point to slide upon, oblivious of the danger of their trousers being worn to a thinness. Almost any day these little chaps can be seen sliding there.

Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches.

For destruction and complete riddance of Cock Roaches, Beetles, Wood and Water Bugs, Bed Bugs, Ants, Rats, Mice, etc., "Rough on Rats," though poisonous, if used with care is most effective. In fact it is the only thing that will permanently annihilate Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches. As an exterminator of Rats and Mice, "Rough on Rats" is the old reliable that never fails nor disappoints. They "don't die in the house." Is sold all around the world. Is used by all civilized nations of the earth. Is the most extensively advertised, the best know and has the largest sale of any article of its kind on the face of the globe. It gives satisfaction every time. Beware of imitations. I employ no peddlers. Have a suspicion of any dealer offering substitutes said to be as good. 15c. and 25c.

Horse Thieves At Somerville.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 26—Horse thieves broke into the stables of Mrs. S. Birdsall and Mrs. Peterson, about a mile west of town, last night, and stole two horses from each place. They discarded one of the Birdsall horses, as it was not valuable enough to suit them, and it was found along the roadside today. No trace of the thieves or horses has been found.

Miss Mary Osbourne, of Dover, is the guest of Miss Mabel Firstbrook, of Liberty street

Miss Nellie Apgar, of East Front street, has gone to Brooklyn for a visit with relatives.

Miss Ursula Leach, of North avenue, is confined to her home, suffering with an attack of the prevalent malady grip.

Stuttgart. Die jüngste Volkszählung ergab für Württemberg 2,165,765 Einwohner, gegen 2,081,151 im Jahre 1895.—Wegen Einbruchsdiebstahls erhielt der Tagelöhner Otto Mattes ein Jahr Gefängniß zudiktirt.

Balingen. Zum Bau einer Turnhalle hat Kommerzienrath Behr die Summe von 10,000 Mark, der hiesige Turnverein die Summe von 6000 Mark der Stadt übergeben.

Besigheim. In sämmtlichen 19 Orten des hiesigen Bezirks wird Weinbau betrieben. Die im Ertrag stehende Weinbergfläche ist zur Zeit 1312 Hektar groß. Produzirt wurden im verwichenen Jahre 61,857 Hektoliter Wein. Es ist das mehr als das Doppelte des zehnjährigen Durchschnitts, der 28,824 Hektoliter beträgt. Keines der letzten zehn Jahre hatte einen solchen oder ähnlichen Ertrag aufzuweisen. Am nächsten kamen dem letzten Jahrgang die Jahre 1896 mit 45,459 Hektoliter und 1895 mit 42,580 Hektoliter; das geringste Jahr, 1891, hatte nur einen Ertrag von 5997 Hektoliter.

ACCESSORIES.

Muffs and Belts of Many Fanciful Kinds.

Muffs are now as fanciful as neckwear and hats and are made to match them, the plain muff of fur being quite out of countenance when it does appear. Marabou, plaited mousseline de soie, lace, ribbon and ostrich feathers are the materials employed, and they are used with great elaboration.

Muffs lined with ermine are carried with light gloves and are of great elegance. All muffs are of medium size, neither absurdly small nor preposterously large.

DINNER BODICE.

The majority of elegant costumes are now completed by a belt of gold or silver ribbon fastening by an artistic buckle or clasp or forming a point back and front. Sometimes the metal ribbons are plain, sometimes they have a woven design or a pattern in different colored gold threads, sometimes they are ornamented with cabochons, jewels or narrow ribbons of velvet or silk. With cloth costumes wide elastic belts in black, white or colored silk are worn.

The picture shows a dinner bodice of very finely tucked white taffeta. It is in the blouse form and has a short, pointed bolero of renaissance lace, between the points of which are little bands of black velvet fastening with tiny buckles. The plaited collar is bordered with lace. The sleeves of tucked taffeta have the tucks left free at the bottom to form a puff and are gathered in at the wrist with a frill. They are ornamented with renaissance lace, which is held across the outside of the arm by bands of velvet and buckles. The belt is of gold ribbon, with an artistic buckle, and the bodice is worn with a silk skirt.

NEW FASHIONS.

One Style of Evening Gown—A Girl's Costume.

A very elegant type of evening costume is the long tunic of black satin heavily embroidered with spangles. The skirt falls over a deep flounce of accordion plaited black mousseline de soie, upon the edge of which are tiny ruches which serve to keep the plaits open. The bodice is covered with black mousseline de soie, toning down the brilliancy of the spangles. The same idea is carried out in colored satin embroidered with beads or spangles, and the mousseline de soie is selected to match.

GIRL'S COSTUME.

Embroideries of jet and turquoise combined are fashionable. They are seen on many ball and other evening toilets. There are also incrustations of black or white chantilly lace, spangled with jet, steel and rhinestones.

The picture shows a costume for a girl of 12 years. The skirt of navy blue serge has two groups of stitched plaits framing a narrow tablier of printed velvet and two groups of stitched plaits at the back framing the watteau plait. The bodice is fitted at the back and has a blouse front, with a yoke and plastron of printed velvet. Corded plaits ornament the edge of the serge portion, also the edge and outside of the elbow sleeves of serge, which are additionally decorated with a bow of blue velvet ribbon with metal tags. Similar bows adorn the front. The long, full sleeves are of printed velvet, gathered into a cuff at the wrist. Bands and loops of velvet trim these cuffs, the collar and the top of the skirt. The navy blue felt hat is trimmed with cream ribbon. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WINTER TRIMMINGS.

Decorations Are of Every Kind and Description.

Gowns and wraps are embroidered upon the material itself, according to the shape, and garments thus adorned are, of course, far more expensive than those upon which the embroidery is merely applied. Applications are much used, however, in connection with embroidery of the other kind. Indeed, there is a universal mingling of materials and decorations of the most diverse character. Lace is trimmed with cord, braid and passementerie, velvet is cut into openwork and perforated designs, fur is employed for motifs and application, cloth is mounted in arabesques on a ground of heavy net; in short, there is scarcely any combination so contradictory as to be deemed impossible. A novel and rich ornamentation is composed of large damask designs of the Louis Quinze style, which are cut out from the silk ground and applied upon elaborate mantles or evening gowns. The application is so carefully done that the designs strongly resemble embroidery.

NEW BODICE.

The illustration shows a bodice of light blue silk with a full front and a high collar encircled by bands of black velvet which form a bow in front, with ends having gold pendants. The wide corselet belt is trimmed with black velvet bands. The bolero is of Japanese brocade, in which gold threads are interwoven. It is trimmed with black velvet bands and has black velvet bows like those at the throat and black velvet revers. The brocade sleeves of elbow length have black velvet cuffs, and below these are plaited sleeves of blue silk with a puff at the elbow and wrist. The hat of light blue panne has a blue plume over the crown, a black velvet bow at the back and a garland of forgetmenots next the hair. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE MODE.

It Is More Eclectic Than It Has Ever Been Before.

Fashion has made a great effort during the last few years to escape from the recurrent routine in which it has been accustomed to travel, reproducing from time to time the typical forms and colors of some particular past epoch. Instead of following this usual round it has seized upon forms, colors and ornaments indiscriminately and combined the styles belonging to a dozen different, disconnected periods of costume. The result has been to give great freedom to individual taste, great variety to the wardrobe and to produce an effect of decided novelty. Any happy inspiration in costume is acceptable, and no one style is prescribed that, while it suits some persons, is totally unbecoming to others.

FAILLE BODICE.

The picture shows a corsage of poppy red faille. It is plaited all over, and two bands of cream guipure are applied in the form of a bolero. The corselet is trimmed with bands of black velvet, and there are a collar and a voluminous cravat of white embroidered mousseline de soie. The upper half of the sleeves is plaited, and a band of guipure simulates a sleeve cap. Just above the elbow are two bands of black velvet, and below the elbow the fullness of the sleeves forms three puffs, separated by bands of black velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE OMNISCIENT MAN.

I love to meet the Wise Wise Man
The man who knows it all,
And hear him call my likings "Bosh,"
And my opinions "Gall."

I love to hear the Wise Man sneer
And lift his chin at me
When I suggest that carmine ink
Looks kind of red to see.

I glory in his lofty scorn
When he looks down to say
That crimson cloaks and meadows green
Should both be painted gray.

When I admire a painting new,
Without Time's stain or fleck,
How sweet to feel him with both feet
Jump on my groveling neck!

I praise a picture signed by plain
Unhyphenated Jones;
His steel-blue blade the Wise Man draws
To flesh it in my bones.

I fain would worship some rapt saint
Angelic hosts adore,
But that I fear the Wise Wise Man
Who knows it all—and more.

Takes a Trip Abroad

He Discusses the Wondrous Atmosphere of Art as It Is Breathed in Europe

[Copyright, 1900, by Robert J. Burdette.]

I am such a hardened philistine that I don't even feel sorry for it, and there are times even when I am standing in some gallery sanctified, glorified and deified, scarified by the immortals who touched canvas and marble with the instinct and majesty of breathing life, that I am not ashamed of it. And as I am not rich enough to buy, and not quite poor enough to merit indulgence, I reckon I am a doomed sinner, already trembling over the dread abyss into which I must one day drop, where my eyes will be forever seared with haunting chromos and where I will never be amused—I mean gladdened; gladdened, that is it—by painted swarms of saints, madonnas and "childs" that are fearfully and wonderfully made. I wonder even now in my coarse philistinism if the psalmist ever studied anatomy from an old painting and was led to contemplate the structure of man as revealed in the picture of a saint with a ramrod for his backbone and his misplaced vertebrae in his legs. People tell me that if I would live in a wondrous atmosphere of art which people breathe over here I would grow to love some of the paintings which I now deride. Well, maybe I would. I don't know very much about pictures. But I do love to watch people and study the influence of this "atmosphere of art" upon their lives.

THE MAIL BRINGS A COPY OF THE SUNDAY PAPER FROM HOME.

Pictures People Might Worship.

In a church in Venice one day I had stood for an hour or longer. On the walls were masterpieces that lovingly and beautifully compelled the adoration of even my hopeless philistinism. There were painted faces of saints who could not have been more saintly than the genius that created the countenance which God had not given them, but to which through all time all men were to know them. Paintings before which the most irreverent scoffer bared his head and bowed his soul. Pictured faces that swam mistily before you, as the tears filled your eyes, drawn from the heart by feelings that you could not understand. Pictures that looked a mute rebuke of your philistinism and made you think of the silent look that sent the heart-broken disciple out of the hall of the high priest's palace into the night to hide his tears and his shame and to find a better, stronger life than he had ever lived through penitence and the tender power of forgiveness. Pictures that made you half a Catholic and a thorough believer in all the saints. I did not wonder that people learned to kneel before these pictures when they whispered their prayers to the saint who was beatified—not by any pope—I can make a saint as easily as any man that ever lived as unsaintly a life as I and several of the popes have done—but by a painter whose genius had the power of working miracles in the name of art. I think, if I stood before it long enough, I might unconsciously whisper my prayers before—if not to—St. Barbara. Not the St. Barbara beatified or canonized, or whatever it is that makes a saint by the church; oh, no, but to Palma Vecchio's Santa Barbara; to Raphael's Madonna. That's the kind of a philistine I am.

But They Don't.

I said "I did not wonder" that people said their prayers before or to these pictured saints. I should have said: "I would not have wondered if they had said their prayers before them.' But they didn't. The tourist children of St. Baedeker stood before the pictures with their red prayer books in their hands. But the people who live in this wonderful, entrancing, soul-lifting atmosphere of art, did not, and do not. So I walked over to the chapel where nearly everybody who came to that church to pray dropped on their pious knees. And I found them before the absurdest looking image in that room—a room lighted by the devotion and triumph of human genius. There was a doll, about as large as a 14-year-old girl. It was dressed in a cotton dress—used to be white—with a rose-bud figure on it. It had a yellow wax face, insipid and expressionless to a most amazing degree in the days of lifelike dolls, and on it a tinsel crown several sizes too large. The fingers of both hands were loaded with cheap rings, and as the palm of the left hand was turned toward the front the 13 rings on those fingers were turned with the glass "sets" inside, that they might show. The image wore a belt of pink ribbon. I have no quarrel with people who adore that sort of thing. I have no fault to find with them. Only when people tell me that the atmosphere of art, the faultless sculpture and the living paintings, the masterpieces of the world of art are in themselves educational, uplifting, refining, stimulating, I just wonder why it doesn't have that effect upon people who were born in it, live in it all their days, wallow in it, so to speak.

Art and Common Honesty.

Several things tend to make the Philistine mind skeptical on the elevating tendencies of art in its highest development. That saintly Medici family were eminent patrons of art. It was disgust at their tyranny that drove Michael Angelo from Florence. And the popes, who were the greatest builders and patrons of art, seem never to have begun any great work without the preface of wholesale and barbarous thievery. "The rebuilding of St. Peter's alone," says Lanciana, "from the pontificate of Martin V. to that of Pius VII., caused more destruction, did more injury to ancient classic remains than ten centuries of so-called barbarism. Of the huge and almost incredible mass of marbles of every nature, color, value and description used in this building until the beginning of the nineteenth century not an inch, not an atom comes from modern quarries. They were all removed from classic buildings, many of which were leveled to the ground for the sake of one or two pieces only." When the baldacchino, which covers the high altar in St. Peter's, was made the pope, Urban VIII., robbed the Pantheon of rare and beautiful treasures of classic art merely for the bronze, with as little compunction as a boy who wanted to go to the circus would steal a yard of lead pipe from a junk shop. A splendid bronze statue of Jupiter was stolen from the capitol to make a very poor one of St. Peter. The story is long enough for a book. Oh, when you sift the matter impartially, the only true, sincere, appreciative lovers and worshipers of art on earth are the Philistines. For some reason, good and wise and sufficient, Jehovah forbade his chosen people to cultivate art as a fad or profession, and they have outlived every nation of artists and art worshipers on earth, without changing their faith, their religion and their character. And the three great nations under whose nurturing care artistic ideals and forms reached their highest development are famous today merely for their ruins and are become peep shows for wandering Philistines and globe-trotters. Oh, the fact is, my son, with all that is beautiful and noble and graceful and splendid about art, there's as much rubbish about it as there is about the ruins which once were splendid palaces and castles and are now dust heaps of quarry refuse. A beautiful picture even a man so ignorant as myself can admire without being taught why and how to admire it, but a madonna, with a spike neck, egg-shaped face and long eyes—though I do not appreciate the zeal and devotion and fervor and consecration of the painter—does not move me to adoration or admiration of the picture. Therefore, am I set among the Philistines. And acres and acres and acres and miles and miles and miles of that type of madonna and saint will you see to every masterpiece. And what destroys human life in the galleries—and it seems to me that thousands of people die in them every year—is that the Baedekerite feels that he must look at every one of them instead of the dozen in every thousand worth looking at.

How do I know that so many persons die of the galleries? Of my own knowledge. Every day the pilgrims come back to the hotel declaring they are "half dead." Then they go out the next day and come back with the same declaration. That must be the other half.

Art That Isn't Art.

And yet one feels penitent for ever having said a word against conscientious art, when returning from the contemplation of the work of men who worshiped art with sincere souls, even though their offerings were made with faulty pencils and inscrutable brush, the mail brings a copy of a Sunday paper from home, and it unrolls the unmitigated and inexcusable horror of the "colored supplement." I ain't sayin' a word about it. Ain't sayin' what I think. I just go back to the dingiest corner of the poorest gallery I can find the next day and hunt out the leanest, most disjointed and misarticulated saint I can find, and worship him with unspeakable reverence, and pray that he will remember me forgivingly when I am howling in purgatorial pennance for ever making fun of him. So no more at present. For in the dawn of art there was some excuse, or rather good reason, for occasional poor drawing, monstrous anatomy and atrocious coloring. That doesn't stand to-day. If after a thousand years of education a man to-day thrusts his atrocities of bad design, worse execution and worst coloring into the faces of the people, to the wheel and the rack with him. Lock him up in a sky-lighted cell for all eternity, with plenty to eat and drink to keep him alive, and his own pictures pasted forever on the walls around him. But I don't suppose this will ever be done. In these days of advanced humanitarianism, when it is all we can do to keep our hands off the Chinese, mankind revolts from such brutal cruelty. You see, my boy, it isn't enough for yourself or the world of your day that you live in, that you should do as well as your father. You must do a great deal better.

Traveled Conversation.

I have begun to believe that in nothing does the broadening and stimulating influence of travel show itself so much as in one's conversational powers. If you meet a group of fellow-tourists casually—mere strangers whom you have never seen before—you will be impressed at once with the fact that their conversation is on a plane remote from that of a traveled people. And these are not "imaginary conversations," painfully and toilsomely conceived by the midnight incandescent lamp in God's country, or the sputtering glimmer of a candle in Europe, but real brilliants, shot off on the touch of the moment and the person, like sparks from the flint and steel.

"Only five days. You been here long?"

"Just a week. What are you seeing?"

"Nothing yet; we haven't begun; we're looking for a hotel. You've seen everything, I suppose?"

"No; we haven't started in yet; haven't found a Ponsheon."

This is the sort of thing that makes life a daily joy to Boswell.

NEVER PAYS FOR HIS MEALS.

A Story Teller Who Dines at the Best Places and It Costs Him Nothing.

"There goes a man," said the manager of the cafe in one of the Broadway hotels near Forty-second street, New New York, says the Chicago Inter Ocean, "who to my knowledge, has not paid for his dinner on any day this month, nor during the months of October or November, and I doubt if he did in September. Yet he lived on the best in New York all the time. His luncheon cost him only the price of a glass of beer, and his breakfasts—well, that is a matter of conjecture on my part, but I'll venture to say ten cents is the limit of their cost. I don't believe he has expended to exceed six dollars monthly for food. Yet he has dined at the Waldorf, the best chop houses, Delmonico's, Sherry's, the Holland, in fact everywhere in New York where the best there is to eat is to be had. He is a professional story teller, and it pays him."

The story teller is a tall man of fine presence, stylishly yet quietly dressed, with the face of an actor, and a delightfully rich and sonorous voice, whose inflections vary with the skill of an elocutionist as he tells his yarns.

"Wait a few minutes," said the cafe manager, "and you'll see how easy it is to get a dinner without paying for it."

Shortly afterward a party of four men entered the cafe. They had finished business for the day, and were just mellow enough to be willing listeners to stray anecdotes well told. One of them recognized the man of stories, and, walking up to him, invited him to join the party at a table for a drink. The story teller politely demurred, yet edged nearer and nearer the table. Under protest, of course, he sat down, and refreshments from decanters were ordered. Within a quarter of an hour the story teller had everything his own way. With glib tongue and finished style he spun yarn after yarn, numerous drinks arriving at the table for the merry quintette.

An hour afterward the party agreed that it was time to dine. Each of the four insisted on the story teller being his particular guest. He assented modestly, and apparently with some reluctance, and the party drove away in a cab to a well-known hotel further down town.

"What did I tell you?" gleefully remarked the cafe manager. "Wined and dined, and not a penny out of pocket!"

SPORTING.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

There is a rumor that a ten-men bowling team from the Casino will challenge a team from the Park Club in the near future. If the game comes off there will be plenty of excitement and it will cause of revival of the old-time spirit of rivalry.

UNITED LODGES.

Knights of Pythias of Perseverance and Goodwill Lodges Met as One Organization.

There was a pleasant affair at the rooms of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, Knights of Pythias, last evening. This lodge has recently been consolidated with Goodwill Lodge, No. 101, of Scotch Plains, and has become one of the strongest organizations in the State. There is now a membership of over 250 and the lodge is constantly growing.

After the regular order of business the members enjoyed a social entertainment of an informal nature. The evening was passed with singing, story telling and speech making. A collation was also served. There was a very large attendance.

Fancy Dress Dance.

The young married society folks, who have been giving a series of dances at the Casino, will make a departure from the customary set affairs at the next dance to be given on February 18. At that time the event will be a fancy dress one and great preparations are being made to make the affair a very brilliant one.

Will Hold Pool Tournament.

WALKED TO DEATH.

Laborer Killed on Jersey Central Tracks Near Spring Street Station, Elizabeth, This Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 26.—An unknown laborer, while walking the Jersey Central Railroad tracks near Spring street, this morning, on his way to work, was struck and killed by the Royal Blue Line train that reaches Plainfield at 8:44 in the morning. The accident happened on the curve near the Spring street station and while the man had his eye on a train coming toward him, he did not notice the other train coming behind him.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid perparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Manufacture Their Own Goods.

L. Cronk & Son., of New Brunswick, have taken possession of the office on North avenue, formerly occupied by Alvin E Hoagland. They have established a branch line for the sale of tile mantels, and everything that goes toward the building of a house in the line of wood work. They have a large mill at New Brunswick and they manufacture everything themselves from the rough wood. They are ready to quote low prices and solicit a share of patronage. John Lloyd, well-known to the trade, is in charge of the local office.

Siege Vividly Pictured.

Dr. W. A. P. Martin, L L.D., recent president of the Imperial University at Pekin, China, and who has but recently returned to the United States, told the story of the "Siege of Pekin," before a large audience in the Seventh-Day Baptist church this morning. As the doctor spent many years in China and passed through the entire siege of eight weeks, his description of the events leading up to, and during the trying times, were very vivid.

SELLING OF OLEOMARGERINE.

STATE HEALTH OFFICERS HAVE MUCH TROUBLE OVER IT.

Sale is All Right Where Oleo is Properly Marked—Often Sold as Butter, However.

State Dairy Inspector Vandruff who was in Plainfield Thursday to make an inspection of the milk sold in this city by various dealers, told a reporter for The Daily Press that milk was not the only thing the State health authorities had trouble with. One of the things that the inspectors were watching closely was the sale of oleomargerine.

In some stores this commodity is sold in place of butter. It is not a violation of law to sell oleomargerine itself, but it is a violation of law to have it for sale, if it is not properly labeled. A merchant must not expose for sale this commodity without each package being plainly labeled. Where it is sold for butter it is a violation of a State law and those who handle it without a label are liable to a severe penalty.

The manufacture of oleomargerine has been brought to such a degree of science that it is now almost impossible to tell it from first class butter. So cleverly is the stuff made that it can now be colored to any desired shade. It is also made with a grain to resemble gilt edge butter. When oleomargerine was first manufactured it was made from lard and tallow and was considered injurious to health. It is now manufactured from good, clean tallow and is considered equally as palatable and as nutritious as butter and is not considered at all detrimental to health. The inferior grades of "oleo" are said to contain substances that are harmful. Where oleomargerine is labeled it is the genuine article, safe to eat and is not unhealthy. The fact that "oleo" can be made much cheaper than butter is why some unscrupulous dealers try to palm it off on the unsuspecting public. This is the reason that a law was passed compelling manufacturers to have all packages containing the commodity properly and plainly labeled.

SKULL FRACTURED.

Mysterious Injuries Received by Michael Kelly, Sr., Well-known Citizen of Westfield.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, January 26—Michael Kelly, Sr., lies at his home on Rahway avenue in a very precarious condition as a result of injuries received Tuesday night, and the Westfield police are making an investigation as to how the injuries were received.

Kelly, who is 68 years of age and well known in this town, having lived here for many years, was first noticed by several citizens who alighted from a train, near the depot. He started down toward the town and, when near the fire department building, fell. Officer Elmer Woodruff, who was near, helped him to his feet and then found that he was badly injured and that blood was flowing from his mouth.

With the help of the citizens the officer took the injured man to the police headquarters and summoned Dr. R. R Sinclair. Upon examination the latter found that Mr. Kelly's nose was broken, that he was cut about the mouth and that his skull, near the base, was fractured. He was kept at the police station over night, it not being thought advisable to move him until Wednesday morning when he was taken to his home.

Kelly had been drinking and the police say that he received his injuries by falling, but there are a great many in the town who think this would have been impossible and that they must have been received in a fight or through an assault as Kelly was not a quarrelsome man and very seldom had words with anyone.

Death of Mrs. Robinson.

Mrs. Maria A. Robinson, widow of John Robinson, of New York city, died at the home of her son-in-law, Archibald Henderson, 514 West Seventh street, last evening. She was ill for some time. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of Mr. Henderson.

Good Games Played.

Six of the best players entered played in Krewson's pool tourney last evening, the result being three of the best games yet witnessed. The results were as follows: McCann beat Dowd, 45 to 57; Smith beat Kingston, 60 to 32; Moore beat Sutterlein, 60 to 66. No games will be played this evening.

To Study Sunday-School Lesson.

The Sunday-school teachers of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet this evening at the home of Thomas A. Cuming, 1012 Putnam avenue, for the purpose of studying the lesson for tomorrow. Rev. J. W. Richardson, the pastor of the church, will be the leader.

From the Pacific Coast.

Second Convict—Oh, yes! It is plain that the art of eliminating a bank's surplus has made great strides since we were in the business.—Puck.

Save the Pennies.

He that does not save pennies will never have pounds.—Danish Proverb.

Uncle Sam's Army.

There is no army in the world where merit and bravery are more appreciated than in the army of the United States. Time and again, men have begun as privates and finished as generals, which proves that merit is what counts, after all. Some of our greatest soldiers couldn't get into West Point when they were boys, and yet they surpassed many West Pointers in actual service, and reached the highest positions in the army. Every man must stand upon his own merits, and advance himself by actions if he is to so advance at all.—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, in Success.

In Trouble.

Mrs. Turtledove—Do you know, dear, I'm afraid Harry does not love me the way he used to.

Mrs. Kissimee—You do not mean to say he is cross to you.

"No; but he says that he is hankering for a square meal; that he'll starve to death if he does not get away from a chafing dish diet before long. And he used to be so enthusiastic over the things I cooked in the channg dish when he came to see me! Men are so changeable!"—Boston Transcript.

Familiar with Law.

First Tramp—I owe that old couple in that house a grudge, an' I'm goin' ter slip in an' kill one of 'em.

Second Tramp—Why don't ye kill both?

PRAISE FOR WORK OF LOCAL AGENTS.

Annual Banquet to Plainfield Division of Prudential Insurance Co. Held Saturday Night.

AT HOTEL KENSINGTON.

OFFICERS, AGENTS AND GUESTS GATHERED TO NUMBER OF 60.

After an Excellent Repast, Short Speeches Were in Order and Great Things Were Promised for the New Year —C. E. Ball in Charge.

The annual banquet given by the Prudential Insurance Company to the Plainfield district took place Saturday evening at the Hotel Kensington and was marked by many interesting and enjoyable features. About sixty men, including superintendents, agents and a few invited guests, were present and under the capable management of Superintendent Charles E. Ball, of the Plainfield district, everyone had a thoroughly good time. "Mine Host" Staats, as usual, demonstrated his ability and a carefully selected menu, well cooked and served in excellent style, materially helped to make the affair complete in every respect.

These banquets are given by the company to the men as an incentive to greater effort and more work and the men appreciate the courtesy, as shown by the good results obtained.

Superintendent Charles E. Ball was the toastmaster for the evening, and conducted the affair successfully. After making a few remarks, complimenting the company and congratulating the men, he introduced H. Vliet, the new division superintendent from the home office. Mr. Vliet greeted the men cordially and proceeded at once to give facts and figures of interest to the agents. He stated that of the $72,000,000 worth of business brought to the company, $50,000 000 had been brought in by the industrial agents. The new business reported was $219 000,728. In the Plainfield district during 1900 there was $213,000 worth of business brought in. The agents who came in for special mention included A. H. Seals, W. Seward, I. P. Bailey, Daniel Haley, J. W. Connors, Morris Sutphen, P. K. Dilts, D. W. King, John Ross, H. G. Adams, W. Harris, H. H. VanFleet, A. D Kanouse, Charles A. Steadman, G. W. Hope, G. W. Crater, G. H. Fairchild, N. P. Crater and C. Nicholson.

At this time Mr. Ball announced that two teams, one captained by Daniel Haley and another by Lewis Bird, were striving for a cash prize of $100, the result to be announced when the contest closes. He also announced that the present week had been set aside as one for special work in Division I, which includes Plainfield. Another encouraging statement was made by Superintendent Vliet was to the effect that of the $46,000 actual industrial increase, one-sixth had been obtained by straight canvassers.

The next speaker was Superintendent R. J. Pedrick, of Harrison, who gave a rousing talk and encouraged the agents to do more work. This was followed with the announcement of the winners of the cash awards for special work during the week of December 10, 17 and 24 The winners were J. W. Connors, of Bound Brook; D. W. King, of Plainfield; Daniel Haley, of Somerville, and W. Seward, of Westfield. Each agent wrote over thirty policies.

D. W. Hope, of Somerville, was the next speaker, and he stated that he was proud of the fact that this made the third banquet he had attended in the Plainfield district with the same staff of agents. Agents A. H. Seals, of Whitehouse, and Daniel Haley, W. Harris, E. C. Eni and H. H. VanFleet, of Somerville, spoke briefly, pledging greater work.

Superintendent P. G. Warner, of Red Bank, gave an enthusiastic talk, followed by Assistant Superintendent Charles A Steadman, of this city. He told of the excellent showing for the Plainfield office and said that during the past year two agents had been made assistants. Mr. Steadman, with his staff, lead the division for 1900 and he promised to do the same this year. In conclusion, he challenged any staff in the division to secure a larger amount of business for this week, the winning staff to enjoy a banquet at the expense of the other staffs. The challenge was accepted.

Other remarks were then made by Agents G. H Fairchild, Lewis Bird, H. N. Searls, of Plainfield. Assistant Superintendent I. W. Binninger, of

Among the articles to be contested for is a handsome bunting flag, a rubber tired wagon, set of machinists tools, electric tapper, gavel, etc. The tapper and gavel are to be contested among the firemen. The flag will be contested among the various fraternal organizations of the city.

Tuesday night, February 5, will be firemen's night. It is expected that a number of out of town firemen will be in attendance on that night. The committee has received word that the firemen of Bound Brook and New Brunswick will be present in large numbers.

The firemen from the latter city will come by stages. The fair promises to be a great success.

EVERYONE HAS INFLUENCE.

INTERESTING TALK BY F. H. ANDREWS TO ENDEAVORERS.

He Told How Much Can be Done by Using Influence in the Right Direction.

A helpful and interesting service was held at Trinity Reformed church last evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. Edgar F. Sheppard, president of the society, was in charge. Horace J. Martin conducted a spirited song service in opening the service. There was a good attendance of Endeavorers and their friends. The speaker of the evening was F. H. Andrews, superintendent of Warren chapel Sunday-school, and an earnest Christian worker.

Mr. Andrews expressed much pleasure in addressing a live Endeavor Society and said that it was an incentive to him to speak to such a body of Christians. He based his remarks on the subject of "Influence" and demonstrated clearly that everyone has an influence and, if only exercised in the right direction, will accomplish great good for the cause of righteousness.

Mr. Andrews referred to certain books that have been written and how, after passing through many hands, resulted in the conversion of thousands of people. He very tenderly told how a Christian can do good by administering to the sick, the crippled and in helping people to carry their burdens which at times seem more than they can bear. He complimented the Trinity society and urged them to do all they can to carry forward the work of Christ.

At the conclusion of the service, Mr. Sheppard offered prayer and thanked Mr. Andrews on behalf of the society for the earnest and helpful words spoken. Rev. Dr. Schenck, pastor of the church, was present and assisted in opening the service and closed it with the benediction.

FIRE ALARM SOUNDED.

But It Was Only Repairs Being Made to Clock Which Starts the Borough Alarm.

The borough fire alarm sounded twice this morning a few minutes before 8 o'clock. It started a number of firemen and citizens on the run toward the engine house. The clock that strikes the alarm got out of order yesterday and the electrician in repairing it this morning caused the two strokes on the bell.

The fire alarm box No. 151 at the corner of Prospect place and Washington avenue, is out of order. The authorities have been notified and will repair it some time this afternoon.

Jubilee Singers Were There.

At the afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held yesterday one of the largest audiences of the year was present. The speaker of the occasion was D. M. Torrey, of New York and his remarks greatly impressed the majority of his hearers. An added feature of the meeting was the Southern Jubilee singers, whose musical selections were greatly enjoyed.

They Heard Mr. Putnam.

The Central branch of the Y. M. C. A. of New York city and the Y. M. C. A. of Morristown are two of the associations under whose auspices Mr. Wellington Putnam has acceptably given impersonations of "David Harum" Hear him and also Fred F. Van Eps in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course this evening.

BURGLARS DISCOVERED; ESCAPED WITH BOOTY

Broke Into Two Residences Last Night and Were Interrupted in Midst of Operations.

NOBODY SAW THEM AT WORK

ENTERED A. H. ATTERBURY'S HOUSE WHILE FAMILY WAS AT DINNER.

Mr. Atterbury Heard Footsteps and Investigated—Little There—A Better Haul at Residence of Mrs. Chas. Potter—Entered Window.

After a short period of inactivity the gang of burglars, which has recently been operating in Plainfield, settled down to work last evening and visited two residences. In both cases, the burglars were disturbed, but made their escape with more or less plunder.

The first house entered was that of A. H. Atterbury, of 315 West Seventh street. Mr. and Mrs. Atterbury were at dinner at 6 o'clock, when they heard footsteps on the second floor. Mr. Atterbury immediately started to investigate. The thief or thieves had disappeared, but the window leading from the front piazza into the parlor was wide open. The only article missing was a small gold scarf pin which was taken from one of the upper rooms.

Early this morning the burglars tried their luck at the residence of Mrs. Charles Potter, of 427 West Seventh street. Wm. C. Hubbard and family reside there with Mrs. Potter. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard were awakened by the sound of the opening of the door to their bed room. Thinking it might be one of the family or a servant, Mr. Hubbard asked who was there. There was no reply. Then he investigated in person.

Nobody could be found in the house but the parlor window, which opens out on the front piazza, was wide open. The piazza is brilliantly illuminated by an electric light which is kept burning all night. The burglars carried off a quantity of solid silver table ware, mostly property of Mr. Hubbard, and a seal skin coat belonging to Mrs. Hubbard. The stolen articles were particularly valuable on account of association and cannot be replaced. The most valuable of the solid silver ware of Mrs. Potter and Mr. Hubbard is kept in a vault at the bank and so was not taken. The plated silver ware was not taken.

Borough Officers.

Borough Marshal Fred Emmons arrested Lemuel Gallaway for fighting on Somerset street Saturday evening. His trial will take place this afternoon. John H. Pope was also arrested for being intoxicated and causing a disturbance on Somerset street. His trial will also probably come up this afternoon.

Purchased a House.

Peter Doeringer, of Duer street, has purchased the house, 12 Vine street. Frederick L. Ayres, the present occupant, will move across the street, to the house formerly occupied by John S. Case. Mr. Doeringer expects to take up his residence there in a short time.

Tea and Cake Sale.

The Benevolent Band of King's Daughters will hold a tea and cake sale on Saturday afternoon, February 2, from three until six o'clock at the "Cedar Brook," Martine Homestead. A silver offering will be received at the door.

Two Baptized.

Miss Titus and Miss Perrine were baptized at the First Babtist church yesterday morning by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes. They will receive the right hand of fellowship at the Communion service next Sunday morning.

To Lecture Here Again.

Mrs. Mountford, who gave such an interesting lecture in the First Baptist church on Christmas Eve, will again appear at the church Tuesday, February 5, under the auspices of the Temple Builders.

Return Tomorrow.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh and wife, of West Eighth street, are expected to return tomorrow from the Bahama Island, where they have been for Mr. Marsh's health.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

The contract case of Tier against Benner was tried before Justice Moffett Saturday. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount and costs.

CITY'S PLANS NOT COVERED BY PATENTS.

Street Commissioner Gavett Replies to The Claims of Mr. McClintock.

NO CAUSE FOR UNEASINESS.

SAYS THAT M'CLINTOCK'S PATENTS WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH CHANGE

Plainfield's Proposed Plans Have Been Adopted in Other Cities—Whole Matter Has Been Referred to Corporation Council.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In order to prevent the people of Plainfield from being unduly disturbed by the letter from Mr. McClintock in Saturday's Press, I wish to say that the plans proposed for Plainfield are not the same as recommended by Mr. McClintock; of course they bear a certain resemblance to parts of them, as does almost every plan now being designed throughout the world. It is reasuring, rather than disturbing, to find that Plainfield's plans are not unique, but are similar to those being generally adopted elsewhere.

The most interesting point in the whole matter and the one to which particular attention is invited, is this: that neither the system prepared for the city nor that recommended by Mr. McClintock to Ex-Mayor Rockfellow bears even the slightest resemblance to the patents on which he bases his claims; I say this advisedly, as I have read the letters and examined the patents.

The first letter from Ex-Mayor Rockfellow was written at the request of Mr. McClintock and requests plans "without cost to the city." The second letter is a courteous criticism of Mr. McClintock's recommendations, and states that the same general ideas had already been suggested by James Owen, County engineer of Essex.

The whole matter has been referred by the Common Council to Corporation Counsel Marsh and of course no action will be taken without his full approval; we need not fear that Mr. McClintock's "most eminent counsel" will find any flaws in the proceedure advised by our own attorney.

Andrew J. Gavett.

SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodland Celebrated Completion of Quarter Century of Married Life.

The twenty fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodland was celebrated at their home on Grandview avenue Saturday evening. The house was prettily decorated with palms and ferns, and the host and hostess did all in their power to make all those present feel at home. They suceeded so well that it was midnight before the guests began to depart for home.

At 10 o'clock supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Woodland were the recipients of many gifts, including gold-lined silver articles and silver trimmed glass and china pieces.

Guests were present from Newark, East Orange, Trenton and this city. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Kate Hottenroff, Harry Hottenroff, of East Orange; Mr. and Mrs. David MacIntyre, Miss Woodland, Miss Ella Whitehead, Miss Woodward, Mrs. Josie Westwood, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Evenden and Mrs. Eno, of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Elston Woodland of Trenton.

There were about fifty present in all, and each one expressed a desire of seeing Mr. and Mrs. Woodland live to see twenty-five years more of happy married life.

Juniors Playing Pool.

The pool tournament between Franklin and Somerset Councils, which began last winter, will be resumed on Conover's parlors this evening. There are twenty entries and fifty games are to be played which, with those played last year, will make one hundred games in all.

Frequent Rehearsals.

Frequent rehearsals continue to prove the efficiency of those who will present "The Private Secretary" at Music Hall February 16. A fine and finished performance is assured at that time.

Exchanged Pulpits.

Rev. John McMurray, pastor of Monroe Avenue church, preached yesterday morning in the M. E. church at Bound Brook, exchanging with the pastor of that church.

To Form Local Society.

The persons interested in the organization of a council of Home Friends, will meet Wednesday evening to perfect a local society.

MANUAL TRAINING IS STARTED IN BOROUGH.

Classes in Wood-Work Held This Morning—Others Will Follow Later in Week.

DEPARTMENT IS EQUIPPED

MANY ARE DESIRIOUS OF JOINING COOKING CLASSES.

Chemistry, Physics and Botany Will be Taught—Cooking Classes Will be Held Two Days a Week—Other Arrangements Made.

The first class in the manual training department of the borough public schools opened this morning with an attendance of twenty-eight boys. It will consist entirely of wood-work, and each pupil will be given thorough instruction in the uses of different kinds of tools and how to care for them.

There are eighteen benches in the class room, each one fitted up with an entire set of tools. As it is at present there are too many pupils for the fifth grade and the balance over eighteen will be transferred to the sixth grade, so as to keep just eighteen in a class.

Each class had a lesson of forty minutes, the fifth grade taking from 8:30 o'clock to 9:10, when the sixth grade next occupied the room for a period of equal time. This was repeated until all the grades had their turns. This department will be taught only on Mondays.

The benches and tools are of the best, and were made by the Harnonacher Schleminer Co., of New York.

Each bench has a locker and key and each pupil is supposed to care for the tools and is held responsible for them.

The labratory will be next opened, and in it the chemistry, botany and physics classes will be held.

The cooking department will be opened Wednesday and classes in that department will meet two days a week. The grammar school will have the class room from 11:30 until 1 o'clock and the High school from 2 until 3:30 o'clock.

The drawing room, which is above the woodwork room, will probably be used for the overflow from the grammar grades, which are now crowded. This will be decided upon this evening.

There is much interest shown in the manual training school. There are quite a number of graduates who desire to enter the classes in that department. It is thought that, if they are under the age limit, they will be accommodated, but if not they will have to pay a tuition fee.

There are a number of married women who wish to join the cooking classes, and they will be accommodated if arrangements can be made.

Complicated Case.

The case of Mrs. Baker against her husband, Orrin Baker, of Plainfield avenue, will be tried before Justice Nash tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. A few days ago Mrs. Baker had a peace warrant issued to restrain her husband from alleged abuse. W. S. Angleman represents Mrs. Baker, while Murphy & Blatz represent Mr. Baker. The trial promises to be very interesting owing to a complication of affairs in which it is alleged that Mr. Baker is not the husband of the woman who complains.

Sneak Thief at Work.

A sneak thief entered the store of Crosby & Hill's Saturday and stole a pocketbook and a pair of gloves belonging to one of the clerks. The clerk was absent for a few moments and when she returned she found the articles were missing. There were several other articles of value lying close by, but these were not taken. There is no clue to the thief.

Benefit Musicale.

A musicale will be given for the benefit of the Whatsoever Circle, King's Daughters, at the home of Miss Lillian A Force, 82 Duer street, Thursday evening, February 14, at 8:15 o'clock. Twenty-five cents will be received at the door. There will also be cake and candy for sale.

A Gate Social.

A "Gate Social" will be held tomorrow evening at Trinity Reformed church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, to which all the members and their friends are cordially invited.

Salvation Army Meetings.

Captain Locke, of New York, conducted the services in the Salvation Army Hall Saturday night and yesterday. The attendance was good.

HELPED THEMSELVES.

Small Boys Entered Store of Gulick & Co. Where They Were Detected by a Neighbor.

The grocery of Gulick & Co., at Duer street and Lincoln place, was entered yesterday afternoon by two small boys, who helped themselves to a few small articles before they were detected by a citizen living in the vicinity of the store.

The young thieves, who were about seven years of age, and are sons of respectable citizens of the borough, had gained entrance to the store by forcing one of the boards in the front door. Since the store was damaged by fire the front door had been boarded up. One of the boards became loose and it was easy for the boys to force it to one side and then they crawled inside where they were having things all their own way until detected.

One of the members of the firm was notified and the store was securely fastened. The young culprits did not appear to realize that they had been guilty of any serious crime. They said that they supposed the stuff in the store was of no value.

BATTLE WITH A POLICEMAN.

LARRY WALLACE ARRESTED SATURDAY NIGHT AFTER A FIGHT.

Taken to the Jail After Much Trouble and There Tried to Tear Down His Cell—Given Heavy Sentence.

Larry Wallace, the well-known Scotch Plains character, was arrested by Patrolman Lunger Saturday night and landed in a cell after a hard struggle. The man had been drinking and was in an unusually vicious mood when he was put out of the Plainfield Hotel about 11 o'clock. He promptly retaliated by smashing a large plate-glass in the door worth $15.

Patrolman Lunger was in the vicinity and prevented him from doing any further damage but Wallace resisted arrest and it is alleged did his utmost to bite his captor. With the assistance of Frank Hart, he was finally gotten to the city jail. Even after he was locked up he continued to resist and smashed the greater part of the woodwork in his cell.

When arraigned before City Judge Runyon this morning, Wallace pleaded guilty to all the charges made against him. The judge was not disposed to be lenient and imposed a fine of $50 and fifty days in the county jail.

LOOKING FOR OFFICERS.

Other Details for New Militia Will be Fixed at Tomorrow's Meeting.

The committee of ten having in charge the preliminary work regarding the formation of a militia company in this city will meet tomorrow evening in the office of City Judge Wm. N. Runyon. Several important matters will be brought up at the meeting.

Among those prominently mentioned for officers is Judge Runyon for the position of first lieutenant and there are reasonable assurances that he will accept. The committee have in mind two persons for captain. These matters will be decided at the meeting to be held tomorrow evening. Excellent progress is being made by the committee and an early installation of the company is looked for.

Husband and Wife Both Dead in a Week.

Henry R. Williams died at his home in Newark Tuesday of last week of typhoid fever, and was buried Friday. The next day his wife, Lucy, was attacked with pneumonia and heart trouble and died suddenly at 10 o'clock in the evening. Her funeral will occur Wednesday. Mrs Williams is a sister of Mrs. Sarah E. Sanders, of 427 Orchard place, this city. Four sons, two of them married, and a daughter are left to mourn the loss of a loving father and mother.

Sunday-school Workers to Meet.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Sunday-school Union will be held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be made by C. D. Meigs, of Indianapolis, associate editor of the Sunday school Evangel, and Miss Baldwin, New Jersey State Secretary of Primary work.

Father Smyth To Cuba.

Rev. Father P. E. Smyth, of St. Mary's church, left Saturday for Cuba, where he will spend some time in search of recreation and health. During his vacation he will visit all the important points on the island and also the Windward Islands. His only companion will be Rev. Father White, of Newark.

Organ Recital.

An organ recital will be given at the Crescent Avenue church next Saturday evening by Ward Stephens, the organist.

INDISCRIMINATE USE OF EDITORIAL SHEARS.

A. V. D. Honeyman Calls Attention to a Fault Noticeable in Many Daily Papers.

LACK OF JUDGMENT SHOWN.

BELIEVES ATTENTION SHOULD BE PAID CHARACTER OF CLIPPINGS.

Says Any Article Concerning Men Before the Public is Published Regardless of the Contents, No Matter How Erroneous.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I have an abiding conviction that some of the good newspapers of our State make a great mistake in reproducing under the various titles "What the Shears Find," "Clippings From Exchanges" "What Others Say," etc., articles from other newspapers concerning public men which they would not publish as original matter, but would condemn editorially if called upon to express an opinion concerning them. I happen to read, weekly, most of the newspapers published at the various county seats in this State, as well as a number of dailies, and, unfortunately, discover that many otherwise excellent journals follow this bad example. It has become a custom, which ought to be honored henceforth by its breach, rather than by its observance.

The fact is that there is now, always has been, probably always will be, a certain class of writers, who, on political topics especially, love to denounce, and, when possible, traduce, regardless of truth and regardless of consequences. Some few have access to the editorial columns of newspapers; more are correspondents for them; and it is chiefly as "Special Correspondents" from, say Trenton, or Jersey City, or even from Plainfield or Somerville, that they get or take opportunity to slander men at least equally as good as themselves, who happen for the moment to be in the public eye. Once published the diatribe would die a natural death, despised of its few readers and, because of the circumscribed circulation of the one newspaper, shorn of much power for evil. But now comes in the scissors of the editors of the weeklies and smaller dailies. They seize on it, because it concerns someone whom their news columns are otherwise mentioning. It may be, as to New Jersey for instance, Senators Sewell or Kean, or the Governor, or, to put the matter closer at home, Ex-Mayor Rankin, of Elizabeth, or Ex-Congressman Clark, or Clerk in Chancery Thompson, of Somerville, or even Plainfield's noted farmer orator, James Martine. Whoever it is, he is a man like ourselves, with faults but also with virtues, and very likely with both public and private virtues in the predominance. Why should he be held up to scorn and contempt in the local journals because some blatherskite of a correspondent, who resides perhaps fifty miles away, and who writes solely for the number of dollars there are in a column of type, has chosen to send off by mail a so-called "dispatch" to a metropolitan newspaper?

To some it may seem a trifling matter, but it is not. The younger generation now growing up and reading their local newspaper form opinions of their public servants by these published comments, and the prejudice thus engendered does not wear off in years, and perhaps not in a lifetime.

It is no reply to make that "What other newspapers say, our readers ought to see," any more than that it is proper to introduce our children to sample profanity in our households because our neighbors employ oaths in their daily lives. Nor is it a reply to say that no responsibility is incurred. There is as grave responsibility in law and in morals with the copy of a published article as with the first publication, unless with the reproduction is published an express statement disavowing it to counteract its weight.

The law of libel is perfectly clear on this point. But, even with the disavowal, how much better to omit the publication altogether? My conviction is, and a fairly long experience in newspaper control is the basis for this conviction, that all newspapers may have a sweet, clean and dignified influence, quite as much by the omissions as by the admissions to their columns.

I know a man fifty years of age who recently met for the first time one of the gentlemen whose name has been mentioned above, who had opposite

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The opening performance of the Charles Leyburne Bon Ton Stock Company will occur at Music Hall this evening, when they have selected "The Princess of Patchea," a bill that has had a long and successful run in the metropolis. This play affords Miss Emma Bunting, the young and talented soubrette, a chance to introduce herself. In fact, everybody has ample opportunity to display their versatility, the bill being constructed so as not to centre the entire performance around one character. All the necessary scenery, electrical and mechanical effects which took a prominent part in the success of the play during its long run in New York are carried by Mr. Leyburne, and a performance well worth your attendance is promised. Matinees will commence tomorrow afternoon, at which time the company will appear in "The Census Taker," a comedy well known, and tomorrow evening another of New York's successful dramas, "The Waifs of New York," will be presented, including all the necessary effects that assist in making a performance enjoyable. Ladies' tickets tonight.

Wm. A. Brady is the American producer of "The Sorrows of Satan." Its first presentation here on Monday of next week at Music Hall, will doubtless call forth a large and expectant audience as all will be attracted by one of the most out of the way and interesting subjects exploited on the stage in many a day. The cast is an excellent one and the following well known people are prominent in the same: Charles Kent, Carl Ekstrom, Henry Collins, Douglas Lloyd, Albert Hosman, Mr. Kavannagh, Miss Nellie Yale, Miss Fairchild, Miss Isabelle Bowman, Miss Sylvesta Cornish, Chas. Walters, Frank M. Kelly and Robert Moore.

The favorite singing and dancing comedian, Smith O'Brien, will be seen at Music Hall Thursday night of next week in Con T. Murphy's latest Irish drama, "The Game Keeper." Mr. O'Brien will no doubt be remembered as the original star in "The Ivy Leaf." The scenery carried for this production is most beautiful and correct, all having been made from photographs of the original in Dublin county, Ireland, where the action of the play takes place. The supporting company includes Miss Kitty Coleman, who was leading lady with Chauncey Olcott.

THE COWBOY'S RIVAL

He Leads a Free Life on the Pampas of South America.

Cattle Growers in the Argentine Republic, Paraguay and Uruguay Threaten Our Supremacy as Beef Purveyors.

There are those who fear that South America is destined to supersede the United States as the great provider of beef for the world. Each year South America increases in importance as rival to the United States as a producer of beef. There are now in the Argentine, Paraguay and Uruguay fully 30,000,000 cattle; in the United States 44,000,000. While the cattle ranges of the United States are becoming more and more restricted each year, there are in the three South American countries named vast regions suitable for cattle raising which have not as yet been utilized. In Texas now the cattle no longer roam over vast ranges, but are practically kept in pasturage, the grazing grounds being inclosed in miles upon miles of wire fences. The old-time cowboy, too, has become largely a "fence rider," patrolling the outside of the inclosures to see that the fences are not broken down and that the cattle are not lost, strayed or stolen. Many cowboys are said to have gone to South America, where they have taken up their old free life alongside of the native gauchos on the windswept pampas.

In Paraguay a large region called the Chaco has just been opened up to stock raising. It lies in the northwest corner of Paraguay, between the Paraguay river, a navigable stream, the Pilcomayo river, and the Bolivian boundary. The climate is healthful, and though it is warm there in summer, it is never as hot as it was in New York last summer.

The prairies are clothed with a variety of good grasses, and the Chaco lands are acknowledged to be the best fattening grounds in all Paraguay. Good land can be bought in Paraguay for $1,000 a league, and one league will support 1,000 cattle, and two herds of 1,000 each can be fattened on it in a year. All the expenses of raising cattle there are ridiculously small compared with the expense in the United States. A man can put steers on the range in Paraguay, all expenses paid, at a cost of $8.50 a head, and these he can sell when fattened for $12.50 a head. Experienced cattle men in the Chaco have cleared as much as $8,000 the first year on an expenditure of $10,000. They put in $1,000 for land, $8,500 for cattle, and $1,000 for labor and other expenses. Living and labor in Paraguay cost about one-eighth as much as they do in the United States. The gauchos are paid $3 a month in the Chaco. In the United States the cowboy's wages used to be $30 a month. The gaucho's food, which is supplied to him, costs about $3 a month. Cowboys are furnished with food costing $10 a month.

The cattle of northern Paraguay are similar to the Texas cattle, being of fully as good stock and much tamer and more easily managed. Though there are now in northern Paraguay only enough cattle for a small beef industry, their numbers are rapidly increasing, and in three or four years this region bids fair to be the center of a great beef industry.

As yet these South American regions have not the facilities for transportation which the cattle districts in the United States possess, but it is only a question of time when they will have them, and then, asks the Chicago Tribune, can the United States hold its own in the export of beef?

Man Killed by a Hatpin.

At Prescott, Walla Walla county, Wash., Frank Sloan in fun kissed Miss Ella Boone, whom he had blindfolded. She resented his action and, pulling a hatpin from her hat, stabbed him in the leg. The pin was broken off in the limb and blood poisoning resulted. Next day the pain became so intense that Sloan went to the hospital at Walla Walla. An X-ray machine failed to locate the remaining portion of the pin. Sloan grew worse and died. Miss Boone had remarked in Sloan's presence that she had never been kissed. This led to Sloan's death. The girl was fond of him and is now grief-stricken.

Where They Grow Big Apples.

Huge apples are raised in British Columbia. At an agricultural fair in Kamloops Dr. Isaac L. Wood, of Plymouth, Mass., saw an apple which weighed 29 ounces. He brought home with him, as samples, one which measured 15¾ inches in circumference and weighs 23 ounces, and another almost as large.

Sad Neglect of Duty.

A conductor was dismissed from a street car company in Chicago a short time ago for an unpardonable neglect of duty. A child was born in his car, and he became so nervous and excited that he forgot to collect its fare.

STRIKES IN NEW YORK.

State Board of Arbitration Reports a Large Increase.

ALBANY, Jan. 28.—A state board of officers in annual report to the legislature admits that it has agreed to many violations of the state eight hour law and in some cases has presented agreements for workingmen to sign in which there have been clauses for 9, 9½ and 10 hours' work per day. This is the peculiar feature of the report of the state board of mediation and arbitration signed by Commissioners James M. Gilbert and W. H. H. Webster and former Commissioner F. B. Delehanty. This is one of the boards that Governor Odell intends to abolish. The board has not the power to settle a strike for merely abuses. The report states that "while the number of strikes and lockouts during the year shows an increase over the preceding year and reaches the highest total for any year since the creation of the board there have been in reality fewer serious or disastrous labor troubles than usual, the year having been remarkably clear in that respect as compared with recent years.

There were 547 strikes and lockouts during the year, and of these 151 occurred in the building trades, 69 were of laborers, 24 of garment workers, 32 of textile workers, 34 of iron workers and 23 of tobacco workers. Of the total number 335 were successful or compromised and 212 were unsuccessful. The question of wages caused 363, unionism brought 104 and 80 were brought about by other causes.

WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

Appropriation Bills the Chief Business For This Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The week in the house is likely to be monopolized by appropriation bills. Seven of the 14 general appropriation bills have already passed the house—namely, the legislative, executive and judicial, pension, Military academy, Indian, naval. Three others—the postoffice, agricultural and fortifications bills—have been reported to the house, and the remaining four—the army, consular and diplomatic, sundry civil and general deficiency—are still in the committees having them in charge. T three reported to the house and the c sular and diplomatic, which is practic ly completed, probably will be disposed during the week.

A variety of subjects, including appropriation bills, the war revenue reduction bill, the ship subsidy bill and to some extent the Philippine question will claim the attention of the senate the coming week. Today Mr. Towne will speak on the problems involved in the government of the Philippines. There is somewhat more than usual interest in this speech because not only of Mr. Towne's reputation as an orator and the fact that it will be his only speech in the senate upon a political subject, but also because of increased interest in the Philippine question aroused by the president's request of the senate for early legislation on this subject.

Row Over Old Woman's Property.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Relatives of Phœbe Ann Wing, a widow 82 years old, who owns 1,000 acres of farm land in Dutchess county and has $50,000 in securities, have brought proceedings to have her declared incompetent. A sheriff's jury will hear the evidence tomorrow. One of the relatives states that one of the objects of the proceedings is to find out how much of the property under the widow's will is to go to Martha Pray, who has been her constant companion for the past 35 years. Mrs. Wing's nearest relatives are grandnephews, grandnieces and cousins.

Cathedral Dedicated.

COVINGTON, Ky., Jan. 28.—The new St. Mary's cathedral was dedicated here yesterday. There was an early service in the old St. Mary's cathedral, after which the imposing pilgrimage toward the new cathedral was begun. Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati dedicated the new cathedral at 9 a. m. Bishop Spalding of Peoria preached the dedication sermon. The musical programme included the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra and a chorus of 300 voices from Cincinnati, Covington and Newport.

New Steamer Hawaiian Sails.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The handsome new American freight steamer Hawaiian of the new American-Hawaiian Steamship company sailed on her maiden trip from this port Sunday afternoon for San Francisco and Honolulu. The Hawaiian is in command of Captain Banefield and is the second of the line's new vessels to leave this port. Monthly sailings will follow with the new steamers Oregonian, Californian, American, Alaskan and Arizonian.

Herrings Are Scarce.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 28.—The frozen herring fishery in Placentia bay will be a total failure. The prospects of loading the American fishing fleet have been destroyed by the soft weather and by a succession of rainstorms last week. Very few Gloucester vessels have been able to secure cargoes, and these only by paying large figures. At the present time herring bring $4 a barrel, four times the usual price. American shipowners will lose heavily.

Nail Mills to Resume.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Jan. 28.—The nail, wire and rod mills of this city, controlled by the American Steel and Wire company, have received orders to resume work as soon as possible, and a force of men has been put to work getting the three plants in readiness for the resumption of operations. Over 800 men are employed in the three concerns, which have been idle since the middle of last April.

Krupp Cannot Build.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—The town council of Kiel has rejected the plan of Herr Krupp to build immense floating docks adjoining the Krupp shipbuilding works at Kiel, as the Chamber of Commerce and the Nautical society had objected on the ground that the project would obstruct the harbor.

Two Boys Drowned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—William Schwadel, 11 years old, and an unidentified companion of the same age, living in East New York, while crossing the thin ice of a pond in Queens county broke through and were drowned before aid came.

Ground Bought For Hunting Club.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 28.—A tract of 800 acres has been purchased near Bushkill, Pa., as a hunting and fishing club. A lake covering 400 acres will be constructed.

FOUR MEN SHOT DOWN

Internal Revenue Officers Killed by Moonshiners.

ONE OF THE POSSE A PRISONER.

The Tragedy Occurred on Elkhorn Creek, Kentucky, During a Raid on an Illicit Still—Help Has Been Sent Out.

JACKSON, Ky., Jan. 28.—The sharpest fight in the history of Kentucky moonshining occurred Friday morning between a revenue party of five and a force of moonshiners on Elkhorn creek, on the line between Pike and Knott counties. Elkhorn creek is ten miles from Hindman and 30 miles from Jackson, the nearest railway station, and this, added to the fact that the entire posse of deputy United States marshals was captured, prevented the news from reaching revenue officials sooner. United States Marshal James received official notification of the fight from the revenue officer at Hindman and will send a strong party of revenue officers into the country to capture the outlaws.

The scene of the fight was where Russell Wireman was killed in 1889 in a conflict with moonshiners. Deputy Marshal James Hollifield, who led the posse in the fight on Friday, was present in that battle, and the "shiners" learned to fear him. It is thought that a deliberate trap was laid for him and his party. The posse consisted of Hollifield, Simon Combs, Rufus Wooten, Ambrose Amburgy and Blaine Combs. Hollifield and Simon Combs are dead, Wooten and Amburgy received flesh wounds, and Blaine Combs is held a captive.

The moonshiners had evidently been informed of the proposed raid. The still was situated at the head of a blind ravine which ended in a rocky precipice about 30 feet high. The operations were carried on in a half cave made by large bowlders falling away from under the cliff. The posse at daylight saw a thin stream of smoke well up from beneath the cliff which told them that the outlaws were at work. They approached the head of the ravine stealthily and crawled to within 30 yards of the cave.

There was a clear space to be crossed, and the posse, with rifles leveled, started toward the still on the run. They were greeted with shots from the rear and from the top of the cliff, and at the first volley four of the revenue force fell. Blaine Combs was the only one to cross the open space and get refuge under the cliff. He maintained a fire for nearly an hour, when he was forced to surrender because his ammunition was gone. At no time did the party see their assailants, who kept well under cover, and Combs could only fire at the little clouds of smoke which went up every time a moonshiner's rifle cracked.

It is not known if any of the outlaws was hit. The revenue officials at Hindman were informed of the affair through the offices of a friendly mountaineer, and the news of the battle which has spread through the county has caused great excitement. Many of the people of Knott and Pike counties are extremely ignorant, and they fear a general descent of revenue men from Lexington and other centers comparatively near. Some of the farmhouses are now deserted, the families taking refuge farther in the mountains, as a battle is expected when the outlaws meet the revenue force which will be sent at once to the place.

Hotel Fire In Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Fire broke out about half past 2 o'clock Sunday morning in a small room on the first floor of the old portion of the building occupied by Willard's hotel and which adjoins the new structure now in course of construction. The flames were confined to this room and the halls immediately adjoining, and the property loss will not exceed $5,000, but a half hundred guests, including several congressmen and their wives, were badly frightened. All, however, managed to escape in safety. Among the list were Representative Crumpacker of Indiana, wife and son; Representative Dovener of West Virginia and wife and Representative Robertson of Louisiana and wife, all of whom were brought down the fire escapes.

Duchess of Manchester Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The Duchess of Manchester lies seriously ill of diphtheria at the Palace hotel in this city. All day and evening inquiries made of the management received the reply that she was well and had started with the duke for Monterey. Late last night it was discovered through a personal friend that the duchess became very ill after a late supper. She showed signs of throat trouble, and Dr. Richter, who was hurriedly summoned, declared that she was threatened with a severe attack of diphtheria. The duke was in constant attendance on his wife throughout the night.

Hit by Train and Still Lives.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Catherine Donovan, 38 years old, of Highland, while walking on the West Shore railroad track, was struck by a north bound freight train. She was hurled into the river. Fortunately the water was shallow, and the railroad men had no difficulty in rescuing her. She was taken on the same train that struck her to the Kingston hospital, where it was said that she is only slightly bruised and will recover in a few days.

Kerr's Father Dying.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 28.—Hugh Kerr, the aged father of George J. Kerr, who is awaiting trial in the county jail in connection with the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, is at the point of death, suffering from an attack of typhoid pneumonia. The physicians say his chances of recovery are very slight. Mr. Kerr is 72 years old. It is said since his son became involved in the murder case Mr. Kerr has aged rapidly and has weakened.

Buchanan to Ride In England.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The Call says that Jockey Willie Buchanan has been signed by Broderick Cloate to ride on the English turf. It is stated that Barney Schreiber of St. Louis received over $5,000 for the release of Buchanan, who is to receive a salary of $8,000 per annum for a term of three years.

Head of Man Found In Snow.

BATH, N. Y., Jan. 28.—After searching all night the police at the Soldiers' home found the head of Louis Keifer in the snow some distance from where he was killed Saturday night by a Lackawanna passenger train.

IN MEMORY OF QUEEN

Special Services Throughout Great Britain.

PLANS FOR GREAT NAVAL PARADE.

Remains of England's Beloved Sovereign to Be Removed From Osborne Friday En Route to London.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Throughout the kingdom all places of worship held services yesterday in memory of Queen Victoria. At St. Paul's cathedral there was an unusual scene. Before 9 o'clock in the morning an enormous crowd wholly attired in black streamed from all directions to the vast edifice, and by 10 o'clock it was packed. Thousands unable to obtain admission stood vainly waiting on the steps and around listening to the low organ strains and muffled peal. The service began at half past 10. The Most Rev. Frederick Temple, primate and archbishop of Canterbury, preached a most touching sermon.

There was a similar scene at Westminster abbey, where all the services throughout the day were attended by enormous congregations. The large assemblage in the Chapel Royal at St. James' palace included Princess Frederica of Hanover, Prince Francis of Teck, a host of titled people, many members of the cabinet and other distinguished persons.

All the Roman Catholic and foreign churches in London held special memorial services. The members of the French embassy attended the French church, and very elaborate services were held at the chapel of the Russian embassy by command of Emperor Nicholas.

Everywhere particular attention was paid to the musical portion of the services. For instance, at Lincoln's Inn chapel Brahm's "Requiem" was performed.

The venerable William Macdonald Sinclair, archdeacon of London and canon of St. Paul's cathedral, preached a commemorative discourse at Canterbury cathedral.

Special sermons were preached in St. George's chapel at Windsor. Everywhere cathedrals and churches were draped and hung with mourning emblems. Telegrams from the colonies and from all the principal cities abroad where British subjects reside report memorial services. Sir Alfred Milner attended the service at the cathedral in Cape Town.

The Naval Parade.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—The programme of the naval display at Spithead has not yet been prepared, but it is now understood that the British fleet will extend in a single line, following the north side of the navigable channel from Cowes to Spithead and thence to Portsmouth, while the foreign warships will follow a corresponding line on the south side. It is believed that the body of Queen Victoria will be removed from Osborne at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon and will be conveyed on board the Alberta, escorted by eight torpedo boats and followed by all the royal yachts and probably the Hohenzollern. The body will remain on the Alberta for the night and be taken to London Saturday morning. It is understood that the queen left the most detailed instructions regarding the disposal of her body and the attendant ceremonies. She is said to have expressed a wish that Chopin's and Mendelssohn's funeral marches should be performed in preference to the "Dead March" in "Saul."

To Observe Alaskan Mirage.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 28.—Plans are being made for a party of scientists to leave here in June for the big glacier on Mount Fairweather, where the "Silent City of Alaska" is seen every year about that time. The expedition will be backed by some Californians. Tents, photographic and surveying apparatus will be taken. The mirage, which stretches for a distance of five miles across the great glacier, is said to be a representation of the town of Bristol, England, and in order to investigate this the expedition will note the time and weather when their observations are made and all characteristics of the mirage. Then as soon as one of their number can get into communication with the city of Bristol inquiries will be made by telegraph with scientists of that city of the weather conditions prevailing at Bristol when the observation was made.

Mrs. Nation Speaks.

TOPEKA, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Carrie Nation addressed a large audience at the United Brethren and First Christian churches in this city last night. She simply told the story of her work and how she had come to start on the crusade. "It is a pleasure," she said, "to speak here. Usually I am prevented from talking by the proprietors of these murderous whisky shops. This issue in Kansas is 'down with the whisky trust.' The best rocks to throw are votes. We women cannot vote, but you men with your ballots and we women with our hatchets will clean up this awful traffic."

Fire at Matawan.

MATAWAN, N. J., Jan. 28.—Fire in this town did about $100,000 damage. Ten buildings were destroyed and several others badly burned. The fire started in the harness shop of Roland Crawford in Commercial block. The entire block was soon ablaze, and the flames spread to the Matawan Opera House across the street. The only fire apparatus in town broke down, and help was sent from Keyport.

Church Collection Stolen.

WARE, Mass., Jan. 28.—The contribution box, containing $75, the whole of the day's offering, was stolen from an anteroom of the East Congregational church yesterday afternoon while the Sunday school was in session in the church, and the police can find no clew to the thief.

Dogs From Abroad.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The Atlantic Transport line steamer Minnehaha, which arrived from London yesterday, brought 14 dogs for exhibition at the forthcoming dog show to be held at Madison Square Garden.

Gale on the French Coast.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Dispatches from the northern coast show that there was a heavy gale over the channel yesterday and that several small boats were lost.

IN FEAR OF INDIANS.

Citizens of Bristow, I. T., Arriving to Protect Property.

BRISTOW, I. T., Jan. 28.—Major G. W. Lille, "Pawnee Bill," with a posse, including Captain Edmund Harry of the Creek light horsemen, United States Marshals Dean, Hogan and Churchwell and Indian Police Keyes, Howell and Saunders, visited the hostile Creeks' camping ground, six miles south of this place, at noon yesterday. The Indians were there holding a big feast and refused the posse admittance and declined to confer with them in any manner. Many of the full bloods who have been in the habit of wearing white men's apparel were dressed in full Indian regalia.

They are most bitter in their denunciation of the marshals who arrested Tom Tiger, captain of the insurgent light horsemen, who left at dark in charge of United States Marshals Dean and Hogan and posse for Muskogee, as it is feared an attempt will be made during the night to release him if held here. Saturday night 32 citizens of Bristow watched the prisoner and about as many more guarded the town. At 3 o'clock in the morning the weird chant of the Indian dance and beat of the tomtom was plainly heard by the guards on the south line of town.

A telegram has been received from Marshal Bennett authorizing the mayor and council here to arm and swear in all ablebodied citizens to protect their property until soldiers can be sent here from Henrietta.

FIGHTING THE BOERS.

British Commander Reports Numerous Engagements.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The war office has received from the commander in chief in South Africa a dispatch from Pretoria reporting numerous engagements, the following being the most important:

"Cunningham was engaged at Middlefontein and Kopperfontein Friday with Delarey's force. Babington, while moving north from Ventersdorp, threatened the enemy's flank, whereupon the Boers retired west. Cunningham's casualties were 2 officers wounded, four men killed and 37 wounded.

"In the engagement at Lichtenberg Jan. 17 some yeomanry were captured. These have since been released with the exception of a major and three men. No details are yet at hand.

"Smith-Dorrien had a successful engagement of five hours while on the march from Wonderfontein to Carolina, where the Boers had lately been concentrating. The enemy were in considerable strength and held the river, but were driven out. Our losses were 1 officer killed and 2 officers and 13 men wounded."

Lord Kitchener confirms the report that a British train with troops and military stores on board was waylaid and captured at Slijpklijp, near Fourteen Streams, last Friday, but says the Boers retired on the arrival of the armored train sent in pursuit.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The pope issued an encyclical on socialism.

Andrew Carnegie offered to give $50,000 for a free library at Lewiston, Me.

A student at Williams college was kidnaped, bound and gagged and carried several miles by masked men as a practical joke.

Secretary Long signed contracts with the Newport News Shipbuilding company for two armored cruisers to cost upward of $7,500,000.

The office of the United States internal revenue collector in Peoria, Ills., was entered by burglars, who broke open the safe and stole war revenue stamps believed to amount to $100,000 in value.

Young Crane Had a Bad Heart.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 28.—The autopsy on the body of Curtis L. Crane, who died while boxing with his closest friend, George R. Ainsworth, at Harvard university Saturday, shows that Crane died from heart disease. The autopsy was performed by Dr. Swan, the medical examiner for Middlesex county. He said one side of Crane's heart was very much enlarged, while the other side was very small, and any excitement or undue exertion was likely to cause death. The excitement and the exertion necessary to boxing was stated to be the cause of death. As soon as the autopsy had been performed the body was taken to his parents' home in Brookline. The police on hearing the report of the medical examiner decided to take no further action.

Coal Trade Brisk.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28. — The Ledger in its coal article today will say: "The anthracite coal trade is substantially unchanged. It is going through the best winter season it has ever known, the excellent market demand taking all the coal that is mined and sent forward with the facilities available, full working at the mines to the extent that labor can be obtained and well maintained prices. The weather has been singularly favorable to the trade, and the outlook is excellent, while all branches of the anthracite industry are in cheerful and active employment."

Fleeing Prisoners Shot.

ACAPULCO, Mexico, Jan. 28.—Ten more of the prisoners who escaped from the jail at San Diego have been captured on the mountain north of here and brought back. About 50 of the prisoners made an attack on the armed military guard, overcoming them. One of the sentries stationed in another part of the prison witnessed the escape and shot and killed 12 of the fleeing prisoners. The others were closely pursued by a force of troops, and four more prisoners were overtaken near town and also shot and killed.

Too Much Chloroform.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Dr. H. D. Reardon, a prominent physician, was found dead in bed yesterday afternoon. Death was due to an overdose of chloroform which the physician was in the habit of inhaling.

Senator Parsons' Condition.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 28.—Senator Parsons' condition is somewhat more critical if possible than on Saturday. His physicians say the senator may possibly live a day or two or die at any moment.

Chile and Bolivia May Agree.

LIMA, Peru, Jan. 28.—It is reliably asserted that Chile has made new and peaceful proposals to Bolivia on a very favorable basis and that Bolivia is disposed to accept them.

VERDI'S DEATH.

Long Struggle For Life—General Mourning For the Great Composer.

MILAN, Jan. 28.—Giuseppe Verdi, the composer, died at 2:50 o'clock Sunday morning.

The doctors were astounded at the extraordinary vitality displayed by Verdi. Several times a suspension of breathing gave the impression that he had expired, and a report was cabled abroad to that effect several hours before the end actually came.

Although preceded by a struggle for life that lasted two days, Verdi's death when it came was peaceful. He did not regain consciousness. When he passed away, he was surrounded by relatives and intimate friends.

The announcement of his death created great emotion. Theaters, pleasure resorts and many stores were closed, and nearly all the prominent residences were draped.

The city authorities publish a eulogistic proclamation, which is posted throughout Milan.

King Victor Emmanuel sent to the family a telegram of condolence on behalf of himself and Queen Helena.

In his will Verdi asks that the funeral may be "very modest." He suggests that it take place either at daybreak or eventide and that the ceremony be without music. "The chanting of two priests, two candles and a cross will suffice," he wrote.

Many legacies were left to friends. The date of the funeral has not been fixed, but it will probably be Wednesday or Thursday, and the interment will be in the chapel of the Retreat For Indigent Musicians which Verdi established.

FAMINE IN CHINA.

Great Distress In the Province of Shansi.

PEKING, Jan. 28.—There has been great distress in the province of Shansi owing to the famine, and thousands have died. The court has ordered rice relief to be issued in large quantities. A report reached the foreign envoys that native Christians suffering from the famine were to be discriminated against and to be punished if they even begged for food.

Mr. Conger, Sir Ernest Satow and M. Pichon, the United States, British and French ministers, protested to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang against such discrimination, and the court issued an edict, dated Saturday, ordering all relief officials and Chinese soldiers to treat Christians exactly the same as others throughout the empire under penalty of decapitation.

The foreign envoys consider this a most important decree if it is carried out.

Minister Wu In Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—Wu Ting Fang, China's minister plenipotentiary to the United States, replied to his critics yesterday in the course of a lecture on "Confucius and Mencius," delivered before the Society of Ethical Culture at Horticultural hall. Every available inch of both seating and standing room was occupied by an audience attracted by the protest and criticism raised by Minister Wu's recent utterances in New York city on the subject of Christianity, who listened with much interest to the speaker. The Chinese minister's statements were, however, extremely conservative.

General Dickinson Dead.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 28.—General Leonard A. Dickinson is dead at his home in this city after an illness of seven weeks with paralysis. He was formerly postmaster of the city, prominent in fire insurance business, having been local agent for the Ætna Insurance company for many years, was a member of the military staff of Governor Marshall Jewell and at his death was treasurer of the Soldiers' home at Noroton and greatly interested in its welfare. He served in the Twelfth regiment, Connecticut volunteers. He was born in New Haven in 1826.

Believes Smallpox Noncontagious.

APPLETON, Wis., Jan. 28.—Dr. Rodermund, the physician who to support his theory that the disease is noncontagious deliberately exposed himself to the smallpox contagion in this city, broke quarantine Saturday evening about 7 o'clock, eluded four officers and, aided by H. W. Rathbun, principal of the Appleton School of Business, drove 40 miles to Waupaca and boarded a train to Chicago. Rathbun returned here last night, was arrested and put in the pesthouse.

Killed by a Train.

ASHLAND, Mass., Jan. 28.—The paper train on the Boston and Albany railroad yesterday morning struck a baker's wagon at the Main street crossing and instantly killed the driver, Walter C. Cards, 19 years old, a well known young man of Ashland. The unfortunate young man was hurled a distance of 80 feet. The wagon was completely demolished and the horse also killed.

Disabled Steamer Abandoned.

ST. VINCENT, Cape Verde, Jan. 28.—An Italian steamer called here and reports having been compelled after fruitless efforts at towing to leave the British steamer Cavour on Jan. 24 in latitude 04 degrees north, longitude 29 degrees west, with her engines disabled and irreparable at sea.

Racing Stables Burned.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The house and stables of Ernest Steuding, an owner of racing horses, were destroyed by an early morning fire. Mr. Steuding and his family escaped in their nightclothes. Three horses were burned to death.

VAST EXPORT TRADE

Marvelous Growth During the Last Century.

FARMS FURNISH SIXTY-TWO PER CENT

With One Exception, 1900 Witnessed the Largest Annual Exportation of Farm Produce on Record.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Mr. Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets of the agricultural department has just issued his annual review of the trade of the United States in agricultural products. His report says:

"The fiscal year 1900 brought to a close a century of marvelous development in the history of United States commerce. In 1800, a century ago, the total value of the merchandise imported and exported in our trade with foreign countries was considerably less than a quarter of a billion dollars. The value of the goods exchanged during the past fiscal year reached nearly two and a quarter billions, far exceeding all previous records. Since the opening of the century our commerce with the rest of the world has increased more than twelvefold.

"It was chiefly in the export trade that the enormous growth of the century occurred. Our domestic exports during 1900, with a recorded value of $1,370,763,571, were over 40 times as large as in 1800. The total imports for 1900, on the other hand, amounting in value to $849,941,184, were less than 10 times as large as in 1800.

"Compared with the value of our imports for 1900 that of our domestic exports showed an excess of $520,822,387. Of the merchandise imported from foreign countries during the fiscal year 1900 about 49 per cent consisted of agricultural products. These products had an aggregate value of $420,136,381, exceeding by almost $65,000,000 the record of the year before. Hides, silk and wool were the leading factors in the growth, although vegetable fibers, sugar and tobacco also showed important gains. The six items mentioned contributed nearly $60,000,000 to the increase in value.

"Products of United States agriculture were marketed abroad in the fiscal year 1900 to the value of $844,616,530, forming about 62 per cent of the total domestic exports. With the single exception of 1898 the past year witnessed the largest annual export trade in farm produce on record. The value attained came within $15,000,000 of the phenomenal figures for 1898 and surpassed those for 1899 by more than $50,000,000.

"A comparison of the value of our agricultural exports for 1900 with that of our agricultural imports shows that the former exceeded the latter by $424,480,149. The export value was slightly more than double the amount of the import value.

"Among the agricultural imports of the United States for the fiscal year 1900 the leading items, named in the order of value, were sugar, hides and skins, coffee, silk, vegetable fibers, wool, fruits and nuts, tobacco, tea, wines, vegetable oils and cocoa. These 12 items comprised in value nearly 90 per cent of our entire import trade in the products of foreign agriculture during the year.

"Our principal agricultural exports in 1900, as in previous years, were breadstuffs, cotton and meat products, these, with live animals, tobacco, oil cake, vegetable oils, fruits and nuts, dairy products and seeds, comprising over 95 per cent of our total exports of farm produce during 1900."

The Peoria Robbery.

PEORIA, Ills., Jan. 28.—The exact loss sustained by the revenue office from the visit of the robbers Friday night last has been determined to be $31,976. This plunder taken consisted of revenue stamps of various denominations carried off by the robbers in the original package. The weight of the plunder was nearly 300 pounds. No clew has as yet been discovered that throws the slightest light on the matter. J. W. McGinnis, revenue agent of this district, is here, as well as several of the secret service men from Washington and Chicago who are at work on the case, but apparently with little hope of success.

Emperor William's Birthday.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—Emperor William has received from the hand of the Duke of Connaught his sword on his appointment as a field marshal of the British army. In the presence of the households of King Edward and the dead queen as well as a number of British and German naval officers his majesty has expressed great delight at the appointment. He will entertain King Edward and the members of the royal family at tea on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. Yesterday he celebrated his birthday at Osborne and received congratulations from the members of the German embassy in London.

Founders' Day at Hampton.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 28.—Founders' day was celebrated at the Hampton Normal and Agricultural institute yesterday. The address of the occasion was delivered by the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst of New York, who paid a high tribute to the character of the late General S. C. Armstrong, founder of the institution. Bishop MacVicker of Rhode Island and Robert Ogden of New York, members of the board of directors, were present.

Socialist Scheme Checked.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Recently Le Petit Sou, a Socialist journal, announced that it was prepared to sell guns to its subscribers at a very moderate figure, being persuaded that an armed nation was indispensable to the welfare of the republic and the country. The government watched the proceedings for a week and, deciding that a depot of arms was not safe in the hands of those who are only too willing to attempt a coup d'etat, seized the entire lot.

Gales Sweep British Coasts.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Heavy gales are sweeping the British coasts, and many shipping casualties are reported. The mail steamers between Dieppe and Newhaven have ceased running. Great damage has been done in south Wales and also in Ireland, where the storm is especially fierce and accompanied by hail and sleet. A large school in the course of erection at Londonderry was blown down yesterday.

Fatal Fall From Load of Hay.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 28.—Ellery Horth of Lanesburg was fatally injured by falling from a load of hay Saturday.

Proper Police Protection.

There seems no doubt but that a gang of professional burglars have selected Plainfield for their present field of operations. Last night the residences of two other well known Plainfielders were broken into and the burglars secured more or less plunder.

A special effort should be made by the police department to capture these marauders if possible or else frighten them away from the city. Plainfield has been particularly free from such crimes in the past and it is but seldom that criminals of that nature ply their trade within the city limits.

The fact that in one instance last evening, the burglars gained entrance to a house through a parlor window which opened directly out on the piazza which was brightly lighted by an electric light, shows the need of more frequent visits by the police. It is not the fault of the policemen, however, but is simply due to the lack of men to cover the city properly.

It is understood that the Mayor intends to appoint several new police men next month to bring the force up to its old standard of efficiency. Such action is certainly called for and will be commended by every thinking citizen and taxpayer who is anxious to see proper police protection given to all parts of this city. Even when the police force is at its best, it is difficult to cover the city thoroughly, but with the force lacking several men of its regular quota, it becomes impossible.

Hardly a year passes but a bill is introduced into the State Legislature with the object of abolishing the present boards of freeholders and placing the control of the county affairs in the hands of some other governing body. This year, Senator Strong, of Middlesex county, has prepared a bill of that nature. His idea is to do away with the boards of freeholders in all second class counties and substitute therefore boards of trustees, consisting of five men each, to be elected at the county at large. This bill, if it should become a law, would effect the counties of Mercer, Middlesex, Passaic, Monmouth, Camden, Burlington, Union and Bergen. This bill is likely to meet with much opposition from the present members of the boards of freeholders in those counties named.

The consolidation of Perseverance Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of this city, and Goodwill Lodge, of the same order, of Scotch Plains, has resulted in strengthening and putting on a firmer basis one of Plainfield's best known fraternal organizations. There were a few enthusiastic knights in Scotch Plains but the effort to keep a separate lodge alive there was a difficult one and the present step seems to meet with the approbation of all concerned.

It is the opinion of George P. Rowell, says the Philadelphia Record, that the reason some advertising does not prove effective is "because it is placed in newspapers (and at rates) that give no more than one-eighth of the value that might be had by placing the same advertising in other newspapers. If you have the right advertisement and will put it in the right newspapers your advertising will pay."

No expenditure of the public funds would meet with more general commendation than an appropriation by the Common Council to provide for proper street signs. Everybody recognizes the need of them and wonders why the Council does not act.

Now that the Great Sachem hails from this city, Plainfield is becoming an important place among the Red Men of the state. Three flourishing tribes of that order make their home here.

The Union County Standard, of Westfield, has decided to return to the old plan of a weekly issue after an extensive trial of the scheme of appearing twice a week.

A new railway station and the abolishment of grade crossings are great improvements which Bound Brook is likely to secure in the near future.

For some reason or other Scotch Plains manages to secure more notoriety of various kinds than any other place of its size in the State.

If any more highwaymen stray into Fanwood borough and township, the borough will have to replace its one-man police force.

Newark is becoming fashionable and has started a vice crusade.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The appointment by Governor Voorhees of ex-Mayor John O. Rankin, of Elizabeth, as a member of the State Board of Assessors is an excellent appointment. Mr. Rankin made one of the best mayors Elizabeth ever had, he is a progressive and aggressive Republican, and his appointment is a recognition of his services to the party, and his qualifications, and a personal tribute to an old and valued friend. It has nothing to do with the factional contest in Union county whatever, and Governor Voorhees would be the first to repudiate any such intimation for it has no bearing upon the factional politics of the party in that county.—Orange Journal.

* * * * *

Chief Justice Depue sets at rest all the rumors that have been current to the effect that his retirement was forced, or was the result of political intrigue. Nobody for a moment believed that the Chief Justice would be a party to political deals of any kind, much less one that involved the honor and dignity of the Supreme Bench. All the stories about using the vacant Justiceship in order to remove Mahlon Pitney from Franklin Murphy's path to the Governorship, evidently arose after it had become bruited in official circles that the Chief Justice had fully determined to resign at the expiration of his thirty-five years of service. But, under any circumstances, it is a shameful and disgraceful thing that a Supreme Court Justiceship should be made the bait of a political trap. In justice to Senator Pitney it should be said that there is no evidence that he is a consenting party to the reported plan, but, on the other hand, there is every reason to believe that he will refuse to become its beneficiary.—Newark News.

NEWS FROM CEYLON.

Maze Edwards Receives Gift From His Son on The "Wilmington."

Maze Edwards, of West Front street, has just received a letter from his son, Robert M. Edwards, who is on board the U. S. S. "Wilmington." The letter was sent from Ceylon, New Year's Day, and was accompanied by several gifts. There was an American coat of arms, embroidered in silk by the natives of that country. There was also a belt made entirely out of silver and several very valuable "cat's eyes." Two Ceylon newspapers accompanied the gifts. The "Wilmington" reached Manila last week.

To Elect Officers.

The regular meeting and annual election of officers of the Young Women's Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed church, will be held Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The members are urged to bring scissors and thimble and pieces of cotton goods for patch work.

Installed Big Press.

Walter L. Scott & Company have installed a twenty-four page webb color press at the office of the Des Moines Daily Capital, Iowa. W. L. Newmiller is overseeing the work. The capital claims it is the largest press between Chicago and San Francisco.

Goods Appraised.

The work of appraising the goods belonging to the late George W. Moore has been completed by Joseph Patterson and M. C. Dobbins, the appraisers. The executors will soon arrange to dispose of the goods.

—There will be an important meeting of the Sons of Veterans tomorrow evening, and every member is urged to attend.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan 28—Funeral services over the remains of Ernest Marienschenck were held from St. John's church yesterday morning. They were conducted by Rev. Father Bogard in the presence of a large number of former friends and schoolmates. His remarks were very impressive and referred to the upright character of the young life so suddenly taken away. Among the numerous floral tributes was a handsome pillow from the pupils of the Whittier school at which Earnest was an attendant. Those who acted as pall bearers were Frank and George Rhinehart, Thomas and John Loughlin, Joseph Eganey and George Kuldoshes. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

The next lecture in the educational series arranged some time ago by the Board of Education will take place in the Methodist church tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock. The lecturer will be Prof. James A. Green, of the Trenton Normal school, and his remarks will be in reference to school work. It will be of advantage to every citizen interested in school work to attend.

The regular weekly rehearsal of the Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club will be held this evening at the residence of Miss May O. Fulper. The members of the club are working hard at present, preparing for a number of engagements they have secured.

A. F. Sampson has gone into the poultry business on an increased scale and in order to have early spring broilers has set an incubator with 100 eggs. His attempt in this line last year was very successful, but this time he hopes for still greater success.

During the season just ended, Garretson & Gray have quarried and delivered 20,000 tons of crushed stone, some of which has been shipped by rail to all parts of the State.

Mrs. F. T. Dickason has gone to Flemington, where she will remain for some time owing to the illness of her mother.

Mrs. Zollenback, of Elizabeth, has returned home after a visit with relatives in the borough.

Mrs. Charles Dodwell has returned from Perth Amboy after a brief visit with relatives.

Mrs. O. B. Evans is recovering slowly after a two weeks' illness with bronchitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hack are visiting Jersey City relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 28.—A gang of nine men began work cutting ice Saturday afternoon and worked until midnight. The ice was of a fair quality and thickness. It will require about 75,000 cakes to fill both houses.

Percy Vail, of Orange, a son of the late Dr. D. P. Vail, will take up his residence in New Market in the spring in the house now occupied by Miller John Otto.

A full attendance is requested at this evening's meeting of Friendship Council as business of importance is to be transacted.

Miss Laurita Meeker is one of the latest grip victims. Dr. Whitford is in attendance.

Miss Stella Sofield was the guest of Miss Annie Doeringer, of Plainfield, yesterday.

Rev. Frank Fletcher has been enjoying the grip for the past few days.

Earl Fulton, of Newark, is spending a few days with his grandmother.

The G. E. Club will be entertained this week by Miss Alice Pierce.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 28—Rev. Mr. Amery, of Drew Seminary, Madison, occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church yesterday morning and evening. Mr. Amery is a returned missionary from Singapore, China, and his sermons were enjoyed by those who heard him.

Mrs. J. S. Braker, and son, Buren, who have been the guests of the Misses Hayes, of Fanwood, for several weeks, have returned to their home in Waltham, Mass.

Frank Palmer led the weekly meeting of the Baptist Young People's Society held in the church last evening. Subject, "I Am Debtor—I Am Ready."

Frank Palmer, a worker in the North Baptist church, of New York, was the guest Sunday of his former pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Shott.

A number of the members of Fanwood Council, R. A., will pay a fraternal visit this evening to Plainfield Council, of Plainfield.

Miss Anna Earl, of Elizabeth, a former popular teacher in the public school, was the guest Sunday of Miss Susie Parse.

Mrs. John Flannery, who has been quite ill at her home on Westfield avenue for a week, is recovering very nicely.

The Misses Gaskill, of Dunellen, were the guests yesterday of Miss Emma Clark.

this city, spoke highly of his staff, and of the first-class condition of his debits. J. P. Connors, of Bound Brook, and Superintendent G. Handley, of Elizabeth, together with W. Seward, of Westfield; M. C. Sutphen, C. A. Sutphen, C. Nicholson, Abraham V. Lunger, of Plainfield, all responded, and pledged more business.

Superintendent J. E. Woodland, of Trenton, formerly of the Plainfield office, made an enthusiastic address. Other remarks were made by Assistant Superintendent Austin Bittenbender, of Clinton; G. W. Crater, of Junction; M. D. Crater, German Valley; W. L. Schiable, of Frenchtown; Assistant Superintendent C. W. Wood, John Ross, D. W. King, P. K. Dilts, H. G. Adams, D. W. Mead, of Plainfield, and Herbert D. Woodland, of Flemington.

This concluded the speech making and Charles Wilson, clerk at the home office, asked each agent the amount of business he would pledge for this week. The result was that 333 policies were promised. Lewis Bird is pitted against D. W. King for a box of cigars for the largest amount of business.

In addition to those mentioned, the others present at the banquet included Mayor O. L. Jenkins, Postmaster E. H. Bird, E. E. Runyon. There were also present L. V. Ash, chief clerk at the home office, and the following medical examiners: Dr. Albert Pittis, of this city; Dr. A. L Stilwell, of Somerville; Dr. F. L. Field, of East Millstone, and Dr. M. J. Whitford, of New Market.

As the banquet closed Superintendent Ball suggested three cheers for the division superintendent, and Dr. Field led three hearty cheers for Mr. Ball and Clerk Wilson.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. William C. LaRue, of East Second street, is confined to her home with a severe attack of the grip.

Wm. Waters, of East Third street, has recovered from a recent illness that kept him at home for several days.

political faith, and whom he supposed possessed not only a character, but physical features "fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." To his utter astonishment the official proved to be a gentleman, of honest countenance, of clear, bright, frank eye, and "full o' the milk 'o human kindness." In other words his new acquaintance had been painted a demon, and was a lovable human being.

Some time ago various newspapers which I have in mind reprinted almost daily comments on Chancery Clerk Thompson and on Senator Reed, some days on one and some days on the other, but chiefly on the former, because violent attacks by the penny-a-liners had put Mr. Thompson on the defensive. With scarce an exception these articles, as first published and as copied, were unfair, unmanly and baseless. Everybody knew that so far as Senator Reed was concerned he was not going to rob any private henroost, nor was it expected that he would go back on all the aspirations of a successful politician and waste his time in lowering the dignity of his high office. And furthermore, everybody who knew Mr. Thompson, the former Senator, also knew that he was a conscientious, high minded, capable official, whose friends are deservedly numerous, and who, in his private and public life, is as far removed above the low plane of living and thinking of some of his newspaper enemies as a stormy night is removed from a cloudless day.

I am moved to write these lines by reading in Friday's and Saturday's Press some copied items in which appear such sentences as these: "Mr. Davis's act in digging up and forcing upon the (Democratic) party this tatooed political troglodyte, seals his fate," etc.; and also this: "In olden times traitors were killed and their heads left to rot on spikes on city gates; now their heads are left on and their whole corpse is put into post offices, in honorary positions," etc. Another refers to Mr. Clark as "that wooden plug." These are extracts from two articles relating to the selection of ex Congressman Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville, as the nominee of the Democratic party in the Legislature for United States Senator.

Now, without proposing to argue the case in behalf of Mr. Clark, or of any other man who is up for public office, and while, with others, smiling at the allusions which are so farfetched, though intended to be humorous, I would like as a plain reader of The Press and other local journals to condemn unqualifiedly this custom of giving comments of this character currency, and, to a certain extent, stamping them with the mint's stamp of decency.

Of course the insinuations are not true and the tone of them is irredeemably bad. That is the vice of them. It may be that General Sewell, a victorious opponent, is a great political saint and Mr. Clark, defeated, a great political sinner. But Mr. Clark is here named as a "tatooed political troglodyte" and a "traitor" for no other reason, everybody understands, than that he, ranging himself with President Cleveland, Henry C. Kelsey, Henry S. Little, and even with various editors of Democratic newspapers of New Jersey, was not willing during the last Presidential campaign to give his allegiance to the new doctrines of Hon. William Jennings Bryan. And, irrespective of that, everybody also knows that Mr. Clark is really a gentleman, a lawyer of high repute, a selfmade man, a man whose Congressional career proved excellent, and who would make as good, and I think a far more creditable United States Senator than even the Hon James Smith did, when he was the idol of the New Jersey Democracy.

It is a fair question to ask: Should not those newspapers which go into the homes of the people, and are teachers of this generation, of greater force than the public schools, and with some persons even of greater influence than the churches, begin now with the New Century to pay more attention to the graces and the courtesies of everyday life, and less to the slanderous methods of sensation mongers, and venders of untruths and mere tattle? If not, what is the Twentieth Century likely to produce in the way of exalted journalism, of which our grandchildren may be proud?

NEW FLYING MACHINE.

Philadelphia Inventor Has Designed One That in His Opinion Is Perfect in Every Detail.

There is in Philadelphia an inventor of a flying machine who claims that the one he has about completed will far excel that made by Count von Zeppelin in Germany—that it will soar through space like a bird, and that it is almost perfect in every detail. The trial trip, it is said, will be made in a short time.

This new candidate for fame is Mr. Charles E. Hite. A successful test of a model of this machine has already been made.

The motive power of the airship is at the sides, by powerful disk fans, inclosed in the forward ends of aluminum cylinders, which are fitted with automatically acting rudders at their rear vents.

HITE'S FLYING MACHINE.
(It Is Said to Be Almost Perfect in Every Detail.)

The car and frame work are built of the best high-pressure steel tubing, capable of receiving stores of compressed hydrogen and carbonic anhydride. An apparatus for heating and refrigerating the hydrogen, which is kept circulating by means of a suction-blower or fan in a chamber connected with the heating coil, is situated on the car.

The gores of the balloon are 100 feet in length, making the egg-shaped gas bag 80 feet by 32 feet in diameter When completely distended the balloon will be capable of holding 42,411 cubic feet of gas, but only 31,639 cubic feet of gas will be carried therein, or just enough to lift the balloon clear of the earth's surface. The balance of the space in the gas bag will be taken up by an internal balloon on the principle of a fish's air bladder. This is one of the features of the new invention, and is, in fact, of great importance.

Two liquefied carbonic acid gas engines, weighing but little over 100 pounds and occupying an exceedingly small space, furnish a maximum of 60-horse power at a merely nominal expense. The peculiarity of these engines is the remarkable light weight in metal.

Mr. Hite claims that his airship will be under perfect control and can be taken to any altitude desirable. The air currents, he says, will be of great assistance in running the machine. There are a great many breezes and currents in the air, and Mr. Hite has endeavored to acquaint himself with each one.

This airship is unlike the ordinary balloon in shape, being cylinder form, with conical ends, constituting an oblate spheroid.

AUTHOR AND PATRIOT.

Bjornstjerne Bjornson, Who Demands a Separate Consular Service for His Country.

Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the famous Norwegian novelist, who has just made an urgent plea for the separation of Norway and Sweden in their commercial consular service, is not only a brilliant author, but a red-hot patriot. The motive of most of his literary productions has been a search for a vehicle to give expression to the Norwegian spirit. He has an intense dislike for the new cult of French imitation, and has been a powerful force in the movement to create a revival of Scandinavian art and letters. Bjornson has written a few notable tragedies for the stage, almost all of them using Scandinavian subjects for material. In the early '80s, when he had already passed 60, he settled at Lillehammer and began to propagate once more the republican opinions which had formerly caused his imprisonment for treason. He has recently devoted himself to the public discussion of political and educational reform.

Prosperous Negro Town.

The town of Eatonville, Fla., has 1,200 inhabitants, with not a single white among them. It has its full quota of public officials, a bank and other business establishments requisite in a town of its size.

THOMAS M. PATTERSON.

Senator-Elect from Colorado Is Noted for Pugnacity, Determination and Aggressiveness.

Thomas M. Patterson will be the next senator from Colorado to succeed Edward O. Wolcott, who was known as the most bitter enemy of the senator-elect. This action will give Colorado one of the most aggressive representatives of any state in the upper house, as his fighting qualities are only surpassed by his staying powers.

Patterson has been one of the most potential and important factors in local affairs, ranging from an avowed independent to the leadership of the populists, and back again in the camp of the democrats, where he received the highest honors in the power of the party to award. He is known for his pugnacity and determination.

Thomas McDonald Patterson was born in Ireland in 1840, and from 1853 to 1872 spent his life in Crawfordsville, Ind., picking up a course in the De Pauw university that enabled him to form a law partnership with E. A Cowen. Going to Colorado in 1872, he united his fortunes with Charles S. Thomas, and together they have controlled all the most important litigation of the entire mining world. Mr. Patterson was rewarded as leader of the democracy in 1873 by being sent to congress, and in 1874 he secured the passage of the bill admitting Colorado to statehood. Retiring from congress he resumed the practice of law. He is also publisher of the Denver News.

HANDSOME MEMORIAL.

William Black, Scotch Novelist, to Have a Monument in the Shape of a Lighthouse.

William Black, whose work as a novelist has shed luster upon Scotland, will have a unique monument in stone to carry his name and fame down to future generations of Scots. Loyal admirers of the prolific writer are rearing a handsome lighthouse on the west coast of the land o' cakes as a memorial to their idol. On Duart point, which juts out into the sound of Mull, a graceful tower is rising above the rocky ledge, and when completed it will be crowned with a powerful lantern to serve seamen as a beacon. In conjunction with the Lismore light this memorial lamp will serve to indicate the route to vessels going to and from Oban, as well as vessels coming up or going down the Firth of Lorne. This seaway is one of the most important on the west coast, and these two lights will lessen its dangers. The illumination will be by means of compressed gas contained in a tank under the lantern. The light will continue to burn day and night, and will require little or no attention. The cost of the tower is estimated at about $7,500. Lord Archibald Campbell is acting as treasurer of the fund.

Hunts Skunks in Arkansas.

The Dodge City Globe-Republican gives an illustrated article in account of one Maj. Ben Ferguson, of that city, who makes his living by catching skunks. He hunts his prey in the sandy soil along the Arkansas river, and his mode is a very simple one. He tracks the skunks to their hole and then digs them out with a spade, when his two dogs complete the capture. One of these dogs is an Irish setter and the other a fyce, and the little fyce will capture and kill a skunk quicker than the larger dog. Ferguson captures about 50 skunks a week. He dresses the skins and tries the fat into oil, for which he receives four dollars a gallon. The hides average a value of 90 cents apiece. In one year Maj. Ferguson took $600 worth of oil and hides, and he expects to exceed that during the present winter. On taking a skunk the body is thrown into water for 24 hours, when, by the addition of a little coal oil, the smell practically is destroyed.

Wien. Erzherzog Eugen hat für das Offizierskorps und die Unteroffiziere des seinen Namen führenden 41. Infanterie-Regiments eine Stiftung von 40,000 Kronen aus Anlaß des 200jährigen Regimentsjubiläums gestiftet.—Die Direktion der Wiener Hofoper hat beschlossen, falls bei einer Vorstellung im Publikum gezischt werden sollte, sofort den eisernen Vorhang fallen zu lassen. Dieser Beschluß wurde veranlaßt durch Demonstrationen, welche bei einer Aufführung der „Meistersinger" vorkamen und sich hauptsächlich gegen die Opernsängerin Frau Gutheil-Schoder richteten.—Ein Einbrecher Namens Wanyet, der in einem Hause in der Wielandstraße einen Einbruch verübt hatte, erschoß eine Frau, die ihm entgegentrat, als er das Haus verließ. Von einer Volksmenge verfolgt, erschoß er noch fünf andere Personen, worauf er verhaftet wurde.

Arad. Als der Großgrundbesitzer Alexander Taganyi, der Gemahl der Fürstin Sulkowski, Abends in Begleitung eines Gutsverwalters einen Speicher betrat, wurden Beide von Dieben, die in den Speicher mit Hilfe von Nachschlüsseln eingedrungen waren, überfallen und durch Axthiebe schwer verletzt. Die Attentäter entkamen.

Bozen. Kürzlich fand bei Pilcante die feierliche Einweihung der neuen Etschbrücke statt. Durch die Erbauung dieser schönen Brücke ist ein langjähriger Wunsch der Bevölkerung beider Etschufer in Erfüllung gegangen.

Brünn. Unlängst explodirte in Stummers Zuckerfabrik in Oslavan ein Dampfkessel. Drei Arbeiter wurden getödtet, drei lebensgefährlich und einige leicht verwundet. Der materielle Schade betrug 40,000 Kronen.

Budapest. Der frühere ungarische Handelsminister Lukacs hat sich in der Donau ertränkt. Er litt seit längerer Zeit an Nervenüberreizung.

Czernowitz. In der Marktgemeinde Wiznitz brannten 280 Häuser ab; 2500 Personen wurden obdachlos.

Franzensbad. Bei Bohrung nach Kohlen hat man im angrenzenden Gemeindebezirk Neudorf in einer Tiefe von 40 Meter eine Gasquelle erbohrt, welche in einer Sekunde 200 Liter Kohlensäure unter einem Ueberdruck von drei Atmosphären liefert. Die Gemeinde Neudorf will nun weitere Bohrlöcher einschlagen lassen und dann die Gasmassen zu industriellen Zwecken verwenden lassen.

Lemberg. Dem 24jährigen Sohne des Industriellen Barons Eustachius Brunicki, der bei den hiesigen Ulanen sein Einjährig-Freiwilligen-Jahr abdiente, machten Kameraden den Vorwurf, er sei vor Jahren als Gymnasialschüler von einem Hotelportier thätlich insultirt worden. Dieser Vorwurf verstimmte den jungen Mann derart, daß er sich schließlich durch einen Revolverschuß tödtete.

Mittingau. Auf einem Teiche stürzten beim Schlittschuhlaufen auf der noch nicht festen Eisdecke der 13jährige Gymnasiast Karl Jindra und der elfjährige Volksschüler Franz Schimon, Sohn einer Wittwe, ein. Trotz ihres verzweifelten Ringens versanken die beiden Knaben vor den Augen ihrer entsetzten Kameraden, die ihnen keine Hilfe bringen konnten. Es konnten nur die Leichen der Unglücklichen geborgen werden.

Dogs for the Negus of Abyssinia.

Queen Victoria recently sent two fox terriers as a present to King Menelek, and the British government, together with these, had four grayhounds shipped as a gift to the dusky sovereign of Abyssinia. The greyhounds are the only dogs used in North Africa for the chase, and they are, for this reason, so highly esteemed that a first-class specimen brings as large a price as a good camel.—London Mail.

WINTER STYLES.

The Redingote Form For Costumes and Wraps.

The redingote style of gown has always an elegant air and is well suited to stout figures when it is made suitably ample. Many stout women make themselves look larger than they really are both by their style of dress and manner of carrying themselves. The chest should be thrown forward, never the abdomen, and the shoulders should not be allowed to droop, as when they fall forward it gives a round effect to the back and makes the waist appear longer.

In making a series of short calls the outer wrap is often not removed, and its weight is by no means advantageous to the corsage beneath. Many women have a plain bodice of wadded silk which they wear at such times instead of a regular gown bodice.

The cut illustrates a gown of chamois cloth. The skirt is plain in front, but is laid in plaits at the sides and back. Around the foot is a band of brown embroidery, passing under the plaits. The bodice is of empire green silk, with a plastron and collar of brown velvet, closed with gold buttons. The bolero of chamois cloth is covered with brown embroidery and fastened by two gold buckles. The long sleeves of embroidered cloth have elbow puffs and wrist frills of empire green silk. The brown velvet belt is closed by a gold buckle. The hat of chamois felt is trimmed with a drapery of brown velvet, a gold buckle and three chamois plumes.

HOUSE GOWNS.

They Are Bright In Color and Original In Cut.

A special house gown, so far from being an extravagance, is really an economy, as it saves the wear and soiling that would otherwise be given to street gowns, which are always more damaged by being used in the house than out of doors. A house gown can be of less expensive material and brighter color, and there are many liberties of form and trimming allowable which are quite impossible for a street costume. Almost any fanciful style is permitted, and nowhere in the wardrobe is there such scope for individual taste.

Cashmere, henrietta cloth, challie and albatross are some of the pretty and inexpensive goods suitable for house gowns. Too heavy materials are not desirable nor healthful, as they are fatiguing, and excessive thickness of material is not necessary in the house, even in winter.

The illustration given in today's issue shows a novel and pretty tea jacket of old rose grosgrain silk. It is fitted at the back and has a short basque, which is elongated to a deep point at each side in front. The fronts are loose and open, crossing at the top and fastening with three large enameled buttons. The edges are followed by a line of spangled embroidery, which also runs up the darts. The half length sleeves are open, embroidery bordering the edge, and below them are full sleeves of embroidered white mousseline de soie, with a lace frill at the wrists. The loose vest is also of embroidered mousseline de soie and lace, and the cravat is of lace.

FASHION NOTES.

House Gowns, Street Costumes and Evening Dress.

A favorite form of tea gown or house costume has a princess back and a loose front falling in large plaits. These plaits are held at the top by a bolero of guipure, velvet or other material.

A great deal of decoration is used on house gowns and tea jackets, and they are frequently of a striking order. By way of contrast some of the newest street costumes are of marked simplicity of cut and ornamentation, very close and plain and of a subdued tint. For evening attire, however, elaboration again appears, and there is no limit to the richness and variety of materials, trimmings and styles. We are no longer limited to one kind of material and one sort of trimming for any one evening gown. The same costume—say one of satin—will show mousseline de soie, velvet, lace, embroidery, spangles, guipure and possibly fur, so a really simple gown would be more conspicuous than anything that could be elaborately devised.

The cut shows an evening costume having a skirt of pink broche silk with a design in silver. It is plain, with a train, and is mounted in a box plait at the back. The tight, low cut bodice of garnet panne closes at the side with jeweled buttons and has a short, round bolero of pink silk, with a border of silver satin and garnet chenille. The pink silk sleeves of elbow length have guipure tops, with bands of garnet chenille crossing the shoulders and ornamenting the lower edge, where is also a full frill of tulle. A large buckle closes the bolero, and a large bow of garnet velvet and chenille is placed at the side. JUDIC CHOLLET.

TRIMMINGS.

Old Favorites Continue to Be Worn In Profusion.

Passementerie is immensely used, and motifs composed of it, not only as detached ornaments, but as entire boleros, vests, revers and stoles, are provided to simplify the trouble of decoration.

Plaits hold their position in general favor, and stitching, both in contrasting color and in the same shade as the material, continues to be employed.

Buttons show no indication of loss of prestige as ornaments. They are seen upon all gowns and wraps and are of all styles. Beside those buttons which are really articles of jewelry, encircled with cut stones and goldsmith's work, buttons of cloth, silk, velvet and passementerie are used.

The picture illustrates a gown of cress green amazon cloth. The top of the skirt has clusters of stitched plaits at the side and back, and around the foot are two bands of mink. The blouse bodice has stitched plaits, with gold buttons at the top, and a yoke and plastron of sky blue embroidered silk. The collar is also of blue embroidered silk with a border of fur, and fur edges the high collar. The green cloth sleeves are tight to the elbow, where there is a puff, below which they are laid in stitched plaits. The blue belt has a gold buckle. The hat of black felt is trimmed with a drapery of green velvet, a jeweled ornament and a cluster of blue plumes. JUDIC CHOLLET.

BASKET BALL is Enjoying a Season of Great Activity

BASKET ball is enjoying more popularity than ever before. Dr. Gulick, who is considered to be the "patron saint" of this game, scarcely permitted himself to dream of a day when intercolegiate leagues would be formed and college teams would have long schedules of games with Young Men's Christian association and athlethic club teams. Unless all signs fail, the day is nearly at hand when basket ball will be recognized as a "real college sport," and that the young athletes will find it admirably adapted to the season between grid-iron and diamond time. The athletes of football fame very often are experts on the diamond, and exercise and mild training in the winter months is to them a boon.

One college man has said that the recent trip of the Yale basket ball team, although full of humiliation for the 'varsity boys, because of several defeats, has been productive of much good. Besides being a part of the great plan of advertising for the university, the exposition of the game by the Yale boys has been an argument in favor of the sport. Many academies and "prep" schools either have taken up the sport as a result of the enterprise of the big varsities, or are planning to do so.

Fortunately for basket ball, it will never be attacked by the blight of professionalism to any extent. There may be one or two big athletic clubs in the east that will continue to surreptitiously get skilled players on their teams, but this will not avail them much. The Amateur Athletic union registration committees will keep a close watch on the athletes. It is estimated that over 3,500 men are registered with the Amateur Athletic union, and are playing basket ball at least once a week.

"For sport, not for revenue," seems to be the general slogan of the basket ball players. The last championship of the A. A. U., held in New York, was a brilliant success from the standpoint of sport, enthusiasm of the spectators and high class work by the forwards and backs of the teams contesting, but but it was a financial failure. The A. A. U. had to meet a deficit of nearly $200 for three evenings of sport. That alone seems to be a warning to the professionals to keep out.

A minute's perusal of the official guide just out shows the reader what a hold the game has on many communities widely separated. The first records given are those of the Portland (Me.) Y. M. C. A. Jumping to the Williston seminary, Easthampton, Mass., the tables contain the performances of scores of teams. The German department of the Y. M. C. A. at Buffalo has turned out a fine winning team. Yonkers, N. Y., has a team that has gained considerable fame because of its long schedule and its many fine victories. The name of the Fond du Lac Athletic association has become famous all over the athletic world because of the victories of the basket ball team over Yale's great team and several very strong Y. M. C. A. teams. Among some of the other teams that have done so well that their records are carefully preserved are the Bridgeport (Conn.) Y. M. C. A., Ottumwa (Ia.) Y. M. C. A., Springfield (O.) Y. M. C. A., University of Minnesota, Brooklyn Y. M. C. A., Hamilton college, Dartmouth college and a host of Y. M. C. A. teams in the many cities that boast the maintenance of the helpful Y. M. C. A. "gym."

Yale encountered one of the most formidable basket ball teams in the country and was defeated when the blue contested with the Ravenswood Y. M. C. A. team. Perhaps no team in the country has such perfected team work, with such efficient individual players, as the Ravenswoods. The latter are under the management of Irwin W. Peffly, one of the greatest judges of basket ball material in the country and a veteran whose enthusiasm is commented upon everywhere that the game is played. It is not unusual with basket ball teams, as with football elevens, that those that have the greatest number of "stars" or high-class individual players, do less scoring than those that are made up of young men who are willing to sacrifice individual desires in the matter of tossing the ball into the basket to expediency and to the particular kind of play called "team work."

J. "Mike" Kraftheffer, the Ravenswood Y. M. C. A. center, is supposed by many critics to be one of the surest goal tossers in the country. He plays all about the field like a veritable "demon." It is a certain point to his team nine times out of ten whenever "Mike" gets a chance for a free throw at the basket under the rules. He has had the assistance of Phil Haser, a forward, who has been called the best in the country because of his scientific and effective play. Certainly the basket ball men of the east were courteous enough to say that their defeat by Ravenswood was due to the exceptionally fast work of Kraftheffer and Haser, but Trainer Robinson, who accompanied the team from Yale, said that the strict interpretation of the officials in the west of the official rules regarding class A and class B fouls was very hard on an eastern team that had not been accustomed to such strict rulings on technicalities.

Manager Peffly is one of those basket ball enthusiasts who holds that the teams of the athletic clubs or of the Y. M. C. A.'s will generally excel those of the colleges. This will continue until the faculties of the colleges recognize basket ball as a sport of the same relative merit and value to the student as baseball or football and track athletics. Young men who work and who seek some quick, muscle training game that has none of the excessive features of football, will be attracted in constantly increasing numbers to basket ball, and they will actually train for a long schedule.

Basket ball is a fast game. Interest is kept up to the highest pitch all through the game and it may be played anywhere that offers a space 50 by 75 feet. The possibilities are greater than would appear from a cursory glance at the rules. Once when Yale was playing a well known Y. M. C. A. team the blue had this forcibly illustrated. One of the backs repeatedly tried for goal after deceiving the opposing player by turning his back on the goal. He had a point on the floor by which he took aim and with that as his guide he passed the ball over his shoulder and frequently earned his goal from field. If he missed his forward a man over six feet six was on the go, often stepping up against the wall in time to meet the ball in the air and pass it into the goal before the astonished opponents could get their bearings.

Men must train for this game—it is so fast. Twenty-minute halves, with a ten-minute intermission, are played and in case of ties the games are continued until a deciding goal is made. The goals are baskets 18 inches in diameter, fixed at a height of ten feet from the floor, and, of course, there is a goal at each end of the field. One side endeavors to put the ball—a rubber bag encased in leather and 31 inches in circumstance—in its rival's basket and the rival endeavors to do the same in turn. It is the work of the guards to prevent the ball from going into the basket and the players become very expert in striking the ball while it is being passed. It is not legal to carry, kick or hold the ball, and there is no tackling like in football. If a player strikes or "roughs" an opposing player he commits a foul. A repetition should give him the penalty of a ruling off the field. However, every foul of the latter kind gives the opposing side a free throw for the basket, the thrower standing 15 feet away, and he cannot be interfered with.

FUN ON THE BOWERY

It's Not the Kind That Appeals to the Better Classes.

Although the Street Has Lost Much of Its Old-Time Flavor It Is Still the Center of Shady Life.

[Special New York Letter.]

SOME one has said that one can get more fun on the Bowery for 15 cents than in any other place in the world. If you are a bit fidgety, it might be just as well not to go there. But if you want to see the holiday playground of the dwellers of the East side tenements; if you want to see the thieves and the porch-climbers and the flash confidence men, the original sellers of gold bricks and the cheap prize fighters, with a sprinkling of drunken sailors and painted women out on dress parade; if you want to hear the jangle of brass horns never in tune and smell the fumes of cheap whisky from Park row to Fourth street—go there any Saturday afternoon and remain until the policemen come around at midnight and tell the proprietors of the drinking places that it is time to close.

If you don't go to too many side-shows and keep your head you will be all right. Otherwise you will be apt to sing the old song:

"Oh, the Bowery, the Bowery!
I'll never go there any more."

They say the glory of the Bowery boy—the lad who wore boisterous checked clothes and was equally ready for fight or frolic—has departed. In the old days he held supreme sway on the street. The police were tolerated—they had nothing whatever to say. It is probably true that this type is fast disappearing if he has not already gone. "Steve" Brodie, the bridge jumper, is about the last of them. "Steve's" saloon is still on the Bowery, but "Steve," the powerful athlete of a few years ago who sprang from the Brooklyn bridge, while his wife calmly shelled peas for dinner, is now dying up in the mountains from consumption.

But the Bowery itself is the same that it was when the Five Points were in their palmiest days, and when it seemed dull and listless on the nights that no one was killed in Murderer's alley. Mission work has redeemed this once vile sport of which Dickens said: "Debauchery has made the very houses prematurely old." The Ladies' Home Missionary society of the Methodist church has reared a mission house there and robbed the old place of its terrors. Before this the city had converted the triangle at the junction of Worth, Baxter and Park streets, which formed the Five Points, into a little common, and, as if in derision of the squalid surroundings and emblems of poverty and crime, they gave the spot the name of "Paradise park."

Down below Fourth street an old shambling shanty has been torn away and workingmen are rapidly constructing a building that is to reach up toward the sky like the stately masses of brick and stone and mortar on Broadway. The old Bowery habitue notes that in the erection of this structure "Shinbone alley" has been obliterated. And he thinks of the tales that the old alley could unfold. There are visions of drunken seamen found there with broken skulls on mornings after a night's debauch. "Shinbone alley" is a memory now. So with the "Old Bowery," the "Den of Thieves" and the other places.

But it is the same gay old Bowery. You see crowds there on the bright afternoons seeking admission to the dime museums and the cheap Yiddish theaters. The latter places of amusement gain most of their patrons from the Jewish quarter on the East side, known as the Ghetto. There are half a dozen of these Yiddish theaters, and they all do a thriving business. They present all kinds of plays, from vaudeville to the highly emotional. One class of productions that has had a great run is based on Scriptural versions. Recently one house has been very successful with a reproduction of a play called "Jonah." An attempt is made to reproduce the marine scene in which the sailors, believing their unfortunate passenger was the cause of the storm, proceed to lighten the ship of his presence.

The scene can hardly be called realistic. There is a low paper boat that skims over a pasteboard ocean on rollers and three serious-looking seafaring men proceed deliberately to dump a fourth individual into the depths below. The one about to be dropped overboard kicks out his lower extremities much after the manner of a galvanized frog, and, to add to the horror of the situation, an ungainly papier-mache submarine monster, evidently intended to represent a fish, but in appearance more like an antediluvian Coney island lobster, appears just at the critical moment, and, snapping its huge jaws, which you can see a small boy working back of the scenes, proceeds to swallow the gentleman who takes the character of Jonah, kicking legs and all, while the orchestra goes into an apparent paroxysm of delirious delight. I did not have time to see how Jonah got out of the fix.

The "fake" shows on the Bowery remind one very much of "The Midway Plaisance" at the world's fair in Chicago. There is the same pounding of tom-toms; the same "barker" on the outside setting forth in cracked voice the wonders that are to be seen within. He is usually dressed in a long coat with fur collar, a slouch hat and a gaudy necktie. One of the most striking shows represents a cheerful group of savages dancing in unseemly glee around a kettle which presumably contains the remains of some late lamented foreign missionary.

These shows are very numerous and they all have about the same line of wonders. When business gets dull "whipping in" methods are employed to drum up trade. What are known as "pikers" in the jargon of the "profession" are engaged to remain on the outside of the place and pretend to be ordinary pedestrians. They will pause in front of the windows of the show and be apparently much engaged in looking at the supposed relics there, consisting of imitation war clubs, shields and other implements made over on Elizabeth street. When a sufficient crowd has collected these "pikers" will start a procession into the show. The other day I saw three of these men enter the show and come out again to repeat the operation no less than a dozen times inside of 20 minutes.

In addition to the side shows, admission to which costs a dime or a nickel, there are many catch-penny traps scattered all along the street. You may get your weight by dropping a cent in an electric weighing machine on every corner, and there is no end to the kinetoscopes showing living pictures which may be seen for one cent a peep. There are many other amusements besides these, all childish in their character and all cheap.

It seems remarkable that in a locality like the Bowery one should find so many places for pleasure. The street is the natural avenue for the worst slums, the lowest localities and the most poverty-stricken tenement districts in New York; yet here every petty amusement device is employed to wring pennies from the passer-by. And from whom do these pennies come? From the poorest, the lowest outcasts of the big city. It is a peculiar trait of human nature to take the mite that should be used to purchase bread, and with it seek so-called amusement.

I have seen ragged, hungry-looking men and women pay five cents which they had begged, borrowed or stolen, to see a "Fiji cannibal" from Thompson street beat on a piece of goat skin stretched across a hollow tree stump.

In a locality like the Bowery it is not so strange that an opportunity should be furnished to men, who are liable to be in a rough-and-tumble barroom fight at any minute, to have their black eyes painted to natural hues and their noses, colored with much pains and expense on five-cent whisky, restored to their pristine shades. One, therefore, does not feel surprised when one sees signs in basement doorways setting forth that such results may be attained by the artist who dwells below.

So you see, after all, the most of us have a little self-respect still glimmering within us. It may not shine on the Bowery as brightly as in the big houses way up on Fifth avenue, but still the spark is there.

FREDERICK BOYD STEVENSON.

Protestant Mission Work.

In 1880 there were only seven Protestant foreign missionary societies in existence, with 70,000 converts and a total annual income of $125,000. Today there are 156 societies, with 6,000 missionaries, 68,500 native preachers, teachers and helpers, and over 4,000,000 converts.

Miss Mary Schenck, of Afton, Morris county, is visiting her friend, Mrs. W. L. Force, of Duer street.

Miss Emma Hantsch, of New York city, returned home today after a pleasant visit at the home of her uncle, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, of West Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Emmons, of the borough, who were married last Wednesday evening, returned from their wedding tour Saturday evening. They will reside for the present with Mrs. Emmons' parents on Somerset street.

Many Plainfielders will be interested to know that a son has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stimpson, of Trenton. Mr. Stimpson formerly resided in Plainfield and was a member of The Daily Press staff He is now employed on The Trenton Times.

Dragged by Runaway Horse.

A horse, belonging to Otto Smith, a milkman residing in the borough, ran away as the owner was delivering milk on Duer street this morning. Mr. Smith managed to grasp the side of the wagon but was unable to get in. He was dragged for several blocks but finally brought the animal to a stop at the corner of Greenbrook road and Somerset street. Fortunately the only damage was the breaking of a number of milk bottles.

SCORED WINNING GOAL IN LAST TWO MINUTES

Ex-Polytechnic Boys Won From Fanwood A. C. by Very Small Margin.

GAME CLOSE THROUGHOUT.

BROOKLYN BASKET BALL TEAM WON BY SCORE OF 18 TO 16.

Play Was Hard But Clean and Showed Teams Were Evenly Matched—Accurate Work by Visitors—Fanwood Team Did Excellent Work.

It was not until the last two minutes of play that the ex members of the Polytechnic School, of Brooklyn, secured the goal which won for them the game with the basket ball team of the Fanwood Athletic Club, played at the club house of the Fanwood Club Saturday night. It was the most closely contested game so far this season and finally ended with the score 18 to 16 in favor of the Brooklyn boys.

From the very start, it was apparent that the teams were evenly matched. Despite the fact that the surroundings were entirely new to them, the "Ex-Polys" adapted themselves to the peculiarities of the room with remarkable readiness. They had the advantage of height, three of their players being extremely tall. Their accuracy in goal throwing was particularly noticeable and to that fact may be laid their victory. The Fanwood boys did not throw with quite their customary skill.

The game opened with hard but clean play. A goal by Smith for the home team was made almost immediately. It was not long, however, before the "Ex-Polys" began to score and the play remained even throughout the game. At the end of the first half, the visitors were in the lead 13 to 11. Both sides scored two goals from the field and one on a foul in the second half when the play grew even faster than before. With five minutes to play, the teams were tied. Two minutes before time was called a clever throw scored for the visitors who thereafter devoted their efforts to prevent Fanwood from scoring again.

Neither side developed any remarkable team play, although the visitors were a trifle quicker to take united advantage of an opportunity. Three of their goals were scored on long passes to forwards left unguarded who scored on accurate throws. The Fanwood boys did well. Kieb was the only one of the new players who took part. He made an excellent showing and makes promise of being a crack player with more practice. Smith, Long, Bonney and Max Moraller, of Plainfield's famous old "five," played good ball but lacked the great team work of previous days. Practice will, however, put them into their old form.

The game was a very exciting one, but entirely free from unpleasant incidents. The visitors were a gentlemenly lot of young men who played fast but clean basket ball. A return game will be played with them next month.

The teams were:

| FANWOOD A. C. | | EX-POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL. |
|---|---|---|
| Pontey | right forward | Kalbfleisch |
| Long | left forward | Biglow |
| Smith | centre | Ackerman |
| Moraller | left guard | Joebisch |

Score—Ex-Polys 18; Fanwood A. C., 16. Goals from the field—Long (2), Smith (4), Kieb, Kalfleisch (4), Joebisch, Jones. Goals on foul—Smith (2). Kalfleisch (4). Foul—Fanwood A. C., 5; Ex-Polys, 3. Referee—Chas. B. Morse, of Plainfield. Umpires—G. F. Bragley, of Brooklyn, Edwin Fancher, of Fanwood. Timekeepers Wm. DeMill, of Brooklyn, and Goldwin Beard, of Plainfield. Scorer—Henry Eggerding, of Plainfield.

Funeral of Mrs. Robinson.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Maria Robinson, of New York were held from the residence of her son-in-law, Archibald Henderson, of West Seventh street, yesterday afternoon. They were conducted by Rev. E. M Rodman, of Grace P. E. church. Interment was made today in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

Discharged From Hospital.

John M. Hetfield, who has been at the hospital under treatment for iritis, has been discharged. He and his family recently moved from Cranford to this city.

Shrines Guarded by Mohammedans.

Writing on "Jerusalem as We See It To-Day," Mrs. Lew Wallace notes that "there is a common lament that the shrines dear alike to Jew and Christian are in keeping of the Mohammedan For a thousand years they have been guarded with reverence and decorum by armed officials tolerant of every religion. Were Palestine in keeping of American Protestants debasing our sanctuaries into eating-houses and concert-rooms I fear Gethsemane would become a park for picnics, and the Holy Sepulcher, the shrine of shrines, be made a hall for socials. Twenty rival sects worship there in peace and safety. Were the Turkish guard withdrawn there would be fighting with paving stones and consecrated candlesticks if other weapons were not at hand. The house that is now a house of prayer might be made a den of cooks. Perhaps 'tis better as it is."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Safe Betting.

A Durham farmer was traveling to London to consult a lawyer, when the fear struck him that he had left certain important papers behind. He made a hurried search of his bag.

"If I did leave those papers," he remarked, "I'm a fool!"

The search proceeded, and a moment later he said:

"I believe it'll turn out I'm a fool!"

Just as he was examining the last bundle of papers, he exclaimed:

"I believe it'll turn out I'm a fool!"

A man on the other side of the compartment lowered his newspaper for a moment, and said, slowly and deliberately:

"Oblige me, sir, by laying a little money that same way for me."—London Answers.

Gleam of Light.

A woman in a tattered shawl rang the bell of a stately mansion.

"May I die on your doorstep, here?" she asked, respectfully, of the butler who presently appeared.

"No!" was the brusque reply.

The woman was turning sadly away, when a beautiful child, with golden hair, cut in.

"Oh, papa!" cried the child, "please do let the woman die on the doorstep."

"Very well!" said the father, for he could deny his little daughter nothing.

So the woman died on the doorstep, feeling that the world was not altogether dark, after all.—Detroit Journal.

Government Reports.

One interesting fact about government reports is that they are generally published on Monday mornings, and the reason for this is that the newspapers of that day are not so crowded and thus more space is secured. James G. Blaine, who was an editor before he became a statesman, was the first to appreciate the opportunity of the Monday morning newspaper, and when he had an important announcement to make or a report to submit it was always sent out the last of the week, so as to secure the best possible treatment on Monday morning. His example has become a precedent in Washington officialdom.—Saturday Evening Post.

Mistake About Alaska.

It is a popular impression that Alaska is a frozen zone and that the soil is barren and worthless. This is a mistake. The sun is hot, the snow moistens and enriches the earth and the soil in the valleys is fertile and productive. Wheat, corn, oats, barley, buckwheat, flaxseed and a considerable variety of vegetables and forage plants can be successfully grown in many parts of the territory.—Chicago Chronicle.

The Malarial Mosquito.

Prof. C. W. Stiles, of the agricultural department, says that only the mosquito of the genus Anopheles carries the malaria germs. This species, the professor continues, can readily be distinguished from the common mosquito by its voice. The dangerous mosquito gives forth a deep, strong buzz, quite different from the gentler hum of the harmless mosquito. —Chicago Chronicle.

A Reflection.

Fuddy—Do you really believe that drummers are as smart as they are said to be?

Duddy—I never believe in impossibilities. They never succeed in selling me anything.

"It does look like a reflection upon their alleged smartness to attempt it."—Boston Transcript.

Not Needed.

Daughter—No, mamma. Harold has not proposed as yet; that is, not in so many words.

Mother—Mercy on me, Jane! You must not wait for words. Proposals are mostly made up of sighs, gurgles, stammers, coughs, hems, haws and looks, you know.—N. Y. World.

Wearing on the Clothes.

Mrs. Talkso—Men have very poor judgment at times.

Mrs. Naylor—I should say so. Why, Mr. Naylor wanted to spank Willie to-day while the child was wearing his new trousers

MASKED AND DANCED UNTIL EARLY MORN.

Great Success Was Annual Masquerade of the Gesang and Turn Verein.

BIG CROWD PRESENT.

UNMASKING AT MIDNIGHT BROUGHT FORTH MANY SURPRISES.

Grand March Was Well Given by Sixty Couples—Some of The Participants—The Committee in Charge of The Dance.

Never before in the history of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein has such a brilliant gathering been seen in the society hall as that which assembled last evening on the occasion of the thirteenth annual masquerade ball The committee in charge of the affair had declared that no effort would be spared to make the ball this year eclipse every one of its predecessors and a glance at the dancing floor during the height of the merriment would convince the most skeptical that they had succeeded.

After becoming accustomed to the kaleidoscopic view caused by the scores of brilliant costumes, the spectator could distinguish stately cavaliers touching elbows with the most forlorn specimens of the genus hobo, imposing Uncle Sams being made the victims of rollicking, mirth provoking clowns, while sailors, firemen, brownies, monks and courtiers stalked about with a familiarity seen only at such affairs.

Then fairy queens waved their wands over non-heeding subjects, shepherdesses searched for mythical flocks, and queens, flower girls, dancing girls without number, all costumed to fit the character assumed, darted hither and thither amongst the crowd with no seeming object other than to add to the excitement of the scene and conceal their identity.

With midnight came the hour of unmasking and as usual when the faces were revealed the astonishment on some of them as the owners recognized companions, furnished more amusement to the beholders than did the comical capers a short time previous.

Of course the majority of those present were mainly interested in the dancing and the committee in anticipation of their wants had arranged a programme of twenty six numbers. After several had been given the grand march took place and of this too much cannot be said. New and intricate figures, showing careful preparation, were marked out for over sixty couples to follow, by Prince Carnival Henry Haurand, assisted by Chas. F. Meyer, Sr., John Wirth, Henry Bergen, Charles F. Meyer, Jr., Lawrence Fahn and Henry Haertel.

At its conclusion the dancing was again resumed and the original programme was greatly lengthened by the frequent encores made necessary by the excellence of the music furnished by Prof. O'Reilly's full orchestra. His popular two-steps and waltzes proved such an incentive that it was nearly dawn this morning before the dancers ceased their whirling and departed for their respective homes.

The committee to whom credit is due for the complete success of the affair consisted of Henry Haurand, chairman; Charles F. Meyer, Sr., floor manager, assisted by John Wirth, Henry Bergen, Charles F. Meyer, Jr., Lawrence Fahn, Henry Haertel, August Wolff and John Hoffman.

It would be impossible to mention all those who appeared in costume but among those who masqueraded were the following: "Evening," Miss Muriel Gunn; nurse girls, Mrs. Andrew Schlick and Miss Felper; "Morning," Miss Annie Weigman and Miss Lillie Weigmann; queen of Italy, Mrs. Charles F. Meyer; yachting costume, Mrs. Arthur Ford; Egyptian girl, Miss Josie Feller; baby, Mrs. Frank Manchester; fancy costume, Misses Fortemeier; gypsy girl, Miss Ella Grieb; school girls, Miss Florence Neighbor, Mrs. Samuel Tunison, Miss Clara Weber, Mrs. Jacob Schlick, Miss Annie Schlick, Mrs. Mary Schlick and Miss Nolte; flower girls, Miss Florence Wolff, Miss Emily Victor, Miss Louise Fisher and Miss Mary Honan; shepherdesses, Mrs. Henry Bergen and Mrs. Vodemeyer; queens of the night, Miss Christine Sorensen and Miss Gussie Klinsman; hunting costume, Miss Bertha Fisher; "yellow kid," Miss Pauline Smith; "Liberty," Miss Carrie Beiter; "Aunt Dinah," Miss Deim; dairy maid, Miss Sophie Rummel; card girl, Miss Minnie Hardfelder. Among the men were: Tramp,

TOLD STORY OF DAVID HARUM

CLEVER ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN IN Y. M. C. A. HALL LAST NIGHT.

Wellington Putnam Was Well Received in His Selections From Celebrated Novel—Fred Van Eps Pla ed.

A genuine treat was given those who had the pleasure last evening of listening to Wellington Putnam tell the story of "David Harum" at the Y. M. C A. The entertainment was one of the best provided in the Star Course. Mr Putnam is the lecturer of elocution of Columbia University.

Seven characters were introduced by Mr. Putnam. In a clever way he portrayed the humorous and the pathetic parts of this celebrated work of fiction. He depicted in good voice the many quaint situations of the various characters in the work.

The recital of David's being cheated in the horse trade, the life of John Lennox, the visit to the circus and the magnanimous way which David took to cancel his debt of honor in favor of the widow, together with the story of his married life and the buying of the fifteen dollar bonnet, were given in an artistic style and held the close attention of a good sized audience for more than an hour and a half.

Those who have read the book were able to follow Mr. Putnam easily and to thoroughly understand and comprehend the salient points of the interesting narrative.

Previous to the recital and during intermissions, Fred F. VanEps, of this city, rendered several selections on the banjo. His clever playing delighted the audience, which rewarded him with liberal applause.

WAS ILL BUT EIGHT DAYS.

SAD DEATH OF YOUNG MAN IN PRIME OF LIEE.

Henry B. Van Alstyne Passed Away Last Evening—Well Known in Plainfield.

After a brief illness of eight days, Henry B. Van Alstyne, third son of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Alstyne, of 730 Watchung avenue, passed away last evening at seven o'clock. Death was caused by pleuro-pneumonia A specialist was summoned from New York and the end delayed a short time but the best of medical aid could not avail.

Harry B. VanAlstyne was twenty-seven years old at the time of his death. He was born in Greenpoint, L. I., but removed to this city with his parents when very young. His boyhood was spent in this city, where he attended the public schools. Up to the time of his death he made his home with his parents. He began a business career and has for some time been associated with his father in the flour commission business in New York.

He was intimately known among the young men of the city, and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances who will sincerely mourn his loss. Beside his parents, he leaves three brothers, Louis I., Percy W., and William B.

He was a member of the Congregational church, and also a member of Wetumpkah Tribe, I. O. R. M., and of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M.

Funeral services will be held from the home of his parents, on Watchung avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THRESHOLD OF MANHOOD.

William J. Fosbre Died This Morning After an Illness of Four Weeks.

After an illness of about four weeks, William J. Fosbre died early this morning at the home of his parents on West Sixth street. His death is made particularly sad as the young man was but 21 years old. He is survived by a wife. He was a mason by trade and was very well known having lived in this city all his life.

Five sisters and three brothers are also left to mourn his loss. They are James, Thomas and Harry, Mrs. William Nichols, Mrs. Mary Flynn, Miss Nellie and Miss Kate Fosbre, of this city, and Mrs. Arthur Jackson, of Garwood.

The funeral services will be held from his late residence Thursday morning at 8:30 and from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Whist at Park Club.

Whist will be the attraction this evening at the Park Club. The entertainment committee will be in charge and a good time is promised those who attend.

In Middlesex Court.

Lawyer William Newcorn was called to New Brunswick yesterday to try a case in the courts at that place. He appeared for the plaintiff, Garrett Dreier.

WILL SELECT SITE FOR NEW HOSPITAL.

Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital Held Regular Meeting Last Night.

WILL APPOINT COMMITTEE.

NO DEFINITE ACTION TAKEN REGARDING NEW BUILDINGS.

Owing to Increased Duties of Medical Staff, Five Clinical Assistants Were Appointed—The Superintendent's Report.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital met last evening and considered several matters of interest. While no definite action was taken regarding the proposed new hospital, the matter was advanced in that it was decided to appoint a committee to select a site for the new building. This committee will be appointed a little later and will report probably at the next meeting of the board.

Owing to the increased duties it was decided to appoint five clinical assistants whose duties shall be to assist the regular staff members when they are serving. Those decided upon are Dr. VanHorn, Dr. Pittis, Dr. Buchanan, Dr Zeglio and Dr. Clawson.

The monthly report from the superintendent of the hospital showed that 27 patients were admitted during January, and at the last report 17 patients were remaining at the hospital. There were discharged, cured, 21; improved, 6, and 3 died. There are now 16 patients remaining, making a total of 46. In the dispensary ward there were 23 male and 14 female. There were 125 visits.

An addition was made to the Board of Governors by the election of George A. Chapman as a member.

COMPLETE SURPRISE.

Friends of Mrs. Henry VanMiddlesworth Greeted Her Unexpectedly.

In honor of the anniversary of her fiftieth birthday, Mrs. Henry Van Middlesworth, of Elmwood place, was given a surprise last evening, when a large number of her relatives, as well as her neighbors, called to spend the evening. Mrs. VanMiddlesworth was wholly unaware of the intended visit and it was some time before she recovered from the surprise.

The guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Lindsey Wooley, on West Front street, and at 8 o'clock, went in a body to the home of Mrs. Van Middlesworth. There they found the latter reading and not prepared to receive such a host. They all made themselves at home and soon everyone was having a fine time. During the evening supper was served, and not the least of the enjoyable features, was the presentation to Mrs. VanMiddlesworth of a handsome china dinner set. The presentation was made by B. W. Hand, who made a few happy remarks, and the recipient accepted the gift with a few words of appreciation.

The happy affair was arranged by Mrs. VanMiddlesworth's daughter, Mrs. Wooley, and was complete in every particular.

ROYAL ARCANUMITES INSTALLED.

Plainfield Council's New Officers Formally Placed in Command.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, met last evening and installed the following officers: Regent, W. K. Browning; vice-regent, W. S. Lowrie; past regent, Herbert Buxton; secretary, Fred Pope; treasurer, D. W. Littell; collector, Elliot Burr; orator, George H. Bruce; chaplain, R C. Treadwell; guide, Richard Osmun; warden, A. W. Winckler; sentry, A Devine; representative to the Grand Council, Herbert Buxton; alternate, A. I. Littell.

In addition to the large number present from the local lodge, among those who witnessed the installation were Grand Officer Messick, of Cranford, and a large delegation from Fanwood Council.

Bad Fall on the Ice.

Herbert Schooley, of Grandview avenue, was severely injured by falling on the ice yesterday afternoon The young man fell on the back of his head and during all last night was partly unconscious. As he is somebetter this morning no serious results are looked for.

SOMERVILLE COMMISSIONERS AMENDED TROLLEY ORDINANCE.

Commissioners and Company Can't Settle Concessions to be Granted in Return For Five Cent Fare.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 29—The Board of Commissioners held a special meeting last night to consider an amendment to the trolley franchise, and an ordinance requiring the Jersey Central Railroad to place gates or flagmen at the Middagh and Hamilton street crossings.

Hon. Alvah A. Clark, counsel for the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company, said that he had received a telegram from Mr. Radel, stating that his three children were ill with scarlet fever and that he was unable to leave home on that account. Mr. Clark stated that the only difference between the trolley company and the Commissioners was the headway. Mr. Radel said that it did not pay to run half hourly after 8 o'clock in the evening, and the Commissioners insisted on a half hour schedule until 10 o'clock.

The ordinance was finally amended to the effect that a half-hour schedule be maintained from May 1 until October 1, until 10 o'clock in the evening, and from October 1 until May 1, until 9 o'clock, and that cars be run hourly from that time until midnight.

The ordinance was then laid over for its third reading until February 11.

If the trolley company does not agree to this, the company will be made to stick to the the present ordinance and run half hourly until midnight, and to substitute iron poles for the present wooden ones. The only thing the town gets for the concessions is a five-cent fare to Bound Brook.

The Jersey Central Railroad ordinance was also laid over until February 11, as a conference had not been had with the railroad officials.

SCORED A GREAT SUCCESS.

OPENING PERFORMANCE OF LEYBURNE'S STOCK COMPANY.

Large Audience was Greatly Pleased With "Princess of Patches"—Miss Bunting is a Popular Actress.

The Charles Leyburne Bon Ton Stock Company began a week's engagement in repertoire at Music Hall last night and scored an unqualified success. The play presented was "The Princess of Patches," a very pleasing comedy, which afforded every member of the company good opportunity for display of his or her ability, and the manner of approbation by the large audience present, was proof sufficient of the good qualities.

Particularly pleasing was the performance of Miss Emma Bunting, who is "chic" in every sense of the word. She is a veritable little fairy in size and appearance, and no actress that has appeared here in repertoire roles, has given more satisfaction. She has all the charm of the well-known Maggie Mitchell, of former days; is versatile, petite and attractive in everyway. Her impersonation of the title role was everything that could be desired and her song between acts was heartily applauded.

Mr. Leyburne in the character of "Waggles" was exceedingly good and the show in its entirety, the scenery, accessories, etc., not forgetting the illustrated songs and moving pictures, very superior Tonight "The Waifs of New York," a fine drama, with new specialties, songs, dances, etc., will constitute the bill. Tomorrow afternoon, "The Princess of Patches" will be repeated, and tomorrow night Nat Goodwin's great success, "The Black Flag," will be given.

Wants a Castle in Plainfield.

Grand Chief Arthur H. Hope, of the Grand Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, of New Jersey, is in Plainfield endeavoring to secure enough persons to form a local Castle of the order. A meeting will be held this evening in Odd Fellows' Hall, Babcock building, when Mr. Hope will be present to explain the workings of the order. It is a secret and beneficial organization and there are seventy-two Castles in New Jersey all in good working order and on a sound financial basis.

Three Games Played.

Three games were played in Krewson's pool tourney last evening with the following results: Pope defeated Walsh, 45 to 40; Stelle defeated Beekman, 45 to 28; Coombs defeated Matthews, 55 to 20. Three games will be played every evening this week.

Speedway Meeting Tonight.

A meeting of the Plainfield Speedway Association will be held this evening in the office of Reed & Coddington.

ENGINE AXLE BROKE AS TRAIN STARTED.

Accident on Jersey Central Near Netherwood Delayed Travel For Several Hours.

THE LOCOMOTIVE WRECKED.

THE CARS AND THEIR OCCUPANTS ESCAPED ALL INJURY.

Had Train Been Moving Rapidly the Result Might Have Been Very Different—East Bound Local From Somerville.

Just as an east bound passenger train on the Jersey Central railroad was leaving the Netherwood station early last evening, an axle to the big drivers on the locomotive snapped and brought the train to a sudden halt. The accident occurred when the locomotive, No. 537, was only a hundred feet beyond the station and was just beginning to get under headway. The locomotive was attached to the local from Plainfield at 4:55 and Netherwood at 4:59. Had the accident happened a few minutes later a serious wreck would have undoubtedly resulted.

When the axle broke both wheels careened inwardly and before Engineer Shea, of Somerville, could bring the train to a stop, a large part of the intricate machinery beneath the boiler had been twisted into a shapeless mass. The wheel on the right side of the cab was the only one to leave the track. The others were sufficient to hold the locomotive up but it was rendered practically useless.

As soon as the passengers became aware of their narrow escape, they were naturally frightened and some of them left the train. They were soon put to ease by the train crew. The cars were detached from the disabled engine by a locomotive attached to a work train which followed and taken to the North Avenue station. The journey was resumed with but a short delay.

The train, which is officially known as No. 68, was in charge of Conductor Geo. Terrill, of Somerville.

The locomotive remained on the east bound passenger track until late last night when it was removed by the wrecking crew. All other trains in the meantime used the freight track.

CREDITABLE SHOWING.

Annual Statement of Dime Savings Institution Made Public.

The annual statement of the Dime Savings Institution has just been issued and a most creditable one it is. It shows an increase of $9 000 in the surplus from $37,000 a year ago to $46,224 18 at the present time. The statement also shows a list of first class investments. The sound financial standing of this institution is a source of gratification to the officers who so carefully manage its affairs, as well as to the hundreds of depositors who help to support so worthy an institution. The statement published elsewhere will be read with great interest.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

At a Recent Meeting of Pond's Beneficial Association, Election Was Held.

At a recent meeting of the Pond's Beneficial Association the following officers were elected: President, Robert Dorman; vice-president, Morris Kennedy; treasurer, George H. Batchelor; secretary, J. McKeon; trustees, John King, J. Kuiniery and P. Hansen.

A special meeting of the association was called for last Saturday evening to select members to visit sick members, but owing to the fact that notice of meeting had only been posted nine days instead of ten, no meeting could be held. Another call will be issued soon.

Changes at Express Office.

Several changes have recently been made at the local office of the United States Express Company. Frank S. Bowman, who has been cashier, has been put on the road as special messenger and solicitor, and his place as cashier has been filled by the appointment of Miss Louella Mills. Mr. Carhart, formerly station man, has returned to Annandale, and Fred Voorhees, an assistant, has been put in his place. Frank H. Mills, of Long Island City, has taken the place of Miss Mills as bill clerk.

In Memory of the Queen.

A service in memory of Queen Victoria will be held in Hope chapel, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards and others will be present and make addresses.

WRECKED HIS FATHER'S HOME.

HEAVY SENTENCE WAS IMPOSED ON JOHN DORGAN, JR.

Said That He Beat His Mother—Dorgan, Sr., Tried to Shield His Son in Court But Finally Told Story.

City Judge Runyon imposed another heavy sentence upon an offender who appeared before him this morning which will probably be a warning to others of his class who may be brought up in the future.

The prisoner was John Dorgan, Jr., who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Saunders after he had partially wrecked his father's home on West Third street and, it is alleged, administered sundry blows to his aged mother. Something about the house had displeased him and he had smashed the stove, several chairs and other articles of furniture when the patrolman appeared on the scene.

When arraigned this morning the only witness to appear against the prisoner was his father who seemed disposed to shield him. His testimony, however, did not agree with his version of the affair told last evening and his plan failed. On being questioned, Dorgan, Sr., admitted that he owed the loss of one eye to the blows delivered by his son without provocation, and this latter fact had much to do with the heavy sentence which followed.

Dorgan admitted the charges made against him with the exception of beating his mother. The Judge thought otherwise and imposed a sentence of $50 fine and fifty days in jail.

PLUGGED PIPE WITH STONES

STEAM HEATER IN OTTO ARENS' NEW HOUSE WOULDN'T WORK.

Investigation Showed Peculiar Cause of the Trouble—Only Plausible Explanation.

Two of the steam radiators in Otto Arens' new house on Rahway road have caused considerable trouble. Mr. Arens could not find out where the trouble was and sent to New York for the steam fitters who did the work.

It seems that when steam was turned into the pipes, two radiators on the second floor would not work. Investigation showed that the trouble was with the pipes. The floor was torn up where two of the pipes ran between the beams, and the pipes uncoupled.

The cause of the trouble was discovered to be two large stones, which had been driven into the pipes, and overlooked by the plumbers when they connected the pipes. The men worked until a late hour Saturday night before they had everything in working order again.

Sometime ago there was trouble between the union men and non-union men employed at the house. It seems that the contractor who had the steam fitting, sent out two non-union men to do the work, and as they were not allowed to work with the union men it is thought they plugged the pipes out of spite. That is the only way in which the presence of the stones can be accounted for.

City Life in Jerusalem.

Those who saw the tableaux and heard Madame Montford lecture on "Village Life in Palestine," Christmas Eve, will appreciate another opportunity to hear her. The Temple Builders' Society of the First Baptist church has arranged for Madame Montford to present her lecture, "City Life in Jerusalem," illustrated by twelve persons in Oriental costume, Tuesday evening, February 5, at 8 o'clock. Madame Montford is endorsed by many ministers and societies. Tickets are on sale at the drug stores of T. S. Armstrong and L. W. Randolph, and at the stores of Powlison & Jones and G. F. Brown.

To Complete Militia Company.

There will be a meeting this evening of the committee of ten who have charge of the preliminary arrangements for the organization of a company of militia in this city. The meeting will be held in City Judge Wm. N. Runyon's office.

At Prudential Dinner.

Unintentionally the name of Arthur Crone was omitted yesterday in the account of the Prudential Insurance Company dinner. He was present as one of the guests of honor.

New Kind of Social.

A "Gate Sociable" will be held this evening at Trinity Reformed church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society.

Working Again.

The repairs having been completed to the boiler at McCollough's mill on Steiner place, operations have been resumed.

MAHLON PITNEY WILL BE MADE JUSTICE.

Announcement Authoratively Made at Trenton Last Evening—Gummere Named.

TO SUCCEED MR. DEPUE.

FRANKLIN MURPHY NOW LEFT ALONE IN GUBERNATORIAL RACE.

Governor Will Appoint Senator Pitney Later in the Session and Appointment Will Be Accepted—Other Appointments.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Jan. 29—Franklin Murphy stands alone in the race for the Gubernatorial nomination of the Jersey Republicans. The statement was publicly made last evening that State Senator Mahlon Pitney would receive the appointment to the Supreme Court bench of the State and that he would accept it when tendered to him. This announcement preceptably clarified the political atmosphere at the State House.

The announcement came along with the statement that Associate Justice William S. Gummere was the Governor's choice to fill the place of Chief Justice left vacant by the resignation of Chief Justice Depue. Governor Voorhees sent Mr. Gummere's name to the Senate for confirmation to fill the office of Chief Justice when Depue steps out November 6.

The Governor nominated Judge Charles E. Hendrickson, of Mount Holly, to succeed the late Justice Ludlow as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Judge Hendrickson is now one of the special Judges of the Court of Errors, and as soon as his appointment is confirmed G. D. W. Vroom, of this city, will be appointed to succeed him in that Court.

Later in the session will come the nomination of Mr. Pitney as was authoratively stated last night. Concerning the appointment of Mr. Pitney, the following statement is made by the best of authority:

Morris county has been without any recent recognition, and the Governor, appreciating the Senator's consent to run for a State office on the last Gubernatorial ticket, when it was thought that he might strengthen the fight, has felt disposed to favor the Senate's president. Then, too, the members of the family of Senator Pitney are strongly opposed to his going into the Gubernatorial contest, and are bitterly against his continuing in his present line of politics. His wife, particularly, has urged him against a fight, into which his friends seemed bent upon placing him, and, as the result of the home influence, and the heavy pressure brought by influential relatives, he has determined to accept what he has been assured is a recognition of no other quality than his ability and popularity as a practitioner at the bar.

ODD FELLOWS INSTALLED.

Big Time at Meeting of Plainfield Lodge, I. O. O. F., Last Evening—Visitors Present.

At the regular meeting of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44 I. O. O. F., the following officers were installed for the current term by District Deputy Grand Master Laire and staff of Whitehouse: Past grand, John Bowman; noble grand, E. H. Sebring; vice-grand, Edward Bowman; recording secretary, J. F. Sheppard; financial secretary, E. H. Bird; treasurer, James Clarkson; right support to noble grand, Andrew Carpenter; left support to noble grand, John Fisher; warden, Eden L. Boice; conductor, J. T. Ketterring; inner guard, William Gimmerson; outer guard, M Kohler; right support to vice-grand, Frank W. Miles; left support to vice-grand, Isaac Kennedy; right scene supporter, Albert W. Pangborn; left scene supporter, Peter Doeringer; chaplain, N. Pennington.

After the installation addresses were made by different members of the lodge, and a very interesting talk was also given by District Deputy Grand Master Laire.

After the addresses a collation was served and the rest of the evening was given up to a general good time.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Never for one moment forget that your constant duty to yourself, to your business, to your family, is a constant watch on your kidneys. As the careful engineer watches each pulsation of his faintly tended engine, so should you give the closest scrutiny to your kidneys, for are they not the great engineers of human life? The kidneys filter the blood, all its impurities are left in the kidneys, to be, in turn, passed to the bladder and so find escape from the human system. Can you not readily see how with improperly working kidneys the blood scatters its poison, and before you know it you are in the clutch of Bright's Disease and death is upon you.

Hundreds of the sudden deaths you hear and read about are due to neglect of the signals nature gives, such as weak back and pains across the small of the back. If you ever have backache, don't hesitate, but seek the best and surest and quickest acting remedy at once are made from the formula of a practicing physician and guaranteed to be the most efficacious in all diseases of the bladder and kidneys. They go at once to the weak spot and give quick strength; they are vegetable, easy to take and pleasant. ## FUNSTON REPORTS PEACE.

His District Practically Quiet—The Commission at Work.

MANILA, Jan. 29.—General Funston reports that practically all the organized insurrectos in his district have been dispersed with the exception of disconnected bands in the mountains.

Sixty-five more rebels in the island of Panay have surrendered to the United States authorities at Cabatuan.

George T. Rice, editor of The Daily Bulletin, who was ordered by General MacArthur to be deported because of the publication in his paper of allegations against Lieutenant Commander William Braunersreuther, captain of the port, has sailed. It was ordered that he be held as a prisoner until his arrival at San Francisco.

The Philippine commission has passed the act of annulling that portion of the Spanish code which disqualifies judges and magistrates for trying cases on account of alleged incompetency. The act declares that the judges are incompetent only when pecuniarily interested in the litigation or related to a litigant.

The general criminal and civil codes are almost completed.

The hearing on the municipal government bill is finished, and the measure will be enacted on Wednesday. Only two natives objected to the church property taxation feature, and no objection was entered on behalf of the church or other organization.

Reports from southern Luzon say there is much disaffection in the insurgent camps. A thousand persons swore allegiance to the United States in a church at Malabon Sunday.

Caille's camp, near San Antonio, was surprised and attacked Friday by a detachment of the Fifteenth infantry. The insurgents escaped, but a score of houses were destroyed.

Detachments of the Fourth infantry and Fourth and Sixth cavalry, with a platoon of marines, have captured 140 identified insurgents and ladrones in Cavite province.

Twenty wire repairers were attacked recently south of San Pablo by 300 insurgents, half of them armed with rifles. Two Americans were wounded and one was captured, but was subsequently rescued.

Preparations For an Ice Carnival.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Jan. 29.—This city is decked in holiday attire for the Pontiac club's ice carnival to open here today. The hotels and residences are draped in bunting, evergreens and flags of many nations. The schools have been dismissed for the balance of the week. The entire Adirondack region is to join in the celebration. The town is full of excitement and life. The streets are lined with sleighs filled with pleasure seekers. An ice cabin has been built on Riverside square and is filled and surrounded with colored electric lights. At Berkeley House square an enormous arch 50 feet high extends over the street, covered with evergreens and studded with electric bulbs. Hundreds of balsam and spruce trees have been set out on Main street.

Coal Land Transfers.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 29.—Coal land in Green county aggregating about 24,033 acres has been sold by the Amos stock agency to a number of out of town syndicates. Four different companies are represented in the transaction, the amount of which was $500,000. A tract in Aleppo township, 12,254 acres, was sold to P. S. Carroll and A. E. Fox, representing a Wheeling syndicate. In Morris, Jackson and Center townships a tract containing 7,066 acres was sold to a Brownsville company. In Center and Wayne townships a plot containing 2,700 acres was sold to R. W. Munnell for a syndicate. W. T. Hughes bought 2,013 acres in Aleppo and Gilmore townships.

Bigamist Howard Pleads Guilty.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Public curiosity in the George W. Howard bigamy case has been disappointed again. There was a throng of the curious in and about the county courthouse in Brooklyn yesterday morning when the case was called for trial, but the defense sprung a surprise, entered a plea of guilty, and in less than 20 minutes from his appearance before Judge Hurd Howard had left the courtroom to go to Sing Sing, sentenced to pass the next two years and ten months of his life at hard labor. The maximum penalty under the statute is five years.

Fire In Troy.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 29.—A lantern which dropped from the hand of the night watchman in the boiler room of the Continuous Rail Join company at 9:10 last night caused a fire which for a time threatened to be serious. The entire fire department was called out to prevent the spread of the flames to other parts of the building, and the fire was finally confined to the boiler room and the machine shops. The loss is about $25,000.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Massachusetts—South Egremont, Emerson G. Harrington. New Jersey—Park Ridge, Mary D. Weild; Stanhope, Thomas J. Knight. New York—Somerville, George L. Van Ornum. Pennsylvania—Lodema, Daniel Utley.

Storm In Northern New York.

MALONE, N. Y., Jan. 29.—A heavy snowstorm set in here Sunday night and is accompanied by a high wind. Trains on the Rutland Canadian road are badly delayed. The barometer is lower than at any time this winter, and indications are that the storm will be a record breaker.

New York Markets.

FLOUR—State and western turned a shade easier with wheat, but was not quotably lower; Minnesota patents, $3.95@4.20; winter straights, $3.10@3.50; winter extras, $2.50@2.85; winter patents, $3.65@4.

BOXER CHIEFS HELD.

Several Now Awaiting Punishment In Peking.

FEW LIKELY TO BE BEHEADED.

Foreign Envoys Meet to Decide the Fate of Prisoners, but Result Is Not Made Public—Two New Chinese Envoys.

PEKING, Jan. 29.—Hsu Cheng I, son of Hsu Tung, the notorious antiforeign guardian of the heir apparent, and also Chih Sin, a member of the tsung-li-yamen, and the Boxer leaders captured in the Japanese quarters are being held for punishment.

A meeting of the foreign envoys was held yesterday morning which was attended only by those whose fellow countrymen have been killed in the internal provinces, the object being to decide what punishment should be inflicted upon minor officials. A report will be made to a general meeting of the ministers to be held probably after the funeral of Queen Victoria. The ministers refuse to state the decisions arrived at, but it is believed that few will be beheaded and certainly not the highest officials.

Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have, on their request, had Sheng and Chou Fu appointed to assist in the negotiations. Chou Fu is the newly appointed treasurer of Chi-li and was formerly Chinese minister to Korea.

The Germans have begun building a barracks for their legation guard.

Reports from the province of Honan say that the native Christians there are not molested, but that they are boycotted and suffering considerable distress in consequence.

Some Shanghai Rumors.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Daily News publishes the following from its Shanghai correspondent: "Sheng, the taotai, has received a telegram from Li Hung Chang saying that the Russian representatives in Manchuria presented to Tseng Chi, the Tartar general at Shengking, nine peace conditions, restoring Manchuria to China, but giving Russia absolute control of the province, she undertaking in case of war to support China. As Tseng Chi rejected these conditions, Li Hung Chang ordered Cho Ha Pau, the new Tartar general at Hailung-kang, to undertake the negotiations." "Strong evidence exists," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring yesterday, "that negotiations are on foot between China and Russia with regard to the cession of the three eastern provinces."

Binghamton Counterfeiting Case.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 29.—At yesterday's hearing in the counterfeiting case H. P. Holland, who was the first man arrested, made a lengthy confession of his part in the affair. His tale, which reads like a dime novel, is full of secret meetings in out of the way places, passwords and other characteristics of yellow literature and implicates Hill, Heffron and Morse, three of the prisoners. He states that the men, after initiating him into their "society," told him that the money was some that had been stolen years ago and offered to sell him five bills for $10. He accepted the offer. The men said nothing about the money being counterfeit. From the testimony of Harrison Sweet of Lestershire it would seem that the bills had been made in this city. Sweet said that in conversation with Walter Hill the latter asserted he knew a man in Binghamton "who makes bogus bills, but would not 'squeal' on him for $10,000."

Nominations by Governor Voorhees.

TRENTON, Jan. 29.—Governor Voorhees sent to the senate the name of Judge Charles E. Hendrickson of Burlington county to succeed the late Justice Ludlow as a member of the supreme court. The governor also sent to the senate the name of Justice William F. Gummere, one of the present members of the supreme court, to succeed Chief Justice Depue next November, the time when Chief Justice Depue's resignation goes into effect. Judge Hendrickson is one of the special judges of the court of errors and appeals. In politics he is a Democrat. It is semiofficially announced that as soon as Judge Hendrickson's nomination as supreme court justice is confirmed the governor will nominate ex-Mayor G. D. W. Vroom to succeed Judge Hendrickson as a special judge of the court of errors and appeals. Mr. Vroom is also a Democrat and is at present supreme court reporter.

New Naval Training Ships.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The naval board on construction has prepared estimates of cost and outlined the work for constructing two new training ships for the navy. The vessels are to have a steaming speed of between nine and ten knots each on a displacement of about 3,000 tons, besides having a complete sailing equipment. One is to be built of wood and the other of steel, and the cost is estimated at about $900,000 each. The estimates of the board are to be transmitted to congress immediately.

Fatally Injured In a Quarrel.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 29.—William H. Henman, a painter, and John W. Crous, a hotel proprietor, became involved in a drunken brawl in the latter's hotel here. Crous ejected Henman from the place and then knocked him down, crushing his skull. Henman is dying in the hospital and Crous is under arrest.

Senator Parsons Still Living.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 29.—Senator Parsons was resting somewhat easier last night, although still in an extremely exhausted condition. His wonderful vitality alone sustains the patient, who has alternate rallying and sinking spells, the latter of which become more and more pronounced.

New Hotel For Troy.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The business men of this city last night held a largely attended meeting at the Chamber of Commerce and decided that Troy needed a first class hotel. To emphasize the decision they at once subscribed $66,000, and plans will be drawn for the new hotel.

Out of Prison to Testify.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Catherine Loonie, who is serving a sentence of four years in Auburn prison for forgery, was brought here yesterday and testified before the grand jury in the case of Mayor Frank H. Flood, who is under $10,000 bail on a charge of forgery.

SENATOR TOWNE OUT

Speaks on the Philippine Question and Retires.

MINNESOTAN WARMLY APPLAUDED.

The Administration Policy In Archipelago Sharply Criticised as Meaning Annihilation to the Filipinos.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The senate turned from the grind of appropriation bills yesterday to listen to a speech which partook of the character of an oration from Senator Towne of Minnesota. Since he entered the senate a few weeks ago on appointment of Governor Lind the young Minnesotan has had little opportunity to display his talents. As his reputation as an orator had preceded him there was much interest in his speech, which was in advocacy of his resolution for a cessation of hostilities in the Philippines.

The floor was crowded with senators and members of the house of representatives, the latter including Representatives Littlefield, McCall, Cooper and others who have been prominent in insular legislation. The galleries, public and private, were crowded to overflowing. The senators on the Democratic side gave Mr. Towne marked attention. On the Republican side the attention was less noticeable, although Mr. Hoar and Mr. Hale at first followed the speech closely, at times exchanging smiling comment on some of the utterances. At one point Mr. Depew took a front seat and listened attentively.

Mr. Towne's style of delivery was clear and forcible. Although restricted by manuscript, he had the subject well in hand and rolled out the fine periods with a fervor that sent them echoing through the chamber. The speech abounded in apotheoses to liberty and patriotism and scathing and scornful arraignment of the policy by which the Filipinos were being annihilated. At one point an outburst of applause from the galleries led to a vigorous warning from the presiding officer against demonstrations of approval or disapproval. As the orator closed his brilliant peroration there was another outburst of applause despite the warnings of the chair. Immediately following Mr. Towne's speech the credentials of his successor, Mr. Clapp of Minnesota, were presented, and after being sworn in the new senator took his seat, and Mr. Towne retired.

The rest of the day was devoted to the Indian appropriation bill, the discussion turning on irrigation and little progress being made.

The major portion of the day in the house was occupied in the transaction of District of Columbia business. The bill to revise and codify the postal laws, which has been under consideration at intervals for ten days, was finally passed. Its friends succeeded in confining the measure strictly to the purpose for which it was framed, a codification and revision of existing laws. All attempts to amend it in any vital particular failed.

Cannon Firing Checked Storms.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—United States Consul Covert, at Lyons, France, has informed the state department that the congress of delegates held at Padua, Italy, to consider the question of firing cannon at the clouds to prevent the devastation of hail among the wine growers of France and Italy has adjourned. The reports presented to the congress by the wine growers were all in favor of the efficacy of the use of cannon. By an almost unanimous vote it was resolved that the firing of cannon stopped the movement of hurricanes, that the lightning and thunder ceased, that rain or melted snow immediately began to fall and the clouds passed away.

Severe Storms In Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—Hurricanelike snowstorms prevail in many parts of Germany, and during the last 24 hours considerable damage has been done. The weather is particularly violent on the east Frisian coast, where the city of Leer and the neighboring districts were struck by a tidal wave. At Frankfort-on-the-Main snow is falling heavily. Dispatches from Bremen say that a strong northwest wind is driving the water into the Weser until it nearly reaches the edge of the dikes. A freight train near Dresden was partly hurled from an elevated track on the line from Potschappel to Wilsdruff, and five cars were badly wrecked.

Oil From Under the Sea.

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—The oil excitement is increasing throughout Texas. It is conservatively estimated by those who have been keeping in close touch with the movement that fully 5,000,000 acres of prospective oil lands have been leased in different parts of the state since the great gusher near Beaumont was discovered some days ago. The demand for well drilling rigs is unprecedented. Scores of these outfits are being shipped into the state from Pennsylvania and Indiana. There has been a big jump in land values.

A Wounded Man's Amazing Vitality.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Physicians are amazed at the wonderful vitality of R. A. Van Amberg of Campbell Hall, who, while bleeding from numerous horrible wounds about the head and legs, walked from that place to Goshen, five miles, in the piercing cold to complain of an assault to the police. The identity of the assailant is unknown. Van Amberg is in a serious condition.

Snowbound In Maryland.

FREDERICK, Md., Jan. 29.—The Frederick and Philadelphia train leaving here at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon over the Pennsylvania road encountered a snowdrift at Sharretts cut, 20 miles north, where it became completely snowbound and remained so until 7 o'clock in the evening, when the four coaches, with their passengers, were extricated from their perilous position.

Misplaced Switch Causes Death.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A misplaced switch on the West Shore railroad caused a collision yesterday morning between a local passenger train and a gravel train half a mile north of the West Shore depot at Weehawken. Two men were killed outright in the accident, three men seriously injured and may not recover, and five others were injured less seriously.

Railway Tickets Stolen.

NORTH NORWICH, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The Lackawanna railroad station at this place was broken into and the ticket case containing about 1,500 tickets stolen.

A DAY OF MOURNING.

Saturday to Be Observed In England. Funeral Arrangements Incomplete.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—It was officially announced late last evening that King Edward had ordered Saturday to be observed as a day of general mourning. All the banks will be closed and business suspended.

The arrangements for the funeral have been only partially determined. Almost everything thus far is provisional and subject to the approval of the king, who will come to London today to look over what has been proposed and to give his approval or disapproval.

By order of the king the office of works directs that all draperies displayed by citizens shall be of purple. The procession from St. George's chapel royal at Windsor to Frogmore has been abandoned, and the coffin will remain in the chapel until the day of interment, which will probably be Monday.

Emperor William has commanded Count von Wedel, master of horse, to bring six of his majesty's chargers from Berlin, and the kaiser, crown prince and the other Germans in official attendance at the funeral will ride in the procession. The gun carriages to be used at Cowes and Windsor and in London will be painted the color of khaki and fitted with rubber tires.

King Edward has commanded Mr. A. Forestier, the well known artist of Black and White, to draw the lying in state for him.

The king and queen, with the kaiser, will attend the memorial service in St. George's chapel, Windsor, Sunday.

In order to give Londoners a full opportunity to witness the funeral procession it has been decided to extend the route, which is now fixed to pass Buckingham palace, through St. James' park and past St. James' palace to Piccadilly, then along Piccadilly to Hyde park corner, through Hyde park, emerging at the marble arch, then along Edgeware road to Paddington station.

This is doubtless the length of the route originally intended and will occupy fully two hours. For similar reasons the route at Windsor has been extended to include High street, Park street and Long walk before entering the castle.

Flowers For the Burial.

COWES, Jan. 29.—The king's wreath for Queen Victoria, resting on a white cushion 5 feet 6 inches square and made of orchids, lilies of the valley and Parma violets, with the lettering in violets "Good and Beloved," has arrived at Osborne House. The officers, surgeons and nurses of the American hospital ship Maine sent a ten foot floral shield surmounted by an eagle.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The estate of Philip D. Armour is valued at $15,000,000.

Widespread damage by snow and wind was reported in England.

Supreme court sustained Missouri against Illinois in drainage canal case.

Services commemorative of General Armstrong were held at Hampton institute, in Virginia.

Professor Brushear of Allegheny has completed instrumental equipment for observation of solar eclipse.

Chinese pirates attacked a European houseboat, killing the boatmen and wounding two occupants.

The steamer Holland was lost at the entrance to the river Maas. Eighteen persons are believed to be drowned.

Henry C. Nieman was fined $25 by Judge Jerome in the New York court of special sessions for spitting in an elevated railway car.

Suit Against Oil Company Dismissed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The suit brought by H. B. Frye and Reginald Frye against the American Linseed Oil company for $25,000 commission was abruptly terminated at noon yesterday by Justice Garretson in the supreme court at Morristown, N. J. The justice granted a nonsuit. Richard D. Lindabury for the defense made the motion and set forth that no understanding or promise amounted to a contract and the evidence showed that what the Fryes were to do was left to a future time and agreement. There was not, he said, a particle of evidence that the Fryes separately or jointly had accomplished anything in regard to merging the nine companies into one corporation.

Indians Not on the Warpath.

SOUTH M'ALESTER, I. T., Jan. 29.—Daniel Bell, chief of the Choctaw Snakes, when interviewed stated that the Indians are not on the warpath and will not molest white people or their property. Railroad property is safe. There is no danger of bridges being burned. The Indians' organization, as perfected for mutual protection, will be kept up, but not as a menace to the white people. Chief Bell claims to have authority from the president to be governed by the treaty of 1830, and none other is recognized. The Choctaw Snakes want to hold lands in common and are opposed to allotment. No further trouble is expected.

Woman Burned to a Crisp.

ALBANY, Jan. 29.—On his return from work last night John B. Kerwin, a brewery workman, found the body of his wife lying on the kitchen floor burned to a crisp. Mrs. Kerwin was subject to fainting fits, and it is supposed that after applying the match to the wood in the kitchen stove preparatory to getting ready the evening meal she was seized with a fit, her clothes caught fire and that she inhaled the flame. People living in the house did not hear any unusual noise during the afternoon. The coroner has charge.

A Driver Killed.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 29.—George Felix, driver of a jobbing wagon, was killed while driving down hill. The harness broke, and the weight of the wagon came upon the horse. The animal bolted, and Felix was thrown out. His head struck the curbing, breaking his skull and cutting a long gash in his head. The horse collided with a telephone pole and ripped away a large pipe filled with wires. Afterward it dashed through a large plate glass window and was caught before further damage was done.

Clerk Returned With Cash.

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—Louis F. Berlinger, who is employed by a rubber firm here and who was reported by the police on Saturday as having mysteriously disappeared with $400 of the firm's cash, returned to his desk yesterday with the money intact. Berlinger explained his absence from business to the firm in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Single Headed Commission Bills Advance In Senate and House.

ALBANY, Jan. 29.—Lieutenant Governor Woodruff presided at last night's session of the senate, and the chaplain prayed for the recovery and spiritual consolation of Senator Parsons of Rochester who is dangerously ill.

The senate passed Assemblyman Traub's bill providing for a system of taxation for repairing highways in Dewitt, Onondaga county.

The labor consolidation bill was then advanced to third reading.

The single headed state prison commission bill was advanced to third reading without debate or objection. The bill has been amended to conform with the assembly measure on the same subject.

One of Governor Odell's single headed commission bills, that creating a department of labor and the office of commissioner of labor and abolishing the offices of commissioner of labor statistics and factory inspector and the state board of mediation and arbitration, was advanced to third reading in the house.

Mr. Costello, introducer of the measure, said the bill was in the interest of economy and at the same time would better protect the interests of the labor people. The bill was advanced without further debate.

The debate to cede Governors Island to the United States government was made a special order for discussion today.

A HEAD ON COLLISION.

Five Persons Killed and One Injured In West Virginia.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 29.—Five persons dead and one severely injured, two engines and ten loaded cars wrecked, is the result of the mistake of a train crew yesterday afternoon between Petroleum and Volcano Junction, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

It was the old story of the engineer being asleep at his post and mistaking the first section of a passing train for the second. Thinking both had passed, he pulled his train on to the main track and sped onward to what would seem to have necessarily been his death. All the dead are trainmen.

The scene was indescribable. All the five men pinned under the wreck were dead, and only one of the bodies has been found. It was that of J. G. Dailey, which was so crushed as to be unrecognizable and could only be identified by his watch, which stopped at 1:05 p. m.

All passengers on the east bound and west bound accommodation trains were transferred at the wreck, but the fast trains were sent around by Moundsville and the Ohio River railroad.

Brakeman Leslie Davis, whose day it was to go on No. 98, owes his life to the call boy's failure to find him in the morning, and Courtney was substituted and went to his death.

Back From Skaguay.

PORT TOWNSHEND, Wash., Jan. 29.—The steamer Victoria, which was reported disabled in Alaska, has arrived from White Horse, Jan. 25, bringing 50 Klondikers, most of whom came down on the Victoria. Sixty thousand dollars in dust was in the steamer's safe, and it is estimated that an equal amount was brought by the passengers. Returning passengers report that the Klondike is free from smallpox, and the quarantine has been raised. No deaths from the disease have occurred in the Yukon valley, and not a case has been reported in six weeks. The cold wave continues to sweep the Yukon valley. Telegraphic advices received at Skaguay Jan. 24 announce that the temperature at Dawson was 54 degrees below zero.

The Fight Enjoined.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 29.—The suit to enjoin the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight at Cincinnati was filed in the common pleas court of Hamilton county this morning. The petition, which is a voluminous document, was completed late yesterday. The Sangerfest Athletic Association company, the principals in the fight and their managers and the Cincinnati Zoological company, which owns the ground on which Sangerfest hall is situated, are made defendants. The petition recites that the proposed boxing contest is "a public nuisance and against the peace and dignity of the state." Among the allegations that will be made in support of this claim is that the event would attract a large number of "toughs" to Cincinnati.

Shareholders Preparing to Protest.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The Tribune today says that the shareholders of the insolvent Anglo-American Savings and Loan company who live in Titusville, Pa.; Newburg, N. Y., and Washington, whose claims aggregate $550,000, have organized a shareholders' committee and are preparing to protest against the turning over to the Empire Realty company of the Pearce mortgages, aggregating more than $2,000,000. These shareholders, it is learned, are getting ready to sue the directors, many of whom are considered to be men of large means. Many shareholders who consented to the transfer proposed by the directors of the company's real estate holdings have withdrawn their consent.

Kerr Pleads Guilty.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 29.—George J. Kerr was brought before Justice Dixon in the court of oyer and terminer yesterday morning, and his counsel, John W. Harding, announced that his client would plead non vult contendere to a charge of rape. Prosecutor Emley accepted the plea. This means that the indictment for murder will not be moved. The extreme penalty which may be imposed now is 15 years' imprisonment at hard labor and a fine of $1,000. Kerr was very pale and careworn and sat during the court proceedings with downcast eyes.

The Cuban Constitution.

HAVANA, Jan. 29.—Articles 14 to 22, inclusive, of the third section of the Cuban constitution submitted to the convention by the central committee were adopted yesterday. An article providing all the degrees for the exercise of public professions was added, as was also an article providing against prohibiting under any consideration Cubans landing in Cuba or being deported.

Nebraska Deadlock Continues.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 29.—The vote for United States senator yesterday was as follows: Allen, 45; W. N. Thompson, 33; Hitchcock, 12; Grounse, 5; Currie, 18; Hinshaw, 12; Meiklejohn, 25; Martin, 6; Rosewater, 17; D. M. Thompson, 35; scattering, 15.

GOVERNOR GOT MAD.

Mrs. Nation's Tongue Was Too Much For Him.

SALOON SMASHER AT KANSAS CAPITAL

She Makes Life Miserable For Chief Executive Stanley, Attorney General Goddard and Sheriff Cook All In One Day.

TOPEKA, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Carrie Nation yesterday invaded the office of Governor William E. Stanley in his chambers in the capital building and for a solid hour arraigned the chief executive of the state for his failure to close the saloons of Kansas. Then in turn she visited the offices of Attorney General Goddard, County Attorney Nichols and Sheriff Porter S. Cook and demanded of each that they close the saloons.

When Mrs. Nation entered Governor Stanley's office, she was followed by a crowd of newspaper reporters and others. By turns she administered to Governor Stanley a tongue lashing for his failure to uphold the laws against liquor selling or begged him for aid to carry on her crusade. She put her questions with fierceness and answered them herself without giving the governor time to utter a complete sentence in his own defense. Mrs. Nation accused the governor of branding her as a lawbreaker and demanded to know if he had a better method than she of ridding the state of saloons.

"Do you think my method is right?" she asked.

"No, I don't," replied the governor.

"Well, governor, have you a better one?"

As the governor turned in his chair to make answer every one listened intently.

"No, I don't think I have," he finally replied. Continuing he managed to edge in a few words more: "What can I do? I am powerless. The law does not allow me to do what I desire. The law gives me no privileges. What can I do?"

"If necessary call out the militia," was Mrs. Nation's prompt reply. Then the crusader began a philippic that caused Governor Stanley's anger to rise, and the crowd grouped about his desk to look on in wonder.

"You can close every joint in Kansas if you will, Governor Stanley," she said with force. "You can do it if you want to, but you won't. You are a lawbreaker yourself if you do not. You took your oath of office to keep the constitution. You refuse my request. You are not only a lawbreaker, but a perjurer."

As Mrs. Nation proceeded she became more vehement, and her voice quivered. She rose from her chair and looked full in the face of Governor Stanley and, pointing her finger at him, called him "lawbreaker" and "perjurer" without the least show of fear. She repeated these words of accusation again and again. He tried to make reply, but she gave him no chance, the words of invective proceeding from her with a rush that would not be stemmed. Finally, his temper gone, Governor Stanley arose from his seat and shouted back:

"You cannot come here and talk this way to me. You cannot talk to me this way, I say. You are a woman, but I won't stand it. You will have to leave if you cannot"—

"I am a mother, I am a grandmother, and I represent the mothers of the state."

"You don't. You don't represent them," almost shouted the governor.

The words flew back and forth with such fierceness that it was impossible to distinguish them. The room was in an uproar. Then Mrs. Nation talked more calmly, pleading with the governor to aid her.

"You come with me and help smash saloons," she urged. And then she added: "If you won't help us, if you won't help me, I'll go around and I'll smash, smash, smash. The devil seems to have a cinch on the men, but he hasn't a cinch on the hatchets and rocks."

Finally Governor Stanley volunteered: "You get the prosecuting attorneys of the different counties to put the "joint" keepers in jail, and I will use my power as governor to keep them in. I will see that they are not pardoned out."

This promise instantly transformed Mrs. Nation. She fairly beamed with joy and, thanking the governor, started for the office of Attorney General Goddard. The attorney general was engaged, but she forced her way into his private office and introduced herself with these words:

"We want you to close these joints, these murder shops." She demanded that he remove those officials who neglected their duty in allowing the saloons to run, and when he evaded her direct questions and referred to the county attorney Mrs. Nation asked:

"Mr. Attorney General, you are not dodging, are you? Now, don't dodge."

With a parting injunction to do what he had sworn to do on taking his oath Mrs. Nation, with a bodyguard of newspaper men, followed by a crowd of people, started for the county attorney's office.

"The governor and attorney general are dodging," she said, "but there's no dodging my hatchet." She had lost her wraps and her veil during her raid on the statehouse, but she wasted no time looking for them.

To County Attorney Nichols she repeated her demands and finally said she wished to swear out a warrant for the saloon keeper's wife who had attacked her Saturday night with a broomstick. With a few words of warning Mrs. Nation and her train were again on their way, this time headed for the office of Sheriff Cook.

The sheriff soon was in a rage, and at last, boiling over with anger under her scorching attacks, he broke away and rushed toward a newspaper man in the crowd who had pointed at him, seized the offender's collar and made a motion to strike him. Others interfered, and Sheriff Cook returned to Mrs. Nation's side and asked her to his private office to continue the argument alone.

The chief of police was picked out for the next onslaught, but his office was found locked, and Mrs. Nation harangued a crowd that had gathered in the street near the city hall.

Mine Workers Choose Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 29.—By an overwhelming vote the United Mine Workers of America decided to hold their next annual convention in this city for the third consecutive year. In secret session the scale committee's report was discussed at length. So far the convention has adopted the proposition for a 10 cent flat increase.

A Good Combination.

This question of the redistricting of New Jersey to provide for ten Congressmen is causing no end of trouble for the Republican leaders of the State. Such an endless variety of combinations are possible that it becomes extremely difficult to combine numerous suggestions which have come from one end of the State to the other.

Naturally each of the present Congressmen is anxious to see his district so arranged that the present balance of power is retained. Then the leaders want to see the new districts so formed that the Republican party will win when election time comes in as many as possible.

The old Eighth Congressional district, in which Plainfield and the rest of Union county is included, has never been a very satisfactory division. Besides Union, there was all of Essex county except Newark and that little chunk of Hudson included in the city of Bayonne. Essex and Union found very little in common, while the city of Bayonne was never in touch with the other counties in the district. The interests were not identical and the district was rather a difficult one to suit.

Various plans have been proposed, but all of them include a complete separation of the three counties which now go to make up the Eighth. According to the plan proposed by Franklin Murphy, chairman of the Republican State committee, Union county was combined with Morris, Sussex and portions of Passaic county to form the new Fourth. Such a combination would be as bad as the old arrangement.

Another plan, which is said to have found favor with all the present Congressmen and with many of the Republican state leaders as well, unites Union, Somerset and Morris counties as one Congressional district. Such a union would probably please Union county more than any other plan so far suggested as the three counties are naturally united. The interests of the inhabitants of the three counties are vastly more in common than would be the interests of any other combination of counties including Union yet proposed.

Plainfield and North Plainfield would be particularly pleased at such an arrangement as it would place both city and borough in the same district. At present, the two communities, although so close together, have no interest in common when it comes to the election of the Congressmen. Somerset does not naturally belong with Middlesex and Monmouth and the proposed new district would take that county out of their company and place it in far more satisfactory position.

A district, formed of Union, Somerset and Morris, would furnish no end of lively competition when it came to the choice of its representative but it would undoubtedly unite far easier and with more general satisfaction on a candidate than could the present Eighth district or Third district.

The health authorities of Orange have decided that a rummage sale held in that place was directly responsible for several cases of diphtheria in that city. This report has given foundation for an erroneous impression that such trouble might be feared from a sale in this city. Those who knew anything about the management of the rummage sale held in this city will remember that every possible precaution was taken by the local health authorities to prevent the spread of any contagious disease through the sale. The rooms were first thoroughly disinfected and then all the articles placed on sale received the same careful treatment. There was no danger of contagious disease at that time and there will be none at the rummage sale of the Relief Association this spring for the same precautions will be taken and everything possible will be done along those lines.

Many things which have been said during the last three months will have to be forgotten if the "harmony" dinner of the New Jersey Democrats is going to be a success. But it will not be until all Democrats are willing to overlook some things and meet on a common ground that the Democratic party can hope to make a fight in Jersey with any hope of success.

It is not likely that the Republicans of Plainfield will send a very large delegation to Washington to witness the inauguration of President McKinley. It is not that they lack enthusiasm but there are comparatively few who care to brave the throng which will assemble for that occasion.

The best of machinery will break sometimes but the Jersey Central Railroad has been fortunate in having accidents to its rolling stock occur when the trains are only moving slowly.

Not a day passes that some stranger does not call attention to the universal absence of street signs in Plainfield. The matter calls for immediate action by the Common Council.

Judicious advertising has never failed to bring good returns.

The snow storms seem to fight shy of Plainfield this winter.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Additional polling places must be designated in a few townships in this county before the spring election, as the law makes it compulsory to do so when a polling place polls more than six hundred votes at an election. In the First District of Bernards and the Borough of North Plainfield, at the last election, over that number of votes were cast, so both of these districts will be divided into two polling places each. North Plainfield Borough will then have three precincts, and with Plainfield Township, one, making four in all. Bernards will contain three. North Plainfield will come to the next Democratic county convention with eight delegates and Bernards with six.—Bound Brook State Centre.

The recent action of Governor Voorhees in reappointing to the State Board of Education James L Hays, of Newark; Otto Crouse, of Jersey City; Francis Scott, of Paterson, and S. St. J. McCutchen, of Plainfield, so early in the session was a marked compliment, and one that will doubtless be appreciated by the State at large, in recognition of the active educational services of these gentlemen. While these gentlemen are all active in professional and business life, they yet find time to give attention to the many responsibilities resting upon the State Board. In addition to the usual duties in this connection, Mr. McCutchen served on the Commission to Revise the School Law, a work that was very exacting, not only upon the time of the Commission, but upon their professional training.—Trenton State Gazette.

Dunellen, Jan. 29—For the past two weeks the residents in the western part of the borough and those living near the "tanks," have been greatly bothered by tramps. Several times lately suspicious characters have been discovered loitering about residences and a few nights ago, Lawrence Reidy fired upon one whom he discovered prowling around at midnight. Mr. Reidy thought he had wounded the fellow but a thorough search by Constable Polhemus and several of the neighbors failed to reveal anyone. The citizens are determined to abate the nuisance and will adopt exreme measures to do so.

There will be no admission fee at the lecture in the Methodist church this evening but a silver collection will be taken at the close. There will no doubt be a large attendance as Professor Green's reputation as a speaker has preceded him. It is the intention of the Board of Education to secure if possible, H. M. Maxson, superintendent of the Plainfield schools, to deliver the next lecture which will probably be the last in the series.

The pupils of the Whittier school have appointed a committee to draw up resolutions of sympathy upon the untimely death of Ernest Marienschenck, a copy of which will be framed and placed in the assembly hall.

Next Thursday is the last day on which borough taxes can remain off record. On the following day all delinquents will be sent to the county clerk for record and the expense added to the bill.

Harry Lister, of Watchung avenue, is spending the week in Philadelphia at the cycle show.

Miss Gertrude Andrews, of Central avenue, is convalescing from a severe case of typhoid fever.

Miss Hattie Goodman, of New York, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. K. Rottberg, of West Third street.

Mrs. William Huff and children, of Manning avenue, will move March 1 to 686 West Front street.

Mrs. Hattie P. Taggart, of New York, is a guest at the home of John Haviland, of West Front street.

Miss Lizzie Poulson, of East Millstone, has returned home after a stay of three weeks with Plainfield frrends.

Mifford Giles, of LaGrande avenue, has recovered from an attack of appendicitis, and has returned to work.

Joseph A. Blatz, of Somerset street, has recovered from a long illness with the grip and is able to resume business.

Miss Addie Weaver, of Brooklyn, has returned after a visit with her father, Peter Weaver, of West End Park.

Mr and Mrs. John Hope, of East Third street, will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their marriage this evening.

Mrs. George N. Burdick, of Potter Hill, R. I., has returned after a visit with Mrs. George H. Babcock, of West Eighth street.

Charles W. Dobbins and family, of Caldwell, Essex county, are spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heath, of New York, have been the guests of Plainfield relatives for a few days. They expect to take up their residence in Orange next spring.

Mrs. Shoemaker, of Hoboken, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Katherine Shoemaker, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Edward Beekman, of West Eigth street.

The illness which has prevailed for the past week at the home of Charles Debele, on Rock avenue, is somewhat abated. With the exception of Mr. Debele, who is still ill with rheumatism, the members of the family are almost well.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Careful to Witness.

"The Sorrows of Satan," Marie Corelli's great dramatic work, will be seen for first time here at Music Hall Monday night, and will undoubtedly attract much attention. The dramatic element has been a part of almost every success in the world's history. There was a dramatic element in Napoleon's character and there was a dramatic element in the sermons of Henry Ward Beecher. The love of this element has been natural in the human race since time was young. Eve possessed it and today the children in every land are happiest when they are "playing it" what they are not. The most widely read novels are those that are strongest in the dramatic element, such as "Phroso," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "A Tale of Two Cities," and a score of others that have been the dramatic successes of the past few seasons. "The Sorrows of Satan" has been pronounced one of tha greatest plays ever seen, and it will be presented here by Manager Brady, of the Manhattan Theatre, New York, with great cast and beautiful scenic effects.

* * * * *

"The Game Keeper," Con T. Murphy's latest drama, will be at Music Hall Thursday of next week. The piece is a simple, yet sweet comedy drama of Irish life with a characteristic brogue and pretty costumes while all the scenery portrays the locale of the situations in a capable manner The title role is played by Smith O'Brien, an actor of much merit. His sweet voice and old time melodies commands repeated encores. Miss Kittie Coleman, who was for some time associated with Chauncey Olcott, is seen to great advantage as Miss Mollie Doolan.

ONE-HALF OFF SALE ON ALL WINTER COATS.

Every garment in our Women's Coat Department is Reduced in Price Just One-Half.

The Season for Spring Goods is Coming and we must have room for the Big Line that is destined to take the place of winter goods.

This is the opportunity to get GREAT BARGAINS.

The weather has played havoc with our trade in heavy garments—it has been too moderate all along for a brisk patronage in winter coats. Early in the fall, however, we couldn't foretell what the weather was going to be, and, taking a risk, we laid in a large and splendid stock of women's coats. We selected a large number of all styles, qualities and prices. Then it seemed that Jack Frost and the Snow King went out of business and many who had contemplated buying new coats for the winter season kept putting off the purchase of the garment from day to day until now, as the winter is in its last days, we find that we've got a bigger stock of these articles than we care to carry over to next season. There is no use bemoaning about the weather, though. There is just one thing for us to do. That is, get rid of those coats—sell 'em out fast. We believe that the policy we emphasize in the few display lines at the top of this paragraph will do the business for us—cut the price of every coat in half and keep it there till they are all gone.

Now the stock of coats that we offer in this marvelous mark down sale is made up of garments that cannot be improved upon in style, price, quality and workmanship if you hunted in all the big cities of the country. We buy stock of this kind in immense quantities—remember, we've got four big stores in as many different cities—and have a very great advantage over smaller buyers. All of these advantages we give to our customers.

Preußen.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Das dem preußischen Landtage unlängst zugegangene Budget der preußischen Staatseisenbahnen für das nächste Fiskaljahr weist 1,441,000,000 Mark Einnahmen oder 100,000,000 Mark mehr auf, als die Hälfte der preußischen Gesammteinnahmen beträgt. Die Einnahmen werden auf 31,000,000 Mark höher als die des Vorjahres geschätzt. Die Länge des preußischen Staatseisenbahnnetzes stellt sich auf 30,833 Kilometer (19,271 englische Meilen).—Laut einer offiziellen Statistik hat die Sterberate in Berlin in 1900 um vier Prozent zugenommen, die Rate der Geburten aber nur um 2.5 Prozent.—Eine Bibliothek mit vorläufig 8000 Bänden wurde seitens der Korporation der Berliner Kaufmannschaft eröffnet. Das Benutzungsrecht erstreckt sich nicht nur auf die Mitglieder der Korporation, sondern ist auf deren Angestellte ausgedehnt, sowie auf die Lehrer und die besonders empfohlenen Schüler der kaufmännischen Fortbildungsschulen.—In Anfällen von Geistesstörung Selbstmord verübt haben der 39 Jahre alte Kaufmann Philipp Geibel und der 30jährige Schneider Otto Gabel.

Brandenburg. Dahier ist in hohem Alter der Kreisphysikus und Geheime Sanitätsrath Dr. Kreusler gestorben. Er war der Verfasser des bekannten, beim Ausbruch des deutsch-französischen Krieges 1870 gedichteten Liedes: „König Wilhelm saß ganz heiter" u. s. w.

Charlottenburg. Wohnhäuser auf städtische Kosten zu errichten, hat die Stadtgemeinde Charlottenburg beschlossen. Die Häuser sollen vor Allem kleine Wohnungen enthalten, um billige Wohnungen für die minder begüterten Klassen zu schaffen und der herrschenden Wohnungsnoth wirksam entgegen zu treten.

Provinz Hannover.

Emden. Anhier hat sich der Arzt Dr. med. Herlyn erschossen. Der Genannte hatte eine ausgedehnte Praxis und war Mitglied der Aerztekammer für die Provinz Hannover.

Göttingen. Die Stadt Göttingen hat nach Ausweis der jüngsten Volkszählung 30,180 Einwohner, gegen etwas über 25,000 im Jahre 1895. Die Zahl der Studenten ist seit 1893 von 700 auf 1300 gestiegen. Zur Zeit läßt die Stadt mit einem Kostenaufwand von 240,000 Mark ein Winter-Schwimmbad erbauen.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Kassel. Im Oktober v. J. erfolgte ein Ausschreiben zur Erlangung von Entwürfen für eine auf dem Brasselsberge bei Kassel zu errichtende Bismarck-Säule. Auf dieses Ausschreiben waren 28 Entwürfe eingegangen, von denen das Preisgericht den Entwurf des Architekten Fritz Epstein (Kassel) mit dem ersten Preis, die Entwürfe des Architekten Hans Fanghänel (Kassel) mit dem zweiten und dritten Preise bedachte.

Wanfried. Auf ein Braunkohlenlager stieß man hier beim Bohren eines Brunnens. Nach den Aussagen Sachverständiger ist das Kohlenlager von größerem Umfange.

Wiesbaden. In einer Stadtverordnetenversammlung wurde ein Betrag von 6000 Mark für Nothstandsarbeiten im Winter (Wegebauten) bewilligt.

Provinz Pommern.

Köslin. Hierorts starb der frühere Brauereibesitzer und Stadtrath a. D. Karl Bahr im Alter von 78 Jahren.

Wollin. Auf dem Gute Trebenow war der neun Jahre alte Sohn des Arbeiters Stein mit dem Schälen von Kartoffeln beschäftigt, die ihm sein vier Jahre jüngeres Schwesterchen zureichte. Die Kleine stellte sich dabei ungeschickt an, worüber der Junge schließlich so in Wuth gerieth, daß er mit dem Messer nach der Schwester warf. Diese wurde so unglücklich am Unterleib getroffen, daß sie nach einigen Tagen starb.

Provinz Posen.

Bromberg. Das hiesige Straßenbahnnetz hat eine Erweiterung erfahren, indem eine neue Linie nach Schröttersdorf, in dessen Nähe der städtische Schlacht- und Viehhof belegen ist, eröffnet wurde. Für die neue Linie gilt, wie für alle anderen, der 10-Pfennig-Tarif.

Filehne. Die Feier des 50jährigen Bestehens beging kürzlich das Privat-Pädagogium Ostrau.

Labischin. Neulich wurden der Schweinehändler Dobroczelski aus Oburzuig und sein Knecht von einem umstürzenden Wagen erdrückt.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

THE MODE.

Wraps For Winter With More or Less Elaborate Lining.

The lining of wraps has been for a long time an excuse for extravagance, very simple mantles sometimes having a lining of great cost. Silks, satins, plushes and furs have all had their turn, and now it is mousseline de soie and lace. The mousseline is shirred, gathered and tucked until it assumes a mossy appearance, and many yards are consumed in preparing the lining for an ordinary cape. Mantles of white, silver gray or light beige cloth, very simple and plainly finished with stitching, have a lining of Irish guipure or venetian embroidery, which adds enormously to their value. Women who already possess heavy lace or embroidery may by thus using it obtain a most luxurious effect, and fortunately a cape lining does not demand to be cut in a number of pieces, thus destroying the goods. It may be kept all in one and the material utilized afterward for something else.

The cut shows a reception gown of old blue cloth. The skirt has a slight train and closes at the side under a band of mink, which is also carried around the foot. The bodice is fitted at the back and draped in front and has a yoke of white mousseline de soie. A drapery of lace is carried around the yoke, forming sleeve caps and passing down the front in a jabot. This lace drapery is headed by a band of mink. The pagoda sleeves are bordered with mink and beneath them are full sleeves of white mousseline de soie gathered into a band at the wrist. The belt is of black velvet, with a bow, and a bow of black velvet is placed at the bosom. A band of fur encircles the collar. JUDIC CHOLLET.

CARE OF THE HANDS.

Tight Gloves and Cold Water to Be Avoided.

Nothing is so detrimental to the appearance of the hands as cold. It roughens and coarsens the skin and darkens its tint. It is absolutely necessary to keep the hands warm in winter if they are to look well and to avoid putting them in cold water. To wash them in very warm water immediately before going out of doors is also injurious. Tepid water should be used, with a little bran or almond meal, and only the purest, finest toilet soap should ever be employed. Camphor ice softens and whitens the skin and may be rubbed into the hands when they have been injured by exposure. There are two arguments against tight gloves. One is that they are vulgar; the other that they keep the hands cold and therefore tend to make them ugly and to cause the blood to rush to them as soon as the gloves are removed. Moderately loose gloves and good care are required to keep the hands nice.

The bolero illustrated is of flax blue peau de soie and is ornamented with an embroidery of black silk soutache. The guimpe and collar are of plaited white satin, with tabs of black velvet held by tiny gold buttons. The half length sleeves of blue peau de soie have cuffs of white satin with velvet tabs, and below are full sleeves of white satin embroidered with gold thread, which are gathered into a band at the wrist. The wide corselet belt is of black velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION NOTES.

Wraps and Costumes of Many Different Varieties.

Loose wraps are much worn, which is a great saving to the gowns beneath, which would suffer from close fitting garments with tight sleeves. Straight sacks and loose redingotes, warmly lined, are the favorite form for evening wraps to be worn over gowns of such delicacy as to be easily crushed. A scarf of soft silk or crepe de chine is a frequent addition to these wraps.

Combinations of black and white, which never go completely out of favor, are again well to the front. Gowns of black cloth have heavy applications of white satin or thick guipure, and for occasions of ceremony there are costumes of white cloth trimmed with black fox or caracal.

The illustration given today shows a morning jacket of pink cashmere. It is short and tight fitting at the back, while in front it is loose and elongated in two deep points. It has a guimpe of puffed silk framed in revers which are draped at the shoulders by bows of ribbon. A bow with long ends fastens the revers in front. The half length sleeves, the revers and the edges are all finished with silk fringe. Beneath the short sleeves are long, full ones, gathered in by bands of ribbon at the wrist and forming a frill over the hand. A bow of ribbon ornaments the collar. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE DRESS QUESTION.

Originality In Vogue, but Oddity Discredited.

There is a distinct difference between originality of dress and eccentricity. Originality is desirable, eccentricity to be shunned. Good taste and refinement are the surest guides in the matter, and under their restraint individuality may be attained with oddity.

Among the novelties of fashion, which are not, by the way, always the most pleasing or desirable, is an evening mantle entirely of lace, striped with bands of mink fur and having a capuchon to match. This cape is of course made over a warm, padded lining, but that is not obvious, and the combination of fur and lace is striking. Capuchons upon evening wraps are for use as well as ornament. They are loose and large and may be drawn up over the head when necessary.

The cut illustrates an evening costume having as foundation a tight pink silk princess gown. Over this is a gown of plaited white mousseline de soie, with lengthwise bands of guipure, which follows the lines of the figure closely. Around the foot is a plaited flounce of mousseline de soie edged with tiny bands of black velvet and headed by a band of guipure outlined with black velvet. The short bolero of lace is defined by crossed bands of plaited tulle edged with black velvet, and there is a chou of loops of black velvet on each shoulder. The sleeves, which terminate at the elbow by a frill of plaited tulle, are made of bands of plaited tulle ornamented with lines of black velvet. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SETTLEMENT WORK.

Experience in Congested Districts Demonstrates Its Value.

A Form of Philanthropy That Makes the Poor Happier and Teaches Them Moral and Physical Cleanliness.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

THE proposed removal of the Northwestern university settlement at Chicago to a new home of its own is awakening renewed interest in the progress of this, in many respects, remarkable institution. It is regarded as a pioneer in settlement work in Chicago, being the second of its kind established in the city. It was started by university students, and Mrs. Henry Wade Rogers, wife of the then president of the institution, was elected president of the new venture, a position which she holds to-day, although just now not actively connected with the work. She and Mr. W. A. Hamilton are the only ones present at the first meeting who are now serving in any official capacity. The latter is a member of the council and is looked to as referee in most matters of importance. The organization is supported by annual subscriptions and membership fees. Residents defray their own expenses of board and lodging. The enterprise was started in a small cottage by one resident. Now all that can be comfortably accommodated are carrying on the work in a three-story house at 252 West Chicago avenue. Their food is cooked and sent over from the settlement restaurant, across the street, which furnishes home cooking to business men or any who desire wholesome food. At No. 250 club meetings are held at night and a kindergarten during the day. At No. 248 a day nursery is conducted. The work has quite overflowed its present quarters, and last April an area 78 by 124 feet was purchased for $9,000, as a site for the new home. A garden, 30 by 78 feet, will be in front of the residence part on Augusta street, and the gymnasium and auditorium entrance will be on Noble street. There will be a kindergarten room on the first floor, back of that a reading-room, men's club rooms, with billiards and other games; there will be a coffee-room, with a large kitchen adjoining, a library, an office, reception room. Five club rooms on the third floor may, by means of sliding doors, be made one with a large dining hall. On the same floor will be apartments for 11 residents. One philanthropist has contributed $25,000 towards this building, and it is hoped that $15,000 more can be raised.

PROPOSED NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY SETTLEMENT BUILDING.

The clubs are a great boon to the people of the vicinity. They are conducted in a manner which contrasts rather forcibly with the first Young Men's club started at the settlement, in whose constitution was the following remarkable clause: "No boy shall be illegible to membership who is of confirmed dishonest habits." This club came to an untimely end because of a slight misapprehension on the part of one of its members. A public meeting and entertainment was given, before which it had been resolved that "no member shall become intoxicated before 11 o'clock" on that especial evening. But at about nine o'clock the ticket seller, thinking himself absolved because his duties were performed, antedated his privilege by an hour or two. At an indignation meeting held afterward some held with him that the spirit of the rule condoned the transgression, while others believed that the letter of the law should have been obeyed. The result was a division and subsequent dissolution of the club. One becoming acquainted with the work now may see how ideas have improved since that time. Men's, women's, girls' and boys' clubs are doing good work. There are the usual study classes as well as instruction in sloyd work, basket and hammock making, sewing and cooking. Music and art receive their due share of attention. The loan collections of the different settlements exert a great influence on the home lives of the children. Good pictures are loaned for a week to different families, 52 of which may thus have their companionship during a year. A savings bank is conducted for the children of the neighborhood. Few outside its vicinity realize how densely crowded is the Sixteenth ward, where this settlement is situated, crowded more as to land than as to rooms. Nearly every available foot of earth is covered. There is no park or open space. The property is mostly in the hands of small owners and has greatly depreciated in value. The masses of these people prefer life in a dilapidated second floor or even basement to that in a modern three-story flat. They object to living in the air. This causes the building congestion, the basement homes and the one or more cottages in the rear of nearly every lot. The stairways are outside, but as only about one family in ten takes lodgers the conditions are much better than in the crowded tenement quarters of New York.

This ward occupies less than a mile of space and contains a population of over 70,000, of whom 40,000 are Poles, 15,000 Germans and 12,000 Scandinavians. Some of the buildings extend in a solid mass over a whole lot. The streets are in a wretched condition, the cedar block paving having been, in many instances, taken away for firewood. Those blocks remaining are seldom cleaned. Two-thirds of the buildings are of wood, the remainder of brick. A house, however poor, is seldom torn down, as it can make room for its more pretentious successors by being moved to the rear of the lot. Apartment houses touch low-roofed cottages, and modern brick buildings shut the street view from ancient frame houses. Some yards are neatly boarded and swept; some contain pools of stagnant water, although the latter are the exception. In this most densely populated ward in Chicago one-sixth of the inhabitants live under their own individual roof. Bathrooms are rare, so are empty tenements. The average monthly rental is $6.06 per tenement, or $1.55 per average room. The dwellings are heated by small stoves. Nearly half the population live in four-room tenements and only one-eighth in two-room tenements. The general occupation is unskilled labor, at $1.50 per day. The Scandinavians with their skilled labor raise the average up to $1.88 per day. The Slavic race bears the heaviest burden, with larger families and less room at higher rental. The Germans are next. The Scandinavians enjoy most comfort. Only four per cent. of the population of the Sixteenth ward is American, while 32 per cent. of the city is American.

This ward has the highest death rate among children from acute intestinal diseases caused by bad housing. It has been greatly reduced during the last few years by the use of sterilized milk prepared at the settlement and sold to the mothers at the same rate as ordinary milk. Much is given away. Some idea of the mortality of the ward may be obtained by comparing its death rate with that of the Twenty-second, its neighbor, just across the river. The latter fronts Lincoln park and Lake Michigan, has wide boulevards and shade trees. The death rate in the Sixteenth is 46 per cent. greater than of the Twenty-second ward, and 16 per cent. greater than the city. Among infants 56 per cent. greater than in the Twenty-second, and 18 larger than the city. The ratio of deaths from one to five years old is 77 per cent. greater than in the Twenty-second, and 58 per cent. greater than the city. If this is not an object lesson in cleanliness and the need for sanitary conditions, one can hardly be produced. The settlement is meeting needs as fast as its limited means will allow. During the summer many children are sent to Good Will camp at Evanston. The question of the need for small parks is being constantly agitated. The average man in this portion of the city can only take his family for an outing two or three times during the year. The nickel car fare has to be multiplied too many times. The settlement residents are leading a self-denying existence, but they have their compensations in witnessing gradually improving conditions on every hand and in the broadening of their own field of vision.

"There's nobody can say we don't live well," remarked Mr. Pneer. "We nearly always have oatmeal and mackerel for breakfast."

"I know it," sighed his wife. "I eat the oatmeal and you eat the mackerel."—Chicago Tribune.

Corporation Notice.

Proposals for Improving Sewage Disposal Works, Beds and Appurtenances.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular adjourned meeting held Monday, January 21, 1901, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, February 18, 1901, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the improvement of the sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted January 21st, 1901, by the Common Council and filed in the office of the City Clerk, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present and also make proper record of the proceed and term upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $500, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required and the work to be done is as follows:

7,000 cu. yds. Earth Excavation,
14,300 cu. yds. Filling Material,
2,400 cu yds Concrete
1 Roof over Septic Tanks,
2 Wooden Gate-Houses,
1,565 ft. 4 to 15 inch pipe sewer,

SANKEY AT SIXTY.

Famous Singing Evangelist Has Come Home to Write the Story of His Public Life.

Ira D. Sankey, the singing evangelist and former coworker with the famous Dwight L. Moody, has just returned from a long stay in England, where he saw that men's conceptions of religious righteousness have materially changed within the past 20 years. They are more taken now than then, he says, with the spirit of Jesus and less with questions of theology.

Mr. Sankey has come home to finish his autobiography, a book which will be almost equal in interest with the life story of Mr. Moody. The fund of reminiscence which is at the command of Mr. Sankey is rich and plentiful and it is said that his style is equal to the demands of his very interesting subject. He has now reached the age of 60, but his faculty for work does not seem to have been much dulled by years or by exercise. He can still sing well and exhort with a hearty and soul-stirring eloquence.

IRA D. SANKEY.
(Singing Evangelist Who Is Now Writing an Autobiography.)

The famous singer of good tidings came into the world at the little Pennsylvania town of Edenburg, and he began his religious career as the teacher of a Sunday school. His earliest impressions of a religious conviction date back to a revival at Newcastle, when he was a lad of 15. He forthwith joined the Methodist Episcopal church, and his wonderfully impressive voice moved the hearts of strong men who heard it in sacred song.

It was in 1871 that Mr. Moody first heard Mr. Sankey sing. They were brought together and sealed their celebrated partnership of love there and then. They worked in all parts of the world and converted many erring souls to the way of religion. When Mr. Sankey sings the silence of the audience is profound and the message he conveys in his clear-toned voice, attuned to happy and mellow notes, goes straight to the heart of his hearers.

OLD DISPUTE SETTLED.

Franco-Brazilian Boundary Negotiation Finally Determined by Swiss Government.

One of the most important questions ever settled by arbitration between nations has now been determined by the Swiss government, acting in the matter of the boundary dispute between France and Brazil respecting the proper extent of French Guiana. The question had been an open one for three centuries. The French claim had gradually grown in definiteness and extent until French Guiana was asserted to reach to the banks of the Amazon

FRENCH-BRAZILIAN DISPUTE.
(Boundary of Guiana as Adjusted by the Swiss Government.)

river. The disputed territory included about 150,000 square miles, being practically equal to the combined area of New England, New York and Pennsylvania. Switzerland was selected as the arbitrator in 1897. The award gives about 3,000 square miles of the disputed territory to France, and about 147,000 square miles to Brazil, which great republic is thus allowed to retain the state of Para, with its rich mines. French Guiana will henceforth, therefore, be limited by the Oyapoc river and the Tumuc Humac mountains on the southeast and south.

Duke to Seek South Pole.

The duke of the Abruzzi is just now in Rome for the purpose of obtaining the formal consent of the king to his new enterprise, which is not, as reported, another north pole expedition, but a well devised scheme for the exploration of the south pole. King Victor Emmanuel admires and sympathizes with his cousin's exploring ardor and the royal consent and financial assistance are assured. The duke proposes to start from Buenos Ayres in 1902 in a ship which will be specially built in Italy from his own plans and specifications. The duke has already selected as his companions Vittoria Sella, the geographer, and several young officers of the Italian royal navy.

MURDERERS SENTENCED.

McAlister, Campbell and Death Go to Prison For Thirty Years—Kerr Fifteen Years.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Paterson, Jan. 29.—The four men who were implicated in the killing of Jennie Bosschieter, were arraigned before Judge Dixon for sentence this morning.

Walter McAlister, Andrew Campbell and William A. Death were sentenced to thirty years in States prison.

George J. Kerr was sentenced to fifteen years to State prison.

PERSONAL.

Counsellor William K. McClure, of Crescent avenue, who has been very ill, has recovered sufficiently as to be out today. His many friends greeted him on his appearance.

BAKERS HALED TO COURT.

MRS. BAKER WANTED PROTECTION FROM ORREN P. BAKER.

Thrilling Tale Told to Justice Nash, Who Held Baker Under $50 Bonds.

The case of Emily J. Baker against Orren P. Baker was called at 10 o'clock this morning before Justice Nash. Murphy & Blatz represented the defendant and W. S. Angleman represented the plaintiff.

Mrs. Baker appeared before Justice Nash and complained that on the night of January 23, she and her children were obliged to leave their home on account of threats made by Mr. Baker, that he chased them through the house with a revolver and that for her own protection as well as that of her children she was compelled to seek redress in the courts. She asked that Mr. Baker be put under bonds to keep the peace.

In the testimony offered this morning at the trial given by Mrs. Baker and her young daughter, it was proven to the satisfaction of the court that Mr. Baker had been guilty of the charge, and he held the defendant in $50 bonds to keep the peace. The testimony of the daughter was particularly affecting. She had apparently been coached by her father as to what to say on the stand, but finally told plainly what did happen on the night of January 23

Mr. Blatz, who appeared for the defendant, tried to show that Mr. Baker had been a good husband and had never quarrelled with his wife except on one or two occasions, and they had been living in harmony for some time past. He asked that the complaint be dismissed.

Mr. Angleman, on behalf of the plaintiff, recited the history of the case. He said that Mrs. Baker had consented, after learning that her first husband was alive, to keep house for the defendant in the case, and they had entered into an agreement as to the way they should live. It was because the defendant got tired of this manner of living that he caused the disturbance and threatened the plaintiff, as charged in the complaint. Mr. Angleman attacked the defendant strongly and said that he should be hung by the heels throughout eternity.

Sergeant Frederickson was a witness in the case to prove that the defendant did not call at police headquarters on the night of January 23, seeking City Judge Runyon, as he claimed.

Justice Nash reviewed the case briefly, and finally decided to hold the defendant under bonds, as stated

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

Chief Kiley Visited Tramps.

In the hopes of securing information as to the whereabouts of a much wanted individual, Chief Kiely paid a visit to the hobo camp in the Fanwood cut at three o'clock this morning. He discovered a large number of tramps enjoying the warmth from a roaring coal fire built in an ash can. They had also built a substantial hut from brushwood. The man the chief was in search of was not among them.

NORMAL SCHOOL FOR UNION.

SENATOR CROSS INTRODUCED BILL PROVIDING FOR ONE.

Would Locate It at Summit—Many Other Bills Introduced in Both Senate and Assembly.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Jan. 29—Union county is now in line with the other counties of the State which are trying to secure a State Normal School located within their boundaries. At last evening's session of the New Jersey Legislature Senator Cross, of that county, introduced a bill providing for the location of a new Normal School at Summit.

Last night's session in both Houses of the Legislature was chiefly occupied in the introduction of bills, which were numerous in the Senate and Assembly.

Senator Hutchinson introduced a bill providing for an armory in Trenton, at a cost not to exceed $150,000, and this was immediately followed by a bill by Senator Francis providing for an armory, to cost not more than $50,000, in any town or borough where there is a troop of cavalry of the National Guard. The bill is intended especially for Red Bank.

Another bill by Mr. Hutchinson provides for a State sanitarium for tuberculosis patients.

Other bills introduced in the Senate were:

By Mr. Wakelee—Enabling cities and towns having free public libraries to raise by taxation whatever sum may be appropriated by the municipality for the support of such institution.

By Mr. Cross—Providing for the procuring of land and erecting a new court-house in Union county.

By Mr. Francis — Appropriating $250,000 annually, or so much as may be included in the annual appropriation bill for the extension of the benefits of the State Road act.

The House passed a concurrent resolution introduced by Mr. Waite appointing the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, the Secretary of State and the Adjutant-General a commission to consider what form a testimonial shall take with reference to the new battleship New Jersey.

These were among the House bills introduced:

By Mr. Lord—Providing for the appointment of eight New Jersey commissioners to the Pan American Exposition and appropriating $50,000 for a New Jersey building.

By Mr. Bacheller—Empowering counties to construct and maintain speedways.

By Mr. Kirkbride—Providing for a boulevard at Ocean Grove.

Bills were also introduced in the House providing for normal schools in Essex county and at Englewood.

—A cottage prayer-meeting will be held this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Myers, on East Sixth street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Clark, of Grove street, will entertain the card club of which they are members this evening.

—John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, will meet this evening and consider several matters of importance to the camp.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

Victory for Hand.

The case of John H. Marsh, of Scotch Plains, against Joseph Rimback and David Hand, also of Scotch Plains, was tried before Vice-Chancellor John R Emery, at the chancery chambers in Jersey City, yesterday afternoon and resulted in a victory for David Hand. Robert M. Clark, of this city, represented Mr. Marsh, as the plaintiff. George Ball, of this city, represented the defendant.

—Preparatory services will be held at the First Baptist church Friday evening.

SPORTING.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

A hockey match between the teams from the Whittier and High Schools will take place this afternoon on Holly's pond. The knock off will be made at 3:30.

A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying and exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. What is needed is that which is cleansing, soothing, protecting and healing. Such a remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. Price 50 cents at druggists or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. The Balm when placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. A cold in the head vanishes quickly.

WORKING TO SECURE A LOCAL SPEEDWAY.

Plainfield Speedway Association Formally Organized by Local Horsemen.

W. A. CODDINGTON PRESIDENT

WILL PUSH PROJECT OF BUILDING SPEEDWAY ON UNION STREET.

Organization Completed Last Evening When Meeting Was Held in Reed & Coddington's Law Offices—Various Committees Appointed.

After having discussed the matter in an informal manner for less than three weeks, the energetic citizens interested in Plainfield's proposed speedway showed their determination to push the project to completion, by banding themselves into a permanent organization at a meeting held in the law offices of Reed & Coddington last evening. The organization then formed will be known as the Plainfield Speedway Association and will have as its object the building of a suitable driveway, where lovers of horses may enjoy the privilege of driving at a faster pace than that allowed on the city streets. The location on Union street and other plans have already been decided upon and nothing now remains but to secure the hearty co-operation of every horseman with their attending financial support, the latter, of course, being the paramount question at present.

There were fifteen in attendance last evening when the meeting was called to order by N. B. Smalley. After an informal discussion on different phases of the subject Elston M. French was made secretary in the absence of P. S. Dayton. The question of permanency was immediately brought up and met with the hearty approval of all present.

This called for the election of officers and by a unanimous vote the following were placed at the head of the new organization: President, William A. Coddington; vice president, N. B. Smalley; secretary, Elston M. French; treasurer, J. Wesley Johnson. The The matter of appointing an executive committee was discussed but as the men composing it will practically be the body of the organization, their selection was left to the discretion of the president who will make known his choice at the next meeting.

In order to build along the proposed route it will first be necessary to secure the consents of abutting property owners. Although none of them have declared their opposition to the plan, the following committee of five was selected by the president to prepare a formal agreement and secure signatures: N. B. Smalley, Elston M. French, Charles H. Hand, Edward M. VanBuren and Frederick Ballentine. The latter owns considerable property in the section affected, and has generously offered to contribute a large strip of land toward completing the improvement.

A second committee, upon whom will rest the responsibility for the financial standing of the organization, was also appointed by the president. As this also means considerable work on the part of each individual the following ten men were chosen, mainly on account of the interest they have already shown in the movement: L. M. French, chairman, J. F. McDonald, D C Smalley, W. T. Kirk, J. A. Smith, Harry Potter, Wm. F. Williams, Charles Hand, Thomas Brantingham and E. M. Van Buren.

A third committee of three was appointed to prepare a constitution and by laws and to report at the next meeting. They were Wm. F. Williams, chairman, N. B. Smalley and Elston M. French.

This completed the preliminaries to the perfection of the new organization and the members will devote themselves in the future to furthering its interests to make it one of the leaders of its kind in the State. No further business coming before the meeting the members adjourned after an informal talk to reassemble next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

ense Applications.

All those intending to present liquor license applications to the Common Council are notified to have them in the hands of the City Clerk before the next meeting in order to be acted upon before next March. Notice is also given that all bills against the city must be in the hands of the City Clerk by tomorrow evening to insure payment at the next meeting.

Prof. Griggs' First Lecture.

The first of Prof. Griggs' lectures will be given in Vincent chapel Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 19.

NEW GYMNASIUM.

Plans Filed and Contracts Awarded for Hope Chapel's New Addition.

The work on the new gymnasium for Hope chapel will be started at once. All the details have been completed and the plans filed with Building Inspector T. O. Doane.

It will be joined to the chapel and the entire building will be sixty-eight feet long and thirty feet wide. The gymnasium will be thirty-six feet by twenty-eight feet and sixteen feet high. There will also be a room for lockers and a shower bath which will be fourteen feet by twenty-eight feet and will contain sixty-two lockers.

Mundy Brothers, carpenters, have the contract and will sub-contract the mason and other work. A. L. O. Marsh, of Hillside avenue, is the architect.

CHURCH NINE YEARS OLD.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH WILL CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

Exercises Will Begin Sunday, February 24, and Continue Part of Week Following.

Arrangements are about completed for the observance of the ninth anniversary of the founding of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, which will be held Sunday, Feb. 24, and on several evenings of the following week. Sunday morning Bishop Edward G. Andrews, of New York, will preach the sermon. It was intended that Bishop Ninde should do this, but his death, a short time ago, made the change necessary. Sunday evening the sermon will be delivered by Dr. O'Hanlon, president of Pennington Seminary.

On the following Tuesday evening a platform meeting will be held, when addresses will be made by former pastors. These include Dr. H. K. Carroll, the first pastor, who served six months; Rev. H. F. Randolph, who was pastor for three years, and Rev. H. J. Johnston, who served as pastor for two years. The next evening there will be a rally for the charter members of the church, and it is to be hoped that all who can will be present.

For Thursday evening an Epworth League rally has been arranged, when there will be an address by some prominent Epworthian. Other Leagues in this district will be invited to this service. No plans have been made for Friday evening. During this celebration there will be a determined effort made to liquidate the debt of $2,900 on the church property, this being in line with the united effort in the Methodist church to raise large sums of money for similar purposes and for the endowment of denominational schools and colleges.

Valuable Souvenir.

As a souvenir of the recent consecration services of St. Mary's church, the trustees have had compiled for gratuitious distribution a complete history of the church since its formation, printed in neat book form. It also contains excellent likenesses of all the priests who have been in charge and of the buildings occupied since the congregation separated from the Stony Hill parish. The souvenir will be treasured as a valuable keepsake.

Pigeon Shoot.

A pigeon shoot will be held at Campbell's Clubhouse Tuesday afternoon, February 12, at 1:30 o'clock sharp, between Edward Campbell, of this city, and Peter Fellows, of Metuchen, 25 birds each, $25 a side. There will be sweepstake shooting immediately after the match, to suit the shooters. There will be plenty of good live birds on hand.

Going After Donations.

The fair committee of Warren Engine Company, of the borough, will start out this week for donations and anyone who is not visited is requested to leave articles at the store of William Debele. The prizes for the fair will be on exhibition at Crosby & Hill's store.

Rare Treat.

The Y. M. C. A. is about to give a rare treat to the citizens of Plainfield in Tissot's "Life of Christ" consisting of 100 reproductions of Tissot's paintings in their original colors. Arrangements have been made to give it on the evening of February 25.

Right Hand of Fellowship.

At the communion service in the First Baptist church next Sunday morning the right hand of fellowship will be given to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schultheis, Miss Florence Perrine and Miss Lillian Titus.

Miss Beeching to Lead.

Endeavor Day will be observed Monday evening by the senior society of Trinity Reformed church. Miss Beeching, of Watchung, will lead the meeting.

WERE WEDDED TWENTY YEARS.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN S. HOPE CELEBRATED HAPPY EVENT.

Many Friends Assembled at Their Home Last Evening and Were Delightfully Entertained.

The twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hope was celebrated at their home on East Third street last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hope were married in the First Methodist church, this city, by Rev. Thomas Stockton, and since that time have always resided here. Many of the guests present were employes of Scott's Press Works, where Mr. Hope is employed.

They were the recipients of many gifts. As it was their so-called "linen" anniversary a number of the gifts were of linen, but there were many articles of silver, china and glass.

Dancing was the chief feature, music for which was furnished by Frazee, of this city, and was started early in the evening. During intermissions Prof. Brokaw, of Newark, gave a number of clog dances and comic songs which were well received. Miss Lydia Scully, of Brooklyn, delighted everyone with a number of vocal selections.

At midnight dancing was stopped for a short time while supper was served. After supper dancing was again resumed and kept up until an early hour this morning. As each one departed they thanked the host and hostess for the enjoyable evening passed and wished them many more years of happiness.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Hand, Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Wikoff, of Dover, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Trausue, Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlain, Miss Gertrude Frey, Miss Woodie Schenck, of St. Anne's, England; Emily Skinner, of the Isle of Man, England; Miss Etta Johnson, Miss Edith McCracken, Miss Una Johnson, Miss Mabel Danaberger, of Elizabeth; Miss Lizzie Dehles, Mrs. John Rittenhouse, Mrs. Howard Bennett, Mrs. H. Krausse, Mrs. A. H. Johnson, Mrs. P. Trausue, of Dover, Mrs. Annie Danaberger, of Elizabeth, Mrs. J. C. Manchester, Edward Wolverton, Kluckas Rittenhouse, E. R. Harris, of Cranford, Jepp Sorenson, John Hogan, of Elizabeth, Stephen Hope, Frank Milliken, S. F. VanHorn, City Judge William N. Runyon, John Powers and Frank Perry.

CASTLE FOR PLAINFIELD.

Plans to Organize a Local Organization of the Knights of the Golden Eagle.

There was a meeting in the Washington Hall building, West Second street, last evening, for the purpose of organizing a new castle in this city of the Knights of the Golden Eagle. The meeting was called to order by Grand Chief Arthur H. Hope, who explained the workings and business of the order.

There will be another preliminary meeting held Thursday, February 7, in Washington Hall.

There was a charter list started with a number of signers, and it is thought a larger number will sign at the next meeting.

FINE DIRECTORY.

Wand's Directory for 1901 is Out and Contains Much Valuable Information.

Wand's directory of Plainfield, North Plainfield, Westfield, Dunellen, Fanwood and Scotch Plains for 1901, containing a classified business directory, was issued today, and it is the opinion of all who have seen it that it is without doubt the most complete and accurate, as well as the most substantial book of the kind ever published for Plainfield and the places named. The book contains fifteen extra pages for Plainfield's increase in names, while the addition of the towns named is a valuable one. The cover of the directory is a welcome change. It is a light blue. The book is well-made and the binding is substantial for hard usage. The print is excellent and in every particular the book is first-class, reflecting great credit on the Wand Directory Company. No business house or home should be without one of these books.

No Property For Distribution.

Atwood L. DeCoster, referee in bankruptcy, has issued a notice to creditors in the matter of John H. McVey, bankrupt, in which it is stated that the trustee of the estate of said bankrupt has filed his final report; that said report shows no property for distribution; and that the final meeting of said creditors will be held at Mr. DeCoster's office, 776 Broad street, Newark, February 14, at 10 o'clock in the morning, when said account will be examined.

TRADED STOLEN HENS FOR KLEIN'S HORSE.

"Jumbo" Lewis Arrested at Westfield This Morning Charged With Larceny.

MANTZ'S CHICKENS GONE.

KLEIN GAVE THEM UP AND SAID LEWIS GAVE THEM TO HIM.

Klein Had Swapped His Horse For Them—Lewis Found With Other Chickens in His Possession—Has Been in Prison Before.

"Jumbo" Lewis, of this city, was arrested in Westfield this morning by Chief Kiely and Officer John Knapp, of the latter place. For some time past Lewis has, it is alleged by the police, been committing a number of petty thieveries in this vicinity which culminated in the stealing of fifteen chickens from the hennery of of Simon Mantz, Craig place, last Monday evening.

"Jumbo," it is said, traded off twelve of the chickens for a horse with Samuel Klein, of West Third street. The fowls were recognized by William Walker, a step son of Mr. Mantz, as the new owner was trying to dispose of them on the Boulevard yesterday morning.

The police were notified and yesterday afternoon Boundsman Flynn traced the fowls to the yard of George Becker, of Park avenue. Klein called at police headquarters later and told of receiving the chickens from Lewis. The man was released on returning the money received from the sale and a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Lewis.

Lewis recently opened a restaurant at Westfield and was apprehended there this morning. A bag containing a number of chickens said to have been stolen in Westfield last night were found hidden away. He was locked up and will probably be arraigned this afternoon.

Lewis has already served two terms in states prison, the first being for ten years, received for burglarizing a residence on West Ninth street, when Winfield Chase was chief of police. The second was for three years having been convicted of stealing paint from Woolston and Buckle.

MANY WANT TO BE SOLDIERS

COMMITTEE OF TEN SECURES MANY NAMES FOR NEW COMPANY.

Question of Commanding Officer is Yet to be Settled—Committee Will Meet Again Soon.

The committee of ten having in charge the formation of a company of militia in this city, met last evening at City Judge Runyon's office and made progress in their work. About seventy names were turned in by the members of the committee and the majority are considered to be excellent material. The names of those not known to the committee were separated from the others and they will be inquired into. Colonel Collins was present at the meeting and expressed satisfaction with the progress being made.

It was definitely announced that neither Former Councilman Elliott T. Barrows nor William A. Pinto could be persuaded to accept the captaincy of the new company. A commandery officer will be selected later. The committee will meet again next week Tuesday evening at the same place, when it is expected that an election will take place.

HONORED THE DAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah VanWinkle Surprised on Anniversary of Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah VanWinkle, of West Fourth street, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding last Sunday, and in honor of the event, a number of the relatives and friends gave them a surprise. The celebrants had not the slightest idea of the intended visit and were totally surprised. The guests, as well as Mr. and Mrs. VanWinkle, joined heartily in having a good time. Many presents were received by the host and hostess as pleasant reminders of the event. Before the guests departed a bountiful supper was enjoyed.

Played Progressive Euchre.

Eighty players were in attendance at the progressive euchre given in St. Mary's School last evening under the auspices of the sewing circle connected with the school. The prize winners were Mrs. Joanna Reilly, Miss Minnie Callahan, Miss Teresa McGinley, Miss Katherine Carty and John Kenney.

VARIOUS KINDS OF GATES.

NOVEL SOCIAL HELD AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

Christian Endeavor Society Entertained Members and Friends in Very Pleasant Fashion.

What was styled a "gate sociable" was held last evening at Trinity Reformed church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There was a large attendance of members and friends who were attracted by the novel kind of social announced. It proved to be one of the most enjoyable ever given.

The social committee distributed questions and answers among those present, it being the duty of the person having the question to find the one with the answer. Here was where the "gate" came in. Some of the questions and answers were as follows: What gate proclaims and publishes? "Promulgate." A gate which sends people into exile: "Relegate." A gate which ties together: "Alligate." A gate that sails the sea: "Frigate." A gate which places itself under bonds: "Obligate." What gate travels by water: "Navigate."

After each person had found his or her partner, there was a grand march, led by Horace J. Martin and Miss Lindsay. Mrs. E. E. Anthony presided at the piano. The couples then passed through an improvised floral gate, and there they met Miss Bessie Martin, who took the part of a gypsy, and who handed each one a card upon which was written his or her fortune. Miss Martin was assisted in giving out cards by Miss Edith Richards. At the entrance to the gate was a large sign which read: "No swinging on this gate."

After this part of the programme the young people played games of all sorts. During the playing of games Mrs. Anthony rendered appropriate music on the piano. Other features of the evening were the soprano solos by Miss Ethel Derby, accompanied by Miss Etta Raybert, and baritone solos by Horace J. Martin. At the conclusion of the evening's enjoyment, refreshments were served by the committee, consisting of Miss Sadie Searing, chairman; Miss Mabel Wilson, Miss Viola Huff, Miss May Sheppard, Miss Minnie Wyman, Mrs. W. A. Crawford and Mrs. William Kirch. This committee received many complimentary remarks for the very enjoyable programme. The lecture room was very prettily decorated with the society colors, green and white, while a few flowers added much to the general decoration.

ADVANCED CLASS.

What is Being Done in Manual Training Department of Borough School.

Desks are being placed in the drawing room of the borough manual training department of the borough public school, to be used by pupils who have only one or two years more in school.

Miss Della Filkins, a graduate of the Cortlandt Normal School, New York, has been engaged to teach this class.

There will be about forty pupils in the class and it will be called a business class. The only things to be taught being practical arithmetic, commercial geography, reading, writing and spelling. The boys will be given full time for woodwork and the girls the same time for sewing.

There will be individual work in arithmetic alone, and the more apt pupils will be allowed to go forward and finish in that as soon as possible.

Robert Sander, of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, has opened the class in woodwork and the work is progressing nicely.

An Excellent Offer.

The New York Times, one of the best of the large metropolitan dailies, announces an arrangement with magazine publishers whereby that paper and anyone of the many magazines can be secured at reasonable price. The Times is a most desirable paper, cleanly edited and the offer made by the publishers in another column of The Daily Press should be read by everyone. The publishers also include the Saturday Review, one of the best publications of its kind to be found.

Talked on Missionary Work.

At the close of the consecration meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel last evening, Stephen Cahoone gave a very interesting and instructive talk on missionary work.

Contractors Hustling.

The contractors are now hustling along the work on the new railroad station, and there is now no reason why the work should not be completed at an early date.

OBJECT TO FOUNTAIN.

Business Men on North Avenue Will Petition to Have it Removed From Present Location.

A petition is in circulation among the business men of North avenue, to have the water fountain, which stands opposite the station, removed. It is signed by quite a number of real estate and insurance agents who have offices in the vicinity of it. The petition does not suggest any location, but the signers are anxious to have it removed to any place to get it away from in front of their offices.

The reason they give is that it blocks traffic and that there is continually a mud puddle around it. At present the fountain is not running and they wish to have steps taken to remove it before the water is turned on in the spring.

PREPARING FOR INAUGURATION

UNION COUNTY REPUBLICANS WILL GO IN A BODY.

Arrangements Made For a Special Train if Delegation Numbers Two Hundred.

(Special to The Daily Press.

Elizabeth, Jan. 30—The final arrangements for the trip to Washington for the inauguration of McKinley and Roosevelt have been completed by the sub-committee appointed by the Union county Republican committee.

If 200 go a special train will be secured, to start from this city on the Central railroad, March 3, at 9 o'clock p. m., and, returning, will leave Washington, March 5, at 2 a. m. If the number is less than 200, cars for the Union county men will be attached on a regular train.

The rate for the round trip ticket, good from March 1 to the night of March 8, will be as follows:

Elizabeth and Roselle, $6.15; Cranford and Garwood, $6 11; Westfield, $6 06; Fanwood, $6 01; Netherwood, $5 96; Plainfield, $5 91; Dunellen, $5 86; Bound Brook, $5 71.

Return tickets will be good on any regular train. Those wishing sleeping car accommodations to and from Washington must notify the committee two days in advance. The rate will be $2 a berth, or, two in a berth, $1 each.

The committee will furnish with every ticket purchased for the special train a pair of suede gloves, a cane and a handsome badge, these to be worn in the inaugural parade.

Datter's band of 30 pieces will accompany the party, and a handsome banner to designate the Union county delegation will be carried. The place of rendezvous in Washington will be announced later. Tickets can be had of any member of the county committee.

CHANGE IN CAST.

William A. Townsend Will Take the Part of "John," the Butler, in "The Private Secretary."

One change has been made necessary in the cast of "The Private Secretary," which is to be given in Music Hall next month by local talent, on account of the death of the mother of Mrs. A. E Faber, Jr., of Mercer avenue. Mr. Faber was to take the part of "John," the butler, while Mrs. Faber assisted Mr. and Mrs. Curtis with the properties. Mr. Faber's place in the cast will now be taken by William A. Townsend, of Myrtle avenue. Townsend has studied hard and in his first rehearsal did excellently considering that he had had such little practice.

Practicing For "Elijah."

A very satisfactory rehearsal of the "Elijah" chorus was held Monday evening in the chapel of the Cresent Avenue Presbyterian church. There was a fair attendance. There will be no divided rehearsal Thursday but the chorus will next meet Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The committee earnestly request that all the members of the chorus be present.

Prof. Wikoff Will Speak.

Walter A. Wikoff, professor of political economy and sociology at Princeton, has promised to speak at the men's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on a Sunday afternoon in the near future. The date will be arranged by the local association.

Be on Hand.

Half price for ribbons; men and women's collars, 6 cents each; odd pieces of underwear, price cut in two; odd shades in knitting silk, was 25 cents, now 12 cents spool, at Van Emburgh's.

Fine Programme.

FEW BILLS PASSED; MANY INTRODUCED.

No Important Legislation at Yesterday's Session of New Jersey Legislators.

MR. REED'S NEW BILL.

PROHIBITS SUPREME COURT JUSTICES FROM HOLDING OTHER OFFICES.

Republican Assemblymen Decided In Caucus Against Sunset Election Law — Legislature Has Adjourned Until Next Week.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Jan. 30.—A few bills, none of very important character, were passed by the Legislature in yesterday's session, while numerous other ones were introduced into both Houses. There was also a batch of nominations from Governor Voorhees for the Senate to consider. After transacting some little business, both Houses adjourned until next week.

The following appointments for trustees of the State Home for Girls, which was reorganized under an act of last winter, were sent to the Senate by the Governor: Martin C. Ribsam, of Trenton; Noble C. Bristol, of Newark; Miss Ann Augusta Allison, of Trenton, for one year each; John D. Rue and Alfred D. Carnagy, of Trenton; Mrs. Lydia G. Bergen, of Elizabeth, two years each; Howell S. Steele and Miss Mary S. Atterbury, of Trenton, and Mrs. Annie V. P. Emley, of Passaic, three years each.

When the Governor yesterday afternoon submitted to the House the minority report of the committee appointed last year to investigate the charges of mismanagement at the Home it provoked a lively debate. It was finally referred to the committee on the State Home for Girls.

It was signed by Mr. Meeker alone, and simply set forth that there was an evident confusion as to the duties of the officers and the functions of the Board of Women Managers, and a lack of harmony which had disappeared since the new law went into effect. The testimony, the report said, showed a wide difference of opinion as to methods, but stated that there is now a marked improvement in the conditions at the Home.

The Senate passed Mr. Stokes's bill allowing the Penn Creek Railroad two years for completing its tracks.

These bills were introduced in the Senate:

By Mr. Stokes—Permits the State Controller to defer apportioning the State school tax for 1901 to a date later than February 1 in those counties where the census returns are in doubt.

By Mr. Reed—Prohibits Justices of the Supreme Court from accepting any office in any body, corporate or political, except in organizations of a literary, charitable or religious character.

Mr. Abbett introduced a bill in the House providing that conviction of a felony followed by a sentence of two or more years' imprisonment shall constitute a ground for divorce against the offending party. The need of such a law, he said, was clearly shown in the case of Mrs. Death, of Paterson, whose husband was Monday sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment.

These bills were passed in the House: Permitting the city of Newark to borrow money on temporary loans in anticipation of appropriations to be made by the State for school purposes; authorizing the burial by Boards of Freeholders of honorably discharged soldiers or sailors of the Spanish-American war.

At a caucus of the Republican members of the House yesterday a proposition providing for a sunset election law was voted down.

Magazine Social.

A novel sociable will be given in the parlors of the Congregational church Friday evening under the joint auspices of the Women's Association and the Christian Endeavor Society. The Endeavorers will furnish the programme while the Women's Association will provide the refreshments. It will be a "magazine" social and those who attend are requested to go prepared to represent some well-kown periodical.

Second Crop of Ice.

The Plainfield Cold Storage Company started to cut their second crop of ice off their large pond at Watchung yesterday morning. The ice is seven inches thick and is of the best quality.

Appointments to be Made.

The regular February meeting of the Common Council will be held next Monday evening. The appointments will be made at that time.

SHIPPING BILL FIRST

Senate Leaders to Force an Early Issue.

INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL PASSED

Many Speeches on the Agricultural Appropriation Bill In the House. Colored Member Delivers His Valedictory.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Senator Frye gave notice in the senate yesterday that he intended to keep the shipping bill to the front, even as against appropriation bills, not yielding to them without the vote of the senate. It indicates a disposition on the part of senate leaders to force to an early issue the question whether the shipping bill is going to pass at this session. Senator Turner of Washington spoke in severe arraignment of the bill, declaring it to be a "lawless, piratical raid on the public treasury" in the interest of a few private beneficiaries and committing the government to expenditures aggregating $270,000,000. Before the session closed the committee amendments were informally agreed to.

The Indian appropriation bill was passed early in the day.

The house spent the day upon the agricultural appropriation bill. It was used as a vehicle for the introduction of several general speeches. Mr. Thayer of Massachusetts discussed the ship subsidy bill. Mr. White of North Carolina, the colored member who goes out of congress March 4, delivered his valedictory upon the general subject of the aspirations of his race, and Mr. Gaines of Tennessee discussed the limitations of the constitution in connection with our insular possessions.

Mr. Corliss of Michigan made a vicious onslaught upon the bureau of animal industry of the agricultural department, but his attack raised a host of defenders, and his amendment to reduce the appropriation for the bureau was overwhelmingly defeated.

All that portion of the bill relating to the reorganization of the scientific bureaus of the agricultural department went out on a point of order raised by Mr. Mahon of Pennsylvania.

Gift of a Hamilton Monument.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—When Alexander Hamilton was killed in a duel with Aaron Burr on Weehawken Heights, N. J., July 11, 1804, the St. Andrews Society of New York State erected a marble monument on the spot where he fell "as an expression of affectionate regard to his memory and of deep regret for his loss." But the monument was allowed to stand only for about 12 years, as it became a favorite meeting place for men who had duels to fight. The monument disappeared one day and was lost sight of until 1850, when it was discovered behind the bar of a New York saloon. Hugh Maxwell, the president of St. Andrews at that time, purchased it and presented it to his friend, James G. King, who lives on Weehawken Heights. Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer came into possession of it recently as one of Mrs. King's heirs and has presented it to the New York Historical society.

Five Negroes Convicted.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 30.—Five negroes, Walter Bowman, Leonard Lewis, William Lucas, Charles Scott and Samuel Hall, have been convicted of murder in the second degree. The crime for which the men were tried was the murder of Howard Durborrow, 18 years old, on the evening of last election day. Durborrow and several companions were standing on the corner of Baker street and Fulton avenue when the five negroes came along. A shout of "Hurrah for Bryan!" angered the colored boys, and Bowman, it was testified, sent a shot into the crowd of whites which entered young Durborrow's head, causing his death.

Floods In Newfoundland.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 30.—Owing to a succession of heavy floods throughout Newfoundland a trestle bridge across the Exploits river has been carried away, paralyzing railway traffic across the country for the rest of the winter. Last winter similar floods destroyed a steel bridge over the same river belonging to Mr. Reid, the contractor, and valued at $100,000. Mr. Reid is now building a new steel bridge, but it is feared that this also is endangered. A landslide at Mount Moriah, Bay of Islands, still further blockades the road. Connection with Canada is now made by way of Placentia.

Contractor Pleads Guilty.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 30.—In the circuit court here Contractor Gibson of Indiana, on trial for an alleged attempt to bribe Governor Longino in the awarding of capitol contracts, withdrew his plea of not guilty previously made and entered a plea of guilty. By agreement with the prosecution he accepted a fine of $1,000 and costs, and the court set aside the forfeiture of the $5,000 bond.

Woman Who Weighed 500 Pounds.

READING, Pa., Jan. 30.—The funeral of Mrs. Henry Wealand took place yesterday in Ephrata township. She weighed 500 pounds, and the body had to be carried to the porch to be placed in the coffin, which was 3½ feet wide. About 3,000 people attended. She took on her weight within the last year.

A MEDAL FOR MRS. NATION.

Kansas Temperance Union Upholds the Saloon Smasher.

TOPEKA, Jan. 30.—The Kansas State Temperance union, which is holding its annual convention here, subscribed over $100 to purchase a gold medal for Mrs. Carrie Nation. Mrs. Hutchinson, president of the state W. C. T. U., was made chairman of a committee to design and purchase the medal. The fund was started by Colonel C. B. Cook, who after a stirring speech donated $10 "to help purchase a gold medal for the bravest woman in Kansas, Mrs. Nation."

The suggestion was taken up with a cheer, and the money was quickly raised. Mrs. C. B. Hoffman, who last week aided Mrs. Nation in the Enterprise raid, was the second person to subscribe to the fund. When Mrs. Nation heard what had been done, she cried a little and then began to scold those who had planned the surprise. She said she would take the money and turn it over to the fund to aid her work, but she would have no medal.

Later Mrs. Nation responded to an invitation to address the convention, and her remarks were vigorously applauded.

When Mrs. Nation called on him, County Attorney Nichols told her that he believed in resubmission, and yesterday she said that before he pushed resubmission on the people she would throw her hatchet at his head.

Mrs. Nation said she would remain in Topeka until every one of the 120 saloons are closed.

"I will petition the governor every day," she said. "I will see the legislature. I will talk and talk and talk. I will use all the influence I can, and if this does not suffice—well, there are other means."

Mrs. Nation called upon the sheriff, the city attorney and the probate judge and urged each to enforce the law against saloons.

She visited the county jail and furnished a bushel of apples and a large bunch of bananas to the inmates. She addressed the prisoners, asking them how many were in jail by reason of whisky and ascertained that all but two of the 27 inmates attributed their arrests to liquor. In the office of the police court Mrs. Nation observed some calendars containing pictures which she regarded as of an objectionable nature. At her request the judge took down the pictures from the wall.

A FIGHT OVER A FIGHT.

Suit Brought to Prevent the Jeffries-Ruhlin Mill In Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Suit has been brought before Judge Howard Hollister of the common pleas court to enjoin the proposed Jeffries-Ruhlin contest here Feb. 15. This proceeding is in the name of the state by Attorney General Sheets at the direction of Governor Nash. It is understood, however, that the real instigators are the ministers and other elements of this city who are opposed to having the fight take place here and who resorted to every other means before this proceeding in the state court. The petition that was filed yesterday declares the proposed prizefight to be a nuisance, and a restraining order is wanted on that account rather than under any of the sections of the Ohio statutes pertaining to prizefights.

Jeffries and Ruhlin, who were arrested Monday night and held in $1,000 bonds, will have their hearing on Thursday. Very little interest is taken in this proceeding in the court of Squire Roebling, as it is understood to be a friendly action under section 7,117 of the Ohio statutes and that the defendants will both be released after their hearing. It is even currently reported that this action was taken by friends of the promoters of the fight in order to forestall such action on the part of others.

St. Paul Deal Indefinitely Postponed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The Times today publishes the following: "One of the highest officials of the Northern Pacific railroad stated absolutely last night that the much talked of deal for the acquisition of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads was finally and definitely off. James J. Hill, whose presence in this city for the last two weeks was believed to be for the purpose of completing arrangements for the acquisition of that property, left last night for his home in St. Paul. Mr. Hill refused to see a reporter for The Times on the ground that he had nothing to say."

German Capital For Philippines.

MANILA, Jan. 30.—Mr. Krueger, the German consul, visited the Philippine commission yesterday. He said he represented two German companies that are waiting to invest $10,000,000 in gold in the mines, but are unable to do anything because of the nonexistence of mining laws. Mr. Krueger says he has cabled the foreign office at Berlin asking that instructions be sent to the German embassador at Washington to use his diplomatic influence for the advancement of the Spooner bill by the American congress.

American Born Camel Dead.

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—Ben-Hur, an American born camel and the only one of his kind born on this continent, is dead from either pneumonia or an abdominal trouble like peritonitis. It was worth $1,500 and was the original camel in the production of the drama "Ben-Hur." Harvard veterinarians will hold an autopsy, and the skeleton and covering will go to the Museum of Natural History.

Government Buys Railway.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 30.—The Manitoba government has purchased the lines of the Northern Pacific in this province. Such was in brief the announcement made yesterday by Premier Roblin. There is no doubt of the deal, but the details remain secret. It is reported that the price paid is about $6,000,000 and that the lines will be leased to Mann and Mackenzie for a term of years in return for lower wheat rates and other concessions.

Teacher Recovers Back Pay.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The court of appeals has decided that George Steinson is still a teacher in the public schools and is entitled to his salary since March 12, 1890. He has not been paid nor has he been permitted to teach since that time. The amount he recovers from the city is about $21,000.

Turkish Officer Missing.

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—Mehemed Alif, a Turkish officer who was sent by the sultan to serve in the One Hundred and Fifteenth regiment, has disappeared from Darmstadt under circumstances pointing to foul play. The police have offered a reward for his discovery, living or dead.

A DAYLIGHT BURIAL.

Night and Torchlight Custom Abandoned In Victoria's Case.

QUEEN PLANNED HER OWN FUNERAL.

Orders For Friday's Naval Display. Fearing Anarchist Attacks, Entire Detective Force of the Kingdom Will Guard Royal Personages.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The earl marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, was unable to see King Edward yesterday in order to obtain his majesty's final sanction for the funeral arrangements. Nothing therefore has been definitely settled except the programme for Friday, already cabled, although the entire programme has been practically arranged.

"Queen Victoria's explicit directions as to her funeral were written in 1862," says Truth, "and have not been altered in any material respect. It was her wish that the ceremonial should copy that of Prince Albert's burial as far as possible. The queen will be the first English sovereign who will not be buried at night and by torchlight."

The war office has invited colonial officers and soldiers in England to take part in the funeral procession. Minute guns will be fired from all ships in the Solent and at Cowes, commencing when the Alberta leaves Trinity pier. Each ship will cease fire immediately the end of the procession passes her.

In London active preparations are being made all along the route. Houses are being draped, and seating accommodation is being provided. A committee of ladies has obtained permission to hang wreaths of evergreen along the line, one to be affixed to each lamp post, and all being three feet in diameter and of uniform pattern.

Of all the ceremonies no doubt the naval will be the finest pageant. The Alberta, with the body, will slowly steam along a line of battleships extending eight miles. Facing these giants of the British navy will be smaller vessels and numerous foreign battleships.

About 3,500 troops will be engaged in the procession from Osborne to Cowes. Ten thousand volunteers will be employed along the line of the route in London in addition to 20,000 regulars. Some disappointment is likely to be caused by the statement that no photographs will be allowed to be taken of the procession from Osborne to Cowes.

The entire detective machinery of the United Kingdom and the continent has been set in motion to protect the royal personages and other notable people now gathering in London. Unwieldy as the continental secret services often appear to be, every effort is being made to unify them in order that no injury may befall any royal personage attendant upon the obsequies of the late queen.

The Commoner Again.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 30.—The second number of Mr. Bryan's Commoner, which has now attained a circulation of 55,000, appeared last evening. The leading editorial is devoted to Queen Victoria and concludes: "It is a high, yet deserved tribute to her to say that no one exercising royal prerogatives could have done better and that the world at large has cause to mourn her demise." Perhaps the most interesting editorial is upon the Cleveland proposition to increase the president's term to six years and limit him to one term. Upon this he says: "To lengthen the president's term is simply to enlarge the stake for which great interests play. The trusts could increase their campaign fund 50 per cent if they could secure the control of an administration for six years instead of four. A four year term is long enough for a good president and too long for a bad one."

Whipping Post In Delaware.

DOVER, Del., Jan. 30.—The Delaware legislature has faced the problem of corporal punishment. Many of the members have been annoyed by newspaper and magazine articles regarding the pillory and whipping post and want the whole ancient business abolished. Therefore in the senate yesterday when the bill abolishing the pillory came up it passed by a vote of 11 to 6. Every criminal convicted of felony has to stand at the pillory for an hour locked by the wrists and the neck. Immediately afterward the senate passed Senator Clements' bill for the punishment of wife beaters at the whipping post, 20 lashes being prescribed. Senator Knox pleaded earnestly in behalf of his bill providing for secret whippings, but the senate voted it down.

To Receive Better Wages.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 30.—In answer to the demands of the federated board of Central Railroad of New Jersey employees the company has granted some of the train hands an increase in wages. Freight and coal conductors will work ten hours for a day and will be paid 28 cents an hour. The passenger conductors will be paid $3.25 a day, 12 hours to constitute a day's work. The average daily increase in wages is about 20 cents a day. It is expected that a new wage scale for the engineers, firemen, brakemen and telegraphers will be agreed upon by Feb. 1. They will receive about the same increase as the conductors.

Religion and Business Combined.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Jan. 30.—L. H. Creager, who owns an extensive stave and heading factory in this city, Monday morning started his 50 employees to work with a 15 minute religious service. The Rev. I. I. Gorby, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has been employed for one month to deliver short sermons every morning, and if services prove to do good the minister will be kept on the factory pay roll indefinitely. Mr. Creager is a member of no church.

Taylor Resolution Out of Order.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 30.—In the senate the lieutenant governor held the resolution offered by Senator Stillwell instructing the governor to recognize requisition for ex-Governor Taylor and Secretary of State Finley of Kentucky should Governor Beckham present one as being out of order.

Troops Sail For Home.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—General MacArthur reports to the war department that the Hancock arrived at Manila on the 27th inst. and that the transport Pennsylvania sailed Monday for San Francisco with 17 officers and 487 enlisted men of the Thirty-sixth volunteer infantry.

POLICE BILL PASSED.

State Senate Favors Single Headed Commission.

A DEATHBLOW TO CHIEF DEVERY.

Debate on New York City Measure Was Brief, and the Assembly Will Undoubtedly Make Equally Quick Work With It.

ALBANY, Jan. 30.—The New York city police bill passed the senate at 25 minutes past 6 o'clock last evening by a vote of 31 to 14. Five senators were absent.

This is the bill providing for a single headed police commission. By its terms it practically legislates Chief of Police Devery out of office.

While the mayor has the appointment of the police commissioner under this bill the appointee may at any time be removed by the governor. His term is five years and his salary $7,500. He has two deputies, which he himself shall choose.

The bill will come up in the assembly today, and an effort will be made to jam it through.

The debate on the New York city police bill occupied the day in the senate. Senators Donnelly and Foley, Democrats, attacked the measure and protested against the partisan advantage which they claimed the majority was taking. Senators Elsberg and Slater, Republicans, of New York city defended the bill and its constitutionality. Senator Stranahan spoke as sponsor for the measure and said that it should be passed without amendment.

The attitude of Senator Maltby, Republican, of St. Lawrence county created a stir when he spoke on the measure. His argument against the bill was even more forceful and effective than that of the Democratic senators. But in condemning the bill in its present form he declared in favor of a metropolitan police bill and said that the state should take unto itself the administration of the police affairs of New York city. One provision in the present bill, he said, should be removed, the one which gives to the governor power to remove the commission without charges. He declared that to be unconstitutional. Senator Raines spoke at length in favor of the bill. Senator Grady replied to the assertions and arguments of the Republican senators.

The debate was terminated at 6:20 o'clock by Senator Ellsworth, who defended the measure and deplored the fact that so much valuable time should have been wasted.

The indications are that all of the new taxation bills of Governor Odell will have to be amended. The governor himself makes this statement about them:

"The bills were drawn to initiate the ideas conveyed in my message, and they may have to be changed considerably in phraseology."

The bill taxing savings banks upon their surplus is the first one to be found deficient, and suggestions have already been made to Senator Krum's committee on taxation.

PORTO RICAN LEGISLATION.

A Joint Resolution Passed Urging Congress to Protect Coffee.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 30.—A joint resolution was introduced in the house and adopted praying the United States congress to pass legislation levying a tariff on coffee entering the United States from all countries except Porto Rico, thus protecting the produce of the island. It is understood that Governor Allen is in sympathy with the resolution.

The assembly is now holding three sessions a day and pushing business with the utmost dispatch in anticipation of adjournment tomorrow. One hundred bills have been introduced in the house, but thus far not more than 15 have become laws.

An important mass meeting of planters and merchants has been called for Feb. 2 in San Juan for the purpose of petitioning Governor Allen not to sign the Hollander revenue bill passed last Saturday. In the event that this petition should be unsuccessful a commission will go to Washington to petition congress not to approve the measure. All the indications point to a large attendance.

No Troops Needed to Quell Indians.

HENRIETTA, I. T., Jan. 30.—United States Marshal Bennett is believed to have the Indian situation completely under control, and it practically has been decided that it will not be necessary to send Troop A, Eighth cavalry, into the interior. The soldiers may remain here for several days, however, as a precautionary measure. It is reported that deputies will bring in several of the minor leaders of the disgruntled Creeks lately arrested. Thomas A. Sanson, United States commissioner, has rented a large room here and opened court to try the Indians immediately.

Admiral Kautz Retired.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Rear Admiral Kautz, who has just been relieved from command of the Pacific station, was placed on the retired list yesterday on account of age. He has had a long and distinguished career, of which nearly 18 years were spent at sea. During the Samoan trouble about two years ago Admiral Kautz was in command of the American forces in that quarter, and it was mainly through his firmness and conservatism that serious international complications were averted.

Indianapolis Sun Burned Out.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 30.—The plant of the Indianapolis Sun, an evening paper in East Ohio street, was gutted by fire yesterday. Loss, $30,000; insurance, $15,000. The typesetting machines were ruined, but the presses may be repaired. Arrangements have been made for the regular issues of the paper.

Death of a Hero of San Juan.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Peter J. Cunningham, a hero of the battle of San Juan Hill, is dead at his home in Liberty. He went through the war in Cuba and received a bullet in the right lung at San Juan. Four weeks ago he was granted a pension of $30 a month and $701 back pay.

Schoolhouse Burned.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The handsome schoolhouse in the village of Knoxville, Pa., has been burned. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $4,000.

Senate Chaplain.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The senate has confirmed the nomination of the Rev. Oliver C. Miller of California to be chaplain.

THE FULL PENALTY.

Judge Dixon Has No Clemency For Jennie Bosschieter's Slayers.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 30.—So far as he could Judge Jonathan Dixon, sitting in the court of oyer and terminer here yesterday, redeemed the failure of Jersey justice in the Bosschieter murder case. With shaking voice, his face hardly under control and pale beyond its wonted whiteness, he told Walter C. McAlister, Andrew J. Campbell and William A. Death as they cowered before him that he proposed "to destroy their lives, to obliterate every bright prospect that they might have had of becoming good and useful citizens."

From the first words of the judge, who had so plainly expressed his resentment at the part he would be called upon to play, there was not the slightest ray of hope of clemency for the wretched men who shrank at every sentence as at a blow. If Judge Dixon had been passing sentence of death, he could not have been more inexorable or more moved. He imposed the limit in every case—McAlister, Death and Campbell, 30 years at hard labor in state prison (and it should have been hanging, the judge said again yesterday); Kerr, 15 years (and his crime was worse than that of the others, the court declared).

The officials at the New Jersey state prison said, in answer to an inquiry, that the 30 year sentences of McAlister, Campbell and Death, who were convicted of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, will be reduced by good behavior to 20 years and that Kerr's sentence will be reduced to 11 years. The time off for good behavior is arranged on a sliding scale and increases each year.

While Judge Dixon was sentencing the prisoners Hugh Kerr, the father of George, lay dying within a stone's throw of the courthouse. Mr. Kerr is dying because of the disgrace of his son George. George did not know till last night that his father was so ill.

It was from the evening papers that he found out. His friends had kept his father's condition concealed from him. Equally ignorant of the son's sentence will the father remain. He does not want to hear of the case at all.

RAPID PROGRESS MADE.

Cuban Constitutional Convention Hastens Its Work.

HAVANA, Jan. 30.—The Cuban constitutional convention is progressing rapidly with the discussion of the draft constitution submitted by the central committee. Several articles relating to provincial government and the method of electing officials have been tabled until after the adoption of the electoral law. Two important articles for consideration will deal with universal suffrage and the powers of provincial governments. When once these have been disposed of, the work of drafting the final project will be a matter of only a few days.

In the course of yesterday's discussion several interesting arguments were made on the liability of the president of the republic for crimes committed against the state and on the method of trying the president for such offenses.

General Rivera favored holding the president liable for any infraction of the law.

Senor Nunez and Senor Rafael Portuondo contended that he should be liable only for treasonable acts.

The latter view was favored by a majority of the delegates, and the article referring to the liability was slightly amended, the senate retaining authority to try the president for treasonable acts, and the only penalty being removal from office. This, however, does not revoke the right of the courts to hold the president amenable.

The fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth sections and ten articles in the tenth section were adopted with only minor changes from the original draft.

A further article was added to the fourth section giving the right to expel any foreigner who might be regarded as "pernicious to the government."

The long standing controversy between Mr. Michael J. Dady, the contractor, and the military and municipal governments regarding the sewering and paving contract was settled last evening by the payment to Mr. Dady of $250,000. Mr. Dady gave a bond of similar amount that he was authorized on behalf of the Dady company to make the settlement and to release all claims.

Ice Carnival at Saranac Lake.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Three thousand persons witnessed the grand parade of decorated sleighs and floats in the carnival parade yesterday afternoon. More artistic skill and ingenuity were displayed in the construction and decoration of floats and in the fanciful dress of harnessed horses and prancing steeds than in carnivals of previous yegrs. Headed by the Saranac Lake Cornet band, which was followed by nearly 100 guides on foot and floats and sleighs in artistic decoration fully one-half mile in length, the scene was truly magnificent.

A Great Barrington Blaze.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Jan. 30.—The Berkshire block, a four story brick and granite structure in the center of this village, was burned, causing a loss of about $50,000 on the building and to its tenants. The blaze kept the firemen at work all day, and only the thick walls of the block prevented a wide area of property destruction.

First Chinese Administrator.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Lee Gong Yee has been appointed the administrator of the estate of Ling Shee Foo by Surrogate Fitzgerald. He is the first Chinaman who has held such an appointment under the laws of this state. The application of Lee Gong Yee has been before the surrogate's court since last August.

Carnegie Library For Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. 30.—The city council at its next meeting will accept the recent offer of Andrew Carnegie to give this city a public library. The donation will be $50,000, and the city will appropriate $5,000 for the maintenance of the library.

Exchange Will Close Feb. 2.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The governors of the New York Stock Exchange at a special meeting held yesterday decided to suspend business on Saturday, Feb. 2, in respect to the memory of Queen Victoria, whose funeral will take place on that day.

General Gourko Dead.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30.—General Gourko, one of the most distinguished generals of the Russo-Turkish war, is dead.

AGUERRILLA ATTACK

Americans at Pitch Lake Nightly Under Fire.

DISASTROUS SITUATION REPORTED.

Revolution In Eastern Venezuela Near Asphalt Deposits Increasing. Insurgents Reported to Have Retaken Carupano.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Jan. 30.—According to advices just received from Caracas, a trustworthy engineer who has arrived there from Pitch lake reports that the situation is disastrous. He says that 150 English negroes who were employed to do police duty fled when the insurgents began firing into the jungles, only 25 Americans being left to protect the property and lives of American families.

The messenger from the lake implored the United States legation at Caracas to afford protection, saying that the lives and property of Americans were exposed to guerrilla attacks, firing around the lake going on nightly and the Americans being too few to hold out against a heavy attack.

United States Minister Loomis, according to the same advices, replied that these reports were possibly exaggerated, but that they could not be ignored and that he would wire the facts to Washington.

Mr. Olcott, the Orinoco manager, has returned from Caracas, where he went to try to arrange for the release of the steamers and schooners captured by a Venezuelan gunboat near Trinidad. The British owner flew the Venezuelan flag, and the crew was not shot.

The revolution in eastern Venezuela, near the asphalt deposits, is increasing, but the disturbances are remote from Caracas, which remains tranquil.

Information that has reached Port of Spain says that the insurgents have retaken Carupano and will attack Cumana soon. Steamers are not allowed to land passengers or mails at Carupano. The commander of the French cruiser Cuchet, which lies there, confirms this intelligence and the reported activity of the insurgents. It appears that an attempt to capture Ciudad Bolivar, capital of the state of Bolivar, about 375 miles up the Orinoco, is likely to be made as soon as the insurgents have received a large supply of arms expected.

Cables to the Trinidad papers from Caracas are severely censored. The Venezuelan government threatens three American reporters with forcible expulsion and is rigorously suppressing press dispatches to the United States. Even diplomatic messages are tampered with.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

British steamer Kansas City was awarded £6,800 for salving the Cufic.

Revolt Threatened In Poland.

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—The Prussian authorities in the Polish provinces of Prussia have discovered evidence of the existence of secret societies aiming at a revolutionary rising. A number of arrests have been made in Posen. One of the ringleaders, a medical student named Vladislav Bolevski, escaped across the Austrian frontier. On Emperor William's birthday an indignation meeting was held by the Poles in Posen to protest against the recent postal practice of not delivering mail matter addressed to Poles. It was largely attended, and speeches were made by prominent Polish members of the reichstag and diet, one of whom said that Emperor William must drop the title of Grand Duke of Posen if he will not recognize the Polish language.

Larger Salaries Declined.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 30.—The constitutional amendment presented to the convention of the United Mine Workers of America at the afternoon session providing an increase in the salaries of the national officers provoked a long argument and resulted in the salaries remaining as they were last year. Members of the committee on constitution recommended the adoption of the amendment, but the officers opposed it.

Jewelry Store Robbed.

HARTFORD, Jan. 30.—Two crooks entered the jewelry store of George W. Ball at 65 Pearl street at noon yesterday and got away with rings valued at about $1,000. Mr. Ball was out for lunch, and the store was in charge of a boy. The two men entered, and one of them engaged the attention of the boy while the other got the rings out of the stock displayed in the window. Fourteen rings were taken.

Charged With Killing His Friend.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 30.—John H. Crouse, a hotel proprietor of this city, was committed to Goshen jail, charged with being responsible for the death of William H. Hinman, who died in the hospital here Monday night. Crouse and Hinman had been friends for years, but quarreled over a game of dice, and, it is claimed, Crouse knocked Hinman down, crushing his skull.

"Connie" Sullivan Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—"Connie" Sullivan, who ten years ago was the bantamweight champion, is dead at his home in this city. His death was due to pneumonia. Sullivan was a pupil of Jack Dempsey and trained with many champions.

The Normal School.

Union county has now fallen in line with Hudson, Essex, Passaic and several other counties in the effort to secure the new State Normal School and Senator Cross has introduced a bill in the Upper House of the State Legislature, providing for its location at Summit. That is the sixth bill providing for the new Normal School which has been introduced in the Senate this session.

Those who are thoroughly conversant with the educational situation in the State declare that if any new Normal School is to be built, it should undoubtedly be located in either Essex or Hudson counties as from those two counties will come the great bulk of the young women who will desire instruction at the new school. There is not the ghost of a show of Union county securing that coveted State institution. But if it was possible that Union should have the Normal School, the best place in the county for its location would undoubtedly be Plainfield.

Plainfield certainly offers advantages for such an institution that no other city in the State can produce. It is particularly healthy here and the moral surroundings are such as few cities of this size can boast—a beautiful city, with no slums, and where Christian influences are particularly strong. Summit is on an unimportant branch of the D. L. and W. Railroad while Plainfield is one of the most important stations on the Jersey Central system and is easy to reach from the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Then there is the great system of trolley lines radiating in all directions while Summit hasn't one.

There are scores of other reasons which could be advanced why Plainfield is particularly fitted to be the location of the new Normal School. But the new Normal School will not come to Plainfield. Neither will it go to Summit. In fact, it is not likely to go to Newark, Jersey City or any of the other cities which have been mentioned as desirious of having it.

If a new Normal School is authorized, it seems quite likely that its location will be left to the discretion of the State Board of Health. It has been the policy of Governor Voorhees and of many of the legislators to keep the educational affairs of the State out of politics and allow them to be conducted on a non partizan basis for the best interests of the State.

What is more probable, however, than the authorization of a new Normal School will be a decided change in the present standard at the Normal School in Trenton. Today, the best public schools in New Jersey are preferably securing their instructors from Normal Schools out of the State for the simple reason that the existing standard at the New Jersey Normal School is not high enough to meet their requirements. Of course, there are some excellent teachers who come from the State school in Trenton, but the school superintendents have discovered that in general they are not as well equipped for the work as those from certain other States, notably New York and Massachusetts.

What is therefore quite probable is that the standard at the Trenton Normal School will be materially raised. Certain of the legislators believe that when that is accomplished the crowded condition of the present school will be relieved and that the existing accommodations will then be amply sufficient to care for those who will be able to meet the new requirements, while New Jersey's teachers will be able to rank with the best in the country.

In this season of the year it behooves every man, woman or child to take particular care of his or her health. A cold is a little thing, perhaps, but if the proper care is not given to it, it may develop into something of a serious nature, with, perhaps, fatal results. This week two young men just in the opening years of their manhood, have been stricken and their families and friends have mourned their untimely end. Such deaths are particularly sad and bring to the minds of the younger generation the need of constant watchfulness against the inroads of sickness.

When the Council meets Monday evening, the members of the street committee should not forget that they urgently advised in their annual report last December immediate provision for placing street signs through the city. Such action will receive the general commendation of the people of Plainfield.

Plainfield is fortunate in possessing an institution of the nature of the Dime Savings Institution, where the small savings as well as the large can be deposited with safety. Its annual statement shows that the past year has been a successful one for that bank, and the new century finds it stronger than ever.

When a man deliberately wrecks the home of his parents and raises his hand in anger against the woman who gave him birth, it is time for the law to take stringent measures in his case.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Manual training in the public schools is meeting with serious opposition by educators. A resolution adopted by the Newark Board of Education last week looks to a considerable reduction in the appropriation for this purpose, which means the abandonment of manual training in the higher grades. Many of the school principals in New York are opposed to manual training and other special branches, holding that the public schools should be strictly confined to essentials. The advocates of manual instruction maintain that it is an essential and that point should be settled before any change is undertaken. But it may be affirmed that the system has not had a fair trial in public education. It is certain that some of the features of the training are productive of the highest good. The sewing, knitting and draughting taught to girls are as valuable to them for use in after life as anything else taught in the schools. Drawing and the use of tools by boys are of lesser importance, and yet the lessons thus given have a great economic value.—Newark Advertiser.

It is conceded that there is no position in his gift that Governor Voorhees would not justly and willingly bestow upon Edward C. Stokes, the bright Senator from Cumberland. He did more than any other man, except General Sewell, to secure Mr. Voorhees the nomination for Governor. He did great service, working night and day with zeal and energy all through the campaign. He is the Governor's closest and warmest friend. They are like brothers. That is why Senator Stokes will be appointed Clerk in Chancery—if he wants it—in place of Lewis A. Thompson, whose term ends this winter. The position pays $6,000 a year, and the term is for five years. Under ordinary circumstances Mr. Thompson would be entitled to a reappointment, having served only one term, but he is non persona grata with the Governor, having strongly opposed his nomination. Thompson is also at variance with the dominating Senator Reed faction of the party in his own county of Somerset, which would be pleased to see him turned down. But Mr. Thompson is an upright and honorable man, and has never been quite on friendly and confidential terms with the machine.—New York Herald.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, January 30.—The large audience, which assembled in the Methodist church last evening, was well repaid for the trouble by hearing one of the most thorough and instructive lectures on school work yet given in the borough. The lecturer was Professor Joseph Green, of the Trenton Normal School, and the handling of the address from the commencement showed that he was thoroughly familiar with the subject. He made many valuable suggestions which applied to teachers and pupils alike. At the conclusion of the lecture the audience showed its appreciation by contributing generously to a collection as no admission fee was charged.

One of the latest aspirants for poultry honors in the borough is Barney McGovern who, after much forethought, has purchased an incubator of the most improved pattern and will devote much of his leisure moments in the future coaxing young chicks into existence. He has already placed one consignment of choice eggs in the brooder and the outcome will be anxiously awaited by his many friends.

In all probability a meeting between the fire and water committee of the Borough Council and the representatives of the Watchung Water Company will be held some time this week, possibly Friday evening. Important matters concerning the water supply will be discussed.

Rev. N. J. Sproul was able to be out yesterday for the first since his recent severe attack of the grip. He will now probably be able to deliver an address before the W. C. T. U. in the First Baptist church Sunday evening.

Mrs. John B. Terry and daughter, Jennie, of Brooklyn, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Terry.

T. C. Tinsman, of Finderne, has returned home after a visit with his brother, John Tinsman.

Mrs. A. F. Sampson is entertaining her sister, Miss Louise Holmes, of Plainfield.

Mrs. John Herbert was the guest of New York friends yesterday.

Mrs. Silas Carpenter is entertaining company from Brooklyn.

Mrs. W. L. Tinsman visited relatives at Orange yesterday.

A. N. Randolph spent yesterday in Raritan on business.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, Jan. 30.—While marking ice on the pond yesterday morning a horse belonging to J. Y. Wilson broke through and would have been pulled under the water but for the prompt cutting of the harness attaching it to the heavy marker. The only serious damage was the loss of a portion of the harness and the marker. While trying to save the latter John Downie fell in and received a cold bath.

A dance will be given in Friendship Hall tomorrow evening under the auspices of the following committee: Frederick Dayton, Herbert Dayton, Alfred Osmun, Ogden Meeker, Bryon Randolph and Charles Blackford. Music will be furnished by Prof. Naylor.

Mrs. L. H. Danz was taken with several hemorrgages last evening and her condition this morning was regarded as being very critical.

John Otto has rented Mr. Laire's new house which is situated opposite the Seventh Day Baptit church, and will take possession shortly.

Clarence Harrison, who has just established an evening paper route in this place, has disposed of it to Arthur Bogardus.

H. C. Cathers has resumed his duties as supervisor of schools after a short illness.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 30—A delegation of the members of Fanwood Council, R. A., were the guests last evening of Cranford Council, at an entertainment given in Cranford Hall, in honor of Supreme Regent W. Holt Apgar and the members of the Grand Council of New Jersey. The Fanwood boys found the members of Cranford Council delightful hosts and it is hoped by them that the visit will be returned at an early date.

The residents of the village, not wishing to rob the borough of any of its honors, deny that Lawrence Wallace is a well-known Scotch Plains character as stated in The Press Monday evening. Lawrence has been a resident of the borough ever since its organization, only occasionally, changing his residence to Elizabeth. Scotch Plains has troubles enough without taking the borough's.

Ever since the highway robbery of Thursday night last, the merchants have been doing quite a business in checking revolvers for residents who live in the neighborhood of Washington Valley and are obliged to come into town at night.

Prof. and Mrs. John R. Morey are entertaining Mrs. Morey's mother, Mrs. Stearns, of Brooklyn, for a few days.

George R. Nichol, who has been quite ill at his home for two weeks, is reported as improving very nicely.

A regular meeting of the Township Committee will be held in the Town Rooms Friday evening.

Wm. D. Johnston, the mason, is working on two contracts in Plainfield.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, Jan. 30.—Charles Maltby, of Plainfield avenue, who is recovering from the typhoid fever was out yesterday for the first since his illness.

Mr. Morris has nearly completed the job of settling up the Melick estate. Some of the legal papers have been attested before Justice Weaver, of this place, and the farm of sixty-six acres will be sold in April.

A large party of Plainfield skaters, who had been enjoying the skating on the mill pond at this place, were driven off the ice yesterday.

Mrs. Daniel Randolph and Miss Randolph have returned home from a visit with Daniel Randolph, of Greenbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thuma have returned home after a visit with friends in New York State.

Mrs. David Bigley is suffering from an attack of the rheumatism.

Daniel Laing is still confined to the house by the rheumatism.

SAVE THEM.

J. E. Martine Believes That All Jersey Should Aid Project to Save Palisades.

It is reported that the representatives of South Jersey are opposed to any legislative measures to save the Palisades, on the ground "that the people of the eastern portion of New Jersey and the people of New York will get the most chance to look at this grand formation of trap rock." Now this is entirely too narrow a view to take of a project so grand and wise. The preservation of this wonderful wall of rock concerns the whole people of New Jersey—north, south, east and west. It concerns the whole people just as much as would a scheme to drain our many picturesque lakes or to divert our rivers; further, this wonderful freak of nature is a great silent teacher.

Men of New Jersey! if legislation can save the Palisades, by all means let it be done. And when the June days shall come bring your families to view this mighty wall of nature which holds the noble Hudson on New Jersey's boundaries. And you will point with pride to the fact that you were a factor in this great measure.

J. E. Martine.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Streett, of St. Louis, Mo., returned home today after a very pleasant visit of three weeks at the home of James Clark, 404 West Seventh street.

Mrs. A C. LaBoyteaux, of Fairview avenue, returned home from Lakewood yesterday. Mr. LaBoyteaux will remain a week or so longer, hoping to regain strength lost during a severe attack of the grip.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, left this morning for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he goes for a week's visit at the home of Mrs. Schenck's father, S. P. Williams, in the hope that the change of air and scenery may be the means of his regaining the strength lost in a recent attack of the grip.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Marie Corelli's great dramatic work "The Sorrows of Satan," will be presented at Music Hall Monday night. All who have read the book will undoubtedly wish to see the play and it will be presented in a fine manner, according to the book.

Whenever a human being resists his temptation, the term of Lucifer's punishment is shortened and the fallen angel is brought nearer the portals of the paradise he once effected to despise. As few mortals resist temptation to evil, the "Son of the Morning" has an almost hopeless case. Hence Satan's sorrows, compared with which the sorrows of men are trifles, for each man's salvation depends upon himself, whereas Satan's is at the mercy of the whole human race.

While the idea of Satan appearing upon the earth is not entirely new, for Goethe has pictured it before, his character is absolutely original with Marie Corelli. The play will have the benefit of a superb cast and splendid scenic effects.

* * * * *

"The Game Keeper," Con. T. Murphy's latest drama, will be at Music Hall on Thursday of next week, and will be presented by Smith O'Brien, one of the most pleasing of actors and vocalists. He will be supported by an able company and the audience cannot fail to be delighted with the production. The piece gives the star ample opportunity to display his talents as a singer, and he receives much applause for the manner in which he renders the several selections in his repertoire. As Derry Doolan, the game keeper, Mr. O'Brien proves himself a good actor as well as a good singer and keeps his audience in excellent humor.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Cossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The other day one of Plainfield's bright young men was passing down Cortlandt street, New York, accompanied by a friend. In one of the show windows they noticed a sign which read "Cast iron sinks."

"Humph," remarked the bright young man, "As if anybody didn't know that cast iron sinks."

One of the local churches is in quite a predicament to know what to do with a step-ladder which belongs to that church. When the time came to decorate the church for last Christmas, the ladder was made especially for that object and was built high enough so that the beams well up on the walls of the church could be reached. When the work of decorating was completed, the committee tried to find some place to stow the ladder. It was so long that it was found imposeible to get it in the cellar of the church either by window or door. Then the ladder was taken to the store of one of the men prominent in the church. Again the extreme length of the ladder prevented it from being stowed away. Now the ladder is being passed along and nobody knows what to do with it.

FINE SHOWING OF HILLSIDE.

REPORT OF TREASURER OF HILLSIDE TENNIS AND GOLF CLUB.

Good Balance on Hand and Funds Laid by to Purchase Property Now Leased.

Much satisfaction has been expressed by the members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club over the present financial condition of that club. The annual meeting of the club will be held Tuesday evening, February 5, at the Casino, and copies of the treasurer's report were mailed to the members with the notice of that meeting. The treasurer is Councilman John van Herwerden The report is for the year ending January 15, 1901.

A year ago, there was a balance in the treasury of $517.90. The actual receipts during the year were $7 373 82 while the disbursements were $7 232 35, leaving a balance in the treasury at the present time of $659 37.

The greatest item of the year was, of course, the maintenance of the course. It cost $1.449 67 to keep the course in proper condition during the year. Then $559 65 was expended for improvements to the course. An even $1,000 was placed in the Emigrants Industrial Savings Institution as a sinking fund. The year before, the club invested a like amount in a city bond. The yearly rental of the grounds from the Melick estate was $606 33.

Most of the receipts were from the dues of the active members of the club. These dues for the year amounted to $4 850. From the associate membership came dues amounting to $716; from the junior associate, $558; from the transient members, $98 and from the non resident members, $264.

In a summary of the liabilities of the club, there is a bond account of $12 500 and deposits for locker keys amounting to $49 25. The bonds were issued to meet the cost of building the course and will be paid off little by little as the bonds expire.

The assets of the club include the course itself on which $9 355 92 has been expended, a furniture account amounting to $1,337 71, the tools, wagons and harness, valued at $759 95, the sinking fund of $2 000, $218 53 due from members and the cash balance of $659 37.

This sinking fund of $2,000 will probably be devoted toward the purchase of the land now occupied by the club course. The club holds an option on the property which will continue for several years. The sinking fund will meet part of the cost and a new issue of bonds will probably be made to meet the rest.

MANY ATTRACTED.

Leyburne's Stock Company Played to Large Audience at Music Hall Last Evening.

The hearty endorsement of the audience on Monday night brought out another large and well pleased audience at the second night's performance of the Charles H. Leyburne's Big Bon Ton Stock Company at Music Hall last night. "The Waifs of New York" was the attraction, with the fascinating little actress, Miss Emma Bunting, in the character of "Roxy." Everybody in the cast acquitted themselves in praiseworthy manner and the consensus of opinion was that the company was fully entitled to the title of "Bon Tons." The play was good, the specialties good and the illustrated songs a pleasing feature.

Tonight they will present one of Nat Goodwin's successes of former years—"The Black Flag"—in which Miss Bunting and Mr. Leyburne appear to best advantage. The drama will be presented with special scenery and entire change of specialties, and Miss Bunting will sing "After All" with the beautiful views accompanying every line.

Tomorrow afternoon for the matinee performance, "The Smugglers" a very interesting play, will be given and tomorrow night, another fine drama—"The Golden Giant" a story of mining days, will be presented.

At the evening performance tomorrow night, every woman will be presented with a beautiful souvenir copy of the popular ballad "After All." Each copy has a photogragh of Miss Emma Bunting on the title page, and as this is a piece of music that retails at 50 cents at all music stores, it is a souvenir worth having.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Ostpreussen.

Memel. Von den Stadtverordneten wurde die Aufnahme einer Anleihe von 750,000 Mark für die Zwecke der Wasserleitung gutgeheißen.

Rössel. Im Dorfe Zimianen erschlug der Knecht Plotz, ein wegen seiner Rauflust berüchtigter, kaum 17jähriger junger Mensch, nach einem Trinkgelage den 27jährigen Anton Jux mit einem Holzscheite. Der Thäter wurde verhaftet.

Provinz Westpreussen.

Pelplin. Gegen den polnischen Redakteur v. Bulinski wurde die Untersuchungshaft wegen wissentlichen Meineides verhängt. Da sich Bulinski der Haft durch die Flucht entzog, wird er nunmehr steckbrieflich verfolgt.

Tolkemit. Die Tolkemiter Töpfer haben keinen Thon mehr; ihre Thonlager, denen sie viele Jahrhunderte hindurch das Material zur Herstellung der Steingutwaaren entnommen haben, sind erschöpft. Als jüngst in Kadinen größere Thonlager erschlossen wurden, wandten die Tolkemiter Töpfer sich an die Gutsverwaltung mit der Bitte, ihnen von dem Kadiner Thon abzugeben. Dieser Bitte hat der Kaiser als Gutsherr entsprochen. Es sollen den Tolkemiter Töpfern 300 Kubikmeter Thon, fertig gemahlen, gegen geringe Vergütung abgegeben werden.

Rheinprovinz.

Köln. Die Kriminalpolizei verhaftete den Kanzlisten der hiesigen Handelskammer, dem Unterschlagungen in der Höhe von 10,000 Mark zur Last gelegt werden.

Oberhausen. Am 1. April d. J. scheidet die Stadt Oberhausen, die nach der jüngsten Volkszählung 42,026 Einwohner hat, aus dem Kreise Mülheim a. d. Ruhr aus und wird zum selbstständigen Stadtkreis erhoben.

St. Wendel. Ein Geschenk von 4000 Mark hat der Kaiser aus seiner Privatschatulle einer Anzahl Einwohner der Gemeinde Ruschberg überweisen lassen, welche im Juni d. J. durch einen Wolkenbruch schwer geschädigt worden waren.

Trier. In einer Nacht wurden aus dem hiesigen Dom ein Kelch im Werthe von 1500 Mark, ein Ciborium, goldene Fransen einer Decke und der Obertheil eines aus dem 13. Jahrhundert stammenden Bischofstabes gestohlen. Von dem Diebe, der sich zur Ausführung der That in den Dom hatte einschließen lassen, hat man keine Spur.

Provinz Sachsen.

Magdeburg. Der verstorbene Kommerzienrath und Stadtrath Wilhelm Hauswaldt hat der Stadt Magdeburg für Museumszwecke 100,000 Mark vermacht. Mit je 100,000 Mark bedachte er ferner verschiedene Vereine und Stiftungen, sowie die Wohlfahrtseinrichtungen für das Personal seiner Fabrik. In Kösen hinterließ der verstorbene Chemiker Heun der dortigen Stadtschule 18,000 Mark und dem städtischen Krankenhause 3000 Mark. In Weißenfels vermachte der verstorbene Rektor Felß der Stadt und einigen Korporationen zu wohlthätigen und gemeinnützigen Zwecken 11,000 Mark.

Naumburg. In Rehehausen fand man den Landwirth Rösler und seine Tochter Morgens in ihrer Wohnung todt auf; beide waren einer Kohlenoxydgasvergiftung zum Opfer gefallen.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. An Kohlengas erstickt sind auf dem Gute Tschotschwitz der Gutsbesitzer Weigert, sowie seine Frau und zwei Kinder.

Oppeln. Vor der hiesigen Strafkammer hatten sich der Rechtsanwalt und Notar Dr. Otto Anhuth aus Kupp wegen Herausforderung zum Zweikampf, der Amtsrichter Maximilian Schiffer aus Lobsens wegen Kartelltragens und Beleidigung zu verantworten. Veranlassung zu dieser Affäre war eine Differenz des Ersteren mit dem Amtsrichter Dr. Slupecki in Karlsruhe gelegentlich eines Termins in Karlsruhe. Die Angeklagten wurden zu je einem Monat Festungshaft, und Amtsrichter Schiffer wurde außerdem zu 300 Mark Geldstrafe verurtheilt.

Rybnik. Die dem Fürsten zu Hohenlohe-Oehringen gehörige, im Rybniker Kreise gelegene Lauragrube ist ersoffen und kann nicht weiter betrieben werden. Das Kohlenwerk förderte jährlich etwa 130,000 Tonnen Kohle und beschäftigte 500 Arbeiter.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Altona. Der verstorbene Bankier Pius Warburg hat eine Summe von reichlich 250,000 Mark für den Bau eines Stiftsgebäudes für bedürftige Altonaer Einwohner ohne Unterschied der Konfession testamentarisch vermacht. Die Bibliothek des Verstorbenen fiel der Stadt zu.

Rendsburg. Die städtischen Kollegien haben zum Bau einer Werkstatt für die hiesige Fachschule „Electra" einen Platz zur Verfügung gestellt und für die erforderliche Bausumme von 45,000 Mark die Zinsgarantie übernommen.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

WINTER COSTUMES.

Gowns of Cloth and Wool Goods and Metal Ornaments.

Walking costumes of cloth, vigogne or homespun are chiefly in shades of brown, beaver, almond, beige and iron gray. There is also a return to the entirely plain skirt of black cloth with an elaborately trimmed corsage and vest or chemisette.

Corselet skirts, the top carried up several inches above the waist line and fitted to the figure, are extremely becoming to slender women. They are worn with a chemisette and a short bolero, the latter prettily decorated with applications, passementerie or metallic embroideries, the last named being the newest and most fashionable sort of ornament. Gold appears everywhere at present and on everything. Gold ribbons of all widths are seen and are used for belts, collars, cuffs, corselets and to trim vests and chemisettes.

The cut shows a costume of cloth. The skirt is plain, with a single watteau plait at the back and three stitched cloth straps around the foot. The tight bodice has a yoke, plastron and sleeve tops of guipure over silk. The top and lower edge of the corsage and the upper part of the cloth sleeves are bordered with three bands of velvet, and stitched cloth straps are arranged vertically on both sleeves and bodice and held in place at the ends by gold olives. The collar is of velvet. The hat is covered with gathered panne and is trimmed with two ostrich plumes and a jeweled ornament.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

EVENING CORSAGES.

Separate Bodices of Light Colors and Elaborate Design.

Besides the flannel, velveteen and corduroy bodices so generally adopted for ordinary use there are many more or less elaborate bodices of silk, satin and velvet, differing from the skirt, which are employed for the theater, small dinners, luncheon parties and general demitoilet. Folds, tucks and cords are the simplest form of decoration, with silk, cut steel and fancy buttons, but the tendency is toward a greater amount of decorations for such corsages; hence mousseline de soie, lace, embroidery, passementerie and applications of guipure are resorted to.

Among the novel materials for bodices is a heavy net embroidered with incrustations of white cloth. This is made over satin or taffeta of a light shade. Bodices of painted panne are in high favor and are of the most delicate and soft tints, and guipure bodices over light toned taffeta or satin are well worn.

The cut illustrates a costume of plum cloth. The skirt has three bands of plum velvet of graded widths running around the lower part, and these are crossed by five vertical stitched folds of cloth, one of which forms the watteau plait at the back. The crossed bolero of cloth, bordered with stitching and fastening with a gold button, has revers of white satin embroidered with gold. It is worn over a tight bodice of plum velvet, fastening diagonally with small gold buttons. The plain, tight sleeves are stitched at the flaring wrists. The hat of plum felt is trimmed with a drapery of plum velvet, a plume and a long gold buckle. A boa of black mousseline de soie with chenille ends is worn.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NEW SILKS AND FOULARDS.

What Will Be Worn This Spring and Summer.

Now, right in the middle of the winter we see the dainty and diaphanous things which are to make all womankind irresistible next summer. It is to me one of the most ridiculous of all the things laid to the account of woman's foolishness. In the windows we see the figures which but a short time ago were dressed in tailor suits, in fancy lingerie, with neck and arms bare. It gives one the cold shivers to see them while one stands outside, all wrapped in furs. I think I mentioned the white goods before. They present very little change from those of a year ago, unless it is that those now offered are covered still more lavishly with lace than the others were. One small point of difference is that some of the skirts have the half handkerchief flounce, and the points are literally loaded with lace. They are headed with it and have insertions and also have it along the edges. That makes a perfect fluff of lace and batiste, which is beautiful to look at, and still more charming when one thinks what the laundry bills must be. It costs from $1 to $5 to have one of the skirts done up.

All the pretty lawns and other cotton goods are shown and will be eagerly bought, for the really swell society girl always has her summer frocks made in the winter, or, at the latest, she has them done during Lent. One may see among these new dress cottons a wonderfully large line of them to choose from. Perhaps the best and first on the list is the Belfast dimity. This comes in dozens of designs and as many colors as to background. Some are in solid color, and they are not the least desirable. There are some exceedingly fine and valuable Scotch ginghams in quite new ideas in solid tints and some with stripes, besides plaids and checks from those an inch to pinhead in size. Some have corded stripes, and others show tiny rough dots.

Organdies of all imaginable kinds and qualities are shown, as though we had never heard of such stuffs before, and they are good in every way. They wear well for a thin fabric and wash better than the most of the summer material. There is a new stuff called foulardine, some of it plain and other kinds having satin stripes and others still showing lace stripes. There are also ginghams with lace stripes. Silk comesa is a silk and cotton fabric, and it is exceedingly pretty. Chambray is among the best of the new cottons, and there are several novelties in that valuable and fadeless material. Some of it is mercerized, and that means that it has a surface as glossy and lustrous as silk. Some of the zephyrs are embroidered, and they are capable of being developed into really handsome dresses. Fancy canvas is also offered for nice summer wear and will be made up with heavy flax lace as trimming. Some of it will be hemstitched, and some will have Hungarian or Bulgarian embroidery as garniture. I saw silk and sea island cotton ginghams, and they are as dainty as one could imagine. The colors and tints are fine and pleasing.

There is a new departure in swisses, and they are now nearly covered with fine and delicate embroidery. The width is so that the skirt is all done on the straight, and when the skirt is made up it must be on the straight, too, and gathered. I was told that there would be an underskirt of plain swiss, and over this the embroidered one would be placed just so that it would show slightly. Some may have flounces under the edge.

Among the silks for summer we see all sorts of designs of printed pongees. Blue, lilac, mauve, gray and pale brown and a few helio shades are among the best colors, and one may say in a general way that the designs are rather small, and few are floral. Stripes with some vague figures and the queer vermicelli designs seem to predominate. There is much polka dot foulard. A printed satin faced peau de soie is a marvel. The twist warp pongees are of extra quality and finish, and they will be used for whole dresses and for the ubiquitous shirt waist. Satin striped grosgrain, corded taffeta and satin duchess are very much admired.

LEGISLATION for the Protection of GAME

Different States Have Different Methods—A Plan Offered for Uniformity

GAME has been variously defined and is capable of various interpretations, but it may very properly be restricted to a few well-marked groups of mammals and birds. Game birds, as defined by the American Ornithologists' union, comprise (1) Anatidae, commonly known as swans, geese, brant and ducks; (2) Rallidae, including rails, coots, mud hens and gallinules; (3) Limicolae, or shore birds, comprising plovers, snipe, woodcock, sandpipers and curlew; and (4) Gallinae, including wild turkeys, grouse, prairie chickens, pheasants, partridges and quail. Certain mammals and birds which are sometimes classed as game should, for various reasons, be otherwise regarded. Among such mammals may be mentioned ground squirrels, muskrats and woodchucks; among birds, cranes, wild pigeons, doves, flickers, night hawks or bull bats, meadow larks, reedbirds, blackbirds and robins. Ground squirrels, muskrats and woodchucks are not held in high estimation for the table, nor are they usually hunted for sport. Cranes, pigeons and doves are ordinarily considered legitimate game, but are now so rare that in most states they have been practically removed from the game list. Flickers, night hawks, meadow larks, blackbirds and robins are insectivorous, and although considered good eating, are far too valuable to be killed for sport or market. Reedbirds or bobolinks are regarded as pests in the south and are highly esteemed as song birds in the north; they are treated as game in only five states along the middle Atlantic coast, where they are neither particularly beneficial nor injurious. They, too, may, therefore, be removed from the category of game.

In comparison with some of the continents of the old world North

MAP SHOWING DIVISION PROPOSED BY HALLOCK CODE.

America is deficient in big game. The true antelopes, which are found in such wonderful variety in Africa, are entirely unrepresented in this country, the nearest approach to them being the single species of prong horn, or so-called antelope. Wild sheep and goats, of which there are numerous species in Asia, are comparatively few in number in this country, and are confined to the mountains of the west. In game birds, on the other hand, North America compares favorably with any part of the world. Upland game is represented by quail and grouse in great variety and by several species of one of the finest of all game birds—the wild turkey. Shore birds are abundant in some localities at certain seasons, and the ducks and geese which resort to our streams and coasts in winter have rendered certain feeding grounds famous the world over. When this list is increased by the addition of the finest of the old world pheasants, several species of which have already been introduced, the variety of game birds will be unsurpassed by that of any other region of similar extent.

Improvidence and wantonness have, however, rapidly depleted the stock of game. Buffalo are gone; elk, moose and caribou are rare, except in a few favored localities; and even deer, which are generally distributed, have been greatly reduced in numbers by unnecessary and unreasonable slaughter. Wild pigeons, like the buffalo, have been practically exterminated; the prairie chicken is no longer found in much of the country that was its native home half a century ago; wild turkey and woodcock are almost extinct in many localities where they should be numerous; and ducks and geese, which only a few years ago were remarkably abundant in some sections, are rapidly growing scarcer.

Doubtless it would be interesting to trace the steps in the development of game legislation in this country, but it will be sufficient merely to refer to a few of the more important points. "The laws relating to game in the United States are generally, if not universally, framed with reference to protecting the animals from indiscriminate and unreasonable havoc, leaving all persons free to take game under certain restrictions as to the season of the year and the means of capture. * * * As the most effective means of enforcing such statutes, most of them prohibit all persons, including licensed dealers, under penalty, from buying or selling or even having in possession or control any game purchased within a certain period after the commencement of the close season." The principle that the game belongs to the state and that its capture is a privilege, but not a right, is becoming generally recognized. It has been upheld by several of the state courts; and the laws of Colorado, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Texas and Wisconsin declare specifically that the title to game is vested in the state.

Laws fixing seasons for the killing of game date back more than a century, as exemplified by the New York statute protecting heath hens, which was passed in 1791. The necessity for regulations controlling the manner of capturing game also attracted attention at an early date, as shown by the Virginia law of 1832, which prohibited killing wild fowl with swivel guns, or while they were at rest on the water at night. More recently, restrictive measures have been adopted which require licenses from nonresidents, limit the number of birds or animals which may be killed in a day or season, and authorize the maintenance of wardens for the special purpose of enforcing game laws. Of late years, legislation has also been directed toward restricting traffic in game. Laws prohibiting export of game from the state, at first experimental, have been generally adopted since their constitutionality was established by the supreme court in a decision rendered March 2, 1896. Progress has also been made in restricting the sale of game and the killing for market. In several states market hunting for deer and certain game birds is absolutely prohibited at all seasons; in others, laws against the sale of certain game are in force; while in three states at least—Kansas, Idaho and Montana—the sale of all game protected by the state law is illegal.

A great diversity of legislation for the protection of game exists. Every state has its own method, and adjoining states often have widely differing laws. For years those most interested in the protection of game have been working for a uniformity of legislation that would meet all requirements, but so far they have been unsuccessful.

Of the various schemes proposed for uniform game laws, that suggested by Mr. Charles Hallock in 1897 deserves especial attention. In an address before the National Game, Bird and Fish Protective association he advocated a code of cooperative legislation, in accordance with which the United States was to be divided into three "concessions," in each of which the laws were to be as uniform as possible, the open seasons identical, and protection was to be accorded to insectivorous birds, but withheld from a few species considered injurious.

The feature of special interest in this connection is the simple manner in which the states were grouped together. The three concessions were namd Northern, Southern and Pacific, and as originally proposed were limited as follows: All of the region west of the crest of the Rocky mountains was included in the Pacific, while all that east of this range was divided at latitude 36 degrees 30 minutes into a northern and a southern concession. This division, however, had the disadvantage of cutting through Colorado and New Mexico, thus giving each a double set of laws. Moreover, the Pacific concession extended from Puget sound to the Mexican boundary and embraced wide extremes of climate. The scheme has now been slightly modified by extending the northern concession over the whole of Colorado and allowing the southern to include not only all New Mexico, but also Arizona. This places all the region south of latitude 36 degrees 30 minutes (except part of southern California) in one division. All the states north of this line with these exceptions belong to the northern or southern concessions, while California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington form the Pacific. For a simple division, this seems to meet all requirements fairly well; and while it may not be practicable to secure identical laws in all the states in each group, a strong effort should at least be made to have the close seasons correspond as nearly as possible.

$25,000 Our Grand $25,000 Ornithological Contest.

Something entirely new and interesting. Read what you are to do. You may get 1,000 dollars. Our contest is to see who can make the largest list of names (or kinds) of birds from the following list of letters:

W D O O O C C K Q U L I A P R T A R
I D G E S P N I E L V E B R D I M W
A D O H T L

We will recognize as a bird anything belonging to the feathered tribe, whether it be a Hen, Crow, Singer or any other kind. You can use any letter as many times to make a name as it appears in the list of letters above; for instance Woodcock, Plover, Snow Bird, etc. To any persons who can make a list of 25 or more different names of birds, we will give absolutely FREE a beautiful Prize value 1,000, dols. or less.

BIG PRIZES AWARDED DAILY.

When you have made out your list fill out the line on the bottom of this advt, and send to us with a Stamped Addressed envelope, stamp of your country will do, then if you are awarded a prize you can if you desire get the prize by becoming a subscriber to The Woman's World. We shall award a prize to every person who sends the name of 25 Birds, and our gifts will be as follows: For the best list, received each day, a Gold Watch; for the second best solution each day a beautiful Imported Tea Set; for the seven next best solutions each day, a Konrah Sakih Diamond and Ruby Ring; for the next best solution, a Gold Piece; and for all other correct solutions, Prizes of Good Value. These Prizes will be forwarded daily, you will not have to wait a long time in uncertainty before you know the result. There is no element of lottery in our plan, it makes no difference whether we get your solution late or early in the day. All you need is to mail this advt. to us, and on the day it reaches us, if your list is the best, You shall have the Gold Watch, or if second best the beautiful Tea Set, and so on. We guarantee that we will award you a prize. There is absolutely no opportunity for deception on our part—we cannot afford it. We want to get 1,000,000 well-satisfied subscribers, and for that reason we don't want you to send any money until you know exactly what prize you have gained by answering the puzzles. As soon after 4 p. m. each day as possible, the examiners will judge the lists to the best of their ability, and will designate the prizes. We will write to you at once notifying you what prize has been awarded you, then if you are satisfied, you can send your subscription to The Woman's World and your prize will go by return of mail, carriage paid. To a person of narrow ideas it seems impossible that we should be able to make such a gigantic offer, but we have the money, brains and reputation, we know exactly what we are doing, and if we can legitimately gain a million subscribers by this grand idea we know that this million of well pleased subscribers can be induced to recommend The Woman's World to all friends, thereby building up our circulation still further. We are willing to spend 25,000 dollars in this contest in building up a big subscription list, and when this money is spent we reserve the right to publish a notification that the contest has been discontinued. Don't delay until it is too late. The contest will continue until July 1, 1901.

We give a Bonus Prize of 250 dollars, independent of all others, to the person who sends in the list gotten up in the best and handsomest manner. Our committee will decide and award prizes daily, but the special 250 dols. prize will be awarded in September, 1901. Any birds name found in the dictionaries accepted.

EMPEROR OF CHINA.

Reports That He Has Embraced the Christian Faith Not Founded on Reliable Testimony.

Stories are afloat concerning the alleged conversion of the Chinese emperor to Christianity, but it is impossible to trace the reports to authentic sources. Missionaries are unable to corroborate what it is most devoutly hoped is true. It is certain that since the flight of the court the emperor has had no opportunity of hearing Christian teachings.

The probable origin of the report has been deciphered in the imperial palace, where foreign visitors, including Herbert F. Squiers, secretary of the United States legation, found translations of foreign religious works, the Bible and various doctrinal expositions, Protestant and Catholic, among them.

HIS MAJESTY KWANG HSU.
(Emperor of China and a Close Student of the Scriptures.)

The visitors jumped to the conclusion that the emperor had adopted Christianity, but those who are better informed know that the emperor studied the Christian doctrines for the sake of information, with the same purpose that he investigated all foreign civilizations and religions. In this course he was urged on by the reform leaders, led by Kang Yu Wei.

It is well known that when the empress dowager received a costly Bible as a present from the foreign missionary board she returned thanks, but had it distinctly understood that this did not imply her acceptance of Christianity. No edict of the emperor mentions Christianity.

Li Hung Chang, who was ill recently, is better and is able to reply to inquiry as to whether he had heard of the emperor's reported conversion. He said he had heard nothing of the sort.

QUEEN MARY'S GHOST.

It Was Heard in London Tower Christmas Eve, Which Presages Death in British Royalty.

The ghost of Mary, Queen of Scots, was heard in the bloody tower of London tower on Christmas eve, and this, according to tradition, means the death of the queen of England. The story was circulated Christmas day by a guard, who claims he heard a long wail followed by the sound of footsteps. Three times was the performance repeated, and the guard, who promptly investigated the matter, could find no cause for the sounds. It is said that the spirit of the Scottish queen has made itself heard just before the death of every monarch of England since the time of Elizabeth. Every effort is being made to keep a knowledge of the rumor from Queen Victoria. Queen Mary was beheaded on February 8, 1587. On May 15, 1567, she had married Bothwell, the murderer of Lord Darnley, her second husband, and just one month thereafter she was seized and forced to abdicate in favor of her son. She escaped and fled to England, where Elizabeth confined her first at Carlisle and then in other castles. When she was led to the block she bore up bravely, and, although only injured a little by the first blow of the ax, she made no outcry or showed any other sign of fear. Three blows were required to dispatch her. It is said that Queen Elizabeth never recovered her composure after the death of Mary, and thus just before the death of Elizabeth the ghost of the Scottish queen was heard wailing in the tower. This visitation, so tradition runs, has always been repeated when an English monarch is about to die.

QUEEN MARY'S GHOST.
(Report Says It Was Heard Recently in the Bloody Tower.)

Growth of American Banking.

Up to 1791 there were but three banks in the United States with an aggregate capital of $2,000,000. Last year there were 3,651 national banks in the country, and the total capital invested in banks of all kinds in the United States amounts to almost $8,000,000,000.

WHIST.

The third round of the Intercity Whist Tournament was played in the rooms of the Knickerbocker Whist Club, New York, last Saturday evening. The Park Club "four" now holds thirteenth position, having won 6 1 2 matches. The next round will be played at the same place on Feb. 9.

In the contest for teams of eight or twelve men, now going on the New Jersey Whist Association, the Westfield team did great things to the Elizabeth Chess and Whist team, last week, by defeating them by eleven tricks. The same evening the New Jersey Whist Club defeated the Forest Hill team by thirty-four tricks.

CITY HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED.

WHITTIER SCHOOL TEAM WON BY SCORE OF THREE TO ONE.

But Winners Had Three Extra Men From Outside-Goals Made by Denton, Monroe and Hobbie.

A well played hockey game took place on Holly's pond yesterday afternoon between the teams from the Whittier and the Plainfield High school. The latter team was defeated by a score of three to one. In justice however it may be said that the losers did not have their regular team, while the Whittiers had the advantage of three outside men.

Both sides played well and the game proved very interesting for a large number of spectators. The High school goal was made by Denton and the Whittiers were secured by Monroe and Hobbie, the former making two.

The following is the lineup:

| HIGH SCHOOL. | | WHITTIER. |
|---|---|---|
| Meeker | goal | Thayer |
| Robert | point | Phillips |
| Pond | coverpoint | Mosher |
| Miller | forwards | Hobbie |
| Denton | " | Smith |
| VanAuken | " | Eagan |
| Kinsman | | Douglas |

Referee, Davis; timekeeper, Scull.

The High School team will play another game with the Leal School team this afternoon at the same place and another has been arranged with the North Plainfield High School, to take place on Herrman's pond at the foot of the Notch next Tuesday afternoon.

EIGHTEEN INDICTMENTS FOUND

UNION COUNTY GRAND JURY COMPLETED ITS LABORS THIS MORNING.

Presented Its Foreman, Former Mayor John C. Rankin, With a Handsome Gift.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 30—After being in session three weeks, the Grand Jury of Union county has completed its labors, and this morning reported to Judge Vail, in the county court, the result of its deliberations. There were eighty-one cases brought to the attention of the Jury, but only eighteen bills were handed to the clerk of the court. They were not made public, but it is known that there were no homicide cases considered.

After the members of the Grand Jury had completed their official labors they gathered in the Grand Jury room, where the foreman, Former Mayor John C. Rankin, of Elizabeth, was presented with a gift from his fellow members of the Jury. It was a handsome cut glass pitcher, fourteen inches high, with a silver rim about the top. There was a long silver spoon accompanying it. Both were placed in a fine morocco leather case.

On the top of the case was a silver plate on which was engraved the following: "The honored John C. Rankin from the members of the first Grand Jury of Union county, New Jersey, of the new century."

The presentation speech was cleverly made by Former Freeholder VanSuan, of Cranford, and Former Mayor Rankin replied in a few apt sentences. Former Sheriff William T. Kirk, of Plainfield, was chairman of the committee which purchased the gifts.

NEW INDUSTRY.

B. A. Hegeman, Jr., President of Company Incorporated at Elizabeth.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the County Clerk at Elizabeth by the United States Metal and Manufacturing Company. The incorporators of the company are B. A. Hegeman, Jr., of North Plainfield; Thomas E. Fitzgerald, Manhattan Borough, N. Y.; Robert M. Crater, Orange, and Michael J. O'Connor. The main office of the company will be in the Empire building at 71 Broadway, New York, and the New Jersey office at 163 North avenue, this city. Mr. Hegeman is the president.

Verdict For Garrett Dreier.

The case of Garrett Dreier against Sophia Buddsiek was concluded yesterday afternoon before Judge Strong, of New Brunswick. The action was brought to recover $200 in a real estate transaction, wherein property in Woodbridge township and in New York City was involved. Lawyer Wm. Newcorn represented the plaintiff, while Leslie Lupton, of Rahway, represented the defendant. The jury was only out a half hour, when a verdict for $278 08 with interest and costs was givan for the plaintiff.

Donation Party.

The Young Men's Bible class of Monroe Avenue church called at the home of Percy Cannon, the blind boy, last evening and made his heart glad. The friends spent a pleasant evening socially, during which there was a programme of song. Mr. Cannon was handsomely remembered by his friends, who brought him many substantial things, including some desirable cash to help him on his journey through life.

Lunched on New Steamer.

William R. Cock, of East Fifth street, was a guest Monday at a luncheon given on board the new Red Star liner, "Vaderland," of the International Navigation Company, on the occasion of its first trip. He was accompanied by F. C. Brown, of Chicago, the general western agent of the International Company, who is now Mr. Cock's guest in Plainfield.

Recovery Seems Probable.

Mrs. James C. Pope, of West Fourth street, was taken suddenly ill yesterday with appendicitis, and this morning she was taken to the hospital, where an operation was performed by Dr. Hedgee. The chances for recovery are favorable.

New Director.

At a meeting of the directors of the First National Bank yesterday, Isaac W. Bushmore offered his resignation as a member of the Board. The resignation was accepted and Edwin S. Hooley was elected to membership in the Board.

Mrs. J. E. Mosher, wife of Justice Mosher, is critically ill at her home on East Fourth street.

NO FORMAL OPENING YET.

BOROUGH BOARD OF EDUCATION DECIDES ON MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL

Many Would-be Pupils Are Barred From Entering by Age Limit and Non-Residence Rule.

The Borough Board of Education at their last meeting decided what they should do about the Manual Training School.

It was decided that no formal opening should be held until the building is fully completed and the classes definitely organized. Then the public will be able to see the finished building and the classes at work, and gain some idea of the sort of work to be done.

A number of people are anxious to join the manual training school, but are barred because of the age limit and being non residents. The law is interpreted as meaning that a pupil's home is where the parents live and he cannot be admitted to the borough schools unless parents are residents of the borough. People who come to the borough and board for an indefinite length of time, it is said, are not residents.

It was also decided that no pupils should be admitted to the manual training school unless within the school age, at least not for the present, until the capacity of the rooms were fairly tested.

The Board directed that a regular telephone should be put into the Somerset street school, provided the committee on grounds could make satisfactory arrangements. This has been the wish of many parents, and it will be of great service to the superintendent, teachers and Board.

The Seventh grade was found to have eighty pupils, and, in order to relieve the pressure in it, it was decided to temporarily fit up a room, at present unoccupied, in the manual training department and employ Miss Filkins, sister to Miss Filkins now in the Watchung School, to take charge of half the class. Next season the drawing class is to have the room, however.

Contractor Giddis, of Newark, who installed the heating apparatus in the building, made a thorough test of the same Monday afternoon, and reported everything working in a satisfactory manner.

KNOWS WHO DID IT.

Chief Marshal Will Go Forth Tonight to Call on Offending Young Man.

For some time past a number of boys have been engaged in the practice of breaking incandescent electric light bulbs in Washington Park. The matter was brought to the attention of Councilman George T. Rogers, chairman of the fire, water and lamp committee, and he has the complete list of the names of the boys who have been indulging in this dangerous habit. Mr. Rogers not only knows the names of the boys, but the location of every lamp broken. This evening the chief marshal will call on these boys and warn them against further acts of this kind.

Dime Social.

The members of Friendship Lodge, D. of R. are arranging for a dime social to be given tomorrow evening at the residence of Mrs. Peter VanFleet, of East Third street. An interesting programme of vocal and instrumental selections will be rendered.

Farewell Service.

Rev. Floyd Appleton will preach in the Church of the Heavenly Rest at the 4 o'clock service on Sunday next. This will be Mr. Appleton's farewell service in this parish as he has been called to a reeponsible assistant rectorship in Brooklyn.

Death of Mrs. Hill.

The death of Mrs. Hill, mother of Mrs. Rowland Cox, of West Seventh street, occurred at her home in Smyrna, Del., on Sunday last after a long illness. The funeral services were held from the late home this afternoon.

New Floor For Engine House.

Carpenters have been at work for the last few days placing new flooring in the West Second street engine house. The flooring has been in bad shape for some time and the improvement is a much-needed one.

Invitations for a Tea.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. H. Raymond Munger and her daughter, Miss Munger, for a tea to be given Thursday, February 7, from four to seven o'clock at their home, 42 Washington avenue.

Duplicate Whist.

A pleasant social event of last evening was the duplicate whist at the Park Club. There were four tables. No prizes were given. At the conclusion of the game refreshments were served.

Sorely Afflicted.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Winans, of Plainfield avenue, were sore afflicted this morning by the death of their little daughter, Matilda F. Winans, aged seven years.

New Store.

Cranston Brothers, dealers in wall papers, paints, window glass, etc., will open a store at 326 Park avenue. They will make a specialty of coving.

CLEVER WORK ON SKATES.

LEAL'S SCHOOL BOYS WON AT HOCKEY FROM WESTFIELD TEAM.

Defeated Lincoln High School By Score of 4 to 0 Yesterday Afternoon.

In a return match, the hockey team of Leal's School defeated the boys of the Lincoln High School, of Westfield, at the latter place yesterday afternoon. The Leal's School team won by a score of 4 to 0 but the game was very close throughout.

Leal's shot for the goal several times in the first half but Ralph Schoonmaker was the only one to score. In the second half, Leals scored three times, Schoonmaker making the first and Tilney the other two, the last just before the game ended.

The Lincoln boys made several good tries for goal in the second half but the puck was every time stopped by Corwin. The game grew rather rough toward the end, the Lincoln boys being generally the aggressors.

The lineup was as follows:

| LEAL'S SCHOOL. | | LINCOLN HIGH. |
|---|---|---|
| Tilney | forward | Reis |
| Wright | forward | Alpers |
| R. Schoonmaker | forward | Welch |
| W. Schoonmaker | forward | Green |
| Abbott | cover point | Knight |
| McGee | point | Harris |
| Corwin | goal | Sherman |

Score Leal's School, 4; Lincoln High School, 0. Goals—Tilney (2), R. Schoonmaker (2). Referee—Gi[illegible]le.

Chinese Mother-in-law Story.

"The Experience of a British Pharmacist in China" was the title of an address by Mr. Frank Browne, who was introduced as the government analyst at Hong-Kong.

As illustrating the Chinese regard for filial piety the lecturer told an interesting mother-in-law story. A man and his wife maltreated the husband's mother. As a punishment the scene of the act was openly cursed, the active agents were put to death and the mother of the wife was bambooed, branded and exiled for her daughter's crime. The house in which the offenders lived was dug up from the foundations. Moreover, the scholars of the district were precluded from attending public examinations, and even the magistrates were deprived of their office. These drastic measures were designed to render the empire filial.—London News.

Diplomacy.

Now, there was a certain man. He swore off from indulgence in alcoholic stimulation. To him came a friend.

"Hear you have sworn off?" said the friend.

"Yep."

"Glad to hear it; mighty glad to hear it. You are looking better already."

Whereat the man transferred his custom to another.

Also came a second friend. "Is it a fact that you have sworn off?" he asked.

"It are."

"I can't see that it has made any difference in your looks."

So it came to pass that the second man borrowed an easy $50 from the maker of resolutions. — Indianapolis Press.

Craters of the Moon.

Astronomers are discussing the theory that the moon is in its glacial epoch. One telescopic expert calls the "craters" ice cups, and the streams along their sides glacial weather. Another insists that the signs of volcanic action are unmistakable. All agree that most of the moon's surface is intensely white. The dark regions are termed seas, but there is no evidence that they contain water. Some writers believe they are covered with the earliest forms of vegetation. It remains for the twentieth century to solve the mysteries of the moon, the nineteenth having made little positive progress in that direction.—Science.

Odd Duties of German Firemen.

The inhabitants of Hanover object to paying highly for the fire brigade, which seldom has to extinguish a fire, so they now require that the wearers of the regulation helmet and ax shall attend to accidents and sudden illness in the public streets. For instance, if an old lady feels faint under the burdens of her winter finery she has but to attract the attenion of the nearest policeman, who in his turn telephones for the fire brigade, which promptly turns up in a carriage and four.—N. Y. Herald.

Tired of a Bad Reputation.

Billingsgate wishes to rid itself of the imputation which rests upon it of being the ward in which the worst characters, judged by the language used, assembles. There is no doubt at all that in Billingsgate a very marked improvement as regards the use of bad language has taken place, a fact undoubtedly due in a great measure to the good influence exercised by the Christian mission.—London City Press.

—Many people are blind from not having a little care given their eyes when some trouble first develops. Stiles & Co., eye specialists, will examine them tomorrow, Thursday. Hours 11:15 to 4:30 at 107 East Front street.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

M'CLINTOCK TELLS WHY CITY MUST SETTLE.

Another Communication From President of the American Sewage Disposal Co.

REPLIES TO MR. GAVETT.

REFERS TO AMERICAN PATENTS TO SUPPORT HIS CLAIMS.

Would Prefer That the City Should Settle the Matter at Once, But Declares His Company is Ready for a Suit if Necessary.

The controversy between the City of Plainfield and the American Sewage Disposal Company, of Boston, which corporation claims to control by patents the system that the City Council is considering for use at the sewage disposal beds, is naturally one of interest to every citizen of Plainfield.

A. J. Gavett, street commissioner, recently replied to a communication from Mr. McClintock, president of the company. Another letter from Mr. McClintock was received this morning. He writes as follows:

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—At the time Mr. McClintock visited the sewage farm with Mayor Rockfellow in May, 1900, each of the twenty filter beds was filled with sewage to the depth of several feet, so that the sewage was overflowing the artificial banks, and escaping into the stream which flows by the farm. The sewage flowed onto these beds at the rate of about 25,000 gallons per acre per day. The cement-like qualities of the solid matters of the sewage had sealed up the filters so that nothing would pass through them; and so they were useless.

Mr. McClintock, representing the original discoverer of septic action in this country, if not in the world, and the party to first apply septic action to sewage disposal, and to combine septic action with filtration in the care of sewage, explained to the Mayor that septic action would remove from the sewage those matters which clog the filters, and would cause a one acre bed to do what twenty beds of like size failed to do, without septic action.

The attention of Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett, Corporation Counsel Marsh, and others generally, is called to French patent 144,904, and United States patents, numbers 258,744 and 559,522.

As an expert, Civil Engineer Gavett must decide that patent number 258,744 covers a structure which would produce septic action. It was expressly drawn by Messrs. Wright, Brown & Quimby, of Boston, to cover septic action. If examination is made of the Patent Office files, the next step in advance is found in patent number 559,522. As an expert, he must see that this patent covers septic action and filtration in combination. It was drawn by Messrs. Wright, Brown & Quimby to cover septic action in combination.

It is true that similar works are being designed and built in all parts of the world, but none were built of which there is any record before the works at Brentwood, N. H., designed under the Glover patents and described in The Engineering Record of May 9, 1896, and in the U. S. Geological Report, 1899, No. 22, page 42. The Massachusetts State Board of Health's report for 1898, states that Donald Cameron, of Exeter, England, first utilized the combination in 1896. Rudolph Hering, in the September, 1898, number of The Engineering Magazine, makes the same error. These eminent experts are the authority that no works were built at an earlier date. In the 1895 report, the Massachusetts State Board of Health condemn the system as recommended for Andover, so that it was unknown at that date.

Whether the Patent Office officials were justified in issuing the patent on such an important discovery as that septic action and filtration in combination would separate the impurities from the water in the sewage and allow the latter to flow away purified is a matter which if contested the United States Courts must decide and there is probably no city in the United States where the benefit and novelty of the discovery can be more clearly demonstrated than in the case of Plainfield, N. J.

The American Sewage Disposal Company, of Boston, desires Plainfield to construct the works; it makes its claim for royalty in advance, so there may be no misunderstanding in the matter; its royalty is not prohibitive but reasonable; its patents

MET DEATH ON THE RAIL.

WM. COX WANDERED IN PATH OF EXPRESS AND WAS KILLED.

Casualty Occurred at Finderne Crossing During Last Night's Snow Storm.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 31—William Cox, a well-to-do farmer, living on Bridge street, this place, was struck and instantly killed by the 6:05 eastbound express from Somerville, at the Finderne crossing of the Jersey Central Railroad last evening. The terribly-mangled body was picked up and taken to Johnson's undertaking rooms in Somerville. He was 49 years old and leaves a wife but no children.

Cox had been to Plainfield during the afternoon and had returned as far as Finderne by trolley. He got off at this point to cross the railroad track to visit a friend near Meyers' dairy. There is no gateman at the crossing and it is protected only by a continuously ringing bell. Whether or not Cox heard the bell will never be known. He walked directly in front of the train which was running at a rate of nearly a mile a minute. It is supposed that he became bewildered by the storm as the snow was falling heavily at the time.

The deceased was a brother-in-law of James O. Field who for many years conducted a drug business in Plainfield.

DIED IN AMBULANCE.

Martin Stevens Passed Away on His Way to Muhlenberg Hospital for Treatment.

Martin Stevens, an old Plainfield resident, who has been residing on Watchung avenue, died in the city ambulance last evening as he was being taken to Muhlenberg Hospital for treatment.

He was taken ill with pneumonia last Monday while at work in Hedden's stables where he had been employed as a hostler for a long time. The disease progressed rapidly and last evening it was decided to remove him to the hospital. The discovery that he was dead was made as the vehicle was crossing Park avenue. The body was taken to Runyon's undertaking parlors.

The deceased was about sixty years old and leaves a wife and four children. The latter are John and Joseph Stevens, of this city, Thomas Stevens, of Trenton, and Miss Molly Stevens, of New York.

Will Try For New Trial.

Leslie Lupton, counsel for Mrs. Sophia Budnensidk, against whom action was brought by Garrett Dreier, assignee, in Judge Strong's court, in New Brunswick, and against whom a verdict was given Tuesday, will make application to the court for a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted. Counsellor Wm. Newcorn, for the plaintiff, received notification of the fact this morning.

Endeavor Day Service.

The Park Avenue Baptist Christian Endeavor Society will observe Christian Endeavor day tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock by using the special programme prepared by the United Society at Boston. Some of the Junior Endeavorers will sing. The service, which will be a pleasing one, will be in charge of Mrs. Alice S. Runyon. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Full Verdict For Plaintiffs.

The case of Nischwitz & Kitchen against George Giddis came up in Justice Mattison's court in the borough Tuesday afternoon. Judgment for the amount of claim and costs was given the plaintiffs.

Memorial Service.

There will be a service in memory of Queen Victoria in Hope chapel this evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards and Rev. Floyd Appleton will speak. All are cordially invited.

Justice Nash's Court.

In Justice Nash's court judgment for $60 and costs has been given the plaintiff in the case on contract of Brunson against Radley. W. S. Angleman represented the plaintiff.

Annual A. O. U. W. Banquet.

Last evening the members of the A. O. U. W., of Newark, held the annual banquet in that city. Among the guests of honor was V. W. Nash, of this city.

Improvements Nearly Completed.

The improvements under way at Woodhull & Martin's store are about completed, giving more needed room and a better opportunity to display goods.

Red Men to Hold District Session.

A district session of Red Men will be held with Wetumpkah Tribe, I. O. R. M., next month. Great Sachem Newcorn and staff will be present.

ELECTRIC COMBINE TO CUT PRESENT RATES.

Will Establish Distributing Stations Throughout Region to Be Supplied.

OTHER PLANS ALSO MADE.

OLD BOUND BROOK PLANT IS TO BE ABANDONED.

Distributing Station For Bound Brook and Dunellen to Be Located at Lincoln—Company Bought Block at New Brunswick.

The Central Electric Company, the recent combination of several electric light and power companies in Middlesex county, has purchased the old State Bank building, at the corner of Albany and Peace streets, New Brunswick, where the company's headquarters and general offices will be established. The company paid $5,800 for the bank building.

With a central powerhouse at Metuchen and distrbuting stations at the various points where they are needed in the districts covered, the company will supply electricity for every practical purpose for which current is now used. The central powerhouse, as already stated, is located at Perth Junction, Metuchen, where the company owns forty acres of land. The powerhouse is now nearing completion. It is so arranged that it can be enlarged whenever extra room is needed. The machinery for the plant is arriving and will soon be put in position.

The company will supply electricity for power for every purpose, from running street railroads to operating sewing machines or electric fan motors. It will supply electricity for lighting, either house or street, and will install heating and cooking systems wherever desired. The current will be generated at the power house in Metuchen and from that central point will be distributed to all sections of the company's territory. Distributing stations will be located where required.

In New Brunswick the station will be located in the company's offices. The cables will be brought across the river under water, and to the station underground. In Perth Amboy the distributing station will be on Smith street, and at Metuchen the station will be at the central power house. At Rahway the present plant will be used as a station. At Bound Brook the distributing station will be at Lincoln, and Dunellen and Bound Brook will be supplied from that point, while Bound Brook's present plant will be given up. Woodbridge and Sewaren will be supplied from Rahway.

A feature to be made by the new company will be the reduction of rates. This rate will be announced soon to take effect March 1, throughout the entire territory covered by the company. It is the intention to fix a base rate, which will be uniform, but there will be a sliding scale of discounts, making the rate between 30 and 40 per cent. lower than the present New Brunswick rate. The company does not intend to make any change in the staff of employes, and all will be retained who desire to.

Central Road Award Contracts.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Jan. 31.—Milliken Bros., of 11 Broadway, New York, have been awarded the sub-contract for the structural steel work to be used in the erection of the new blacksmith, boiler and machine shops of the Central railroad at Elizabethport, near the Newark and Elizabeth branch line. The cost of the blacksmith shop will be $6,995 and of the machine and boiler shops, $51,093. Work on all these will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

Will Institute the Castle Soon.

Grand Chief Arthur H. Hope, of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, who is in Plainfield endeavoring to form a castle here, will return to his home at Asbury Park tomorrow. He will come back to Plainfield next Tuesday and remain here for ten days during which time the new castle will be instituted.

Borough Council Meeting.

The February meeting of the Mayor and Borough Council will be held tomorrow evening, when several matters of importance will be considered, including the Somerset street widening matter.

Paying Official Visits.

Great Sachem William Newcorn paid an official visit to Bayonne Tribe last evening. This evening he will go to Long Branch and Saturday evening he will visit the tribe at Junction.

ADMITTED STEALING FOWLS.

SO "JUMBO" LEWIS WAS HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY.

Versatile Abilities of That Colored Man Brought to Light in the Justice Court.

George Lewis, alias "Jumbo," who was arrested by Chief Kiely and Marshal Campbell at his restaurant in Westfield yesterday, was arraigned before Justice D. D. Smalley, of the borough, last evening. He was charged with petty larceny in the theft of a number of chickens from Simon Mantz, of Craig place, Monday evening.

Lewis pleaded guilty to the charges made against him. He was held in $150 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Up to noon he had been unable to procure the bail. He will probably be taken to Somerville tomorrow.

Lewis first located in Westfield several weeks ago and started an eating house on North avenue. He represented himself as a minister and held meetings under the doctrines of the African Methodist church. When arrested yesterday Lewis showed fight and the officers were compelled to use clubs.

Upon searching his place, several chickens were found, one of which was identified by John Cox, of New York avenue, Westfied, as being one stolen from his chicken house some nights ago.

FAREWELL DINNER GIVEN.

IN HONOR OF REV. FLOYD APPLETON WHO GOES TO BROOKLYN.

Has Been Curate of Grace P. E. Church—Dinner Given By His Intimate Friends.

An informal farewell dinner was given last evening at the Casino to Rev. Floyd Appleton, curate of Grace Episcopal church, by several intimate friends. Mr. Appleton will soon leave Plainfield to enter upon a new field of work in Brooklyn, and as a kind expression of appreciation for what Mr. Appleton has done while in this city, a few of his friends gave this dinner.

The menu was one of Steward Ivamy's best and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all. After the dinner short informal addresses were made by those present, in which regret was evidenced regarding the departure of the curate, whom all had learned to esteem and admire. The best wishes were extended to him and all wished him great success in his new field.

Mr. Appleton responded in his customary happy manner, thanking all for the kind expressions. He referred to the many pleasant associations in his Plainfield work, which he regretted to leave, but would always hold them in his memory as among the most pleasant in his life.

Those present at the dinner included Rev. Floyd Appleton, R. H. Depew, George M. Randall, Edward M. VanBuren, L. H. VanBuren, Dr. Knott, Berry Eagan, Edgar S. Hyatt, H. O. Fleming, Harry Shelton, Arthur Masters, of this city; W. G. Appleton and D. F. Appleton, of New York, father brother of the curate.

IN HONOR OF BIRTHDAY.

Celebrated Completion of a Quarter of a Century of Life for O. K. Steele.

At the residence of Mrs. Irene Irving, of Watchung avenue, last evening a very pleasant surprise was given O. K. Steele, of East Fifth street. The affair was gotten up by his daughter, Eleanor, and was in honor of his seventy-fifth birthday.

Mr. Steele was formerly a resident of Millington but for the past four years has lived in this city.

A very enjoyable evening was spent and shortly before midnight refreshments were served and soon after the guests departed for their homes, having expressed themselves as enjoying the evening very much.

Among those present were: Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, Mrs. Lowrie, Mrs. Hance, Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore French, Miss Mary Dunham, Miss Carrie Dunham, Miss Geiter, Mrs. Geiter, Mrs Lewis and son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker, Mr. Mantz, Dr. Weeks, Mr. Bodine, Mr. and Mrs. Manning and daughter.

New Building Will Soon Be Started.

Cormick Caulfield, the well-known contractor, will shortly commence the erection of a two-story brick building at the corner of Manson place and West Third street. The ground floor will be taken up with a large store with flats above having all the modern improvements. Several contractors are now figuring on the plans.

F. E. Kinsman, of Sherman avenue, has returned from a business trip to Boston and vicinity.

COUNTY SPEEDWAYS MAY BE POSSIBLE.

Bill Now Before Jersey Legislature Allows Freeholders to Build Them.

WILL NOT AFFECT THIS CITY.

LITTLE CHANCE THAT UNION COUNTY WOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT.

Bill Was Introduced By Assemblyman Bachelor at Request of Speedway Associations of Hudson and Essex Counties.

At the same time that the Plainfield horsemen have been agitating the building of a speedway in this city, a bill has been introduced in the New Jersey Legislature providing for the building of speedways by Boards of Freeholders and for their maintenance by the Boards. It is doubtful, however, whether the bill will have anything to do with the speedway movement in Plainfield, as the one here will be a private affair and there is little chance of the Freeholders of Union county being willing to take up the project, particularly as the speedway would be clear off in one corner of the county.

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Bachellor, of Essex county, and was done so at the request of the Good Roads and Speedway Associations of Essex and Hudson counties.

In substance the measure provides:

"The Boards of Chosen Freeholders of the several counties are hereby authorized to lay out, construct and maintain speedways or roads or tracks for exercising and driving horses, and to that end they are hereby authorized to acquire lands by purchase, condemnation, gift or otherwise And in case such boards shall determine to acquire lands by condemnation, the proceedings shall be had under the general law applicable thereto.

"Such speedways, when constructed, shall not be deemed public highways nor be governed by the laws relating thereto. The said Boards of Chosen Freeholders, or committees thereof appointed for the purpose, are authorized to make rules and regulations for the government of the said speedways, and may prescribe the manner in which the same shall be used, and shall have authority to police the same and to exclude therefrom horses and wagons used for trucking and all wagons except light driving vehicles.

"After the location of such speedways shall have been determined upon, no public streets or highways shall be laid across or intersect the same at grade, without the consent of the Board of Freeholders of the proper county."

In Essex the projectors of the speedway have in contemplation the purchase of land in the southern end of Newark, about one and a half miles long and six hundred feet wide. It will extend from a point above the "Clinton Hill" district to the Newark Bay, and can be purchased, it is said, for about $100,000.

The plan includes a speedway eighty feet wide in the centre, flanked by twenty-foot wagon roads and fifteen-foot sidewalks. This would leave available on either side land with a depth of two hundred and twenty-five feet, or a three-mile frontage available for building purposes, which it is said would sell at a price sufficient to cover the cost of the project. It would intersect Frelinghuysen avenue and afford easy access to the proposed system of boulevards connecting the Essex county parks.

NEW FIRM FORMED.

Edwin S. Hooley, of The Borough, Becomes a Member of Rolston & Hooley.

The firm of Rolston & Bass, bankers and brokers, which has been doing business at 16 and 18 Broad street, New York, has been dissolved by the mutual consent of the partners, William H. Rolston, Walter A. Bass and Edwin S. Hooley. A new partnership has been formed with the firm name of Rolston & Hooley, which will continue the business. The members of the new firm are William H. Rolston, Edwin S. Hooley and Peter W. Martin.

Mr. Hooley, who resides on Rockview avenue, Washington Park, North Plainfield, became a member of the firm of Rolston & Bass in 1882, and has been very successful ever since. He has spent nearly all his life in Plainfield and North Plainfield and is well known in city or borough.

ARRAIGNED AND PLEADED.

SOME OF THOSE INDICTED WERE TAKEN BEFORE JUDGE VAIL.

James Downes Sentenced to a Year in State Prison—One Plainfield Offender Pleaded Guilty.

Elizabeth, January 31.—After the Grand Jury had been discharged yesterday by Judge Vail, a number of those indicted were arraigned before the Judge to plead.

James Downes, charged with having committed an atrocious assault on Mary A. Harris by striking her with a fence rail and threatening to kill her, pleaded non vult.

Prosecutor of the Pleas N. C. J. English, in moving for sentence, took occasion to remind the court that this was the third time that Downes had been arraigned and had been found guilty of a like offence. Downes was sentenced to one year in State prison.

Timothy McCarthy, of Plainfield, charged with the larceny of $5 pleaded guilty.

George Lippert, pleaded guilty to the larceny of goods valued at $3 50.

John Walsh, of this city, charged with the larceny of a wagon load of produce, valued at $25, pleaded guilty.

John Darragh, charged with committing an indecent assault on George Morton, pleaded not guilty.

An indictment for attempted burglary against Thomas Doyle, who was recently convicted for the killing of Farmer Horace E Baldwin, of Union, was, on motion of Prosecutor English, nolle prossed.

SOUVENIRS TONIGHT.

Excellent Performance of "Black Flag" at Music Hall Last Evening—Other Attractions.

Despite the storm of last night, there was a good audience present at the performance of the Charles H. Leyburne Bon Ton Stock Company at Music Hall. "The Black Flag" was the attraction, splendidly played, Miss Emma Bunting as "Ned," the cabin boy, and Mr. Leyburne as "Sim Lazarus," the character made famous by Nat Goodwin, being particularly good. Messrs. Roche, Dean, Merket and Lester, and the Misses Leon, Price and Randall, were also very effective in their respective roles. The specialties were "great" as usual, and the illustrated songs and moving pictures manipulated by Prof. Sanders, the best seen here.

Tonight, a very fine play illustrative of mining and camp life, entitled "The Golden Giant," will be performed and every woman purchasing a 30-cent reserved seat, will be presented with a copy of the beautiful song, "After All," which has a photo picture of the charming little actress, Miss Bunting, on the title page. Tomorrow afternoon, a drama which will interest women particularly, "A Secret Enemy," will have its first and only performance, and tomorrow night there is promised the military drama "Gettysburg."

Will Return to China.

Rev. Dr. W. A. P. Martin, president of the Imperial University at Pekin, who was at the siege at Pekin, and who told the thrilling tale last Saturday at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, has decided to return to China about the middle of next month. He is still president of the university, as that institution is the only one not abolished by the Empress Dowager.

Three Nurses Will Graduate.

There are three pupil nurses at Muhlenburg Hospital who will be graduated next May. They are Miss Cramer, Miss Vanderpool and Miss Anderson. Although they will graduate in May their time will not be completed until the following June. The nurses expect to continue their residence in Plainfield.

Social Postponed.

The social that was announced to take place in the Congregational church tomorrow evening under the joint auspices of the Woman's Association and the Christian Endeavor Society, has been postponed one week on account of the bereavement in the family of one of the members of the association.

Superintendent Maxson Was a Guest.

At the banquet given by the school principals of Newark last evening in honor of the departure of Mr. Gilbert, superintendent of schools, one of the invited guests was Superintendent H. M. Maxson, of this city. Mr. Gilbert has been appointed superintendent of schools at Rochester, N. Y.

A REAL SNOW STORM HAS FINALLY ARRIVED.

But it Wasn't of the Kind That Blocks Traffic and Brings Sleighing.

FEW CUTTERS WERE OUT.

LACK OF POWER DELAYED CARS ON THROUGH TROLLEY LINE.

Snow Ended Last Evening, About Three Inches of Snow Having Fallen—Ed. Campbell Had First Sleigh Out in Plainfield.

After enjoying a green Christmas and bare ground since winter began Plainfield was treated with the first real snowstorm of the season yesterday. While it was not one of the kind the oldest inhabitants delight in telling about, still there was no denying the fact that it was a snowstorm and for that matter it served its purpose, which was to remind the citizens that they were still living in a region where they might expect such things.

The first intimation of the coming storm was when the sun "rose cheerless over the hills of gray" in the early morning, and within a few hours was completely hidden behind a pall of leaden clouds. About 9 o'clock the first few venturesome flakes began falling, and, aided by recruits in constantly increasing numbers, began covering Old Mother Earth with her proverbial, but somewhat delayed winter coat. At noon the appearance of the streets convinced everyone that the storm had began in earnest, and at 3:30 the ringing of sleigh bells announced to the anxious and expectant small boys that there was really enough snow to warrant the overhauling and bringing out of old sleds.

At this time the ground was covered to the depth of about two inches. While the snowfall continued until after dark, it had lessened considerably, and by 9 o'clock had ceased completely. There was nearly three inches of it. With its cessation the work of clearing the walks and streets began and continued until belated travelers were able to proceed homeward without slipping and sliding in all directions.

As far as travel was concerned there was really no impediment as the snow was very light and not inclined to pack. The two large electric snow sweepers of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Street Railway Company, were brought into service early in the afternoon and were kept at work until after midnight. The cars encountered but little difficulty in keeping up with the regular schedule except on the Elizabeth-Plainfield line where the lack of power delayed them.

The first cutter to appear in town was driven by Edward Campbell, of Avon Park, and while the traveling was not of the best, he seemed to enjoy it immensely. Other cutters appeared and by night there was a merry jingling of bells in all parts of the city.

This morning the sun appeared in a cloudless sky and the white blanket is already beginning to depart as silently as it came.

COOKING CLASSES.

Utensils Have Arrived and Classes Will Soon Begin.

The new range to be used in the cooking department of the borough manual training school has arrived and is one of the most modern makes known. The cases of cooking utensils have also arrived and will be placed in readiness to use as soon as possible. The opening of this department will in all probability be held some day this week.

Off For The Orient.

Dr. A. M. Carman, of Franklin place, sailed this morning on the Hamberg-American Line steamer, "Auguste Victoria," for a trip to the Mediterranean and the Orient. The trip lasts for sixty seven days.

Will Remain in Plainfield.

Mr. VanEps, the Park avenue jeweller, states that he does not intend to leave Plainfield and go to Somerville, as was announced in yesterday's Daily Press, but will remain in Plainfield.

Subject of Sermon.

The subject of the sermon by Rev. A. E. Main, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, in Trinity Reformed church Sunday morning will be: "The Bible School, Its Place and Work."

At the Charity Ball.

Burritt H. Shepard, of "The Gables," Fanwood, served on the floor committee at the Charity Ball given at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, Tuesday night.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Picked Up Here and There and Recorded for the Benefit of Press Patrons.

—Henry Liefke, of West End Park, has purchased a handsome rubber tire wagon for pleasure driving.

—Quality and not quantity makes DeWitt's Little Early Risers such valuable little ver pills. L. W. Randolph.

—A sociable will be held at the Unitarian church next month under the auspices of the young people of the church.

—Such little pills as DeWitt's Little Early Risers are very easily taken, and they are wonderfully effective in cleansing the liver and bowels. L. W. Randolph.

—Preparatory services will be held tomorrow evening at the First Baptist church, and the Lord's Supper will be observed next Sunday morning.

—The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. L. W. Randolph.

—Doane & Edsall are now offering at their annual clearance sale of winter shoes some of the biggest bargains ever offered in this city, and they say it will repay anyone in need of these goods to call early before the bargains are snapped up.

Thousands Sent Into Exile.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. Don't be an exile when Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption will cure you at home. It's the most infallible medicine for Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung diseases on earth. The first dose brings relief. Astounding cures result from persistent use. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. VanNatta, of La-Grande avenue, are entertaining company from Belvidere, N. J.

Nathan M. Samuels, of East Fourth street, has returned home after being absent a few days visiting relatives in New York City.

—When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Lottie Roes, of Prospect place, has been spending a week with Brooklyn relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Atterbury, of West Seventh street, have taken up their residence in New York city.

LITERARY.

"Success," which points out the way to others and is, itself, so conspicuous an example of the art of winning out, comes in a February dress of unusual radiance. The cover is by Dan Smith—a mining group showing the critical moment attending the discovery of the great Comstock lode in Nevada. The story of that epoch making "find," which was followed by a thirsty absorption of the gold by the United States Government, is told in a way to prove that mining successes are not all luck, but largely the results of pure grit. Alfred Harmsworth, the great journalistic hustler of England, puts the same idea in a chat with "Success" by declaring that the Persian proverb is the nearest right of all success theories.

PERSONAL.

Harry Goeller, of Arlington avenue, has recovered from a severe attack of the grip.

Miss Elsie Stewart, of Madison avenue, the trained nurse, has been called to Westfield on a case.

Mrs. Fred Schmidt, of Duer street, who has been ill with a severe attack of the grip, is somewhat improved.

Elwood Sebring, of West Front street, is enjoying a much needed rest at Monticello, Sullivan county, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanMiddlesworth, of Elmwood place, have been entertaining relatives from out of town.

The arrival yesterday of a young girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson VanWinkle, of Westervelt avenue, is the cause for much rejoicing.

Although John M. Hetfield has been discharged from the hospital, where he was under treatment for iristis, he is still obliged to keep his eye bandaged and will for some time to come.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Wm. A. Brady's great production of Marie Corelli's great dramatic work, "The Sorrows of Satan," will be seen here for the first time at Music Hall Monday night. Those who are familiar with the story will realize that it could not properly be presented on the stage without an exceptional cast and accessories of an unusually elaborate and costly character, while those who have seen any of Mr. Brady's other productions know that he would not attempt this even if it were possible. Marie Corelli's admirers may therefore safely anticipate an entirely adequate presentation of this strange tale of the Devil on earth. Reserved seat tickets are on sale today at box office.

"The Gamekeeper," with Smith O'Brien in the title role, will be the attraction at Music Hall Thursday night of next week. "The Gamekeeper" is a very pretty Irish drama and differs a great deal from the majority of Irish plays seen in this city. The hard hearted landlord and his villainous understudy are missing from the cast, and the red coated soldiers have no place in it. Nobody is sentenced to be hanged, and only one shot is fired during the four acts. The cast of characters is a very strong one, including Smith O'Brien, Thomas J Smith, Walter H. Green, and the ever popular favorite, Miss Kittie Coleman. The scenery is very pretty, particularly the chapel scene in the fourth act.

. . . . . .

There is much that is attractive in the coming engagement of "The Old Homestead" which will be seen at Music Hall Saturday night, Feb. 9 Denman Thompson brings his own company, and the play will be given under his personal management. The double quartette has new songs to delight us with, and the best of all is that Denman Thompson plays "Uncle Josh." Reserved seat tickets can now be secured at box office.

. . . . . .

No stronger programmes of vaudeville have been presented at Proctor's Twenty third Street Theatre in its history than those that are being given week after week the present season. All the big feature acts and novelties have been booked and a programme of excellent quality is offered each week at remarkable low prices, 50c, 25c and 15c. Week of February 4, the bill contains: Edward Favor and Edith Sinclair in their newest farce, "The McGuires;" Hall and Staley, the Twentieth Century Burglars;" Carroll Johnson, the Adonis of Minstrels; Dillion Brothers, parody singers; C. W. Littlefield, mimic; Doherty's educated poodles; Vera King, comedienne; Howard Brothers, banjoists, and a dozen more.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Paterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Josie Fritz, of Somerset street, who has been at Muhlenberg Hospital under treatment, will be able to leave that institution next week.

—Pepsin preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief for it digests what you eat. L. W. Randolph.

John Deplague, of West Front street, who has been at the hospital under treatment for pneumonia, is rapidly recovering and will soon be able to go home.

—This season there is a large death rate among children from croup and lung troubles. Prompt action will save the little ones from these terrible diseases. We know of nothing so certain to give instant relief as One Minute Cough Cure. It can also be relied upon in grippe and all throat and lung troubles of adults. Pleasant to take. L. W. Randolph.

James Clarkson, of East Second street, has recovered from a recent illness.

Mrs. Edward M. Thorn, of East Second street, has recovered from a recent illness.

I. Newmark, of New York, is visiting his brother, B. Newmark, of East Fourth street.

Miss Jeanette Simpson, of Craig place, has been visiting Newark friends for a few days.

Benhart A. Pollock, of Central avenue, has returned home after spending a few days with relatives in New York.

TAX BILLS BEING PUSHED.

Senate Committee Will Not Give a Hearing to Interested Parties.

ALBANY, Jan. 31.—Despite the fact that over 150 telegrams asking for hearings on the bills to tax insurance companies, savings banks and trust companies have been received the senate committee on taxation, Senator Krum chairman, has agreed to report the bills to the senate favorably. The bill taxing trust companies is unamended and will go on the calendar of the senate for passage, being now on second reading. The bill taxing insurance companies and the one taxing the surplus of savings banks have been amended so as to more carefully define the word surplus. These bills will have to be reprinted and probably will be recommitted.

The assembly committee was more courteous in its treatment. It postponed action on the bills yesterday and decided to give hearings on the important measures Wednesday next. It is understood that the objections to the insurance bill will be very strenuous and will be participated in by policy holders on the ground that every maturing policy will be affected to its detriment by the passage of the bill.

Both branches of the legislature adjourned today until Monday in respect to the memory of the late Senator Cornelius N. Parsons of Rochester. The seat in the senate which Senator Parsons occupied has been draped in mourning colors. On the desk reposes a basket of flowers sent by Hon. George W. Aldridge of Rochester, state committeeman for the district in which Senator Parsons resided.

The senate held a memorial service, and the 49 senators will attend the funeral, which will take place tomorrow afternoon. The assembly will be represented by a delegation of 15 members. A special train will bear the legislators and other state officials to Rochester.

At least 500 men and women, most of them Christian Scientists from New York, yesterday attended the hearing on Assemblyman Bell's bill to abolish the Christian Science, faith cure and divine healing systems. Judge Tallman was the principal speaker. Others who spoke were Messrs. William D. Baldwin and W. Lathrop, Professor W. D. McCracken, Dr. Cochran, Mrs. A. E. Stetson and Mrs. Laura Lathrop. While sentiment seemed against them, yet the scientists held their own throughout the hearing, and the doctors of medicine will be given another chance next Wednesday by the committee. The scientists attacked the bill on every ground imaginable. It was held up as a horrible octopus of medicine and in the interest of the doctors' trust.

Electrical Discovery In Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Professor A. Slaby of the Berlin Technische Hochsschule in the course of a remarkable interview on "The Coming Electrical Revolution" which is to appear in the forthcoming number of a new technical periodical asserts that his recent invention, multiplex wireless telegraphy, will produce a very great transformation in existing methods. It will be possible, he declares, to apply the principle to submarine cables in such a way as to send hundreds and even thousands of messages simultaneously on the same wire, thus enormously cheapening rates. Professor Slaby believes that the problem of direct production of electricity from coal will be solved. Germany, he predicts, will be the foremost nation of the twentieth century in technical production and electricity will be the poor man's source of power and light.

Mine Workers Adjourn.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—Consideration of the constitution was the order of business before the United Mine Workers here yesterday, the last day of their convention. Recommendations of the committee were passed with but little discussion owing to a disposition to clear up business promptly. It was decided to make no change in the system of collecting dues, but power was given to the secretary-treasurer whereby he may enforce the payment of assessments. Recommendations by the committee to govern the nomination and election of national officers were concurred in. An amendment providing for the referendum system was defeated. The recommendation of the committee that one must be a member of the organization three months before receiving a transfer card was concurred in after a lively discussion.

Delaware Deadlock Unbroken.

DOVER, Del., Jan. 31.—The house has amended the joint resolution adopted by that body Tuesday and changed the date of adjournment from the 1st to the 8th of March. Feb. 20 was decided on as the final date for receiving new business. As United States Senator Kenney's term will not expire until March 4 it is intimated that the date of adjournment was changed in order to prevent the appointment of a senator by the governor, which would be possible if a vacancy occurred during a recess of the general assembly. It is the opinion that if such a contingency arose Governor Hunn would appoint Mr. Addicks. The only change in the balloting yesterday was a vote cast for ex-United States Senator Anthony Higgins by Representative Hitchen, who had been voting for Mr. Dupont.

Commissioner From Santo Domingo.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Dr. Francisco Henriquez, minister of foreign affairs of Santo Domingo, arrived here on the steamer San Juan from Porto Rico. He comes here as a special commissioner appointed by President Jimenez of the Dominican republic. His mission is to present to the state department at Washington Santo Domingo's case in its controversy with the Santo Domingo Improvement company of this city.

ON THE SHIPPING BILL

Senators Turley and Jones Speak In Opposition.

CALL IT A TREASURY LOOTING SCHEME

House While Considering the Agricultural Bill Incidentally Revives the Antipolygamy Fight.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The shipping bill was kept at the front in the senate throughout yesterday. No appreciable progress was made, most of the time being occupied by Mr. Turley of Tennessee and Mr. Jones of Arkansas in speeches opposing the bill and severely arraigning its alleged favoritism. Mr. Jones declared it should be entitled "A bill to permit a select coterie of shipowners to loot the United States treasury." After the speeches the formal reading of the bill was completed, but the consideration of amendments was not entered upon.

Early in the day an unsuccessful effort was made to secure agreement to the conference report on the army reorganization bill.

The antipolygamy crusade which resulted in driving Mr. Roberts, Utah's representative, from his seat at the last session had an echo in the house during the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill. When the section making the appropriations for agricultural colleges of the several states was reached, Mr. Landis of Indiana offered an amendment providing that no money should be paid to the college in Utah until the secretary of agriculture was satisfied that no trustee or teacher in the institution practiced polygamy. The amendment came as a complete surprise. Mr. King, who succeeded Mr. Roberts, tried in vain to head it off with a point of order and then inveighed against it as simply an aftermath of the Roberts crusade. He insisted that polygamy was a thing of the past. Mr. Landis replied by alleging that two of the professors of the Utah agricultural college were polygamists and that one of the trustees had 7 wives and 39 children. Upon this showing the house adopted the amendment, whereupon Mr. King retaliated by offering an amendment providing that none of the money should go to agricultural colleges in any state whose instructors or trustees have engaged in lynching or been guilty of adultery or fornication. He afterward modified it so as to apply only to the agricultural college of Indiana. It was of course overwhelmingly defeated. Subsequently, when the bill was reported to the house, the Landis amendment was stricken out by a vote of 69 to 19.

The "friends of the farmer" were very much in evidence during the day and against an aggressive opposition led by Mr. Mahon of Pennsylvania voted into the bill an additional appropriation of $50,000 for "farmers' bulletins." There was also considerable discussion of the question of irrigation of arid lands in connection with the paragraph providing for an investigation of that subject. The bill passed.

Founds a Club For Young Men.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Fred W. Vanderbilt has taken a great interest in the welfare of the people of Hyde Park ever since she, with her husband, established her home there six years ago. Christmas festivals and summer outings for the poor have made Mrs. Vanderbilt's name popular in every household. Her latest charity is the founding of a club for the young men of the village. She has rented a hall in a central location and equipped it with suitable furniture, periodicals and games, the object being to keep the boys off the streets and out of the saloons. Already a large number of applications have been received for membership. A nominal charge of 5 cents per week is made to insure interest.

Alleged Abduction of Two Boys.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 31.—It is learned here that Mrs. Lydia J. M. Allen of Bayard Lane has obtained a writ of habeas corpus to recover her two children, George W. and Whitelaw R., who, it is alleged, were abducted from their Princeton home on Saturday by their older brother, Thomas, of New York. Mrs. Allen was in Boston when the alleged abduction occurred, and her husband, George, who is a prominent business man, is said to be in St. Louis on business. After securing the boys Thomas ordered the mansion closed. Mrs. Allen, it is reported, is now at the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York.

Third Victim Dead.

CLYDE, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Grover Goodell died yesterday of injuries sustained in the accident on the Central-Hudson railroad here Jan. 4, in which his aunt, Mrs. Kitty White, and a brother, James Goodell, were killed. The cutter in which the three were riding was struck on the crossing by train No. 21, Mrs. White and James Goodell being instantly killed.

Universal Suffrage For Cuba.

HAVANA, Jan. 31.—The Cuban constitutional convention yesterday voted by a large majority to insert a clause in the constitution allowing universal suffrage. Senor Aleman said it was a right demanded by the Cubans and that the convention would not be dealing fairly with the people if it failed to accord this right.

New Governor For Newfoundland.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Sir Cavendish Boyle, K. C. M. G., government secretary of British Guiana since 1894, has been appointed governor of Newfoundland. Sir Cavendish Boyle succeeds as governor of Newfoundland Sir Henry Edward McCallum, who was recently appointed governor of Natal.

Furnace Troubles Compromised.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 31.—All the furnace workers in the Mahoning valley have accepted a reduction from $1.90 to $1.80 per day in wages, and the strike which was threatened on Feb. 1 will not occur. The settlement is a compromise. About 1,500 men are affected.

Killed at Exposition Grounds.

BUFFALO, Jan. 31.—William Highlander, a carpenter employed at the Pan-American grounds, fell from the roof of the government building and was instantly killed. This is the first fatality that has occurred at the exposition grounds.

Young at the Century Mark.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Sophia Place Smith celebrated her one hundredth birthday at her home in this city yesterday. She has not a gray hair and reads without glasses.

CRUSADE CONTINUES.

Four Saloons Wrecked In Danville, Kan.

RAID HEADED BY A NEW LEADER.

Plans Being Made For a General Antisaloon Fight—Women Volunteer For Mrs. Nation's Band. Many "Joints" Closed.

ANTHONY, Kan., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Carrie Nation was outdone here yesterday when a band of W. C. T. U. women headed by Mrs. Sheriff of Danville, Kan., completely wrecked the fixtures in four "joints," smashing plate glass windows and mirrors right and left, and turned gallons of liquor into the gutters. The women, who were of the best families in Anthony, were accompanied by their husbands, sons or brothers, who assured protection. No arrests were made, and the band will, it is said, start out today on a tour of destruction through Harper county, which is prolific in saloons. Mrs. Sheriff, who led the raid, is under bond to appear at Danville in April to answer a charge of saloon wrecking placed against her six weeks ago. Mrs. Sheriff came to Anthony late Tuesday and worked all night procuring hatchets and other implements of destruction, and it was 2 o'clock in the morning before she had perfected plans for the raid. She enlisted the following women: Mesdames M. J. Davis, William Scott, F. H. Brubaker, Louis Macy, T. G. Hooper, John Hickens, Charles Robinson, John Kendall, J. H. Shelton and the Misses McKay, Page, Massey, Robinson and Nixon, all of Anthony. They began their attack shortly after daybreak, taking the saloon keepers and the town officials by surprise.

The women knelt and prayed within sight of the wreck they had spread. One woman in an impassioned appeal to the Almighty asked that he guide them to other dens of iniquity and direct their footsteps to other rum cursed towns in Kansas. This prayer was interpreted to mean that the Anthony women would extend their crusade, and word was hurriedly sent over the telephone wires to adjacent towns by local saloon sympathizers who wished to warn their fellow saloon keepers. The mayor quickly swore in extra police, and the crusaders were placed under strict surveillance. He also preserved the names of the women engaged in the work.

Mrs. Nation Gets Recruits.

TOPEKA, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Carrie Nation organized a band of 46 women to follow her leadership and assist in wiping out "joints." The band was organized at a mass meeting for women called by Mrs. Nation and presided over by her at the Presbyterian church. Every seat in the house was occupied. After a short talk Mrs. Nation called for volunteers, and 46 women at once signed a paper which pledged them to follow Mrs. Nation wherever she may lead and do her bidding at a moment's notice. Mrs. Nation announced that they will proceed regardless of the Women's Christian Temperance union, but will give warning before resorting to violence.

Many Saloons Closed.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 31.—Wholesale liquor dealers here received telephone messages from Harper last night stating that there was not an open saloon in town at sunset. Harper is half way between Anthony and Danville, and it is said that the local W. C. T. U. leaders have been strangely active there all day. Messages have also been received here that three saloons at Attica have closed.

Additions to German Navy.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—According to the Berliner Post eight new German warships will be completed and placed in commission this year, including the battleship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, with a displacement of 11,152 tons, the twin vessels Kaiser Barbarossa and Kaiser Karl der Grosse, the cruiser Prinz Heinrich, with a displacement of 8,881 tons, and four small cruisers, the Thetis, Ariadne, Medusa and Amazone, each of 2,660 tons. Five battleships, one armored cruiser and one gunboat are building, and two battleships, one armored cruiser and three protected cruisers will be placed under contract during the present year.

Would Move Arizona Offices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The governor of Arizona has recommended to the interior department the removal of the public offices at Tucson to Phenix, the capital of the territory. It is contended by the territorial authorities that by utilizing the public buildings at Phenix for federal offices the rents will be paid to the government instead of elsewhere. The department is making inquiries as to how far such a change will be in the interest of the public service.

Government Troops Won.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Jan. 31.—A recent battle fought at Caripe, near Maturin, a town of Venezuela, state of Bermudez, on a river which falls into the gulf of Paria, was won by the government. Mejano, Rojas, Carabano and Izarra were taken prisoners. Guiria has been reoccupied by the government forces. The United States training ship Lancaster has arrived at La Guayra.

Tracks to Be Elevated at Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 31.—The contract for the elevation of the Pennsylvania and Central railroad tracks through Newark, signed by the representatives of both companies, has been received by the clerk of the street and water board at Newark. The work will probably be begun by April 1.

No Indictment For Mayor Flood.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 31.—The grand jury, in session here for the past ten days, has reported in supreme court. The jury considered the charge of forgery against Mayor Frank H. Flood, based on the affidavits of Catherine Loonie. It is understood no indictment has been found against Flood.

Grip Closes Providence Schools.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 31.—The schools of this city are closed for three days partly on account of the prevalence of grip among the teachers and scholars. From 55 to 70 substitute teachers are under employment, and about 10 per cent of the regular teachers are sick.

Remarkable Fatality Among Horses.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Jan. 31.—A remarkable fatality among horses has developed in the vicinity of Monroe, where several died suddenly on the highway. The nature of the disease is as yet undetermined.

AFTER ANDRADE.

Defeated Revolutionary Leader Said to Be a Filibuster.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 31.—It is reported here that the Venezuelan gunboat Restaurador, formerly Mr. George Gould's yacht Atalanta, is on her way from Brooklyn, with orders from President Castro to intercept in the Caribbean sea Senor Andrade's filibustering expedition.

Passengers on board the Red D line steamer Philadelphia, from La Guayra Jan. 27, which left for New York yesterday, asserted that Caracas was in a state of suppressed excitement when the steamer left Venezuelan waters, President Castro's troops had defeated the insurgents near Cumana, and a comparatively unimportant mutiny among the troops in barracks at Caracas had been quelled. They also reported that the Venezuelan congress would meet Feb. 20 to legalize the acts of President Castro, who, since the expulsion of Senor Andrade, has been a dictator, acting without electoral sanction. It was further gathered from the passengers that a general uprising might take place about the time of the assembling of congress, but that the Nationalist party, a prominent organization in Venezuela, had offered its services to President Castro to maintain peace.

General Uribe-Uribe, the Colombian revolutionary leader, is a passenger on the Philadelphia. He goes to New York to purchase arms and predicts the success of the insurgents. Fighting, he says, is still in progress in the interior, where he has 5,000 men, though without ammunition. He declares that the city of Panama is likely to be attacked by the revolutionists.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Forty sailors from the cruiser Albany were convicted of mutiny.

Neely reached Havana and was turned over to the keeper of the city prison.

The consul at Glasgow reported 385 cases of smallpox and that the disease was spreading.

The Merchants' National bank of Baltimore inaugurated secret examinations of its accounts.

The late Benjamin D. Silliman's will provides for bequests of $110,000 to Yale and $10,000 to Columbia.

During a fire in the Hotel Jefferson in New York city a woman nurse was killed by falling from a window and a servant girl was suffocated.

Governor's Reception.

ALBANY, Jan. 31.—The annual reception of Governor and Mrs. Odell to the state officers, members of the legislature, judges of the court of appeals and other public personages and their wives was held last evening. The governor's military staff was present. The reception was one of the largest ever held at the executive mansion. Mrs. Odell was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Timothy L. Woodruff, wife of the lieutenant governor; Mrs. John Macdonough, wife of the secretary of state; Mrs. John P. Jaeckel, wife of the state treasurer; Mrs. Erastus C. Knight, wife of the state comptroller; Mrs. John A. Davies, wife of the attorney general; Mrs. Edward Bond, wife of the state engineer and surveyor, and Mrs. Charles F. Roe, wife of Major General Roe.

Mrs. Nation Has a Boston Imitator.

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Mary Green, who seemed to be familiar with the methods of Mrs. Carrie Nation of Kansas, wrecked a Cambridge street barroom and has been sentenced to serve a term at Deer island. Mrs. Green not only laid the bartender low with a plate, but also reduced the bar ware to molecules, shattered several plate glass mirrors and drove the frightened patrons of the establishment into the wine cellar. "I'm Carrie Nation," she yelled, "and I'll leave no rum shop in the town when I get through." Mrs. Green's imitation of the noted Kansas reformer was terminated by a policeman, and Judge Wentworth sent her to the house of correction.

Oklahoma Demands Statehood.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Jan. 31.—Immediate statehood was demanded of congress in an enthusiastic convention called to order here by Sidney E. Clark of Oklahoma City, chairman of the statehood executive committee. Every county in both territories was represented. The 200 or more delegates here are unanimous for statehood at the earliest minute possible. The majority of them are for single statehood for Oklahoma, although the minority, which favors both territories being included in one state, is aggressive enough to give its claims great weight.

The South African Situation.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—"It is reported unofficially," says the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, "that General De Wet has entered Cape Colony with a fairly strong force. The impatience felt in England at the slow progress of the operations is not warranted, as preparations are being made for a general movement shortly. King Edward has sent the following dispatch to Lord Kitchener: 'One of the queen's last inquiries was after yourself and the gallant army under your command.'"

The Kentucky Case.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—When the senate convened yesterday the Kentucky question was brought up by Senator Stillwell, who introduced his resolution of Tuesday in a slightly altered form, expressing the sentiment of the senate that Taylor and Finley, Kentucky refugees in Indiana, should be returned to Kentucky on a requisition by Governor Beckham. The resolution was made a special order for one day next week.

Berlin Buys Street Railway.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—The municipality of Berlin has purchased from Koenen & Co. the electrical street railroad to Treptow, paying 10,000,000 marks for the line, which will be operated by the municipality. The Gresse Berliner Strassenbaha company, which owns a majority of the street railroads in Berlin, declared a dividend of 11 per cent as against 10½ per cent a year ago.

Prince Henry's New Titles.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 31.—Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, the future husband of Queen Wilhelmina, has been gazetted a vice admiral and a major general.

Tennessee Sympathy For Boers.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 31.—The lower house of the legislature after a long discussion adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with the Boers.

PUNISHMENTS DISCUSSED.

Committee at Peking Withholds Result of Conference.

PEKING, Jan. 31.—The ministers' punishment committee met yesterday to continue the discussion of what measure of punishment to demand for provincial officials where foreigners have been killed. The ministers refused to furnish any information as to the result of their deliberations.

A meeting of all the ministers will probably be held today.

Three Italian soldiers entered a house occupied by Mr. Jameson, an American close to the legation, supposing it was inhabited by Chinese and intending to loot They insulted Mr. Jameson's guests, and Mr. Jameson sent for the guard stationed at the legation. In the struggle an Italian was wounded. They were all arrested and turned over to the Italian authorities, who have requested an explanation.

The missionaries met and prepared final resolutions, which were presented to the British minister, Sir Ernest Satow, and the United States minister, Mr. Edwin Conger. The preamble sets forth the fact, "not sufficiently emphasized in the note," that the Chinese attacked everything representing progress, that there has been no adequate rebuke for the flagrant violation of treaties and that no indemnity is asked for the Christian Chinese who suffered heavy loss. Finally, the missionaries say, nothing has been inserted in the note safeguarding the missionaries, and they earnestly request Sir Ernest Satow and Mr. Conger to see that the former treaties protecting missionaries are reaffirmed; that the government should be forced to allow Chinese of any rank to accept Christianity without injury to their prospects; that the missionaries should be allowed to live in the interior, own property and possess passports compelling their official acceptance; that friendly intercourse between the missionaries and officials be encouraged and that relief should be found for the suffering native Christians. The missionaries earnestly hope that Great Britain and the United States will take a leading part in the coming transformation of China, helping the rulers to enter lines of reform which alone can save the country.

New Terminal System For Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The Post says Chicago is likely to have at an early date one great terminal system for all the roads entering the city from the east, south and west. The establishment of such a system will be the consummation of a plan the general details of which have yet to be worked out. The purchase of the Chicago Terminal Transfer property by the E. H. Harriman syndicate is the first step toward carrying out the general plan. The need of such a terminal system has been felt individually and collectively by the roads which will use the new system of consolidated terminals when it is completed. Present methods of handling traffic have for many years been utterly inadequate to meet the needs of the city.

Forty Japanese Reported Killed.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 31.—The North China Daily News asserts that while a quantity of Chinese gunpowder was being destroyed at Shan-Kai-Wan there was an explosion and 40 Japanese soldiers were killed.

Peace on the Frontier.

HENRIETTA, I. T., Jan. 31.—Peace among the warring Creeks has apparently been reached, and all that remains to be done is to give Chitto Harjo, the chief Snake, who has caused all the trouble, a preliminary hearing and send him to Muskogee for trial for treason. In the meantime a few more of the leaders will be arrested. The troop of cavalry under Lieutenant Dixon will probably remain here a few days until the last vestige of the uprising has passed. The Indians burned signal fires Tuesday night on the hills surrounding the town at a distance of two or three miles from the camp, and, fearing an attack, the soldiers remained under arms till daylight, ready for instant action. But the Indians attempted no depredation.

Lynched Negro's Parents May Sue.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 31.—The parents of Fred Alexander, the negro who was burned at the stake by the Leavenworth mob on Jan. 15, are seeking advice about suing the city and county of Leavenworth for damages and support. The father of the dead negro is a Baptist minister. He said he had written a number of influential friends in Kansas and Missouri in an endeavor to raise money to prosecute the case. He has as yet received no positive promises of financial aid, but he is confident, he says, that an appeal to the colored people of the United States will bring forth a popular subscription large enough to carry the case to the highest courts in the country.

Slight Earthquake Shock.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—An earthquake shock was felt here and in Camden and Gloucester counties in New Jersey a few minutes past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In the city hall here inkstands and penholders were rolled off the desks, and clerks felt their chairs tremble to such an extent that it was thought there had been an explosion. In the city hall of Camden several umbrellas that had been leaning against the wall fell down, and the windows all over the building rattled. Similar experiences were noticed in Gloucester and Woodbury.

Six In One Family Dead.

LEBANON, Pa., Jan. 31.—The six children of Electrician Eden Fry of Jersey City died at Annville, this county, in the past few days of membranous croup. The little ones were Paul, aged 1 year; Naomi, aged 3; Roger, aged 5; Sarah, 7; Harry, 8, and Helen, 10. Robert, aged 12, was sent to his grandparents, and he escaped. The children first had an attack of the measles, which suddenly developed into croup and carried them off.

Whitney Bought Hamburg.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Hamburg, the great racing stallion from the stud of the late Marcus Daly, was sold at auction last evening at Madison Square Garden. John Madden, former owner of Hamburg, bidding for William C. Whitney, bought the stallion, paying the remarkable price of $60,000. Breeders and horsemen from all parts of the country were present.

Royal Funeral Procession to Be on a Grand Scale.

ALL BUSINESS WILL BE STOPPED

The Display of Flowers at Windsor Castle Draws a Crowd of Admirers—The London Florists Swamped With Orders.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The procession in London, as indicated by the war office orders issued last evening, will be a gorgeous military pageant. Detachments of 40 regiments, with an almost equal number of distinctive uniforms, embracing all arms of the service, will make a constantly changing picture. The uniforms of all the great armies of the world will appear, for, in addition to the brilliant entourages of the visiting kings and princely envoys, there will be the military attaches of the embassies and legations.

All the field marshals of the British army able to endure the fatigue will ride with their staffs. The naval corps will also take part in the procession, which will be two miles long.

The war office directs that Beethoven's and Chopin's funeral marches only shall be played. From the time the coffin reaches London to its departure guns will boom slowly in Hyde park.

Londoners are just awakening to the full proportions of the obsequies and the result of days of mourning, which to numerous tradesmen and others means absolute closure and is causing consternation. Suddenly to stop every industry in the United Kingdom and to turn the masses into the streets, with millions hoping to concentrate along the two miles of the route of the procession, is an undertaking which has begun to be fully appreciated by the police, but the public of London is dismayed to find that all the great markets—Covent Garden, Smithfield and others where the food of the metropolis is supplied—are to be absolutely closed at the end of the week. The railways of the United Kingdom will reduce their arrangements to the Sunday schedules. Restaurants and bars will be shut, and the crowds will have to wander in the streets.

A small crowd gathered at Windsor to view the wreaths sent up from Osborne and placed around the ancient cloister adjoining St. George's chapel. Masses of flowers made up in crosses and crowns from rare blossoms that are the gifts of royal personages down to humble posies sent in by children. Several thousands of flower pieces, including tokens from most of the members of the aristocracy, numerous clubs, country towns, cities, societies, regiments, inmates of workhouses and even the smallest nosegays are laid out for public view side by side with the designs of the great florists. Some of the flowers are fading, but every express brings fresh additions. Windsor castle was deserted save for these sightseers.

The hospital ship Maine has sent a beautiful shield, the design being the American colors in violets, geraniums and white flowers, surmounted by an eagle in deep violets, the whole being 12 feet high.

The American society in London has sent a bouquet of lilacs and lilies of the valley. Almost every public body in the United Kingdom, besides individuals of all classes, from the highest to the lowest, will be represented in the tributes.

The death of the queen has created an unprecedented demand for flowers for wreaths. Some of the leading florists have had so many orders as to be obliged to decline to fill any more. The continent has been scoured for orchids and other expensive blossoms. Prices have risen tremendously. The show windows of florists in Regent street and other fashionable thoroughfares are always surrounded by crowds admiring the wreaths exhibited.

Duke of Orleans Will Attend.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—The Duke of Orleans has decided to attend the funeral of Queen Victoria. He will arrive in London Saturday and Sunday will deposit a wreath on the casket containing her majesty's remains. The duke's decision is interesting in view of his message of congratulation to the Paris artist who caricatured Queen Victoria in a most insulting manner, which resulted in the duke's being ostracized in England.

Two Years to Contemplate Death.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Jan. 31.—In the supreme court yesterday the death sentence was passed upon Frank Shaw, who killed Deputy Sheriff Hoffman of White River Junction more than a year ago while the latter was leading a posse in pursuit of Shaw and his father after they had broken jail. Shaw was convicted last June. The murderer will have plenty of time to reflect over the crime, as the sentence is not to be carried out until February, 1903, in the state prison at Windsor. Shaw will spend the intervening time at hard labor, with the exception of the last three months, during which time he will be placed in solitary confinement.

Operators and Miners Meet.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—The joint conference of the bituminous coal operators and miners will convene at the Board of Trade auditorium in this city at 4 o'clock today. It is composed of about 200 operators and 800 miners representing western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The question of admitting representatives from Iowa and Michigan will be determined by the conference. The miners are in favor of admitting those states to the agreement, but their admittance will be vigorously opposed by the Illinois operators.

Bostock's Zoo Destroyed.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31.—Bostock's zoo in the Cyclorama building was destroyed by fire last night. The animals, with the exception of an elephant and a camel, were burned to death. Two lions were shot to prevent their escape to the street. For a time all sorts of sensational stories were circulated relative to wild animals running loose. The fire was caused by a defective electric wire. The loss will amount to about $200,000.

Antityphoid Serum.

VIENNA, Jan. 31.—The Klinische Wochenschrift ascribes to a physician named Jaz the discovery of an antienteric serum which has been applied successfully in 50 cases. The patient drinks the serum. It is not injected.

The Mobile and Ohio Deal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—It is announced that the Mobile and Ohio railroad has not been sold to the Southern Railway company, but negotiations to that end are now in progress.

Staten Island Bridge.

Anyone who desires to reach Staten Island from the outside world is now compelled to take one of the numerous ferries which go from both New Jersey and New York. Freight and coal are being constantly taken to that island, however, without the trouble of ferrying as the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has a bridge across the flats and the Arthur Kill south of Elizabeth. This bridge is only used for freight and coal trains and no passengers are carried over it save an occasional excursion to the resorts on the Staten Island shore of New York bay.

Calvin D. Van Name, a member of the New York State Assembly, has introduced a bill in the New York Legislature, which, if passed, will compel the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the Staten Island Rapid Transit railroad to run passenger trains over that bridge and give the public the advantage of a route to the Island by rail.

While the bill is general in character, it is so drawn that it applies alone to the B. and O. bridge over the Arthur Kill.

A notable evidence of the progress of newspaper advertising, relates the Philadelphia Record, has been provided by the book publishers. Until recently these publishers, like some other business men, considered that it was essential to their dignity to avoid anything striking in the wording and in the type of their advertisements, and, indeed, to advertise only in a very limited way. Among many "fetching" book advertisements the other day there was one by a leading publishing house which began: "A Mystery!" in black type. Then came the catch-line: "Who Was Mrs. Clyde?" All the publishers and some bankers, insurance men and others have discovered that to do the largest amount of business it is necessary to do a large amount of newspaper advertising, and to word their "ads" so as to arrest attention.

As was predicted, there has been no trouble in securing plenty of young men of good character, who are anxious to join a military organization to be formed in this city. The only difference has been in securing the proper men for the offices. While there are undoubtedly a number of men who could fill the places with credit, the committee of ten has been particularly anxious, however, to secure those who will lend dignity and stability to the organization as well as possessing the requisite knowledge of military training. With such men in command, the company is bound to assume a prominent place in the State militia.

There isn't any doubt about the success of the manual training department of the North Plainfield public schools. The only trouble seems to be to provide for all those who desire to take advantage of the instruction in that department. Besides the young people who are now regularly attending the public schools and who will have the advantages of the new classes just started, there are many who have not attended school for some time and who are anxious to join the classes at once. The Board of Education of the borough appears desirous of granting the permission if there is room enough.

Former Mayor John O. Rankin made so satisfactory a foreman of the last Grand Jury in this county that his associates remembered him with a very handsome gift when the duties of that body were completed. Whatever his political ideas may be, those who have had occasion to labor with the former Mayor of Elizabeth have found him kind and courteous and always a gentleman.

The Union County Grand Jury, which completed its labors yesterday, broke the records for many years by the fewness of the indictments brought in. Can it be that this little portion of the world is growing better with the arrival of the new century?

Opposition to the plan of saving the Palisades on the part of the Legislators from South Jersey is selfish and narrow minded. It is a work which should have the united support of every Jerseyman, regardless of politics or residence.

The meeting of the Common Council Monday evening will be of special interest owing to the fact that Mayor Jenkins will then announce his appointments for the year. No startling changes need be expected, however.

Now it is the Industrial School for Girls which has brought Assemblyman Ellis B. Meeker prominently in the public eye. Somehow, that Elizabeth man is figuring very prominently at this session of the Legislature.

That bright little lawyer, Frank Bergen, appears to be the favorite in the Republican ranks at Elizabeth as the party candidate for mayor, to succeed the late Mayor Mack.

If the reports concerning the adventures of "Jumbo" Lewis are to be believed, there seems a particular affinity between that individual and chickens.

The manufacturers of sleighs, sleds and snow shovels are happy at last now that the ground is actually white.

The local horsemen who are advocating the speedway seem to be waging a decidedly active campaign.

After several unsuccessful attempts, a real snow storm has finally arrived.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Mahlon Pitney's appointment to the Supreme Court bench clears the path of Franklin Murphy to the Gubernatorial chair. The first of the clearing processes happened when David O. Watkins was made District Attorney. Mr. Murphy now seems to have plain sailing. He is a man who will make a splendid run for the office and a man who would fill it ably and gracefully if elected.—New Brunswick Home News.

* * * * * *

Because the Republican machine of Hudson county has been so vociferous and insistant in its advocacy of him for Governor, State Chairman Franklin Murphy doubtless feels that it has a claim upon his gratitude. But Mr. Murphy may well question the sincerity and disinterestedness of a support which asks in requital his countenance for measures, which, if made into laws, will almost inevitably destroy any chances which he may have had in connection with the Governorship. In becoming sponsor and advocate for the proposed bill abolishing spring elections, Mr. Murphy is paying a dear price for a very small whistle.—Newark News.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, Jan. 31—The Whist Club was very pleasantly entertained by Fred Haynes and Miss Jessie Haynes at their home Tuesday evening. A large number of games were played and at their conclusion prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wynkoop. Before leaving for home refreshments were served and those present enjoyed a social time.

The schedule of the Middlesex and Somerset Company cars yesterday was as usual very much out of gear. Waits of one hour between cars were frequent and a more lengthy one occurred in the afternoon, caused by a fuse burning out in one of the cars as it was approaching the western end of the borough. Toward night the service was somewhat better, but there was still room for improvement.

Aleck Harris has been about the borough during the past few days making preparations for the opening of the fishing season by engaging a number of men as assistants. He has leased "Garrison's Haull" in the Raritan for the entire season and will have his nets placed early in the spring.

In honor of his birthday anniversary, Peter Trimmer entertained twelve of his friends Tuesday evening. Various amusements made the evening pass pleasantly and at their conclusion all partook of a collation.

A telegram received from Miss Lillie Warden yesterday, who sailed for the south last Friday, announced her safe arrival at Brunswick, Ga.

Miss Loretta Clawson returned home from Salem, Va., yesterday where she has been visiting relatives for the past two months.

Defender Fire Company will hold the regular monthly meeting this evening. Two applications for membership will be acted upon.

Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer has returned from New Brunswick where she been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Oakley.

Mrs. Ferdinand Hock, of Somerville, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Maier, yesterday.

Clarence Harrison has gone to Bayonne where he will spend a week with relatives.

Fred Schomp, of Dealaman's grocery, is out after a severe attack of the grip.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, January 31.—The G. E. Club met last evening at the home of Miss Alice Pierce, and in spite of the storm there was a good attendance. The next meeting will be held February 4, at the home of Miss Estella Sofield.

The funeral of Dr. Frederick Nelson took place from the residence of Joseph Squire, of Nelson place, Newark, yesterday. Rev. Dr. James I. Vance, of the North Reformed church, officiated at the service which was brief. A large number from this vicinity were in attendance. Interment was made in the Clinton cemetery, Irvington.

Z. P. Osmun claims the honor of having the first sleigh ride in this vicinity this season. He was out bright and early with his horse and cutter and enjoyed a short spin about town.

Mr. Hayes, of Brooklyn, the recent purchaser of the Squires farm, was in town today.

Mrs. Katherine Finger, of Cranford, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Mitze.

Stanley Day is reported as being greatly improved from his severe illness.

—Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. L. W. Randolph.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, Jan. 31.—The epidemic of grip, which has held full sway in town for several weeks, seems to be on the decline. While the disease has been in many homes in the village, the majority of those who have suffered from it have been the adult members of the families. This was noticeable in the school where the attendance of pupils has been kept up to the average this winter.

Mayor Henry L. Hall, of Fanwood, left yesterday for North Carolina. Mr. Hall takes the trip for the benefit of his health, having just recovered from a serious attack of typhoid fever, which confined him to his bed since November. Mr. Hall's many friends hope that he will return at an early date fully recovered in health and ready to assume his official duties as Mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schreiner, of Mountain avenue, are both confined to the house with illness, Mr. Schreiner's illness being considered serious. Pneumonia is threatened.

The snow storm of yesterday and last night delayed travel on the trolley cars and upset the schedule so that one hardly knew when to attempt to catch a car.

Frederick Merwin, a former old resident of this place, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wade.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold their regular weekly meeting in the Library rooms this evening.

The Epworth Literary Society will meet in the class rooms of the Methodist church this evening.

Miss Josie Marsh has returned from a visit with friends in Jersey City.

A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying and exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. What is needed is that which is cleansing, soothing, protecting and healing. Such a remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. Price 50 cents at druggists or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. The Balm when placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. A cold in the head vanishes quickly.

MR. MACMURRAY'S FUNERAL.

WAS HELD LAST EVENING AT HOME OF HIS DAUGHTERS IN BROOKLYN.

He Was Father of City Clerk J. T MacMurray and Resided at Mountainside For Many Years.

The funeral services of the late James MacMurray, father of City Clerk James T. MacMurray, were held last evening from the residence of his daughters, the Misses Mary and Mattie MacMurray, on Nostrand street, Brooklyn. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Included among the latter were Andrew McCardell, Postmaster and Mrs. E. H. Bird and Collector F. H. Smith, of this city.

Rev. Dr. Ketcham, pastor of the Congregational church, at Westfield, officiated, and spoke words of comfort to the bereaved relatives. He also spoke of the upright life of the departed and of his many excellent qualities. There was a large and beautiful display of floral tributes, including some very handsome set pieces. The interment takes place at South Amboy today. The pallbearers were the four sons, James T., Charles and Hugh, of this city, and Andrew, of Westfield.

Mr. MacMurray was one of the oldest and most respected residents of Mountainside, near Westfield, where he had lived for many years. About two weeks ago he went to Brooklyn to visit his daughters, and very suddenly he was taken ill with typhoid fever. Mr. MacMurray's wife had preceded him to Brooklyn a short time before and she was there to give her husband every attention. The best medical aid was secured, but was of no avail, and Mr. MacMurray passed away Monday.

Mr. MacMurray leaves besides his wife eight children, James T., Charles and Hugh, of this city, and Andrew, of Westfield; the Misses Mary and Mattie MacMurray, of New York, and the Misses Etta and Belle MacMurray, who lived at the homestead.

Mr. MacMurray lived at Mountainside for thirty-eight years. He was sixty-five years old and spent the early part of his life at South Amboy on his father's farm. On leaving South Amboy he took up his residence at Mountainside, where he bought a large farm and was a prosperous peach grower.

Two brothers and a sister also survive him: John, residing at Perth Amboy; Thomas, living in Oakland, Cal., and Mrs. Dixon, of South Amboy.

Baron Dillon 2:12; Red Lake 2:15 3-4.

These with Cherry Croft 2:22¼ and Ardnaree high-acting trotting bred cob, are the leading stallions at Glen Moore Stock Farm for 1901. Continuation of the Great One-Half Sale on Women's Winter Coats.

Genuine winter weather is here now. Just the kind when a good, well-made winter coat feels nice. Well, we can fix you out in fine shape; and best of all, from your standpoint, we'll do it at one-half the price that we would have asked you if you had visited our coat department previous to last Tuesday. Every winter coat that we have got on hand is being sacrificed for one-half of its value. Such bargains as we offer in this line now is an incentive for us to write extensively about them in our advertisements, but we are going to stop right here and simply rehearse the one-half off prices to you—convinced that you will appreciate the remarkable reductions we have made.

Automobile Jackets.

Made in the latest prevailing shapes, nicely lined and excellently made—in a word, as good as are made. A large assortment in modes and orford greys.

Children's Reefers and Coats.

All the latest styles and made in neat effects and colors. One-half off on all the regular prices which range from $11.98 to $3.98.

Women's Winter Coats.

The very best garments that can be bought for the prices anywhere, and when we mark them down one-half it means that there is only one place where they can be got for that price, or anything near it, and that is at our store.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Westfalen.

Münster. Vor Kurzem beging die Marks-Haindorff'sche Stiftung, ein israelitisches Lehrerseminar, festlich den 75. Jahrestag ihrer Gründung.

Hagen. Der Bremser Neuhaus aus Altenhagen, der einen Eisenbahnzug begleitete, stürzte während der Fahrt bei der Station Messinghausen vom Trittbrett und gerieth unter den Zug; ihm wurden beide Beine abgefahren. Im Krankenhause starb der Verletzte.

Soest. Um den Mangel an landwirthschaftlichen Arbeitern, der sich namentlich zur Erntezeit in der fruchtbaren Börde ganz besonders fühlbar macht, in diesem Jahre zu beseitigen, wird der landwirthschaftliche Kreisverein Arbeiter aus Ungarn einführen. Es ist diesen Arbeitern ein Tagelohn von 1.25 bis 1.50 Mark für männliche und 0.90 bis 1.10 Mark für weibliche zu zahlen; der Jahreslohn für Knechte aus Ungarn beträgt 280 bis 300 Mark, für Mägde 180 bis 200 Mark.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Der verstorbene Kommerzienrath Franz Schlüter hat 10,000 Mark für die Kranken der Kreuzkirchenparochie gestiftet.—Das von dem Vorstand der Arbeiterpensionskasse der Staatseisenbahn-Verwaltung in der Friedrichstadt neuerbaute Arbeiterwohnhaus enthält Wohnungen für 24 Familien.—Der Unteroffizier Groß vom 1. Leibgrenadier-Regiment wurde wegen fortgesetzter grober Mißhandlung von Rekruten zu einem Jahr Gefängniß und Degradation vom zuständigen Militärgericht verurtheilt.

Chemnitz. Der Kaufmann Herold, Inhaber einer Grünwaaren-Großhandlung, ist nach Verübung großer Wechselfälschungen flüchtig geworden. Die Geschäftsschulden betragen 235,000 Mark, während etwa 40,000 Mark Aktiva vorhanden sind.

Freiburg. Bei einer Hochzeitsfeier in dem benachbarten Dorfe Zug ermordete der 31jährige Bergarbeiter Hegewaldt aus Brand den Bergarbeiter Raps, mit dem er in Streit gerathen war, durch einen Stich in's Herz. Der Mörder wurde verhaftet.

Kamenz. Hier wird nächste Ostern eine Lehrwerkstätte für Elektromonteure und -Werkmeister eröffnet; dieselbe bezweckt, denjenigen, welche sich zu Monteuren und Werkmeistern im Elektrizitätsfache auch nach der wissenschaftlichen Seite hin ausbilden wollen, hierzu Gelegenheit zu geben.

Leipzig. Kommerzienrath Giesecke, Chef des Welthauses Giesecke u. Devrient, ist gestorben.

Mutzschen. Aus Furcht vor Strafe wegen Schulschwänzens ertränkte sich hier die 12jährige Hedwig Perschned.

Thüringische Staaten.

Weimar. Der Kommissionsrath Schlutter hat neuerdings seiner Stiftung, den Heilanstalten Milbitz-Reuß, eine große Zuwendung gemacht durch die Einrichtung eines mediko-mechanischen Instituts für Heilgymnastik mit 40 Apparaten nach Zander. Im Ganzen hat Schlutter bisher 500,000 Mark für die Anstalten freiwillig aufgewendet. In Koburg stiftete die Herzogin-Wittwe Marie ein Kapital von 10,000 Mark als Grundstock einer Alters- und Wittwenversicherung für nicht lebenslänglich angestellte Mitglieder der dortigen Hofkapelle. Der unlängst verstorbene Dr. Alfred Swaine von Steinheid hat dieser Gemeinde 7000 Mark und der Gemeinde Siegmundsburg 8000 Mark vermacht.

Gera. Die direkte Waarenausfuhr aus dem Konsulardistrikt Gera nach den Ver. Staaten betrug im vierten Quartal 1900 664,254 Mark; gegenüber dem vierten Quartal 1899 ist eine Zunahme von 256,692 Mark festzustellen. Der Werth der Gesammtausfuhr in 1900 belief sich auf 3,354,519 Mark, gegen 2,383,960 Mark im Jahre 1899.

Lauscha. An Christbaumschmuck wurden von Lauscha diesmal 80,000 Kistchen in die Welt versandt, gegen 60,000 im Vorjahre.

Lichte. Im Hoffmann'schen Gasthofe explodirte ein Acethlengas-Apparat. Der Besitzer wurde getödtet, fünf Personen wurden schwer verletzt. Der Gasthof wurde stark beschädigt.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Von Hamburg wurden im Jahre 1900 im Ganzen 87,153 Auswanderer über See befördert. Im Jahre vorher waren es 64,214 Personen.—Die Hamburger Rhederfirma F. Laeisz hat den Bau eines fünfmastigen Segelschiffes von 8200 Tonnen in Auftrag gegeben.—Bei einem hierorts ausgebrochenen Brande kam der Möbelhändler Hugo Schick um's Leben.—Der 58jährige Arbeiter Wahlstedt erschlug im Rausche seine Frau. Der Mörder wurde verhaftet.

Bremen. Zum Präsidenten der Bürgerschaft wurde Theodor Gruner gewählt.—Der Norddeutsche Lloyd hat für das jüngste Geschäftsjahr eine Dividende von 8.5, gegen 7.5 im Vorjahre, erklärt, trotz des in Folge des Hobokener Feuers entstandenen Verlustes. Letzterer wurde vom Ueberschuß gedeckt und auf 5,000,000 Mark berech-

Ornithological Contest.

Something entirely new and interesting. Read what you are to do. You may get 1,000 dollars. Our contest is to see who can make the largest list of names (or kinds) of birds from the following list of letters:

W D O O O C C K Q U L I A P R T A R
I D G E S P N I E L V E B R D I M W
A D O H T L

We will recognize as a bird anything belonging to the feathered tribe, whether it be a Hen, Crow, Singer or any other kind. You can use any letter as many times to make a name as it appears in the list of letters above; for instance Woodcock, Plover, Snow Bird, etc. To any persons who can make a list of 25 or more different names of birds, we will give absolutely FREE a beautiful Prize value 1,000, dols. or less.

BIG PRIZES AWARDED DAILY.

When you have made out your list fill out the line on the bottom of this advt., and send to us with a stamped Addressed envelope, stamp of your country will do, then if you are awarded a prize you can if you desire get the prize by becoming a subscriber to The Woman's World. We shall award a prize to every person who sends the name of 25 Birds, and our gifts will be as follows: For the best list, received each day, a Gold Watch; for the second best solution each day a beautiful Imported Tea Set; for the seven next best solutions each day, a Konrah Sakin Diamond and Ruby Ring; for the next best solution, a Gold Piece; and for all other correct solutions, Prizes of Good Value. These Prizes will be forwarded daily, you will not have to wait a long time in uncertainty before you know the result. There is no element of lottery in our plan, it makes no difference whether we get your solution late or early in the day. All you need is to mail this advt. to us, and on the day it reaches us, if your list is the best, You shall have the Gold Watch, or if second best the beautiful Tea Set, and so on. We guarantee that we will award you a prize. There is absolutely no opportunity for deception on our part—we cannot afford it. We want to get 1,000 000 well-satisfied subscribers, and for that reason we don't want you to send any money until you know exactly what prize you have gained by answering the puzzles. As soon after 4 p. m. each day as possible, the examiners will judge the lists to the best of their ability, and will designate the prizes. We will write to you at once notifying you what prize has been awarded you, then if you are satisfied, you can send your subscription to The Woman's World and your prize will go by return of mail, carriage paid. To a person of narrow ideas it seems impossible that we should be able to make such a gigantic offer, but we have the money, brains and reputation, we know exactly what we are doing, and if we can legitimately gain a million subscribers by this grand idea we know that this million of well pleased subscribers can be induced to recommend The Woman's World to all friends, thereby building our circulation still further. We are willing to spend 25,000 dollars in this contest in building up a big subscription list, and when this money is spent we reserve the right to publish a notification that the contest has been discontinued. Don't delay until it is too late. The contest will continue until July 1, 1901.

We give a Bonus Prize of 200 dollars, independent of all others, to the person who sends in the list gotten up in the best and handsomest manner. Our committee will decide and award prizes daily, but the special 250 dols. prize will be awarded in September, 1901. Any birds name found in the dictionaries accepted.

DECORATIONS.

Embroidery Much Used In the Winter Wardrobe.

Gowns of colored silk are veiled with black net having a large design embroidered with chenille. An old silk gown may be made over in this way, as the net conceals many small defects.

A new decoration composed of mousseline de soie is seen. It consists of tiny ruches set as closely together as possible, so that they form a continuous mossy surface. The upper part of a bodice is thus covered, and the entire sleeves also are ornamented in the same way. A very tight sleeve lining is of course necessary as a foundation.

Today's illustration depicts a long coat of mastic cloth. It is straight in front and has a watteau plait at the back. The front corners are rounded, and the contour is followed by embroideries of brown velvet in application, mixed with brown and gold fine cord. In addition there are lines of stitching which lose themselves under the watteau plait. The bolero is also stitched and embroidered, and there are a stitched pelerine and a high, turned over collar faced with velvet. The pagoda sleeves are stitched at the edge and bordered with embroidery. Under these are silk puffs drawn in at the waist. The hat of beige felt is trimmed with brown velvet and feathers. ## HOSIERY.

Black Still Prevails, Although Colors Are Also Worn.

Black stockings, which have reigned so long, still maintain their empire, although more fancy colored hosiery is now seen than was thought of several years ago. Black stockings are in the great majority, however, and are shown in all variety of plainness and ornament. Openwork and chantilly lace fronts are seen, clocks and especially embroidery in both black and colors. Black silk hosiery with colored embroidery is a particular fancy of fashion at present, and all manners of designs are employed. Some of the newest are flights of birds or butterflies across the front or thick garlands of flowers in colored silks. There are also applications of lace motifs embroidered down with silk. Black stockings are undoubtedly those most advantageous to the foot and ankle, which is one great reason that the mode has been so constant to them. Bronze silk stockings perhaps rank next in becomingness, but the average foot would better keep clear of anything more striking and conspicuous.

An illustration is given which shows a new bolero. This forms points in front and also a point at the back. It is of cloth, with an application of velvet which simulates a corselet. The wider pelerine collar is of cloth, the narrower of velvet, and enameled buttons ornament the front. The sleeves are tight as far down as the elbow, below which they flare slightly, terminating in a velvet band fastened by an enameled button. Full puffs emerge from the sleeves and are gathered into a band at the wrist. The bolero is worn over a light silk waist. The hat has a crown of plain velvet and a brim covered with striped silk and velvet. The trimming consists of plumes.

The Season of Tea and House Gowns Draws Near and Many Varieties Are Shown

Beautiful Variety Shown in the Season's Tea Gowns

THE tea gowns of this season are unusually beautiful. This is true of both the matronly and youthful varieties, and, besides, they seem to be uniformly popular. Modistes tell me that they have been called upon to make more of them than in any other season they have ever known. They show quite as great a variety as the supposedly more elaborate evening gowns, reception gowns, street gowns or calling gowns, and it is a beautiful variety as well.

The materials used in them are of the richest in satin and silk, both plain and striped. One particularly beautiful piece of material is a lovely striped silk with a ground of white, and then for another a three-inch stripe of moire satin running lengthwise. Other material designs in materials show several light and dark shades mingled together, and others are brocaded with either large or small flowers. As a rule they are trimmed with lace in either white or mushroom tints, sparkling passementeries, appliques, ribbon, chiffon or mousseline de soie.

One of the youthful affairs is made of ivory tinted oriental satin and trimmed with a cream silk applique wrought with gold and silver thread. It is made in princesse, with a V-cut neck, draped across with white silk muslin and finished with the applique, this extending at one side to the hem of the skirt, where a ruffle finishes the bottom. Elbow sleeves, finished with a double frill of silk muslin.

A dressy tea gown for an older woman is made of rich black moire. It is made a tight-fitting princess and opens over a petticoat of white satin, veiled with effective black lace. The extra fullness at the waist line is caught in by a band of jet. The jet passementerie trimming the gown on each side. The neck is cut in a V, with slightly full draping of white silk and lace, finished at each shoulder with coquettish bows of black satin. Elbow sleeves, with lace and jet to finish.

A charming and novel bodice is made of soft white silk, with a bolero of cobwebby black lace edged narrowly with a band of white lace applique, then a finish of black panne, bordered with a band of sable. A vest of white lace in cascades. The sleeves have a cuff below the elbow, with puffing of white chiffon and bell-shaped cuff of velvet edged with fur.

TWO DAINTY AND ELABORATE TEA COWNS.

A CHARMING BODICE.

Double Skirts Will Be a Feature of the Summer

MANY days and weeks are yet to come and go before the summer gown will be in demand, but there is always a feminine curiosity—an idle one, possibly—that likes a peep into the future, and for that reason I do not feel that an apology is necessary for the following paragraphs concerning the gowns for summer that are coming.

I will not at this time attempt to mention the long list of charming materials, samples of which were shown me a few days ago at one of the large jobbing houses of the city, but will confine my few lines more to the style and cut of the coming garment. Sufficient it is to say that the materials include all the summer favorites, but they are shown in many new varieties of color and design.

The favorite skirt is to be the double one. Of these the under, or foundation, skirt, is either white or colored, as the taste may designate, and may be silk or lawn, as the price of the gown determines. Many organdies of the prettier styles have pink or light blue underskirts. The waist is then lined with the same color, which is made together with the white overmaterial, and is not an underbody with the white waist over it. Silk underskirts and silkoline, as well as lawns, are made with these garments and are a part of the garment and not intended to be worn separately, though they create this separate idea. Organdies, etamines and Swisses must necessarily be made full flowing and not hard and sewed-down styles. Consequently, the form of double skirt is likely to prove most satisfactory and likewise most graceful.

Of the waists a Dry Goods Economist writer who ought to know says they are the particular high points of noticeable form, and give a very strong idea of what the best designers think summer will do for style. It is evident that the directoire forms are going to be more sought than the empire. It will be Louis XIV., and the waists will be the summer styles of Marie Antoinette interspersed with shoulder capes, berthas, surplice arrangements and the short, round waist of that period, old-fashioned, short sleeves or long, full sleeves embellished with lace in more modern style and diversified by our lighter and more complete range of trimmings and ornaments. The gowns will be low-necked in many instances, short-sleeved in many more. But for the low-necked, surplice and bertha styles our manufacturers provide a stock collar and gimp which can be worn with this costume and which is distinctly a contradiction of the historical outline of the remainder of the costume.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, Jan. 3d, 1901, at 2:30 p. m.

There were present Director Hubbard and Freeholders Adams, Brucklacher, Cady, Ehrlich, Farrell, Gerstung, Krouse, King, McCandless, Miller, Scudder, Swain, Wahl and Woodruff—15.

Absent, Freeholders Bonnel, Robison and Westphal—3.

The minutes of the previous meeting, reading of bills being omitted, were on motion approved as read.

No petitions, memorials or communications were presented.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By new Court House committee:

The Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Gentlemen: The committee heretofore appointed to consider the necessity and advisability of building a new Court House would respectfully report progress in the matter.

We realize that the matter is of considerable importance and should not be acted on too hastily. We find that the present Court House and offices are in many respects inadequate and inconvenient, and that an enlargement and repair of the present buildings, to an extent necessary to meet the present and constantly increasing demands of the public business, is quite impracticable and that moneys expended in that direction would be unwise.

Your committee consider that the present is an opportune time for the erection of such a building, owing to the present prices of building material and the present low rate at which money may be borrowed.

Your committee has inspected some buildings in other counties with a view to obtaining an idea as to the style, cost, etc., of a building suitable to the demands of Union county, but are not prepared at this date to make a full report as to said matters, and would respectfully request further time in which to report more fully.

Signed,
Respectfully yours,
John Farrell, B King, W. H. Swain,
Jacob Brucklacher, Henry Krouse,
Committee.

Dated Jan. 2, 1901.

On motion of Freeholder Cady accepted and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Swain:

Resolved, That James Ahearn be paid one hundred dollars on account of contract for painting three (3) bridges over the Passaic River, between Union and Morris county line.

Freeholder Wahl moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Farrell:

Whereas, The Legislature of this State will soon convene; and

Whereas, It is important that the welfare of Union county should be protected in such legislation as may be proposed and enacted; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the director of this board to look after such legislation as may affect this county, and to the best of their ability protect said county's interests.

Freeholder King moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was adopted without dissent.

The director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Farrell, Adams and Brucklacher.

The following bills, properly audited and approved, were read, and on roll-call unaminously ordered paid, viz:

The Explorer of Mountains.

One of the best mountain climbers in the world is over 60 years of age. His name is Mr. Edward Whymper, and he lately sailed for London on the Lucania, after spending several months in exploring the Rocky mountains. He intends to return in the spring and head a party of American scientific men, who wish to explore the Canadian Rockies. "It is a region utterly unknown to man," he says. "There are miles and miles of mountains where not even an Indian has made his way. My plan is to cover about 500 miles of territory, starting at Calgary. We shall be obliged to travel very slowly, as it is almost impossible to use animals through that country. Great forest and fallen trees have combined to keep the tourist out, but we expect to conquer them and find out many important facts—possibly some startling ones—about the northwest."—Little Chronicle.

Strongly Reminded of Home.

We have a young San Franciscan in our midst, and she is homesick as homesick can be for that city of uncountable hills and innumerable heliotrope hedges. Nothing in Washington pleases her. We went to the matinee the other day, and midway of the performance I heard from her a gasp of delight. She grasped her right arm with her left hand and rubbed the skin vigorously for a moment or two. Then the hopeless, homesick look settled on her face again and she sighed.

"I thought for a moment I was out home again," she said, wistfully.

"What made you think so?" I asked.

"Oh!" said she. "It was only for a moment. It wasn't really true, but just for a minute I was sure I felt a flea."—Washington Post.

The Best Way.

A teacher in one of the local grade schools the other day gave the children an object lesson on the wild duck, thinking that that subject would be the most likely to awaken their interest at this season. "Now, children," said she, after a lengthy explanation, "who will tell me the best way to shoot the wild duck?" The children looked puzzled. Only for a moment, though, for the little girl at the bottom of the class really couldn't miss the chance. Up went her hand to the highest possible altitude it could assume. "Yes, dear," said the teacher. "Please, miss," she almost gasped, so eager was she to get it out; "please, miss, I know. Wait till the duck's not looking."—Joliet (Ill.) Star.

Southern Social Gains.

Socially the south is making exceedingly creditable gains. Since 1865 the southern states have expended over $400,000,000 for the public school education of her children, blacks and whites alike, although the white population pay four-fifths of the taxes. Illiteracy among the whites and blacks is declining in the south. The attractions of that section to settlers from the northern states and from Europe are steadily increasing. That section will undoubtedly make a greater growth in population, industries and in general social advancement in the next ten years than it has scored in the past ten.—Chicago Chronicle.

Making of Watch Glasses.

In the production of common watch glasses the glass is blown into a sphere about a meter in diameter, sufficient material being taken to give the desired thickness, as the case may be. Discs are then cut out from the sphere with the aid of a pair of compasses having a diamond at the extremity of one leg. There is a knack in detaching the disc after it has been cut. A good workman will, it is said, cut 6,000 glasses in a day.—Industrial Journal.

NOT THE ONLY ONE.

There Are Hundreds of Plainfield People Similarly Situated.

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Plainfield residents? After you have read the following quietly answer the question.

Mr. S. J. Conklin, traveling sales man for a New York confectionery house, living at 134 West Front street, says: "I was subject to pain in the back and nape which at times I felt in my side I tried different kinds of kidney cures but received little or no relief. I read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and I went to L. W. Randolph's store and got a box. I took three boxes altogether and was wonderfully improved. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy and accomplish all that is claimed for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

A GAMBLER'S TRICK.

Played Poker with Cards That Were Invisibly Marked.

That Is, Invisible to the Other Fellows Who Sat at the Table with Him—How One Player Discovered the Fraud.

A prominent turfman, attending the winter race meet at New Orleans, told a good story the other evening to a Times-Democrat reporter of an adventure on a Cunarder. "You never heard of invisible ink?" he said. "Well neither had I up to a dozen years ago and my introduction to it was rather peculiar. At that time I was considerably greener in the ways of the wicked world than I am at present, and coming across on the Etruria, after a season in London, I was fool enough to sit in a four-handed poker game with three fellows I met in the smoking-room of the ship. The vulnerable point about any greenhorn who plays poker is his proud conviction that he can protect himself against any kind of 'work.' That was my own opinion, and consequently I didn't care a copper who my three acquaintances might be, as long as I found their society entertaining. Two of them, I may as well say right here, were plain, everyday business men from Boston. The other was a small, dark, smooth-shaven chap, who introduced himself by the name of Cummings and said he was a lace buyer for a firm of importers in New York. As is customary aboard ship we selected our seats at the beginning and kept them throughout the play. Cummings sat with his back to the partition wall, I sat opposite and one of the Boston fellows was on the other side. I mention this arrangement because it has a bearing on what followed.

"We started out at a very easy gait," continued the turfman, "but soon raised the ante high enough to make it pretty warm. As far as I could see, none of my three friends played more than an ordinary clubroom game and at the outset the bulk of the luck drifted to the lace buyer and myself. At the end of the first day we were each about $150 ahead. Next day I made most of the winnings myself and was astonished at the succession of good hands I held. On the third day luck veered around to the lace buyer, and he not only gathered in my entire winnings, but nearly $200 besides. Meanwhile he tapped one of the Bostonians for $300 and the other for $150. Altogether he stood about $1,200 ahead at the close of the afternoon. Cummings left the table first and I tarried for a few moments to smoke a cigar and chat with the Boston men.

DISCOVERING THE FRAUD.

"I had to get up to procure a light, and on returning I dropped into the chair which had been occupied by the lace buyer and began idly shuffling the deck of cards. While so doing I happened to notice a peculiar metallic speck at the upper righthand corner of the top pasteboard, which proved to be the king of clubs. It looked like a minute dot of some kind of analine ink. The end of the room where we sat was rather dark, and there was a fixed lamp in the molding behind Cummings' chair that was kept burning day and night. The spot caught the gleam from this light and could only be seen when the card was held at a certain slant. From any of the other chairs it was entirely invisible. I was surprised, of course, and in running over the deck I soon found that all the face cards and aces were similarly spotted, some with one and some with more dots, the arrangement being different in each case.

"The discovery upset me completely, and, to make a long story short, we sent a steward after our lace-making friend, and after a very brief but spicy preface gave him two minutes by the watch to disgorge his spoils. I must admit he carried it off pretty well. 'This looks considerably like a welsh,' he said, coolly, 'and if the deck is marked I know no more about it than you do. However, if you want your money back you can have it. A gentleman,' said he, 'always wishes to avoid a scene.' With that he counted out his winnings and bade us good night.

"A year or so afterward I saw him at Saratoga and learned positively that he was a professional short-card player, who made a business of working the Atlantic boats. To get back to the original point, the stuff he used in marking the deck was what is known as 'invisible ink,' and while it is seldom employed nowadays it can still be bought from any dealer in gambling tools. It has the peculiar property of being visible only by artificial light and when viewed from a certain angle. How and when Cummings did his marking and why he left the deck on the table are matters of mere conjecture.

SPORTING.

POOL.

Owing to the illness of several of the players scheduled to meet but one game was played in Krewson's pool tourney Tuesday evening. The contestants were McCann and Walsh and while the game was not remarkable for any brilliant plays, it proved very interesting. McCann took the lead at the start and held it until the end despite his opponent's attempt to pass him. The final score was 45 to 42 in favor of McCann.

The following are the winners and the scores made in the pool tournament at Krewson's last evening: Kingston defeated Walsh, 45 to 45; Ammons defeated Moore, 55 to 55; McLaughlin defeated Smith 40 to 55.

cover the process of septic action and filtration; it represents the original discoverer. The company would prefer to settle amicably with Plainfield in advance. To bring an injunction suit against the city would injure both parties. Plainfield desires the system; the company desire their royalty, and the acknowledgment of their rights. The company is ready for suit, a referee, or a compromise—with the ultimatum that their rights under the patent are acknowledged.

SMASHED HIS HAT.

Harvey Wentwrick Struck by Stone Inside Snowball—Smashed Hat and Stunned Him.

Soon after the snow storm had ceased last evening a number of young boys stood on the porch of an East Second street residence and amused themselves by throwing snowballs at the passersby. The snow was very light and in order to make the missles carry better the young men placed stones in some of them. One of the latter struck Harvey Wentwrick, of East Second street, partially stunning him and smashing a new hat. Mr. Wentwrick will make a complaint against the throwers in order to secure redress for the damage caused.

Horses Ran Home.

While the driver was delivering a package in a West Front street store this morning, a team of horses attached to one of Hand & Son's wagons became frightened and ran away. They turned into Park avenue and after escaping several collisions ran to the stable on East Second street where they stopped of their own accord. The damage was very slight.

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Sunday-school Union will be held this evening in the Crescent Avenue church, and addresses will be made by Mr. Meigs, of Indianapolis, and Miss Baldwin, a talented speaker from New Jersey.

Bertram Soper, of Newport News, is the guest of John McCoy, of West Third street.

Mrs. Wm. E. Lowe, of Park avenue, with her sister, Mrs. Lockwood, of Philadelphia, are spending a couple of weeks at Atlantic City.

THEY HONORED HIS MEMORY.

FUNERAL OF WM. FOSBRE HELD AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

Church Was Crowded With Friends of All Denominations This Morning.

Friends of all denominations from every part of the city crowded St. Mary's church to the doors this morning, to pay their last respects to the memory of Wm. Fosbre, the young man who passed away just after his having reached manhood. A most impressive mass was conducted by Rev. Father McGeary, who in the course of the service delivered a touching tribute in reference to the upright character and life of the deceased.

In addition to the regular music of the mass, the choir rendered several of the young man's favorite hymns, the solo parts being taken by Miss Annie Daley.

Several handsome floral tributes which reposed upon the casket showed the esteem in which the young man was held as did also the large attendance on the part of the members of the Bricklayers Union, who accompanied the remains to the resting place.

The pall bearers were Joseph J. Burns, Martin Galbraith, Daniel Guinee, Michael Keefe, John Goff and Martin Whalen. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

NEW EXPERT ENGAGED.

Alfred Glover, of the Richmond Hill Club, Will be at Park Golf Club This Season.

George T. Rogers, chairman of the green committee of the Park Golf Club, has engaged Alfred Glover as expert and professional for the Park Golf Club for the coming season. Glover has been employed for several years at the Richmond Hill Golf Club course on Long Island. He is a clever golfer, who has played the game from childhood, and is thoroughly acquainted with it. Besides being an expert player, he has the reputation of being an excellent instructor in the game.

Glover and his wife will take up their residence at the clubhouse, as soon as the season opens, and Mrs. Glover will act as stewardess while Expert Glover will take charge of the course.

PERSONAL.

Nettie Newcorn, of West Front street, is kept at home by illness.

A. F. Naylor, of 515 Park avenue, left this morning for Richmond, Va., where he will remain for a time.

Mrs. Horace Doty is ill at the home of her uncle, Dr. Zeglio, on Somerset street with a severe attack of bronchitis.

Mrs. James Pope, of West Fourth street, who underwent an operation at the hospital for appendicitis, is not so well today.

Walter Dreier, of West Front street, is quite ill at his home with the same trouble that detained him so long a few months ago.

Mrs. J. Emmons Henry, of East Fifth street, has returned home from New York where she has been visiting friends for the past four weeks.

George Schlingman, of the Aluminum Plate and Press Works, has returned from Buffalo where he has been for the past six weeks erecting presses.

Daniel Dodge, of Lincoln place, left this morning for the South on a business trip. He returned yesterday after an extended trip through the west. On Saturday he will be met in Philadelphia by Mrs. Dodge and they will go to Washington, where she will remain the rest of the winter with relatives.

No Exception to the Rule.

"I never lied to my wife in my life," said a man in a crowd this morning, and there was at once a big laugh. "You did not hear me out," the man continued. "What I intended to say was that I never lied to my wife that I did not get caught at it."—Atchison Globe.

None But the Brave.

Mr. Billincoo—Ah! my dear, I wish I might be like a knight of old, and perform some deed of daring for you.

Miss Lovylipz—Oh, George! Now that you're worked up to it, suppose you speak to papa.—Philadelphia Press.

A Bright Baby.

Mrs. Histerick—Oh, Henry, did you hear about the Jones baby swallowing an electric light tube?

Her Husband—No, but that was a bright idea for the baby, now, wasn't it?—Ohio State Journal.

The Wagon Tongue.

The wagon tongue says never a word, but it gets there ahead of the rest of the outfit. It might be well for some people to make a note of this.—Chicago Daily News.

Carrying Out the Disguise.

The Bride—Now, dear, we must act like old married people.

The Groom—All right. Give me back that fifty.—Detroit Free Press.

—Richard Warneck, of the borough, has purchased the house formerly owned by Pope Brothers on Duer street, and will take up his residence there in a few days.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

The evangelistic committee of the Hudson County Christian Endeavor Union has arranged for a rally of the Christian Endeavor and kindred societies of Hudson and adjacent counties this evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Bergen Reformed church, Bergen and Highland avenues, Jersey City. The speakers will be William Phillips Hall, chairman of the committee having in charge the "Twentieth Century Gospel Campaign," and Rev. George T. Purves, D. D., LL. D., or Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., of New York. Rev. A. W. Spooner, D. D., of Camden, president of the New Jersey C. E. Union, will attend, and other prominent New Jersey Endeavorers will be present.

F. H. Jacobs, who so successfully conducted the singing at the last State convention, will have charge of the music, and those who sang in the convention choir will compose the large chorus. Robert A. Alberts, whose executive ability contributed so materially to the success of the State convention, is chairman of evangelistic committee, and he and his co-workers are bending every energy toward making the meeting a helpful and practical one. It is believed that the service will have a beneficial effect on the meeting to be held by the individual societies on February 3, designated as "Decision Day."

The World's Student Federation has set apart February 10 as a day of special prayer for schools and colleges and it invites all Christians join its members in petitions for the deepening of the spiritual life among the young men and women of the various educational institutions of this and other countries. Rev. Francis E. Clark says: "The spectacle of 65,000 Christian students and professors spending a day in prayer for these great nerve centres of our civilization, our universities, colleges and higher schools, is enough to set all the rest of Christendom to praying for them also."

The monster birthday celebration at Portland, Mo., January 31 to February 3, is attracting widespread attention. Christian Endeavor will on Feb. 2 have completed a decade of marvelous history, and many will travel great distances to enjoy the unique celebration at the birthplace. The secular press is inquiring for data upon which to base newspaper articles and photographic cuts with which to illustrate them.

Rev. J. M. Gray, who has charge of a Bible study class conducted by Boston Christian Endeavorers, is meeting each week, in Bible study, classes aggregating 3,500 members. Those classes are at Boston, Worcester, Providence and Pawtucket.

WANT BETTER EDUCATED LAWYERS.

Examiners Propose a New Test of Applicants for Admission to the Bar.

(Special to The Daily Press.

Trenton, Jan. 31.—Former Judge Chauncey H. Beasley, who is one of the examiners of applicants for admission to the bar, will present a petition to the Supreme Court at its next term, asking for the appointment of a committee to inquire into the best manner of examining candidates. He will present this petition on behalf of the examiners. The petition will represent that the number of candidates is constantly increasing, and that while there are as many applicants of excellent qualifications as in the past, there are, far more than ever before, those whose education is not such as to fit them for the bar.

The petitioners will state that they are of the opinion that the examination should, besides being a test of the candidate's knowledge of the whole field of jurisprudence as administered in this State, test in some degree his general education. They suggest that the court cause an investigation to be made by competent persons of the work of the American Bar Association, and of the experience of other States on the subject, and that a report, based upon that inquiry, be made upon the best methods of testing educational qualifications, both general and professional, in candidates for admission to the bar, to the end that the court may, in the light of that information, frame some remedial measures.

Will Observe Endeavor Day.

Sunday being Endeavor Day, the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church will hold a special service in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. The programme to be followed is the one prepared by the United Society, of Boston, and the services will be of interest to all Endeavorers. Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the church, will deliver a short address.

Belongs to Boice Estate.

The store on Putnam avenue which the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company will shortly occupy is not the property of the Runyon estate as was stated in the Daily Press. It belongs to the Boice estate of which H. O. Newman is the representative.

COUNTY ENGINEERS ORGANIZED

ROBERT A. MEEKER, OF THIS CITY, MADE SECRETARY.

Permanent Organization Effected—Uniform Road Specifications Were Prepared.

Owing to a great diversity of specifications used in building roads in New Jersey, it has for some time past been thought advisable to hold a meeting of the county engineers of the State and adopt uniform specifications to govern this matter. Consequently the engineers held a meeting, compared views, and decided that some action should be taken inasmuch as New Jersey leads all other States in the Union in road building and fine roads. There has been a great demand for the reports issued in this State concerning roads. Only recently Gen. Nelson A. Miles wrote for one of the reports and specifications, and the officials at Washington have also been writing for them.

In view of this uniform specifications were deemed essential. New Jersey has every kind of soil known that is used in road building and this has an important bearing in the matter. The result was that two whole days were recently spent discussing specifications and last Tuesday the county engineers met at Trenton and adopted uniform specifications, which will be the standard hereafter in the construction of stone roads.

After completing the business of the meeting the New Jersey State Association of County Engineers was formed. Those eligible to membership are the county engineers, the State supervisors of roads, while in office, while Gov. Voorhees and the State commissioner of public roads are honorary members.

The officers elected are President, James Owen, of Montclair; secretary, Robert A. Meeker, of Plainfield; treasurer, Joshua Doughty, Jr., of Somerville. The association will meet at least four times a year, and it is formed for professional and social reasons. After the meeting all adjourned to a local restaurant and enjoyed a bountiful dinner.

VISITED NEW HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Vail Entertained a Number of Friends Tuesday Night.

A pleasant surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Vail at their home on Craig place Tuesday evening There were about twenty-five young people present, mostly relatives of the young couple, and a very pleasant evening was passed in playing games and singing.

Mr, and Mrs. Vail received many congratulations from those who had not visited them since they had started housekeeping in their new home. At a late hour refreshments were served and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess.

No Quorum There.

No quorum being present the Exempt Firemen's Association were unable to hold their regular meeting last evening. The meeting will be held in their rooms on Park avenue, Saturday evening, February 2.

Funeral of a Little Girl.

The funeral of Matilda F. Winans will be held from the residence of the parents on Plainfield avenue, on Saturday, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.
